OUR MORNING MAIL.

Farmington in a Fair Way to Secure Early Morning Service via Illinois Southern and Electric Line.

Mr. Carleton of the office of Superintendent of Railway Mail Service at St. Louis, and Superintendent Wells of the Illinois Southern railway, were here this week. Their visit had to do with the proposed change of the morning mail services to Farmington. The mail for this place from the fast mail train south on the Iron Mountain railroad is transferred at Bismarck and brought from that point to De Lasse on the local freight, which is presumed to reach the latter point at about 8 a. m.; but more frequently it misses altogether and doesn't reach here until 1 p. m.

Superintendent Wells proposes to operate a train over the Illinois Southern from Bismarck, leaving that point at 6:30 a. m., if this early mail service is transferred to that road. It would reach Flat River shortly after and be brought to Farmington over the electric railway, reaching here between 7 and 8 a. m.

It would be a great convenience to Farmington and points along the Illinois Southern, including St. Genevieve. We understand that this morning train from Bismarck will be placed on the Illinois Southern in about a week, and that Mr. Carleton of the railway mail service is favorably impressed with the plan, and will so report to Superintendent Tait of the Railway Mail Service. The prospect of securing this service is encouraging.

Had Brothers & Co. do a general real estate, insurance and conveyance business. They have offices in the Farmington Mercantile Co. Building, and will treat you right. See their card in THE TIMES and if you have any business in their line call and see them.

P. P. Wilkison was appointed Police Judge of the city of Farmington by the Board of Aldermen at their meeting last Monday night. Judge B. T. Tucker has built him a new residence just outside the corporate limits and moved into it, which necessitated his resignation.

The Farmington Home Building and Loan Association is putting out another series of shares, which makes the fourth. The annual meeting of shareholders of this association will be held at the office of the secretary, J. P. Cayce, on the 21st inst., at 9 o'clock a. m., when directors will be elected.

Dr. F. M. Geeslin and wife have moved to Farmington. They came here from Jackson, and the Cash-Book says of them: "Dr. F. M. Geeslin leaves Sunday for Farmington, where he and his good wife, who is also an Osteopath, will practice their profession. The Doctor has made many friends here who will regret to see him leave."

McCabe & Mack, last season featured with the Irish Pawbrokers, will head the comedy stars that will appear at the Opera House Thursday, February 16, with "Maloney's Wedding." They will be supported by a strong cast, including Windsor Little, Maud Sutton, the dancing girl, the Beauty Chorus and fifteen others.

Damage Greater than Was Thought. In our account of the fire at Hon. E. A. Rozier's residence we gave the probable damage to furniture and household effects at about $200. This was because unusual care for an occasion of that kind was followed out in removing the articles; but a subsequent examination of the effects shows that a good deal more damage than was at first thought to have been done was discovered. Much of the wearing apparel, bedding, valuable pictures, etc., were badly damaged by water, rendering them practically useless, and more of the furniture, which was of a fine character, was defaced and broken. Mr. Rozier estimates that the damage is between $800 and $1,000.

Marriage Licenses. January 27th, Joseph Clark and Miss Maud Cain of Elvins.

February 3, H. J. Cunningham of Flat River and Miss Julia LaRose of Elvins.

4th, Joseph Probst and Miss Ella B. Leonard of Elvins.

Accidental Shooting. Last Saturday while Mr. T. J. Short and his son, Obie, were out hunting, he accidentally shot the boy in the leg. The wound was promptly attended to and the boy will soon be all right again.

Special Notice. Having sold my store and gone out of business, I urgently request all persons who are indebted to me on account or otherwise to call and settle, either at my old stand or at my residence. Prompt attention to this request will be appreciated.

THE UNION REVIVAL MEETING

Rev. Lincoln McConnell a Preacher of Great Force—The New Methodist Episcopal Church Crowded.

Splendid Music by a Chorus of Between Fifty and One Hundred Voices With Orchestral Accompaniment.

LECTURE SERMON FOR MEN.

At the Opera House Sunday Afternoon at 2:30—"Why Boys Go Astray, or the Psychology of Sin."

Beginning on last Monday night, Union Revival and Evangelistic services under the direction of Rev. Lincoln McConnell have been held in the new Methodist Episcopal Church of this city each afternoon and evening. Much interest is being manifested in the services, although they have just commenced. Each night a larger congregation than any preceding one attends the service.

A feature of the meeting is the large chorus choir. It is expected that the present number of fifty members of this chorus will be doubled within the next few days. Rev. Mr. McConnell directs the music and is assisted by his wife at the piano, and his son Edward emphasizing the time and movement by aid of orchestral drums. Special hymn books for the service are being used and both choir and congregation are rapidly becoming familiar with the hymns. The music is of unusual excellence and a large part of each service consists of singing.

Mr. McConnell's introductory sermon on Monday evening was upon the subject: "Have Faith in God." He used as an illustration the incident of Lazarus' death and Christ's visit to the home of his sisters, Mary and Martha. From this the minister deduced three characteristics of their faith, three things in which their faith was at fault or lacking. These faults are characteristic of much of the avowed faith of the world today and are as follows:

First—The mistake is too often made of imitating the work of God by place. "If I had been here our brother would not have died." We need to believe that God is in Farmington, not only by his omnipresence, but in his power to save souls from sin.

Second—The mistake is too often made in limiting God's work to the future. "I know my brother will arise at the last day." We need to believe that this time, this day, is the one in which we shall see the results of God's work in saving souls from sin.

Third—The mistake is too often made of imitating God's work as to His power. "Our brother has been dead four days and by this time he stinks." We need to believe that He will reach to the lowest and most depraved one in this community to save from sin.

On Tuesday night the sermon was preached from the text: "There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof is death." Mr. McConnell laid down a series of propositions, logical in their conclusions, showing that one must be certain of the right. In substance they were as follows:

First—Rightly and wrong are principles eternally fixed, separated and immutable. Accidents and incidents of life do not alter these.

Second—A man's opinions or thinking do not affect or alter either right or wrong. Violation of the laws of right inevitably lead to punishment, as violations of any other law brings its penalty.

The sermon was largely devoted to the consideration of the functions of conscience and only one conclusion from the sermon was possible: a man's conscience must be educated and trained by the laws of right before its approval is of value. Or, in other words, a conscience educated in the law of God as revealed in His Word and through His Law.

Wednesday night his text was "Be not deceived: God is not mocked; as a man soweth so shall he reap." He said that the heart of man is above all things deceitful, and showed with logical conclusiveness that the laws of God, both in the natural and spiritual world, were immutable; they cannot be circumvented nor dodged—"God is not mocked." The violation of His laws brings sure retribution. This is as true of the moral as of the physical law. Where His laws are observed, God honors their observance; if in the natural or physical laws by fruitful yield and healthfulness of mind and body; if in the spiritual by life everlasting.

Throughout the sermons there were many illustrations that were well selected and made plain the truth the preacher sought to impress upon his hearers. There was a fund of humor that drew laughter from the congregation, but the humorous illustrations were all so well fitted into the texture of the sermon and pertinent to the point illustrated that each one was made to feel the force of the speaker's exposition of the truth.

Throughout the coming week preaching services will be held each afternoon at half past two and each evening at half past seven. No union service will be held on Sunday morning, as each of the churches will hold its own. On Sunday afternoon at half past two, however, Rev. Mr. McConnell will deliver an address to men at the Opera House on the subject, "Why Boys Go Astray, or the Psychology of Sin."

The last social was given at Circuit Clerk J. C. Williams' on January 31st. It was a surprise social. We have not heard if it was much of a surprise to Joe or not. We cannot tell who was present, for we do not know, and should we attempt and fail to mention some who were present we would get a "chicken."

Marion Moran started last week to see his wife at Colorado Springs, where she went some months ago with Dr. J. H. Ferguson, with the hope of being restored to good health again. We hear that Mrs. Moran has been improving rapidly since she went there. We hope she may soon be permanently restored to good health and return to her home here.

The farmers have not been able to agree on any plan to raise the money, but the Cowley Bros. have got vim and push enough about them to be prospecting some on their land and the report is that they have a good prospect for mineral. We trust that their hopes will materialize.

The New York Historical society was 100 years old on November 26, and an anonymous gift of $200,000, just received, places it in a position where it can progress in its work in a more satisfactory manner than before. Now they know that this society possesses one of the finest art galleries in America, and a collection of Egyptian antiquities which Miss Amelia B. Edwards pronounced as the finest outside of Egypt and surpassing them in some lines.
