Why Should I Smoke TUXEDO?

TUXEDO is the logical smoke for millionaires because it is impossible to buy a better tobacco.

Tuxedo is the logical smoke for the economical man because there are 40 pipefuls in a ten-cent tin—making the average cost per pipeful only one-fourth of a cent!

To buy cheaper tobacco means to get less pleasure out of smoking, because it is impossible to make a tobacco as good as Tuxedo at less than the Tuxedo price!

Tuxedo
The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo is made of only the finest, choicest selected leaves of perfectly aged Burley tobacco. It is made by the original "Tuxedo Process" which takes all the unpleasantness out of tobacco and leaves all the pleasantness in!

Tuxedo has a deliciously mild, fragrant aroma that is pleasant to all. It is the only tobacco you can smoke in a room full of lace curtains without leaving even a trace of odor.

A trial will convince you that Tuxedo is superior to every other tobacco you have ever smoked. Buy a tin—today.

MISSOURI GETS BEST ADVISERS, SAYS DOANE

Farm Management Head Thinks Co operation With the College Helps.

12 COUNTIES APPLY

Lack of Funds Prevents the Appointment of Additional Experts.

Missouri's farm advisers are organized differently from those of any other state, according to D. H. Doane, state farm management leader. In Missouri the organization is related closely to the College of Agriculture, while this is not so in other states.

"Our methods are attracting the best men from other states," said Professor Doane. "Farm advisers shouldn't have to look to the commercial men for their salaries. We pay our men strictly from taxation. The state pays one-fourth, the government one-fourth and the county one-half of the farm adviser's salary."

Farm advisers are appointed by the Board of Curators and also by the government. Full responsibility is assumed for the man selected by the farm management organization. This is the foundation of the success Missouri has had in this work, Professor Doane says.

Legislature Gave $25,000.

When the last legislature met, $25,000 was appropriated for this work. The overhead charges were greater in proportion on the first farm advisers than on those later selected. The state leader's expenses were paid out of this appropriation. Thirteen men have been appointed so far. The average salary is $2,400 a year. Each man must pay his own county traveling expenses.

Twelve counties have applied for farm advisers lately, but owing to the lack of money they cannot be supplied at present. The farm advisers are E. A. Cockfair, Springfield, Greene County; H. B. Derr, Sikeston, Scott County; F. W. Faurot, St. Joseph, Buchanan County; E. A. Ikenberry, Independence, Jackson County; S. M. Jordan, Sedalia, Pettis County; E. J. Rodekohr, Greenfield, Dade County; E. W. Rusk, Mexico, Audrain County; H. H. Laude, Palmyra, Marion County; C. M. Long, Warrensburg, Johnson County; C. M. McWilliams, Jackson, Cape Girardeau County; A. W. Terrill, Farmington, St. Francois County; J. D. Wilson, Boonville, Cooper County; P. V. Maris, Marshall, Saline County. H. H. Laude has resigned.

Townships Have Bureaus.

Appointments are made for three years. County farm bureaus have been established to cooperate with the farm advisers. These organizations assist the advisers with their work. The county farm bureaus have township farm bureaus and in turn district farm bureaus. Each community in the county has a division of the work right at the door. This puts the farm adviser in intimate touch with the farmers.

Through these agencies various campaigns are planned and carried out. For instance, a petition was made for a county anti-hog cholera campaign. The first list contained 1,250 farmers' names. Recently twenty clubs were organized in Johnson County. A series of farm home management schools, that deal with the farm home problems, have been started. Teachers are sent to the district school to hold a week's instruction and demonstration for the benefit of the farmers in the community.

The Work in Jackson County.

An illustration of what work is being done by the farm advisers is best seen in a recent report for ten months, made by E. A. Ikenberry to the farmers of Jackson County. This report showed the county had been organized into a simple but practical working body, as well as each of the seven townships. The farm adviser traveled 6,000 miles in the county answering calls, visiting schools and attending meetings. Two hundred and seventeen farms were visited.

Five township fairs were held in which schools put on displays, boys and girls did stock judging work and the women of the farms and towns in the county met with the men and school children. A high school stock judging contest was held, this being the first of its kind. Home makers' clubs were formed and home economics schools planned for the summer. Various campaigns and contests were held in which practically all the farmers in the county took an active part.

Don't give these dangerous insects a chance to get in your home

Everyone now concedes that the fly and mosquito are our most dangerous summer enemies. Contagion and ill health are the brands which the fly stamps with his feet. Fever and sickness are the marks left by the mosquito.

Civic leagues are now carrying on Fly Swatting Campaigns. Screen your doors and windows now and you won't have to swat the fly or listen to the hum of the mosquito.

We build screens for your doors and windows to measure. They fit better, last longer and improve the appearance of your home.
