NUMBER 185

UP TO 80 PER CENT OF COUNTY'S QUOTA

Boone Must Yet Raise Minimum of $104,850 for the Third Loan.

CITY, 90 PER CENT

Solicitors Begin Work Today in Business Section of Columbia.

Boone County's Quota	$549,150
Sales previously reported	$394,150
Added Saturday	50,150
Total to date	$444,300
Columbia's Quota	$203,800
Sales previously reported	$171,350
Added Saturday	9,400
Total to date	$180,750

Corrected figures on the Third Liberty Loan campaign in Boone County up to date show that the county has subscribed 80 per cent of its minimum quota. Sales amounting to a little more than $50,000 were reported to headquarters Saturday and added to the list made public this morning by J. Kelly Wright, director of sales.

In Columbia the added amount is $9,400, bringing the city to a total barely under 90 per cent of its quota. The campaign entered on its third week this morning with nine committees of solicitors at work in the business districts of Columbia. Every man on these committees reported for work promptly at 9 o'clock this morning.

Two Weeks More of Campaign.

It is expected that the county will exceed its quota this week. The drive, however, will continue until May 4, the date fixed by the Government for the closing of subscriptions. A large oversubscription, as well as a much larger number of individual subscriptions than have yet been obtained, will be necessary if Boone County is to take rank along with its neighbors on the State Honor Roll. Several counties have already doubled their quota, and more than thirty report excess subscription ranging up to 100 per cent. Cole County and Jefferson City have both gone over the top.

Districts That Lag Behind.

While some districts in the county have exceeded their minimum quota by a wide margin, other districts have turned in nothing or very little. Among the districts farthest from their quota are the following (the figures are from today's official list):

STEPHENS IS FAVORED FOR SENATE PLACE

Name of Columbian Is Mentioned Among First 3 Possibilities.

GARDNER IS SILENT

President Wilson Objects to Possible Appointment of Francis.

Reports from Jefferson City today encourage belief that E. W. Stephens of Columbia has a good chance to be appointed United States senator to succeed the late William Joel Stone. It is said in Jefferson City that while the governor has told no one of his choice, if he has made one, three men seemed most likely to be considered for the place. These are Xenophon P. Wilkey of St. Louis, Judge W. W. Graves of the Supreme Court and Mr. Stephens.

A dispatch from Washington asserts that Governor Gardner telegraphed to President Wilson and asked if the appointment of David R. Francis would meet the approval of the Administration. The President replied that it would not, for Mr. Francis was indispensable at his post as ambassador to Russia. For reasons not given, it said that A. M. Dockery has been practically eliminated from the race.

The Daily Capital News of Jefferson City, in its issue of Saturday, says regarding the possible appointment of Mr. Stephens:

"One of the leading citizens of the state mentioned for the place by his friends is E. W. Stephens of Columbia. Indorsements are reaching the governor for Colonel Stephens from all parts of the state and from all kinds of Democrats. Stephens is urged because his friends say he has no 'entanglement' in state politics. Besides being well known in the state he has a wide acquaintance in the nation. His record as head of the Capitol Commission is declared to entitle him to consideration and it is said Governor Gardner has him on his list."

H. Sapp turned in a valuation of $26,566,913. This has been decreased to $12,835,057. Last year the valuation was placed at $11,903,070. ENEMY CUTS WIRES

Couriers Under Heavy Fire Keep in Communication With Rear.

By Associated Press.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, April 21, (Sunday).—Two German airplanes were brought down Saturday by American machine-gunners in the German attack northwest of Toul. The machine-gunners who downed the Germans had been ordered to retire, but remained in their positions, fighting effectively against the enemy aviators.

During the engagement the Germans concentrated their artillery fire on the American telephone and telegraph wires, which were cut many times. Couriers were forced to pass through two or three barrages of fire to keep in communication with the rear.

In the meantime, men of the signal corps, many of them smoking cigarettes in the face of the heavy bombardment, restored the wires almost as fast as the enemy shells disrupted them.

Ambulance men went into no man's land in the thick of the fight and did heroic work in gathering up the wounded.

BRITISH STRENGTHEN LINE DURING LULL

Allied Defensive Positions Are Improved by Local Operations.

YPRES FRONT QUIET

Field Marshal Haig Reports Heavy Shelling Along Somme.

By Associated Press.

While awaiting the next German blow, now momentarily expected, Field Marshal Haig is taking advantage of the comparative lull to strengthen his line in various spots.

Both north and south of the Somme and on the Lys battle front the British defensive positions were improved by local operations last night. Similarly, the Germans made attempts to push forward their line north of Albert. The British foiled their efforts. Heavy artillery firing is going on at many points on the front.

There were no new developments in the region north of Ypres, where the Belgians last week stopped a turning movement.

Field Marshal Haig reports heavy shelling of the British line on both sides of the Somme and on the Ancre.
