—Crystallized Nuts: Lay the nut meats in the beaten whites of eggs, stir and drain, beat what is left in the dish and what drains from them, and pour it over the nuts. Roll each one in powdered sugar and dry in a cool oven.—Orange Judd Farmer.

—Bops: One pint of milk, three eggs, one spoonful of butter, four spoonfuls of flour, mix together. Bake in plates in a quick oven. Butter while hot, place one above the other and serve. These are very nice for luncheon or tea.—Boston Budget.

—Lemon Shortcake: Make the pastry part as for a strawberry or similar cake, and spread between the layers a paste composed of the grated rind and juice of a large lemon mixed with a cupful of sugar and one of sweet cream. Serve immediately with lemon-flavored sweetened cream as a sauce.—Good Housekeeping.

—Ice Cream Frosting: One cup of sugar, one-fourth cup of water, one-fourth cup of vinegar. Boil without stirring till it threads. Remove from the fire, and when it has stopped boiling stir it quickly into the stiffly-beaten whites of two eggs. Flavor with vanilla, and stir until cold.—Housekeeper.

—Orange Cream: Into a cup put the juice of an orange, half its peel and a tablespoonful of lemon juice, filling with cold water. Let it stand for an hour; then strain and put on to boil. Add a tablespoonful of cornstarch, wet in cold water, stir till thick; then cook over hot water for ten minutes longer. Next stir in the beaten yolk of an egg, to which two heaping tablespoonfuls of sugar have been added, cook for another minute, add a teaspoonful of butter and cool.

—Turkey With Truffles: Clean and prepare a young, medium-sized turkey. Melt four ounces of the fat of the turkey in a frying pan, with a shallot and a few truffles chopped fine, a pinch of thyme salt, pepper and nutmeg, a pound of sausage meat and a can of truffles cut in quarters. Mix all well together, and with this mixture stuff the turkey, sewing up the opening. Roast the turkey for three hours putting a little butter on the breast-basting it often. Serve the turkey with the liquid in the can, strained, poured over it.—Boston Budget.

—Pastry cooks' cream, for filling of cream puffs or custard pastry, is made of six ounces of the sugar, the yolks of four eggs, half an ounce of potato or rice flour, half a pint of new milk. Bring the milk to the boil, throw in a pinch of salt, whisk the sugar, eggs and flour to a smooth paste, then pour on to it the boiling milk, pouring it on very slowly and gradually, and stir it over a gentle fire till it gets thick, when you lift it off the fire. Have already dissolved three sheets of best leaf gelatine. Stir this into a custard, and when it is cooler, but still not stiff, add any flavoring to taste.—Pittsburgh Telegraph.

KEEPING WELL GLOVED.

Points as to How It May Be Managed at Comparatively Small Cost.

Every woman, particularly every woman of limited income, knows what a hole is made in that income by the effort, the necessity, indeed, to be well gloved. As there is no royal road to learning, so there seems no cheap way to keep one's hands properly covered. It was a decided respite to the eternal glove buying when, last summer, for once fashion permitted in the cities the ungloved hands hitherto only allowed in village streets and country lanes. A woman who has studied the question from an economic standpoint, and who succeeds in results, says that for hard, cold weather wear there is nothing so satisfactory and so cheap in the end as a pair of good dogskin gloves. "I buy one pair every fall," she says, "for which I pay from two dollars and a half to three dollars. These wear through the winter and I am out every day. I use the pair worn the previous season for rainy days and for any evening errand that needs only hands protected. The rusty finger ends of the last year's pair I restore very creditably by staining with good black ink, and after it is dry, rubbing in a little olive oil. My suede gloves I buy in pairs of the same shade, choosing one of the always pretty shades of gray or tan. In this way I am frequently able to remate them, and sometimes restore an entire finger piece. I make it a point to get my gloves large enough; that helps the wear very much, and this without making the hands look bad. On the contrary, a six and one-half hand squeezed into a six glove is vulgar. Of course, I take great care of my gloves, pulling them off wrong side out, keeping the buttons on to preserve their shape, putting them away in a smooth, well-pulled-out condition after every wearing, and looking carefully to the sewing stitch in time. I mend, as everybody should and many do, with thread, always matching in the cotton and the shade of my glove. And my gloves are really a small expense, taking the year through."—N. Y. Times.

Varnishing Oil Paintings.

To varnish an oil-painting wipe the canvass well with a soft, damp rag, removing every speck of dust. Use a large, flat, bristle-brush and the best picture varnish; apply the varnish with a long, quick stroke and work rapidly, as the varnish dries quickly. Be sure that every spot is covered. You can ascertain by turning the canvas sideways to the light, when untouched spots will show plainly.—N. Y. World.

A Home-Made Rug.

A rug made of old ingrain carpet, cut bias, and sewed on to ticking or denim with carpet thread, is said to last ten years, and grow softer and prettier every year. The preferred width of the bias strips is one inch, and they should be sewed by the middle—on the foundation, at spaces of a quarter of an inch apart.—N. Y. World.

CONVICT-MADE ROADS.

Valuable Suggestion Contained in Gov. Morton's Message.

Gov. Morton's inaugural message contains among other good suggestions one that is of particularly great importance. He merely touches on the subject, but the hint might be taken as well by legislatures of other states as by the assembly of New York:

The subject of good roads is also commended to the attention of the legislature. It is suggested that convict labor may find employment in this direction, particularly as a constitutional amendment which takes effect two years hence forbids the state from employing convicts at the state and county prisons, jails and reformatories in any industrial art or useful occupation in competition with the work or products of the people.

The attention of other people than the bicyclist and Coxey lately has been directed toward the subject of good roads. This is practically a roadless country. The best of our country wagon roads would not compare with the worst roads in the remote north of England or in Germany and France. Of course the older countries gained a noble heritage from the road-building Romans in this respect, whereas on this side of the water the railways came so quickly after the opening of the country that road-building seemed an idle pursuit. Here and there through the west one encounters a small stretch of well-laid road running down to a city or post office, but in general the country roads are little more than widened trails, unsuitably filled in by the farmers in idle times, rough in winter, impassably muddy in spring and intolerably dusty in mid-summer.

The country has got old enough and carriage travel in the country places has increased to such an extent as to make the necessity of better roads apparent. By a coincidence the disposition to save free labor from the competition of convict labor has also risen. Many states have laws against convict contracts without means of keeping the felons employed. In Illinois, although the present system here seems working in a promising way, it is still subject to the protests of the labor unions. What better channel for the employment of the convicts could be devised than that of road-building? The great state of New York, which, after a life of nearly three hundred years, is still bumping over rocky roads, might set the western states an example.—Chicago Evening Post.

FRESH DAIRY DOTS.

The sugar beet for cows is always highly recommended by those who try it.

We never would raise more heifer calves than we needed for our own herd. It will not pay.

While we have such an immense number of careless buttermakers, dairying of the right kind will not be overdone, and will offer good inducements to the farmer to enter it.

It is a mistake to keep big beefy cows in the dairy as a rule. If butter or milk is the object, select a cow that will accomplish the purpose in the highest degree. Let the beef side of the question alone.

We observe that a writer objects to the criticisms on dogs and boys about the cows. He says that if a collie or a boy is brought up to know his business, either is valuable. That is true. But the trouble is that sometimes neither knows his business.—Farmers' Voice.

Rotation in the Garden.

There is decided advantage in occasionally changing the location of the garden. The crops in the garden require heavy manuring. As they occupy the land every year there is no chance to seed with clover, and the soil, though rich enough, becomes too heavy for profitable working. Where a clover sod is plowed under the soil is friable, and holds moisture without becoming sodden. Many farmers do not think of changing their garden spot until spring. Then it is too late to make the soil rich enough for gardening purposes; but if a clover ley is sown heavily with manure in the fall, and then plowed early in the spring, it will be rich enough to grow most kinds of garden vegetables. Such a plot of ground that had been frequently in clover will be less weedy than one that has been always used as a garden.—Rural World.

The Fruit Grower's Market.

The home is, after all, the best market for the American fruit grower. Farmers and even orchardists have too little of small fruit on their tables. Half a bushel of fruit per day the year round can be profitably disposed of by the average family. A Connecticut farmer kept an account of the small fruit grown on half an acre of ground and used by his family last year. He charged the family with the fruit at market rates and found it amounted to $65, or more than $700 per acre. Such small fruit culture pays, not only in the money value of the product, but in the healthful outdoor habits of life which it encourages, and the hundred other ways in which a garden ministers to mental and physical health.—Michigan Horticultural Report.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound and imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be lost forever; and this is because the ear is caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Nicaragua Canal.
The project of the Nicaragua Canal has been debated in the U. S. Senate very vigorously. One thing should be remembered about that climate, it is death to almost every foreigner who goes there, and laborers especially succumb. It is said that the Panama Railroad cost a life for every tie. What an idea of pains and aches is in this sentence. It is mostly due to carelessness. Every laborer provided with St. Jacobs Oil would be armed against these troubles. Men's muscles there are cramped with rheumatic pain and they ache all over. That is just the condition where this sovereign remedy can do its best work. The fearful malady is very much like the break-bone fever in certain parts of America.

That Old Reaper.
Father Time, who "reaps the bearded grain of a breath, and the flowers that grow between," spares for a green and hale old age those who counteract the infirmities incident to increasing years with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. For rheumatism, lumbago, poverty of the blood, dyspepsia, neuralgia and torpidity of the liver, use the great tonic and health preserver methodically.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

$300 FOR A NAME.

This is the sum we hear the Salzer Seed Co. offer for a suitable name for their wonderful new oats. The United States department of agriculture says Salzer's oats is the best of 300 varieties tested. A great many farmers report a test yield of 200 bushels per acre last year, and are sure this can be grown and even more during 1895. Another farmer writes us he cropped 112 bushels of Salzer's Marvel Spring wheat on two and one-half acres. At such yield wheat pays at 30c per bu. One thing we know and that is that Salzer is the largest Farm Seed grower in the world and sells potatoes at $2.50 per barrel. IF YOU WILL CUT THIS OUT AND SEND IT WITH 10c postage to the John A. Salzer Seed Co., LaCrosse, Wis., you get free his mammoth catalogue and a package of above $300 PRIZE OATS. [K]

A Gentle Corrective

is what you need when your liver becomes inactive. It's what you get when you take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets; they're free from the violence and the griping that come with the ordinary pill. The best medical authorities agree that in regulating the bowels mild methods are preferable. For every derangement of the liver, stomach and bowels, these tiny, sugar-coated pills are most effective. They go about their work in an easy and natural way, and their good taste, once used, they are always in favor. Being composed of the choicest, concentrated vegetable extracts, they cost much more than other pills found in the market, yet from forty to forty-four are put up in each sealed glass vial as sold through druggists, at the price of the cheaper made pills.

"Pleasant Pellets" cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heart-burn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Put up in sealed glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable. Whether as a laxative, or in larger doses, as a gently acting but searching cathartic, these little "Pellets" are unequaled.

As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve the distress arising from over-eating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets." They are tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules. Any child readily takes them. Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

A free sample (4 to 7 doses) on trial, is mailed to any address, post-paid, on receipt of name and address on postal card. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

Result of Extensive Improvements.

The Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis Consolidated Railroad, familiarly known as the "Air Line," has shortened the running time of its passenger trains between St. Louis and Louisville one hour and twenty minutes; but the many improvements recently made in the roadbed, bridges, tunnels, equipment, etc., will admit of a still faster schedule, which will be made effective as soon as necessities may require. The facilities this line now gives the traveling public make it the favorite line between St. Louis and Louisville. All trains depart from terminals later and arrive earlier than competitors. The patrons of the Air Line can not fail to appreciate the efforts of the management to furnish accommodations superior to any other line.

Between Evansville and Louisville, where no competition exists, this being the only through train service route, the time has been shortened one-half hour.

As the train drew up at a country station on the South Eastern railway, a pleasant-looking gentleman stepped out on the platform, and inhaling the fresh air enthusiastically observed to the guard: "Isn't this invigorating?" "No, sir; it's 'Caterham.'" replied the guard.—Wonder.
