DIVORCE GRANTED TO MRS. RUTHERFORD

Former Columbia Woman is Awarded Decree in Kansas City.

WIFE OF AN ARMY OFFICER

Will Have Custody of Dorothy, 9-Year-Old Daughter—Gambling.

Mrs. Rubey Bowling Rutherford, formerly of Columbia, was granted a divorce yesterday from Henry H. Rutherford, a United States army surgeon, ranking major, now stationed in the Philippines. The case was heard before Judge Seehorn's division of the circuit court in Kansas City. The decree was granted by default. Mrs. Rutherford was given the custody of her daughter, Dorothy, 9 years old.

Mrs. Rutherford, whose maiden name was Bowling, is a sister of C. E. Bowling, president of the Exchange National bank in Columbia. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bowling, who live at 1109 Walnut Street, Columbia.

In testifying against her husband, Mrs. Rutherford said he drank and gambled. Once when they were stationed in Montana, she said, he lost $350 in one day, and she had to send home for money to pay his losses.

Mrs. Shepard, the wife of Captain Shepard, stationed at Fort Logan in Denver, and James E. Goodrich, judge of the circuit court, who knew Mrs. Rutherford in Columbia, were both witnesses in behalf of the plaintiff. They said that her character was beyond reproach.

Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford were married in Columbia in January, 1909. They lived together until February, 1909.

Dr. Rutherford has an acquaintance in Columbia. He was graduated from the College of Arts and Science in 1896 and two years later was graduated from the School of Medicine.

Friends Thought H. W. Blakeslee Went Calling Too Often.

H. W. Blakeslee had called upon a girl living at a boarding house on Turner Avenue so many times that his friends sent his trunk over and placed it on the front porch. When the young women who live at the house started to class the next morning, they were surprised to find a trunk with a large placard, "H. W. Blakeslee" at the front door.

Blakeslee is a junior in the School of Law. He rooms at 605 Sanford Place. It is said that he has not yet made friends with his joking associates.

IT INCREASES STOCK

The Missouri Store Gets New Charter—To Enlarge Place.

A new charter was received yesterday by the Missouri Store company, from the secretary of state of Missouri, authorizing a change in capitalization from $8,000, all paid in, to $50,000. The company deemed this move practicable because of the growing business of the store.

"We will add other lines of goods to our stock from time to time," said Elmer Gary, manager of the store, this morning. "Since the opening of the store we have received calls for goods which we hadn't dreamed of handling before. It is our aim to carry a complete stock of goods. For instance, it might not be impractical to add a line of drugs and toilet articles in the future." More floor space may be added to the store soon.

WILL MURPHY BE THE NEW COACH?

Athletic Board Considers the Yale Halfback for Roper's Place.

WHAT WALTER CAMP SAYS

No Definite Action Yet—Phil King is One of Those On the List.

Frederick Murphy, halfback on the 1909 Yale football team, is being considered as a coach for the University of Missouri football team next year.

"Murphy is well recommended by Walter Camp of Yale, and was a star halfback last fall," said Prof. W. G. Manly, of the Athletic Committee, today. "Our search for a coach has narrowed down to about four men. Murphy is one of these.

"Murphy wants to come to Missouri and believes that he could make a successful team."

When asked if Roper had volunteered to help Missouri select a coach, Prof. Manly said: "Roper has said nothing to me on the subject."

Many students have expressed the belief that Phil King would be the new coach.

"Phil King has not been selected," said Mr. Manly. "He is merely one of the men being considered. It will be at least a week before anything definite can be given out in regard to a new coach."

BRIGHT FOR NEBRASKA GAME

Cornhuskers Are Willing to Play a Football Game with Missouri October 22.

Missouri may play Nebraska at football October 22, next year. The schedule of a game for that date depends on whether or not a tentative date with another team can be changed.

"The manager at Nebraska has asked for this date and their terms are satisfactory," said Prof. W. G. Manly today. "We expect to arrange the date. St. Louis University has adopted the one-year rule and is also being considered."

TO MANUFACTURE LENSES.

Ells Optical Company Installs New Machinery Here.

"The increased optical business in Columbia and Boone county has made necessary the enlargement of our plant," said Dr. R. H. Ells, of the Ells Optical company, this morning. "There is a much greater demand for glasses, spectacles and opera glasses than ever before."

"Enlargement of our plant will begin in a short time. We have been able only to fit, grind and shape the lenses, having the irregular lenses made outside of Columbia, but we expect to install a surfacing machine which will manufacture lenses from the raw material."

Dr. Ells organized the Ells Optical company five months ago, which does a retail and wholesale business.

Are You Thinking of Building a Home?

If so, you should investigate the prices of lots in beautiful Westwood and Westmount. The only two additions to Columbia with building restrictions, and where water, light, sewer, gas, sidewalks and improved streets go with every lot. Twenty-eight families built homes in these two additions last year, two more have already bought lots and are making preparations to build this year.

Just think of it—over $150,000 invested in homes in these two additions last year. Would you not like to have your home among these good people? If so, you can buy a lot cheaper now than you will ever be able to again. I sell only to home builders.

Respectfully,
J. A. STEWART,
Owner.
