How it warms the heart, and gives heartiness to the hand, grasp to be a candidate.

Adair county Democracy is disheartened because it is not allowed to put a straight Democratic ticket in the field.

The Democrats of Nebraska refuse to fuse with the Farmers' Alliance, and have placed a straight Democratic ticket in the field.

Was it cholera, cholera, or some insidious poison administered by quick political doctors that caused the death of the Democratic party of Adair county?

Stone, the Democratic candidate for governor, is taking the forgotten graveyards for campaign material. The young men of all parties turn from such a campaign in disgust, and hail with delight the campaign of the "New Missouri."

A prominent Democrat in speaking of the late congressional primary said that he feared there was something rotten in Denmark. It is quite probable, however, that, if the proceeding was subjected to a close scrutiny the rotteness would be discovered in the First Congressional district instead of Denmark.

Since the Democratic party of Adair county is a corpse, would it not be well to have the coroner hold an inquest, over the dead body and ascertain, if possible, the true cause of its death? There is grave suspicion of foul play, and an inquest would remove the suspicion or fix the act upon the guilty parties.

"Stand up for Missouri" is in the mouth of every young voter. It echoes from the hill-tops and reverberates in the valleys. It is in the atmosphere; everywhere. A grave-yard campaign must meet an ignominious defeat when hurled against a campaign that fills the heart with inspiration and a hope of better things to come. Under the banner bearing the magic words the Republican party of Missouri will march to a glorious victory.

Since the excitement attending the Democratic congressional primary has subsided, one thought comes up to trouble the minds of the Giles men. In Adair county the Ellison men worked hard for Giles, while in Putnam county, so it is reported, the Ellison men worked just as hard for Hatch. The work of the primary don't harmonize, and the more they think about it, the greater becomes the fear that there is something rotten in Denmark.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29, '92

Senator Voorhees has been "talking out in meeting" about his recent visit to the Democratic national headquarters, in New York City, and his talk is far from complimentary to those in charge. He is credited with saying that the Democratic campaign, as far as it has gone, has been a batch of errors, for which Whitney is as much responsible as Harrity and Dickinson. Mr. Voorhees tells his Democratic friends that if the election were to be held now, Cleveland could not carry New York to save his life, and that he saw nothing when there to base any hopes for an improvement in the situation.

This information from Senator Voorhees, so far as it refers to New York state, is in accord with that received through Republican sources. Senator Perkins, of Kansas, who has also been in New York, says he found the Republicans in good shape all around, and that the campaign is being vigorously and intelligently pushed, and that he has not the slightest doubt of the election of Harrison and Reid by a large electoral vote than that cast for Harrison and Morton. Of his own state Mr. Perkins says: "We have a hot fight on our hands, with the Democratic party swallowed up by the so-called People's party, but you may put it down as certain that we are going to redeem Kansas this year. The campaign has progressed far enough to make it absolutely certain that the Republican state ticket and at least five congressmen will be elected, and before November we expect to be certain of the rest of the congressmen and are of the electoral ticket. The prosperity of the farmers of our state is leaving the demagogues, whose stock in trade is woe, without argument."

If the cholera gets into the United States it will not be because of any lack of effort on the part of the Marine Hospital Service to keep it out, although it is absolutely necessary that the various state and city health authorities should intelligently co-operate with this bureau to make the quarantine actually preventive. The Marine Hospital Service, which is a bureau of the Treasury Department, has control of the congressional appropriation known as the epidemic fund, which will be used to keep out this dreaded disease. Collectors of customs at all ports of entry will act in conjunction with the Marine Hospital Service, and while there may be isolated cases of the cholera which will evade the vigilance of the quarantine authorities and get into our seaboard cities, it is believed that the precautions taken will make it impossible for it to become epidemic.

A local Democrat of prominence says that Whitney told him that Mr. Cleveland would try in his letter of acceptance to tone down the effect of the plain spoken free trade plank in the national platform, which is doing his party so much harm in New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut—states which he must carry to be elected. It is too late for any toning down process, and nothing that Mr. Cleveland can say in his letter can change the issue of this campaign—protection vs. free trade.

Much regret is expressed here at the announcement that Senator Dawes, of Massachusetts, whose term expires March 4, 1893, will not be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Dawes has been one of the wheel horses of the Republican party for so many years that his absence cannot fail to be felt; but there is consolation in the fact that Massachusetts has many able Republicans and that his successor is certain to be a good man.

The most troublesome problem that the citizens committee in charge of the G. A. R. encampment had to deal with has been satisfactorily solved. That was to arrange for a plentiful supply of good wholesome food, well cooked, and at a reasonable price, in close proximity to the barracks in which free sleeping accommodations will be furnished all veterans who do not engage their own quarters. A contract has been made with a caterer who has had wide experience in feeding large crowds, by which he agrees to furnish those of the visitors who desire regular meals with three good meals for $1 per day, and to supply at all times during the night or day, cold lunches with hot coffee and tea and milk, at the usual city prices. The barracks have been named; those on the monument lot, Alger, in honor of General Alger, and those in Garfield park, Farragut, after the gallant old Admiral, long since gone where all good sailors go.

The addresses of sixteen of the war governors have been obtained by the committee and this week invitations to attend the encampment as special guests of honor of the committee, will be forwarded to each of them. It is hoped that all of them may be able to attend, as it is the purpose of the committee to make their reunion a memorable occasion.

Sabbath Home Items.

John Bradley is building a three room house.

Lark Watson has completed his race track.

Simon Rorabough is at home this week.

Grandma Edmonds is visiting her son John.

Dock Waddill left for South Dakota Tuesday.

W. L. Rice expects to find coal on his farm.

A fine rain visited this community Monday morning.

E. S. Waddill and wife visited his mother Sunday.

Rain on Monday stopped the threshing machines.

Marion Olson is marketing a fine crop of watermelons.

Ash Selby has gone to Oklahoma to look after his claim.

There will be a large acreage of wheat sown in this locality.

Frank McClay and wife have gone to Kansas to visit Mr. McClay's sister.

This neighborhood will be largely represented at the Kirksville fair next week.

The apple and peach crops are light in this vicinity. The grape crop is fairly good.

James Waddill, who lives on the O. E. Darrow farm near Kirksville, was here the first of the week.

Greencastle Items.

M. Astor is suffering from a sore mouth, the result of salivation.

Mrs. Dorsey who has been suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism is again able to go about.

Misses Luella and Emma Rich will soon move their millinery stock to the building they recently purchased in the business center of town.

"The Famous" store under the management of M. Tingley, recently from Kirksville, is starting out encouragingly and is destined to do a good business.

Master Mat. Bedall, the leading printer of Greencastle, leaves next week to take charge of the typographical department of a newspaper at Humphreys, Mo.

Grandma Herbert who has been entirely helpless for several months still lingers, but without hope of recovery. The same is true of Miss Emma Willows who has been helpless for nine years.

Monday morning C. B. Comstock commenced putting up the poles for a telephone line to connect Greencastle and Green City. The line will be completed by September 15, at which time the Comstock bank will open for business at this place.

Notice to Contractors of Bridge Letting.

Special Agreement.

PARCELL THE PHOTOGRAPHER will not exhibit samples of his work at the Fair this year. We have been rushed with orders for the past three months. People who appreciate first class work and special attention to all the little details that go to make up a fine photograph, always go to the Parcell Gallery and seldom ask the price, knowing full well that whatever it is they get value received. We would be pleased to have our old friends and customers call and see the finest collection of photographs in the city.

Very Respectfully,
H. G. PARCELL & Co.

Public Sale.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Pa., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Backlen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large liver sores on his leg, doctors said it was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Backlen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by B. F. Henry.

A Card to the Public.

We have now taken possession of our store at Sperry and are running it in conjunction with our store at Sublette. We shall endeavor at all times to keep a complete line of all goods usually kept in a country store, including flour, salt, and barb wire. We want to buy all the butter, eggs, poultry, hides and all country produce, for which we will pay the highest market price.

We are also buying grain. Give us a call either at Sublette or Sperry. Our prices are the same at either place. Thanking our patrons for past favors and hoping for a liberal patronage for the new firm, we are, very truly yours,
FLETCHER, ELY & Co., Sublette and Sperry, Mo.

Different

The difference between Joy's and all other Sarsaparilla is this: Every other Sarsaparilla we know of contains potash. It is well known that potash taken internally causes eruptions upon the face and neck. You have doubtless taken a Sarsaparilla for that pimply skin. Well, you took Joy's and you were surprised to find that it actually created more eruptions than was in the skin of the potash. Now Joy's being the best Sarsaparilla, it actually discharges the blood without creating the ugly potash eruptions. A cure.

"After treatment with eruptions on my face and neck, a well-known Sarsaparilla actually made matters worse. Upon changing to Joy's they began to dry up, and in two weeks my face was as well and smooth as ever."

ROBERT DREWART, Pittsburg, Cal.

JOY'S Sarsaparilla
