

THE STERN CANDY COMPANY

A new concern has recently been organized in the city to be known as the Stern Candy Company, a wholesale and retail candy manufacturing concern of which A. Stern and B. Stern, the popular confectionery merchants are the leading spirits. The Stern Brothers have had in mind the establishment of a big candy factory for some time and tomorrow the new concern will commence active business. The Stern Brothers are hustlers from the word go and since coming to Valley City have had wonderful success, due to their indefatigable work and high class business ability and we look to see this new venture a success. The new company starts out with a capital of $10,000 and in a short time hope to develop the business to such an extent that they will be able to build a factory building in Valley City and increase the capital stock up to $25,000 or $50,000. A traveling man is to be put out on the road and Mr. N. C. Rowley is the man who will go out and solicit business for this new enterprise. They have a crew of seven men now and with themselves and others number seventeen as being employed. The Stern Candy Company is now one of the big institutions of the city and its future would seem to indicate a big growth right from the start. Valley City people will join with us in wishing these practical and hustling business men success in this new venture and will hope to see the business grow and flourish right from the first jump. Great possibilities had arise out of this start in the factory line and if the venture pans out the way they expect it to it means a new, big building for this city. So let's all boost for our new factory—which is one of the sweetest things we have ever heard of.

IS HUBBY LIABLE FOR AUTO ACCIDENT

A point of considerable interest to auto owners was brought out in the trial of a law suit at Fargo, in which the plaintiff claimed damages for injuries received by being struck by a car driven by a woman, wife of defendant.

Neolin S

The dance given in honor of the local basketball team last night was a success. The case was whether the wife of an auto owner laid the husband liable for damages in case of an accident, while the wife was driving the car. This point has been raised but no line of decisions seemed to have been established by the courts, that would establish a hard and fast rule. It seems that the husband would be held liable according to the circumstances in each case. Some of the decisions hold that a husband is bound to furnish for his family, certain facilities for business or pleasure and if a member of the family is driving a car and an accident occurs, the courts seem to rule that the owner of the car be liable. In the Fargo case referred to the owner of the car and husband of the defendant did not claim to be exempt from liability on account of his wife being driver of the car.

THE FARM BUREAU

The agricultural interests of a country represent a large sum. For the larger counties in North Dakota this runs up to twenty to thirty million dollars. This is a big equipment and certainly needs some organization in order to be made the most profitable. The Farm Bureau is such an organization. It is made up of the most public spirited men and women of the county, who are willing to help further the agricultural interests.

It is organized much on the same principle as a club or livestock association having its board of directors, officers, and executive committee chosen by the people. The membership is composed of both men and women and the officers may be either men or women or both.

The Farm Bureau is a non-political organization. Montana has had Farm Bureaus in the counties for the past year, and they have found it so beneficial, that they are planning for a State Farm Bureau. The Farm Bureau movement extends throughout the entire United States. It has a million members in the thirty-three northern and western states.

North Dakota has Farm Bureau organizations in sixteen counties.

Barnes county is planning on the organization of a Farm Bureau early in June. This was the first line of extension work, county agent, county home demonstration agent, and county boys' and girls' club leader, and to keep pace with that record they should not be the last to organize.

Barnes county has lots of good live wives as farmers, farmer's wives, business men and women. When the Barnes county Farm Bureau is organized it is hoped that there will be at least 500 members. Every man and woman should be interested in this movement for better agricultural interests and community development, especially in order that our boys and girls will be more interested in farm life and will be anxious to stay on the farm.

Boost for your county.

Emil Erickson, who went away with Company G, and to France, returned home last night. While he did not get up into the front line he says he got close enough so that he could see the flash of the guns which made it almost as light as day at times. After reaching France he was put in another regiment with Illinois and Iowa men and did not see any of the Company G boys after that. There were many North Dakota soldiers in his regiment too, but he did not know any of them.

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas: It is the custom of our people to plant trees and shrubbery about their homes, which adds much to the beauty of the landscape and is also of great use and protection to mankind, and further creates a heritage for future generations that all may enjoy, and

Whereas: Our statutes provide for the designation of a day which shall have for its chief purpose the planting of trees, and on which special instruction regarding tree and plant life shall be given in the schools and

Whereas: Birds are always found where trees abound, and it is of importance to our trees and crops that birds be encouraged to make their homes in our midst to destroy insect life, as well as to cheer and brighten life's way, and

Whereas: The great war is now over, and has left thousands of sad hearts and homes because of loved ones who will not return, and since fitting memorial should be established.

Now, Therefore: I, Lynn J. Frazier, Governor of North Dakota, do hereby set aside and proclaim Friday, the 2nd day of May, 1919, ARBOR DAY and urge that the people of every community in North Dakota plant a Victory Elm, or other appropriate tree as a memorial to the triumph of American armies, and to perpetuate the memories of those who participated in the war of democracy and gave their all that others might live.

Given under my hand the great seal of the state of North Dakota at the Capitol at Bismarck this 24th day of April, A. D. 1919.

LYNN J. FRAZIER, Governor.

THOMAS HALL, Secretary of State.

BOOK DRIVE FOR SOLDIERS

Extract from letter from H. T. Dougherty at Brest, March 5th.

"At the present time there are in this district some 70,000 men and considerably less than 7,000 volumes. Since I have been in Brest, but one shipment of books has gone through, and from this I snatched 14 out of 39 cases. All other book-bearing ships have gone to ports south of Brest. This is unfortunate for me, and especially for the men here. If you could be at camp as frequently as I am and hear the oft-repeated call for books—well, you would probably be able to get some somewhere. If you know where that where is, I wish you would shoot along that information. It seems to be my lot to get into territory where books do not grow. You may remember that in Texas it was necessary to conduct a campaign before I could start a library. Here a campaign is out of the question, but I rely on you fellows back in the states to send a few. Every few days I take a trip to the wharves, examining the cargo manifests of every incoming steamer, but with one exception have never found a thing. The men there must think it a myth that the A. L. A. actually deals in books.

Remember the Valley City "Books for Soldiers" drive, May 5-10 and bring your gift books to the public library. "Help the pile grow."

Seeding operations are going along nicely this week and thousands of acres of grain are being drilled into the ground every day. The season is a little backward and rather chilly at the same time things will come along all right and in the long run with favorable conditions from now on we will be all right.

N. J. Olsen, C. O. Langer, Peter Koislin and Editor Wm. McKean, of Sanborn, were a bunch of business men autointing in from our neighboring city yesterday. The Times-Record was the recipient of a call from the veteran Barnes county newspaper man which was appreciated although the Times-Record editor was not "at home" to greet him.

Ole Hanson and Fred Nelson came in last night with a report of the Victory Loan Drive from Green township. Mr. Hanson remained in the city over night to get some repairs done to his automobile. He and others have arrived at the conclusion that the man who will invent an auto that will never need fixing has a mint of money coming to him.

Rev. G. Sandanger leaves tonight on No. 2 for Willmar, Minn., taking with him Mrs. Anna Reimstad, an aged lady who will enter Bethesda Home, an institution for taking care of those who need it. It is not a charitable institution by any means and Mrs. Reimstad will pay for being kept and looked after. She has been a resident of Valley City for 19 years and her husband died six years ago. Mr. Sandanger will attend to matters of business in Minneapolis also.

A man who had been working for H. Seymour, in Weimer township, Barnes county, committed suicide last Friday night by cutting his throat. He had been missing for a couple of days and after a search his body was found about a quarter of a mile from the house in two feet of water with his throat practically cut off. He certainly had made a good job of it. Of course no one knows what caused him to take his own life. Coroner N. O. Holberg was called to view the remains and after doing so decided that it was not necessary to hold an inquest and the body was turned over to the undertaker at Tower City to prepare for burial. As far as can be learned the deceased was a man of about thirty-five years of age and had been divorced, according to information secured. He had several children and he came from Monticello, Wis.

Some few weeks ago Mrs. A. E. Lane, of the Kindred Hotel, went down east and purchased three very fine Duroc brood sows, paying a big price for them. They were three of the best bred animals she could buy with pedigree for each a mile long. Recently each one of these sows became the mother of a litter of fine piglets until they numbered 24. Mr. Lane is taking a pardonable pride in this live stock proposition himself and notwithstanding that one of the mothers of these young pigs is very solicitous of her young and chased A. D. out of the pen one morning, he holds no grudge against her and says he intends to help get these pigs in shape to capture all the best prizes at the county fair. It is a laudable ambition. But the way A. D. made a leap for life one day escaping from that sow would look well on the screen if a picture could have been taken of his flight.

Leonard Thoreen who returned from overseas service a short time ago, has accepted a good position as bookkeeper with the Thompson Yards Inc., at Jamestown and has already gone to that city to take up his duties. We are glad to see these soldier boys picking up these jobs—they are worth it.

SAMPSON & METCALF RESTAURANT

The proprietors of this popular eating place are making a Saturday special for the farmers who come here to trade or visit the city and invite them to patronize their restaurant. In addition to having a special dinner for the farmers there will be music furnished during the meal hours. Messrs. Sampson & Metcalf are making a special effort to please their patrons and have one of the cleanest places in the city or the state for that matter. The inspection department of the state recently gave them 99 per cent for cleanliness which is almost perfect. When in the city call on them and you will receive courteous treatment and find their eating house a mighty good place to eat.

Joseph Kress of Gladstone, N. D., says he has been cured of a most difficult or bad skin disease of years' standing by Dr. Mellenthin's treatment. Dr. Mellenthin will be in Valley City, Kindred Hotel, Monday and Tuesday, May 19 and 20. Hours: 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

THE CHALLENGE OF TOMORROW

The million or more soldier boys over there, who have imparted to the American army much of its morale—the men who constitute the World's cleanest and most irresistible fighters—have come to their task through religious education and moral training acquired in childhood and youth in the Sunday school of yesterday. It is a natural fruitage. For this cause came the Sunday School into the world.

It remains for the Sunday school of today to give to the world's present generation of youth a moral and religious equipment adequate for the supreme test of tomorrow—the "Reconstruction Period." Never has the Sunday school faced a more imperative challenge to get straight down to business.

Let us cooperate in making the "Children's Week" a success. Every slacker in the Sunday school should be rounded up in these times of wonderful Kingdom opportunity. There's a job for everybody and we should all be at it.

Your attention is called to the Union Sunday school services at the Epworth M. E. church tomorrow afternoon. The program is printed elsewhere on these pages. This is the reader's urgent invitation to attend.

The new eight hour day for women which goes into effect on July first is creating considerable talk. Many of those who have house maids are wondering if the girls will quit the job at five p. m., or whether they will now go to work before eight a. m. Under these circumstances the good wife would have to get up and get her husband's breakfast, and the supper while the maid would only have dinner to get. This is quite a problem to solve.

Christ Ahl of Hebron, N. D., says he received wonderful benefit by taking Dr. Mellenthin's treatment for heart trouble and general building up. Dr. Mellenthin will be in Valley City, Kindred Hotel, Monday and Tuesday, May 19 and 20. Hours: 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CHILDREN PARADE

This is children's week all over the country and at Valley City yesterday the fact was very appropriately observed by a big parade of the Sunday school children of the city, which parade took place about 4:30. The Municipal Band, playing sacred music, headed the procession and hundreds of Sunday school children and teachers were in line. It was a little different parade than those usually taking place, but it was a mighty good one at that. It showed that the religious activity of the city was strong and that hundreds of children were being brought up in a religious atmosphere. It was a great parade and the many different kinds of flags added a pleasing effect to the army of marchers in line. The band certainly gave those little tots a great hike but they came along in good shape. After the parade the bunch lined up in front of the postoffice and had their picture taken by Kenneth McFarland. Children's Week was very fittingly observed by this big parade of yesterday afternoon, and really we did not think there were so many children in the city and especially in the Sunday schools.

EDUCATORS PASS RESOLUTIONS

Over a thousand educators of the state in attendance. Less than half a dozen votes against the following resolution which was voted on at Minot, April 10.

Resolutions
1. We, the special committee appointed by the Northwestern Educational Association of North Dakota to consider Senate Bill No. 134, after careful deliberation, and not unmindful of the apparent unanimous expression of the association yesterday afternoon, together with the professional opinion of Dr. George D. Strayer, president of the National Educational Association, and professor of educational administration, Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York City, in which he stated that Senate Bill No. 134 "as enacted, violates the most fundamental principle of educational administration," we therefore recommend that this association do hereby go on record as condemning Senate Bill 134 as educationally unsound.
2. We recognize and believe that this is not a political but an educational question and that therefore the educators of the state, through the State Educational Association, should present this bill in its true light to the people, to the end that it may be defeated at the coming referendum election, July 8, 1919.
3. We recommend that the president of this association be hereby empowered to appoint a member of this association to meet with and present to other sectional educational meetings to be held in the state in the near future, the urgent necessity of immediate action.
4. We further recommend that this association do hereby request the executive committee of the State Educational Association to meet and take such steps as it may find necessary to defeat Senate Bill 134 at the coming referendum.
5. We hereby respectfully ask that this resolution be given the widest possible publicity by the press in the state particularly in the Minot papers, the Fargo Courier-News, the Fargo Forum, the Grand Forks Herald, the Grand Forks American, the Bismarck Tribune, the Devils Lake Journal, the Devils Lake World, and other papers of state-wide and local circulation.

Signed by the Committee,
C. E. Blume, Chairman,
Sennet Nertrout,
I. T. Simley.

Jack Aldrich returned home this morning on No. 3 from a pilgrimage trip with a bunch of shriners and while away Jack took a shoot across the sands and is now a full fledged shriner himself.
