A New Stunt in Advertising

For same time we have been trying to figure out how we could get more people to visit our store, and we believe we have hit upon a plan that will do the work. This is the plan: Each day we are going to have one or more unadvertised bargains. These items will be taken from our different departments and each day there will be something different put on sale. These goods will be sold at such low prices that everyone of our customers and friends will feel that they must make a special effort to visit our store just as often as possible so as to get their share of the Bargains. We do not know how long we shall continue this plan—it will depend largely with our customers and the interest they take in the same.

These goods will be sold for cash and will only be on sale for one day and they will not be advertised. To better illustrate what we are going to do we might say that last Monday we sold a lot of $1.25 and $1.50 Shirt Waists at 59c. Tuesday we sold the regular 35c Pillow Tops at 15c. They were in a big range of patterns and always sell at 35c. Wednesday we sold the extra large $2.50 Bed Blankets at $1.19 a pair.

We will have something equally as good tomorrow.

News of the State

A mid-winter fair has been planned at Minot.

The foot and mouth disease is causing some alarm in this state.

Rural telephone lines around Glen Ullin are being extended.

A Dunn county farmer has a hen that lays two eggs a day.

Big snow storm all over the state, is delaying trains and causing some inconvenience to farmers, but will undoubtedly stimulate business.

Paul Paulson of Minot swiped a letter containing a check two years ago and as a result will serve time in the federal prison.

The first annual short course at the Benson County Agricultural and Training school at Hammond will be opened this month.

John McCutcheon Garrison had his automobile quite badly damaged by fire, which was probably caused by escaping gasoline.

The Heart rural school in Loreta township, near Northwood, was completely destroyed by fire according to word received here.

C. A. Chinberk, Hankinson, brought in some fine ripe strawberries from the nursery grounds. Ripe strawberries in November are quite a novelty.

Two accidents happened at the Ed Mitchell home at Hope. One of the children broke an arm and the next day a horse kicked a second child in the back.

A baby of Mr. and Mrs. M. Johnston of Westhope fell from a chair striking another chair and cutting its tongue so badly that a number of stitches had to be taken.

The democratic administration may be alright, but the trouble will be for Burke, Bryan and others to convince the people of North Dakota of that supposed fact.

Paul Bravik, a workman engaged on the new Methodist church of Jamestown was seriously injured when a radiator which he was installing fell on him. His back was injured and one leg was broken.

At Cogswell some of the larger school boys put a mule, a pig and a number of chickens in the school building on Halloween and considerable damage was done. The boys were fined $50 and will have to repair the damage done.

A little son of Mr. and Mrs. Rowland of near Ashley climbed on to the rear of a wagon and when the team started was thrown to the ground suffering a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain.

Claus Johnson a farm hand of Trailli county fell heir to quite a sum of money and proceeded to drink it up. He got into jail, attempted suicide, was tried for insanity in Jamestown and committed to the asylum.

A mail pouch which had been missing from Larimore for some time was revealed by the celebrations of a Halloween party.

A large number of teachers were present at the district session at Gilby. The chief address was given by Miss Helen Davies of the Grand Forks High School.

Deputy Game Warden C. W. Kerr of Westhope drove out to Joseph Reibels east of the river where he arrested Ed W. Orr, a school teacher, for taking muskrats out of season.

The ladies who were fighting for equal suffrage are not saying much, but it is presumed that they are getting ready for another fight in the legislature this winter, and for the final round two years hence.

Hammond's election in Minnesota is the result of a dirty political fight in the spring primaries. The trouble is with factional fights people usually believe both sides, as results show they did in Minnesota.

P. A. Thorndset of near Milton brought a potato to that town that weighed over four pounds.

H. M. Dunsmore of Bottineau was bound over to the district court in the sum of $1,000 on the charge of assaulting and maiming George Belyea.

There was a small fire in the barn of A. C. Ness of Wildrose but the flames were extinguished and they did not have a chance to spread or do much damage.

A transient giving his name as Isaac Holbrook, who claims to be from Michigan was taken in charge by the Jamestown police and turned over to the county authorities until a hearing could be had, the man apparently being insane.

The E. J. Thompson general store at Coulee was robbed of something like $125 worth of merchandise.

A farmer near Williston succeeded in raising such fine celery that he has secured the contract for furnishing that weed for the Great Northern dining cars.

Prairie fires have done great damage in Williams county, in some places to the amount of $25,000. The flames destroyed farm buildings and large quantities of hay and grain.

Because Ole Anedron, a prominent farmer living near Grand Forks refused to let Ole Christoferson of James town, N. D., marry his 16-year-old daughter Annie, Christoferson committed suicide.

The foundation for the new school house at Montpelier is practically completed and the brick laying commenced. The contractors expect to have it inclosed inside of a month if the weather keeps fairly good.

Bring your Potatoes, Eggs and Butter to the Farmers' Mercantile Company's store and get the top prices.

The Prosperity of Every Town

hinges on the business secured by the local retailers.

We offer you all the inducements that the cities can give you or that catalog houses are offering, therefore if you care to have your home town prosper don't send your money away. Trade at home.

It would seem that we all want the home town to continue its existence. We all want it to prosper in such ways as will help us to prosper, and the only way this can be done is to patronize home industry. Don't think you can benefit yourself by sending your money to foreign merchants. We will duplicate any price offered by any mail order house in the United State—quality considered. So trade at home and build up your home town. We want our schools and our churches supported, and we expect the local business people to help generously in their support for the benefit of all.

Now let us ask ourselves who has been the first to cut down the cost of living? We claim to be the first in this move. Therefore, give credit where credit belongs—help us and we will help you. Patronize the firm that has been the first to accomplish this saving. Even though others follow—they are not the ones who deserve the credit.

On Next Saturday

we will again place on
