BARBERS LOSE TO SOLDIERS

Enlisted Personnel of R. O. T. C. Scores 5 Runs in Fifth.

The mighty right arm of Dennis, playing right field for the Barbers yesterday against the enlisted personnel of the R. O. T. C. Unit, on Rollins Field, helped to lose a six-inning game for the hair...

The game was a good one up to the last half of the fifth inning, in which the Soldiers counted five times.

The Barbers were ahead in the scoring up to the last of the fourth, 3 to 2. The Soldiers scored twice in their half of the fourth, putting the count 4 to 3, and in the last of the fifth made the total 9 to 3.

The first half of the sixth saw the Barbers trying hard to win, but their rally was cut short with three runs.

CITY DIRECTORY HAS YOUR NUMBER; IT MAY SAY THAT YOU WORK

Do you ever have occasion to consult a directory?

Of course almost everyone uses the telephone directory, and in Columbia many persons turn to the student directory for information and guidance.

This necessity has accompanied the growth of trade and industry since the American Revolution. The early directory was largely an imperfect alphabetical list of names, addresses and occupations.

The Boone County directory recently compiled contains an alphabetically arranged list of the names, occupation, business or profession of all residents in the county, both in the cities and towns and on the farms.

In the section devoted to Columbia is to be found a street directory, giving the location of all streets and avenues, giving numerically all buildings and residences along the streets, the names of the occupant or tenant, and information as to who owns each piece of property.

For the convenience of shoppers a section of the directory is given over to a classified business directory of the city, in which all the business firms and individuals are listed according to the class of trade in which they are engaged, or the profession they pursue.

In addition, there are separate divisions of the directory for the smaller towns of the county, including Centralia, Sturgeon, Ashland, Hillsville, Huntsville, Huntsdale, and Rocheport.

The directory contains a list of rural residents of Boone County, giving their postoffice address and rural free delivery number as well as their occupation and whether they are land owners or tenants.

The directory of 1921 is a vast improvement over that of 1919. Today hurried business men, merchants, and others desiring information about people in their cities or counties, may turn with assurance to a directory and procure desired matter, that years ago would have required months to obtain.

A YOUTH IS AN ELECTRICIAN

Robert Pearman Is a Handy Boy in His Neighborhood.

Youth loves to experiment. The discovery of a genius is not always the result of such experimentation, but at least the development of latent talent is made possible.

Twelve-year-old Robert Pearman, 304 North Eighth street, is a youthful experimenter in electricity. Neighbors call on him frequently to put in new fuses, to discover the cause of trouble with their lights, electric irons and similar household conveniences.

When the S. A. Shockley family moved into the house at 311 North Eighth street the electricity would not work the first night, and they were fussed to see candles. The next night, after being assured by the water and light department that the house was properly connected, the Shockleys were apparently doomed to spend another evening by the dim light of melting wax, for it was too late to get a regular electrician.

He keeps my doorbell in good order all the time," said Mrs. C. O. Davidson, 305 North Eighth street, grandmother of the boy. His uncle, T. L. Waters, proprietor of the Alabama Grocery Store on North Eighth street, when asked about his nephew's ability in putting in new lights for him, said the boy was a "pretty good electrician."

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Pearman, and outside of his electrical experiments, is just an ordinary boy, with a love of the outdoors and sports. He is yet leader in his class at the Jefferson School.

Judge Pauley to Return This Week. The County Court judges have received a letter from Judge J. S. Pauley, who left for Canada recently on a land prospecting trip. The judge said he reached Winnipeg last Monday by rail, having been forced to leave his automobile in Iowa. He expects to return to Columbia the latter part of this week.
