Freeman-Aronoff Wedding.

Ben Freeman of Shreveport, La., and Miss Matilda Aronoff, daughter of Mrs. F. Aronoff, were married Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of the bride's mother, 3621 Wendelken street. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi I. Werne.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. J. Yonack, accompanied by Mrs. Elinor Finney, sang "At Dawning." Mrs. S. J. Bragdon played the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin." Miss Esther Bress, wearing a frock and hat of pink organdy and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas, entered alone as maid of honor. She was followed by the bridegroom, who was attended by his brother, Sam Freeman, as best man. The bride entered with her brother, Nathan Aronoff. She wore a gown of white lace over white canton crepe, a white picture hat and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and orange blossoms.

About 100 guests attended the wedding and the reception followed. The house was decorated with ferns and flowers, and refreshments were served. Mrs. Nathan Aronoff and Miss Myrtle Merrill presided at the punch bowl.

Among the out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. Jacobson and sons of Fort Worth,

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Koen of Austin, Mrs. Ben Rosenberg and Miss Ada Koras of Corsicana, Mrs. J. M. Freeman of St. Louis, mother of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Freeman, brother and sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. I. Rosenstrauch, sister of the bridegroom.

TEMPLE EMANUEL SISTERHOOD DALLAS, GAVE PURIM FEAST.

As their Purim offering the Sisterhood of Temple Emanu-El, Dallas, Texas, gave canned goods, vegetables and eggs to those families and institutions in the city deserving these attentions. The contributions were systematically given out after a careful survey had been made of the local situation. During the Purim season the children of the religious school were given a masquerade ball. Among some of the masqueraders were those impersonating Biblical characters.

+ AUSTIN. +

Rabbi Rosenbaum has returned from attending the I. O. B. B. Convention in Dallas.

Mr. Phil Weisberg of New York, representing the Central Council of the Phi Sigma Delta Fraternity was the guest of the Lambdi Chapter last week.

Lambdi Chapter of the Phi Sigma Delta Fraternity, which is one of the largest Jewish College Fraternities, having chapters at the largest universities in the United States, was organized at the University of Texas last year and now have very comfortable quarters at 111 1-2 East Eighteenth street.

On Wednesday evening, May 4th, the Phi Sigma Delta Fraternity entertained with a banquet at the Driskill Hotel, in honor of their guest, Mr. Weisberg. The table was beautifully decorated in flowers and purple and white, the colors of the fraternity; and a lovely repast was served. Among the interesting talks were those given by Messrs. Howard Aronson, Raymond Garfinkle, Sam Sharfstein, Phil Weisberg, Morris Schwarberg, Will Nathan, and Milton Bergel of San Antonio. After the banquet dancing concluded a most enjoyable evening.

On the following evening, Thursday, May 4, the Phi Sigma Delta Fraternity entertained with a smoker at their home, to their friends. Very interesting discussions were held, all taking part, to bring about a closer relationship between the Jewish students at the University and also to interest more Jewish students to come to the Texas University.

Mr. Milton Bergel was a guest in the city last week coming over to attend the Phi Sigma Delta banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Koen will return this week from Dallas, where they went to attend the I. O. B. B. Convention and the State Jewelers' Convention, and also spent a few days in Fort Worth.
