Christmas trees can now be obtained at the City Drug Store from 15 cents upward.

M. Mullen who lost a valuable bird dog a short time ago offers a reward of $10 for his recovery.

The firm of H. Behnke & Bro. have struck the right chord. See their new advertisement in another column.

The coming Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday are the shortest days in the calendar year, their length being 9 hours and 14 minutes.

The station on the Minn. Valley railroad heretofore known as Brookville is now named Morgan, and a post-office has been established there by that name.

As Sed Mills' train pulled out from the depot for Sleepy Eye last Sunday morning Billy Morgan tooted a mournful farewell. Sorry to see you go, boys, but the best of friends must part sometimes.

It tried very hard to snow all last week but up to last Monday night did not make much headway, during Monday night, however, about two inches fell.

The town site at the western terminus of the Winona & St. Peter railroad, Lake Kampeska, has been named Wattertown. Trains, however, will not run any further than Gary during the winter.

The artillery ball at Turner Hall last Sunday evening passed off very pleasantly, but the attendance was not as large as we would like to have seen it.

H. Loheyde, dealer in boots and shoes, speaks to the public this week through the columns of the Review. Mr. Loheyde carries a very large stock, in fact the largest in the city, and his prices can not be beat.

The county commissioners of Renneville county have petitioned Gov. Pillsbury to reinstate county Auditor Ericson, in order that they may accept his resignation, which is in their hands, he having made a satisfactory settlement with the county.

How is this?—Our theatrical stars who visited Mankato a short time ago to take part in a dramatic production must have failed to make connection, as not even Broome, of the Beobachter, notices them when commenting upon the entertainment.

I do not propose to sell drugs, medicines, pills, paints, glass, books, stationery, toys, notions and fancy goods 50 per cent. cheaper than anyone else, but I do claim that I can, and do sell my goods as cheap as others do theirs. I mean what I say. Come and convince yourselves. JOS. BOBLETER.

The dread disease diphtheria has not claimed any victims in this city for many months, but several fatal cases have lately been reported from our neighboring country towns. Mr. Stadtherr of West Newton lost two children last week, aged respectively 5 and 6 years. A son of Stephan Schimshack, of Milford, aged 25 years, also succumbed to the fatal disease and was buried last Monday.

Anthony Finley, arrested on the cars at Marshall on the 11th of last month on the charge of bigamy, has been sent to Stillwater on a three years visit to the Younger Brothers. Mrs. Finley No. 2, who was with him when arrested, has promised to wait patiently for him, and, after the expiration of three years, will go on to his place at Minnesota, "and live happily together forever after."

Mr. U. Lipp last Friday evening met with an accident which came very near terminating seriously. He was on his way home about 7 o'clock and when near Hauenstein's brewery he became bewildered and drove into a sand-pit, where he remained, calling piteously for help, until about 9 o'clock when he was rescued by Hauenstein and his men. Himself and horse would certainly have perished before morning had they been left to their fate.

We are requested to say that the Chambers Bros. Opera House Comp., of Mankato, will again appear in our city next Saturday and Sunday evenings. On Saturday evening the popular play "Lady Audley's Secret," followed by a farce, will be put on the boards, and Sunday evening the troupe will appear in "Lob and Wop." Much new scenery has been prepared especially for these plays, which the troupe will bring with them, and lovers of good dramatic entertainments should not miss this opportunity.

HOLIDAY TALK.

There are but few places in Minnesota where such an assortment of holiday goods is from year to year displayed for sale, as in this city. Everything imaginable from a penny toy to a hundred dollar set of furniture can here be obtained, at prices that defy competition, and there certainly is no necessity for our people to send to other cities for articles that can be obtained of our own merchants at as low figures as anywhere else.

If in want of anything in the way of clothing or dry goods, we are sure you can be suited both as regards quality and prices by either Kiesling, Keller & Co., H. Behnke & Bro., Theo. Crone, Cheap Charley, C. Baltrusch, Redmann & Schramm, Neumann & Rosskopf and Geo. Jacobs. Nearly all of the foregoing firms also carry large stocks of notions and ladies' and gent's furnishings, and all, with the exception of Cheap Charley, handle groceries, crockery, &c. The furniture and furnishing department is well represented by Chas. Wagner and C. F. Held. The former carries a very fine stock and is also agent for several standard sewing machines, among them Albert's favorite, "the Davis Machine." Mr. Held offers his stock at cost as will be seen by an advertisement in another column.

John C. Toberer and H. Schleuder, our jewelers, are not behind the times, and their stores dazzle with the many beautiful things suitable for present making. Even the large hardware stocks of M. Mullen, H. Beussmann, Chas. Roloff, J. B. Arnold and H. Laudenschlager, afford many useful and ornamental articles appropriate for holiday presents. Then there are the boot and shoe stores of H. Loheyde, Fr. Peuser and H. Rudolph, where most everything in their line can be found and obtained at prices corresponding to the low price of wheat. But we should not forget our grocery men, R. Pfeifferle, C. W. A. Crook, J. B. Zeug and Fr. Friedmann. These men, especially the former, carry large stocks and will sell you just as many pounds of sugar for a dollar as any other dealer in town. Pfeifferle, especially, is noted for his generosity, and they do say that sometimes he just slaughters fancy groceries and canned goods, of which he carries the largest stock in the city. The smoker's bazars of F. Burg and Wm. Petermann are at present unusually well stocked, and in that of the former any smoker's article, from a nickel cigar holder to a ten dollar meerschaum pipe, can be obtained. Mr. Burg also manufactures cigars on a large scale, and is prepared to supply the trade at Chicago prices.

As sewing machines have become a necessity in every family, and as there are yet a few who are not supplied, it might not be amiss to say that S. D. Peterson and O. Hanft are agents for several reliable machines, and will not be undersold, so they say. The millinery stores of Miss Therese Westphal and Mrs. Anton Olding should not be forgotten. These ladies keep nice assortments embracing everything new and stylish, and are no novices in their business. But when it comes to buying toys for the little folks, musical merchandise, vases, china goods, smoking sets, albums, &c., &c., for the large folks, why, the City Drug Store is the place to get them. But as we are not much addicted to blowing our own horn we would just say, come in and see for yourselves. There are also several others who keep pretty good stocks, but as they do not see fit to support the REVIEW in any shape form or manner, we are afraid a notice at our hands might be displeasing to them.

Linden Correspondence.

Editor Review:
 It is an old saying that when the Gods have determined to destroy a man they first make him crazy. It is now evident that they have decided to destroy the Linden correspondent of the New Ulm Review because they have already made him crazy. The Gods have really been hard on the unfortunate man. In creating him they filled him with a good quantity of animal passions, but bestowed him very little of brains and reason. Thus equipped with a badly balanced mind and a mean heart, his whole life is a runaway into knavery and foolishness. But even that is not all. They have even refused him ordinary judgement and taste, so as to prevent him from knowing when he debases himself and says and does things from which others turn away in contempt and disgust. PERSONAL.

—Alex. Harkin, of West Newton, dropped in on us last Saturday and made us happy by renewing seven subscriptions to the Review.

—J. J. Ray Esq., of Burns Station, was in the city last Wednesday and made the Review office a call. Mr. Ray is one of the warmest friends that the Review has and we are always glad to see him.

—D. I. Russell, one of the enterprising merchants of Sleepy Eye, looked over our city last Friday. Mr. Russell informed us that he had just opened up in Masonic Hall building with a large stock of general merchandise.

—Rev. O. P. Champlin, of Sleepy Eye, preached in the Methodist church last Sunday evening. Owing to a misunderstanding the audience was not as large as it would otherwise have been. Mr. Champlin will preach again at the same place one week from next Sunday evening.

The long dreamt of and talked of change in railroad matters on the Winona & St. Peter railroad has at last been made. A new time card, naming Sleepy Eye the western terminus of the middle division, went into effect last Sunday. But little change in the general running of trains, as far as New Ulm is concerned, with the exception that all trains now run through to Sleepy Eye, has been made, as will be seen by glancing over the traveler's guide published at the head of our local columns. Trains for Gary run in connection with the night passenger, as heretofore. (See traveler's guide in Sleepy Eye department.) Trains over the Minn. Valley road now run in connection with the day passenger, and leave Sleepy Eye at 8.20 p. m. and arrive at Redwood Falls at 10 p. m. Going south the train leaves Redwood at 3.35 a. m. and arrives in Sleepy Eye at 5.15 a. m. The moving of the division from New Ulm to Sleepy Eye is a severe blow to our hotels, as also to our mercantile and other interests. To Sleepy Eye, the change, under the present time card, is an important one, and has brought them about thirty families who have heretofore made New Ulm their home.

The new arrangement of running of trains does not affect our mail matters as far as the east is concerned, but it does materially affect us, westwardly. The regular mail for Redwood, Beaver Falls and the west now closes at 7.00 p. m. instead of 8.30 a. m. as heretofore, and arrives from the west at 6.00 a. m. instead of 4.10 p. m. But we also perfected arrangements whereby we can forward and receive a pouch on the night express, which will give us two daily mails to Sleepy Eye and thereby obviate the necessity of letters for New Ulm laying there over night. Mail for Redwood and Beaver Falls will also be forwarded by stage at 8.00 a. m.

A Minneapolis physician sends to the Mankato Review the following, which he styles the great English remedy for diphtheria and sore throat, and which he says given without water or sugar is sure to cure:

"Diphtheria can be cured by a gargle of pure lemon juice, swallowing a little so as to reach all the affected parts. Use every half hour, one, two and three hours as recovery progresses. The patient must swallow a little each time."

And still wheat comes down! Where, oh where, is the bottom.

The new hotel opened for the reception of guests on Monday.

The Division is now established, Andy, (that's our barber) and Majewski (our furniture man) will no more wail.

And now comes Billy Schults, whose better half has just presented him with a Christmas gift in the shape of a 12 1/2 pound boy. Next.

Fred. Gerboth's little three-year-old boy, who had a thigh broken by the kick of a horse some six weeks since, is again able to be around.

D. I. Russell has also laid in a very nice assortment of toys, notions and holiday goods. His assortment of candy toys is the largest in town, and his prices are way down.

A neat and pleasant little sociable was held last Wednesday evening by the Mite Society of the Cong'l church, in their building, and as is usual with all of their affairs, proved a perfect success.

There is a rumor to the effect that there will be a venture in journalism at this place ere long, but common report, as a general thing, is a common liar, and I am not overburdened with belief in the rumor.

The Lake House as usual is chock full. Your real epicure can scent a good house and a first class landlord almost any distance, and of such is the Lake House and its genial proprietor, Christ. Emerich.

Fritz Koehne's venture in the cattle trade, I judge proved a success, as he returned to Chicago on yesterday with two more car loads. Fritz reports things dull in Chicago. But what better can Chicago expect? They are too far from the centre of civilization.

Cy "loaned" a horse, saddle and bridle to a fellow last week Monday, the chap remarking upon starting off, "this is the last you will see of this outfit," and up to this time he has certainly been as good as his word, although due and diligent enquiry has been made for the aforesaid horse, saddle, etc. Cy says that if he will return the saddle and bridle they will be thankfully received, and no very searching enquiries made after the horse.

NARROW ESCAPE—One day this week as Mr. Martin Hose, of Leavenworth, was on his way to town, his horse became frightened at the top buggy of Dr. Wellcome, who was going in an opposite direction, and started off on a break-neck gail. Mr. Hose was thrown over the front of the wagon upon the tongue and his legs became so entangled in the eventer that he was unable to extricate himself. The team ran about a half mile with Mr. Hose in this very uncomfortable position and expecting instant death, but fortunately they were brought to a stop by running headlong into a fence, when Mr. Hose was enabled to free himself without injury, except a few minor bruises. Mr. Hose says he wishes Doc. would sell his top buggy, or hunt patients on some other road.

There is a man who lives over in one corner of this county and whose name might have been Brown, if his fathers had—well this man has got a wife and a pleasant home, with all surrounding comforts, and ten other little Browns. But now, alas, his life is a miserable and dreary waste, for, regardless of his feelings, Mrs. B. the other day presented him with another pair of little Browns, and now he says that the burdens of this life are almost too great to be borne. Upon being convinced that there was no deception in the matter Brown squared himself, and remarked thusly to Mrs. B. "Madame, long have I endured this sort of martyrdom in silence. I have been patient under afflictions of this kind until patience has ceased to be a virtue, and now, my word for it, if this sort of thing is going to continue, an eternal separation must occur." Mrs. B. promised, meekly promised, better things for the future, and the cloud has partially lifted from B's classic brow.
