
GORDON GILLESPIE
 1st Lieut. 120th Inf., Killed in Action Oct. 1918.

A soldier sleeps in Flanders Field
 Where the blood-red poppies grow;
 He came to fight and fight he did,
 For fear he did not know.
 His home was far away in Dixie,
 Midst cotton fields so white;
 Whence come so many soldiers,
 To the fields of France to fight.
 He did his part as he saw it,
 And died as a Southerner dies;
 While the glory he gained by his dying.

Form a star o'er the spot where he lies.

R. N. M.

The above beautiful tribute to Gordon Gillespie was written by one of his soldier comrades, now in France, on Nov. 18, 1918, and mailed to Gordon's parents—the letter being received here yesterday morning, February 2nd.

You Know, But Sometimes Forget
 Everybody knows an imitation is never so good as the genuine article. Foley's Honey and Tar stands at the top of the list of family remedies for colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis and grippe coughs. W. L. Anglin, Antioch, La., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar 15 years. It is the best." Sold Everywhere.

Sam Coleman, Jr., Is In The Race For Sheriff

The announcement of Mr. Sam Coleman, Jr., as a candidate for the office of Sheriff and Tax-Collector of Leflore county, subject to the decision of the Democratic primary election to be held next August, appears in this issue of The Commonwealth, and the attention of the voters is directed to same.

Mr. Coleman is a native of Leflore county, having been born and reared in Greenwood—being a son of Judge and Mrs. S. R. Coleman, of this city. He is well and favorably known to practically every citizen of the county, having capably served as Deputy Sheriff during the four years' term of ex-Sheriff S. Z. Prophet several years ago, and for the past few years has been actively in the service of the Y & M. V. R. R.

Mr. Coleman is in every respect fitted for the efficient and faithful discharge of the duties of the important office to which he aspires, and submits his claims to the voters for a favorable consideration at their hands.

How To Keep Well

"Keep the bowels open" is one rule of health recommended by all schools of medicine. Foley Cathartic Tablets cleanse the bowels, sweeten the stomach and benefit the liver. For indigestion, biliousness, bad breath, bloating, gas or constipation, no remedy is more highly recommended. Fine for stout persons. Sold Everywhere.

Mr. O. F. Bledsoe, Jr., has returned from St. Louis, where he attended a preliminary conference of representatives from the Eleventh Federal Reserve District, relative to the forthcoming "Victory Bond" drive.

Mr. P. S. George Is Laid To Rest Here

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Greenwood has lost a good citizen and many warm friends feel a personal loss in the passing of Mr. P. S. George which occurred at the King's Daughters Hospital yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. His death was not unexpected. For several weeks he had been in a serious condition and his friends were apprehensive of his recovery.

Mr. George spent Christmas in New Orleans with his daughter, Mrs. Adams, wife of Dr. Adams. He took treatment there, but apparently did not improve and he returned to the city. He went directly from the train to the hospital, where he remained until the end came. On last Tuesday night he underwent an operation for the removal of an abscess on the liver. Since that time he gradually grew weaker and a few days ago he lost consciousness which he never regained before his death.

Mr. George was the son of the late U. S. Senator, J. Z. George, who was formerly supreme judge. He was born in Carrollton, Miss., and was reared in this and Carroll county. Since early manhood he lived the greater portion of his life in Greenwood. For several years he was in the insurance business here. He was also engaged in the planting business and at the time of his death was still one of the owners of the Runnymede plantation.

Mr. George belonged to one of the prominent families of Mississippi and is widely known throughout the state. He possessed a brilliant mind and a broad education. Throughout the years he retained the friendship of the men whom he knew and loved in his young manhood. His sunny disposition and his ability to view the bright side of life made him a pleasant companion. During the last few weeks of his illness, after his suffering became acute, he was cheerful and his keen sense of humor carried him through the trying days.

A wife and two children, Aldridge George, a student at Bell Buckle, Tenn., and Mrs. Adams, of New Orleans, survive him, besides one brother and three sisters.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Episcopal Church, conducted by Dr. L. W. Rose. He was laid to rest in the Odd Fellows Cemetery. The active pall-bearers were: S. L. Gwin, E. L. Moulter, W. M. Petet, Frank H. Smith, W. R. Bell, R. C. King, R. P. Parrish, T. H. Baird. Honorary pall-bearers: Messrs. P. A. Malone, Gid Montjoy, Jr., G. P. Elliott, Calhoun Wilson, C. L. Lomax, D. E. Nichols, W. S. Vardaman, S. R. Keesler.

Mrs. G. H. Lockwood Died In California

(From Thursday's Daily.)

The friends of Mrs. G. H. Lockwood, who knew here when she resided here, will be grieved to learn of her death last week, which occurred in Los Angeles, Calif. Mrs. Lockwood was only ill a few days with influenza and pneumonia. She had seemed in the best of health and was taken ill after she had returned from a golf game. Her condition at once grew serious and death occurred within three days.

W. G. Poindexter For Supervisor, Beat 5

The friends of Capt. W. G. Poindexter have formally announced his name in this issue of The Commonwealth for the important office of Supervisor from Beat 5 of Leflore county, subject to the decision of the Democratic primary election to be held next August.

Capt. Poindexter is one of the foremost citizens and most substantial planters in the county, and is highly esteemed as a citizen and business man by all who know him. He was born and reared in this county, is thoroughly identified with his best interests, and will make his people an efficient and satisfactory Supervisor if they elect him to that responsible position.

His friends submit his name for the favorable consideration of the voters of that district, believing that they cannot make a better selection for the office.

Don't Fool Yourself

A man suffering from backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints or sore muscles may laugh and say these symptoms of kidney trouble "don't amount to anything." It is folly to ignore Nature's warnings. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief in kidney or bladder troubles and "it is better to be safe than sorry." Sold Everywhere.

Pollock's Trial Been Postponed

(From Friday's Daily.)

The trial of C. M. Pollock, who is in jail here on a charge of bringing 300 quarts of whiskey into Greenwood on a gasoline launch last week, has been indefinitely postponed. His preliminary hearing will not take place until his attorneys arrive from Vicksburg.

The Hortense, the launch on which the whiskey was conveyed to Greenwood, is anchored on the Yazoo River, a mile and half below the Buckeye Oil Mill. A seizure suit has been filed by Prosecuting Attorney Means Johnston for the confiscation of the boat. The matter will come up at the May term of court. When the launch is confiscated by the county it will be sold and the proceeds will go into the treasury. The boat is valued at $400.

Cut This Out—It Is Worth Money.
DON'T MISS THIS. Cut out this slip, enclose with 5cts. to Foley & Co., 2835 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup, Foley Kidney Pills and Foley Cathartic Tablets. Sold everywhere.

Mr. W. M. Whittington Purchases 362 Acres

Mr. W. M. Whittington has purchased three hundred and sixty-two acres of land known as the Hartshorn place from Mr. J. B. Hartshorn. The land is located north of the Tallahatchie river. The consideration was $49,000. This land adjoins tracts already owned by Mr. Whittington.

We couldn't make the Maxwell any better; so we made it better looking

An artist never frames his masterpiece until he finishes it.

So the new Maxwell, a completed work, is now robed in new garments.

They do not make it run any better. They make it look better.

Mr. Whistler, himself, were he here today and saw a new Maxwell pass on the street, would probably give it a second look.

A little touch here, the straightening of a line there, the bringing of a fender a little closer to the wheel, a circassian walnut dash before you as you sit at the wheel, the strength lent by putting the gas tank in the rear, the multiplication of bonnet vents, the adding of three more painting coats, the increased thickness of the seat cushions—these, though but a few of the many changes made,—show the tendency of the new beauty.

It is in the sum of many little things that the full story is told.

The car was first checked off in squares, as a doctor sometimes marks off a man's chest and back to test every square inch of the lungs.

And there was an improvement made in nearly every square.

When the task was done it looked like a different Maxwell.

But it wasn't.

It was the same, sound, go-get-there chassis built to stand the gaff of rough and ready driving, built to endure, to "stay put," to stand all the erratic moods of the careless driver.

It was a five year drive to reach this present peak of Maxwell efficiency. But the engineers, and the manufacturing men knew that building a chassis without fundamental change in design year after year would ultimately tell in results. For every one knows that doing one thing results in doing it well.

So in five years 300,000 Maxwells have come forth, all built on the original chassis plan—each new one better than the last.

There is no self-starting automobile in the world that has such a manufacturing record.

Think what it means to a man who owns one:

He has not paid for a false overhead.

He has not paid for manufacturing mistakes.

He has not paid for experimental work.

He has not paid for the changes of mind of another man.

Today you get a better Maxwell than any of the 300,000, and a better looking Maxwell. It is a finished work, a completed task, a thing well done.

You run no risk—and when you cast your eyes on it you are tempted to feel that the price might easily be $200 more.

NEW HOMES WILL BE ERECTED HERE

Considerable Spring Building Is Being Contemplated By A Number of Citizens.

Plans are underway for the construction of a number of new homes and business houses which will be erected in Greenwood during the Spring and summer. Some of those who are contemplating new structures have not yet made their plans public.

Several new homes are to be erected on Strong Ave. Rev. W. K. Clements contemplates erecting a residence on this avenue. Work on the structure will be commenced in the next few months.

Mr. H. L. DeLoach purchased yesterday a corner lot 62 by 300 feet, just east of the Dave Nichols property. Mr. DeLoach expects to erect a handsome brick bungalow during the summer. The lot was bought from Judge A. McC. Kimbrough.

Dr. F. M. Sandifer has purchased the lot 124 by 300 feet, adjoining the one bought by Mr. DeLoach from Judge Kimbrough. Dr. Sandifer has not yet fully decided whether he will erect a residence on newly acquired property.

Mr. W. Morgan Kimbrough expects to build within the near future a brick structure in the down town business section in which the Kimbrough Automobile Co. will conduct their business.

Jefferson Davis' Son-in-Law Dies

A telegram received yesterday by friends of the family announces the death in Los Angeles, Cal., of Joe Addison Hayes, on the 25th inst. Mr. Hayes was the son-in-law of Jefferson Davis, late president of the southern Confederacy—being the husband of Margaret Howell Davis, the oldest daughter of the family.

Mr. Hayes was born in Nashville of an old and well known Tennessee family, spent his early manhood in Memphis, and Colorado Springs over thirty years ago, where he was very successful as a banker, and made his mark in that community in many ways.

Mr. Hayes leaves a family of four, two sons and two daughters, all married, and numerous grandchildren. His oldest son, Jefferson Davis Hayes, is an officer in the aviation service, and is now in France.

Mr. Hayes, besides being possessed of fine business qualities, was a man of exceptionally attractive character, which made him not only popular in business circles, but endeared him to all his friends and intimates who will hear of his death with a keen sense of personal loss.

As President Davis had intimate relation with this community, the news of his son-in-law's death will no doubt be a matter of interest and regret to many Vicksburgers.

Mr. Hayes' second daughter, Lucy, has been a frequent visitor to Vicksburg.—Herald, Jan. 28, 1918.

BEST PREVENTIVE FOR INFLUENZA IS ACTIVE LIVER

CALOTABS, THE NAUSEALESS CALOMEL THAT IS FREE FROM DANGER OF SALIVATION, IS THE IDEAL LAXATIVE FOR COLDS AND FLU.

Keep your liver active, your system purified and your digestive organs in perfect working order. That is the advice of physicians as to how to avoid influenza and serious complications. At the first sign of a cold or sore throat, take a Calotab, the perfected calomel that is free from the nauseating and salivating qualities of the old style calomel, and whose medicinal properties are vastly improved.

One Calotab at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea, nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure, or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your druggist recommends and guarantees Calotabs by offering to refund the price if you are not delighted with them.—(Adv.)

Mr. Ed Jones returned today from Memphis, where he accompanied his wife who is taking treatment there.

Advertising Finds Lost Pocket Book

Mr. A. G. Chatham, of Avalon, lost his pocket book containing about $150.00 on Wednesday evening while returning to his home from Greenwood, having sold some horses here that day. He came to The Daily Commonwealth office and inserted a lost adv. at the cost of 50 cents, and the next day Mrs. Mary Smith, residing just north-east of the city, had a call put in notifying us that her little daughter had found the pocket book with all the money in it. Mr. Chatham was promptly notified by phone at Avalon and he came down Friday and got his lost property.

Mr. Chatham had instructed us to pay the finder $10.00 reward if the money was returned to this office. However, when he applied to Mrs. Smith for his pocket book and money, he learned that she was a widow with several children, and without hesitation he forthwith handed to the little daughter $25.00, and gave Mrs. Smith's youngest child another dollar—evidencing his appreciation of the good woman's honesty and kindness in returning to him his lost money. This is only another instance of the value of advertising in The Daily Commonwealth. If you have lost anything or have anything to sell, just advertise it in these columns and you are sure of quick results.

Mr. L. H. Michaux, a former resident of this city, but who is now in the offices of the chief clerk at Natchez, Miss., spent Sunday in Greenwood the guest of friends.
