

New Ulm Review.

NEW ULM, MINN.
Wednesday, September 8th, 1880.

Republican Nominations.

FOR PRESIDENT
JAS. A. GARFIELD,
Of Ohio.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
Chester A. Arthur,
Of New York.

FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS:
J. A. Thacher, L. G. Nelson,
J. T. Williams, Wm. Schimmel,
Kaute Nelson.

For Member of Congress—Second District,
HORACE B. STRAIT,
Of Scott County.

"IN MY OPINION THE
INTERESTS OF THE WHOLE COUNTRY, NORTH AND SOUTH, DEMAND THE
SUCCESS OF THE TICKET HEAD-
ED BY GARFIELD AND AR-THUR."—U. S. GRANT.

Hastings had a $5,000 fire on the morning of the 1st inst.

Judge Thomas S. Buckham was renominated at Owatonna on the 1st inst., for Judge of the fifth judicial district.

The Fairbault Guards re-organized a week before last, and elected John Van Saun, Captain. The new company numbers twenty-four men, but it is the intention to enlist about forty in all.

Congressman Dummell is making a vigorous campaign in the First District and he is meeting with unexpected success. All of his meetings having so far been well attended and very enthusiastic.

Chief Oury, the famous chief of the Ute Indians, died on Sunday the 30th ult. He has rendered valuable services to the government, and was a friend of the whites on all occasions.

A census enumerator in Georgia found a boy in Troup county in that State, who is only twelve years of age, but is married to a large fine looking woman, and they are living happily on a farm. The husband is said to be a thrifty young man.

On Saturday, the 29th ult., five boys were swept off a car and killed while passing through a bridge, on the Lowell and Lawrence railroad in Massachusetts. The boys were stealing a ride on the top of a passenger coach.

The Democratic convention of the First Congressional district, which was held at Owatonna on Wednesday of last week, nominated Hon. H. K. Wells, of Preston, Fillmore county, as the candidate for Representative.

The result of next Tuesday's election in the State of Maine is looked forward to with considerable anxiety by both parties, but the indications are that the Republicans will carry the State by a good round majority. Senator Blaine predicts 7,000.

The Mankato Free Press, under the new managers, seems to lean considerably towards Dummell as a Congressional candidate from the first district. While under Gen. Baker's control it was one of the most enthusiastic supporters of Ward.

The farmers of Decoria, Blue Earth county, have formed a protective society, for the purpose of protecting themselves against thieving, but more especially horse stealing. Such societies ought to be formed in every community; if this were done there would be fewer horses stolen than there are at present.

Mr. Pochler published a letter some time ago declining a re-nomination to Congress, because his business required his attention at home. But having become convinced of Maj. Strait's election he concluded that he could stay at home and attend to his business just as well as without a re-nomination, and finally accepted.

Senator Bruce declares that the black man's liberty in the South is of little practical value. The vagrant law, he says, throws him into prison on the slightest provocation; the apprentice law places colored minors at a great disadvantage, and the contract law puts the black employee wholly into the power of his white employer.

"Consider what Lee and Jackson would do were they alive. These are the same principles for which they fought for four years. Remember the men who poured their life blood on Virginia's soil, and do not abandon them now. Remember that on your vote depends the success of the Democratic ticket!"—Wade Hampton in his speech at Staunton, Virginia.

EPITOME OF THE WEEK.

Interesting News Compilation.

From Washington.
Information was received at Washington on the 31st ult. that the Utes had accepted Sagavan as their chief.
On the 1st the Assistant Treasurer at New York was instructed to purchase $2,500,000 of bonds on account of the sinking fund.
GENERAL OGDEN has telegraphed the authorities at Washington that Victoria's Indians were badly cut up and demoralized, and that the troops in New Mexico and Arizona could take care of them. The Mexican troops had neither attacked the Indians nor got to their way.

At the close of business on the 31st ult. the National Bank notes outstanding aggregated $34,728,015.
According to a Washington telegram of the 31st ult. the Agricultural Department had been lately receiving replies from its correspondents in various portions of the United States which indicated that the foot and mouth disease existed in nearly every part of the Union alike. The letters proved the fallacy of the theory that the disease had hitherto held that the disease had no foothold in the United States. The Agricultural Bureau announces that it will aid stock-owners in their efforts to extirpate it.

DURING AUGUST the customs receipts of the United States were $19,000,000, against $17,000,000 for July.

The public-debt statement for August makes the following exhibit: Total debt (including interest), $2,121,337,405. Cash in Treasury, $196,686,382. Debt, less amount in Treasury, $1,924,651,023. Decrease during the month, $13,027,167. Decrease since June 30, 1880, $17,603,321.

DURING AUGUST the internal revenue receipts were $10,497,001, a gain of $1,093,127 over August, 1879.

The East.
The distinguished American physician, Dr. Jackson, who departed with Prof. Morse the home of having invented the electric telegraph, died at his home in Somerville, Mass., on the 30th ult.

The Democratic nominee for Congress from the first New Hampshire district, H. F. Norris, has declined to accept the nomination.

SINCE the opening of navigation and up to the evening of the 31st ult. there were received by lake at Buffalo 713,400 barrels of flour and 67,387 bushels of grain.

On the 31st ult. Rev. William Adams, D. D., President of Union Theological Seminary, had preached in New York City since 1834, died, aged seventy-five years.

On the 31st ult. the Tammany branch of the New York Democracy revoked its call for a State Convention and ratified the call of the Regulars.

On the 1st the New Jersey Prohibitionists met in State Convention at Trenton and nominated S. B. Ransom for Governor, and the Twenty-third New York District renominated Congressman Cyrus D. Prescott.

On the 1st the New Jersey State Democratic Convention met at Trenton and nominated George C. Ludlow for Governor on the fourth ballot.

DURING SEPTEMBER unusually heavy gales are predicted along the Atlantic coast, and orders have been issued to the life-saving stations on the Jersey coast to be on the alert and in readiness for any emergency that may arise. There are forty-two of these stations, manned by 233 men.

A FEW DAYS ago a Mrs. Hamburger, a Montreal (Canada) milliner, undertook to bring her stock into the United States without paying the usual customs duties. At the frontier post of Richmond, Va., a prying officer discovered the goods and promptly confiscated them. They were worth $10,000.

A WOMAN'S EMIGRATION SOCIETY has been started in England to promote the emigration of the "superfluous women" to the colonies.

On the 1st the Massachusetts State Democratic Convention met at Worcester and nominated a full State ticket headed by Charles F. Thompson for Governor and Alpha E. Thompson for Lieutenant-Governor.

On the 2d the two branches of the Democratic party in New York City agreed to unite on legislative and Congressional nominations.

On the 2d the Republicans of the Fifth New Jersey District nominated John Hill for Congress.

West and South.
EX-GOVERNOR MCLELLAND died at Detroit, Mich., on the 30th ult. from an apoplectic attack. He was Secretary of the Interior under President Pierce.

On the 31st ult. a messenger reached Olay, Cal., bringing intelligence that the Southern and White River Utes, Plutes and Navajos had taken the war-path in Grand Valley and had committed many depredations.

A RECENT LOS ANGELES dispatch states that Victoria, the hostile Apache chieftain, had sent a message to the Mexican Government requesting aid for treaty purposes. The Mexicans refused to consider the proposition until the United States authorities had been consulted.

A LEXINGTON (Ky.) man recently declined the invitation of a conductor on the Santa Fe Railroad to pay his fare, and as the official was preparing to throw him from the train, shot him dead.

A HEAVY RAIN-STORM prevailed at Richmond, Va., on the night of the 30th ult., flooding the lower part of the city and doing a great deal of damage to property.

The following Congressional nominations were made on the 31st ult.: Second Iowa District, Major S. S. Farwell, Republican; Second Illinois, Daniel Evans, Democrat; Fourth Michigan, J. W. Powers, Democrat; Seventh Illinois, Daniel Evans, Democrat; Fourth Georgia, J. B. Collins, Republican; Second California, J. B. Collins, Republican; Fifth Maryland, Andrew G. Chapman, Democrat; First Minnesota, Henry K. Wells, Democrat; Third Alabama, A. A. Mabson, Republican.

On the 1st the Nebraska State Republican Convention was held at Lincoln and Governor Nance and most of the present incumbents of the State offices were renominated. E. K. Valentine was renominated for Congress, and Colonel Majors for contingent Congressman.

The following Congressional nominations were made on the 1st: Seventh Iowa District, S. H. Mallory, Democrat; Third Michigan, James W. Sheldon, Democrat; Fourth Michigan, J. W. Powers, Democrat; Seventh Illinois, Daniel Evans, Democrat; Fourth Georgia, J. B. Collins, Republican; Second California, J. B. Collins, Republican; Fifth Maryland, Andrew G. Chapman, Democrat; First Minnesota, Henry K. Wells, Democrat; Third Alabama, A. A. Mabson, Republican.

On the 1st the Nebraska State Republican Convention was held at Lincoln and Governor Nance and most of the present incumbents of the State offices were renominated. E. K. Valentine was renominated for Congress, and Colonel Majors for contingent Congressman.

The following Congressional nominations were made on the 1st: Seventh Iowa District, S. H. Mallory, Democrat; Third Michigan, James W. Sheldon, Democrat; Fourth Michigan, J. W. Powers, Democrat; Seventh Illinois, Daniel Evans, Democrat; Fourth Georgia, J. B. Collins, Republican; Second California, J. B. Collins, Republican; Fifth Maryland, Andrew G. Chapman, Democrat; First Minnesota, Henry K. Wells, Democrat; Third Alabama, A. A. Mabson, Republican.

On the 1st the Nebraska State Republican Convention was held at Lincoln and Governor Nance and most of the present incumbents of the State offices were renominated. E. K. Valentine was renominated for Congress, and Colonel Majors for contingent Congressman.

The following Congressional nominations were made on the 1st: Seventh Iowa District, S. H. Mallory, Democrat; Third Michigan, James W. Sheldon, Democrat; Fourth Michigan, J. W. Powers, Democrat; Seventh Illinois, Daniel Evans, Democrat; Fourth Georgia, J. B. Collins, Republican; Second California, J. B. Collins, Republican; Fifth Maryland, Andrew G. Chapman, Democrat; First Minnesota, Henry K. Wells, Democrat; Third Alabama, A. A. Mabson, Republican.

On the 1st the Nebraska State Republican Convention was held at Lincoln and Governor Nance and most of the present incumbents of the State offices were renominated. E. K. Valentine was renominated for Congress, and Colonel Majors for contingent Congressman.

The following Congressional nominations were made on the 1st: Seventh Iowa District, S. H. Mallory, Democrat; Third Michigan, James W. Sheldon, Democrat; Fourth Michigan, J. W. Powers, Democrat; Seventh Illinois, Daniel Evans, Democrat; Fourth Georgia, J. B. Collins, Republican; Second California, J. B. Collins, Republican; Fifth Maryland, Andrew G. Chapman, Democrat; First Minnesota, Henry K. Wells, Democrat; Third Alabama, A. A. Mabson, Republican.

On the morning of the 2d the President and party reached Chicago, en route to the Pacific coast. They remained in that city but little over an hour so that there was no extended demonstration in their honor, and they departed for Omaha quietly, as they came.

There is further trouble between the Creek and Cherokee in the Indian Territory, and both parties are preparing for war.

A FEW DAYS ago nine Chinamen employed on the Canada Pacific Railroad were suddenly elevated to a perilous height by the premature explosion of a blast. The friends of the injured men thought the foreman of the construction gang, a white man, was to blame for the accident, and chased him several miles, but he succeeded in effecting his escape.

This committee appointed by Congress at its recent session to select a site for the proposed monument at Yorktown to celebrate the surrender of Cornwallis have selected a spot not far from the celebrated Spotswood house on "Temple Farm."

The Iowa Democrats met in State Convention at Des Moines on the 2d and nominated the following ticket: Secretary of State, E. B. Keith; State Treasurer, Martin Blinn; Auditor, C. A. Barker; Attorney-General, C. A. Clarke; Register of the Land Office, D. Daugherty. Presidential Electors were also nominated.

On the 2d Governor Simpson, of South Carolina, resigned the Governorship to accept the position of Chief Justice.

The colored men of Kansas will meet in State Convention at Topeka, on the 20th of September.

The Iowa Democrats met in State Convention at Des Moines on the 2d and nominated the following ticket: Secretary of State, E. B. Keith; State Treasurer, Martin Blinn; Auditor, C. A. Barker; Attorney-General, C. A. Clarke; Register of the Land Office, D. Daugherty. Presidential Electors were also nominated.

On the 2d Governor Simpson, of South Carolina, resigned the Governorship to accept the position of Chief Justice.

The colored men of Kansas will meet in State Convention at Topeka, on the 20th of September.

The Iowa Democrats met in State Convention at Des Moines on the 2d and nominated the following ticket: Secretary of State, E. B. Keith; State Treasurer, Martin Blinn; Auditor, C. A. Barker; Attorney-General, C. A. Clarke; Register of the Land Office, D. Daugherty. Presidential Electors were also nominated.

On the 2d Governor Simpson, of South Carolina, resigned the Governorship to accept the position of Chief Justice.

The colored men of Kansas will meet in State Convention at Topeka, on the 20th of September.

The Iowa Democrats met in State Convention at Des Moines on the 2d and nominated the following ticket: Secretary of State, E. B. Keith; State Treasurer, Martin Blinn; Auditor, C. A. Barker; Attorney-General, C. A. Clarke; Register of the Land Office, D. Daugherty. Presidential Electors were also nominated.

On the 2d Governor Simpson, of South Carolina, resigned the Governorship to accept the position of Chief Justice.

The colored men of Kansas will meet in State Convention at Topeka, on the 20th of September.

The Iowa Democrats met in State Convention at Des Moines on the 2d and nominated the following ticket: Secretary of State, E. B. Keith; State Treasurer, Martin Blinn; Auditor, C. A. Barker; Attorney-General, C. A. Clarke; Register of the Land Office, D. Daugherty. Presidential Electors were also nominated.

On the 2d Governor Simpson, of South Carolina, resigned the Governorship to accept the position of Chief Justice.

The colored men of Kansas will meet in State Convention at Topeka, on the 20th of September.

The Iowa Democrats met in State Convention at Des Moines on the 2d and nominated the following ticket: Secretary of State, E. B. Keith; State Treasurer, Martin Blinn; Auditor, C. A. Barker; Attorney-General, C. A. Clarke; Register of the Land Office, D. Daugherty. Presidential Electors were also nominated.

On the 2d Governor Simpson, of South Carolina, resigned the Governorship to accept the position of Chief Justice.

The colored men of Kansas will meet in State Convention at Topeka, on the 20th of September.

The Iowa Democrats met in State Convention at Des Moines on the 2d and nominated the following ticket: Secretary of State, E. B. Keith; State Treasurer, Martin Blinn; Auditor, C. A. Barker; Attorney-General, C. A. Clarke; Register of the Land Office, D. Daugherty. Presidential Electors were also nominated.

On the 2d Governor Simpson, of South Carolina, resigned the Governorship to accept the position of Chief Justice.

The colored men of Kansas will meet in State Convention at Topeka, on the 20th of September.

The Iowa Democrats met in State Convention at Des Moines on the 2d and nominated the following ticket: Secretary of State, E. B. Keith; State Treasurer, Martin Blinn; Auditor, C. A. Barker; Attorney-General, C. A. Clarke; Register of the Land Office, D. Daugherty. Presidential Electors were also nominated.

On the 2d Governor Simpson, of South Carolina, resigned the Governorship to accept the position of Chief Justice.

The colored men of Kansas will meet in State Convention at Topeka, on the 20th of September.

The Iowa Democrats met in State Convention at Des Moines on the 2d and nominated the following ticket: Secretary of State, E. B. Keith; State Treasurer, Martin Blinn; Auditor, C. A. Barker; Attorney-General, C. A. Clarke; Register of the Land Office, D. Daugherty. Presidential Electors were also nominated.

On the 2d Governor Simpson, of South Carolina, resigned the Governorship to accept the position of Chief Justice.

The colored men of Kansas will meet in State Convention at Topeka, on the 20th of September.

The Iowa Democrats met in State Convention at Des Moines on the 2d and nominated the following ticket: Secretary of State, E. B. Keith; State Treasurer, Martin Blinn; Auditor, C. A. Barker; Attorney-General, C. A. Clarke; Register of the Land Office, D. Daugherty. Presidential Electors were also nominated.

On the 2d Governor Simpson, of South Carolina, resigned the Governorship to accept the position of Chief Justice.

The colored men of Kansas will meet in State Convention at Topeka, on the 20th of September.

The Iowa Democrats met in State Convention at Des Moines on the 2d and nominated the following ticket: Secretary of State, E. B. Keith; State Treasurer, Martin Blinn; Auditor, C. A. Barker; Attorney-General, C. A. Clarke; Register of the Land Office, D. Daugherty. Presidential Electors were also nominated.

On the 2d Governor Simpson, of South Carolina, resigned the Governorship to accept the position of Chief Justice.

The colored men of Kansas will meet in State Convention at Topeka, on the 20th of September.

The Iowa Democrats met in State Convention at Des Moines on the 2d and nominated the following ticket: Secretary of State, E. B. Keith; State Treasurer, Martin Blinn; Auditor, C. A. Barker; Attorney-General, C. A. Clarke; Register of the Land Office, D. Daugherty. Presidential Electors were also nominated.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

The little town of Salem, McCook Co., Dakota, was visited by a terrible tornado on Monday night last week, and the greater part of the buildings it contained were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

R. O. Adams, the defaulting postmaster of Des Moines, is leading an Ishmaelite existence in the Black Hills, riding about the prairies, remote from civilization and the police, with a complete arsenal strapped about his person. He swears he will slaughter a whole posse if it tries to arrest him, and hasn't entered a house for fear of capture since he left Deadwood. The policy of the police seems to be to let him starve into feebleness before taking him in.

suffered an indemnity for ships destroyed by the "Alabama" and her consorts, commonly called the "uncaptured musters." The depredations of these Confederate vessels, filled out, as they were by Great Britain, drove American commerce from the seas. One of these claims was paid under the act of 1874. But there yet remain large numbers of losers whose claims have not been paid. There is a balance of nearly $10,000 dollars to the credit of this fund now in the Treasury. There are claiming a share of it, those who lost by the payment of heavy war premiums to the insurance companies, who if their claims are allowed, would absorb almost the whole amount. The sentiment in Congress is largely in favor of the war premium men, and they, in all probability, will receive a considerable before any others.

London Letter.
(Regular Correspondence)
London, Aug. 15th, 1880.

Fine weather, with less rain has enabled our farmers of the Home and Southern counties to make a fair beginning of the harvest. The wheat crop this year is certainly a great improvement upon 1879, but the year is likely to be one of the most uneven character. The markets of the past week have been the subject of a slightly retrograde movement, but trade remains so susceptible to weather that the only statement that can be made with fair assurance of accuracy is that buyers will have the best of a market reached along a dusty road, and sellers the best of business on a rainy day.

The reactionary movement in trade has been confined for the most part to wheat and flour, foreign descriptions of which must be quoted