Silver Wedding.

More than a hundred of the friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Groebner thoroughly surprised them Wednesday evening shortly after 8 o'clock at their home on North German Street. The occasion was the 25th anniversary of the wedding day of this estimable couple. John Bauer's band tendered the couple a serenade early in the evening and shortly afterwards, the Second Regiment Band put in their appearance and rendered several appropriate musical selections.

The surprisers brought good cheer with them and with dancing, card playing and games the guests spent a very enjoyable evening. In fact it was in the wee sma' hours when the party finally broke up.

Mr. Groebner was born in Muttersdorf, Bohemia August 11, 1866 and came to this country in May 1883. He first found employment with the Schell Brewing Co. and later went into the saloon business which he followed for 18 years. He was then street commissioner for several years. For the past two years he has been connected with the New Ulm Brewing & Malting Co.

His wife, whose maiden name was Margaret Kretsch, was born in New Ulm and has always lived here. She is the daughter of Mrs. Theresa Kretsch, one of our old and respected pioneer ladies. The couple were happily married in the local Catholic Church Sept. 4, 1867. Eight children were born to them. Five boys and two girls, the oldest 24 years and the youngest 12 years old, are living and were present at the silver wedding of their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Groebner thoroughly enjoyed the surprise tendered them. They were the recipients of many useful and valuable presents.

Obituary.

John Wiedenmann who was committed to the State Hospital at St. Peter in the year 1898 and later transferred to the State Hospital at Hastings died at the latter institution last Saturday at the age of nearly 78 years. The deceased was born in Haussen, District of Heidenheim, Wurtemberg, Germany November 21, 1834. He grew to manhood in his native village, where he received a good common school education. At the age of 20 years he embarked for America with the Haebler brothers, Christ Schlumpberger and John Keok. It was his intention to come here with the first settlers, but on account of an accident while en route, he was delayed and did not reach New Ulm until the spring of 1855. He immediately secured a homestead in the Town of Milford and took up farming as an avocation. During the Indian Massacre he assisted in the defense of New Ulm and later rendered his country valiant service as a member of the First Regiment Minnesota Mounted Rangers. He was married to Margaretha Sternlein in the year 1859. After his honorable discharge from military service, he again took up farming and continued at it until his mind gave way completely and it became necessary to have him committed to the State Hospital for treatment.

The deceased was a good citizen, and was scrupulously honest in all his dealings. He was a kind and loving husband and was well-thought of by all his neighbors and by all who became closer acquainted with him. He is survived by his widow and the following children: Herman at Faribault, Minn.; Bertha at Anoka, Minn.; Lena and Catharine at New Ulm; George at Mankato; Paul at Sleepy Eye; Alma at Portland, Ore.; and Otto, Mrs. Albert Kneese and Mrs. Herman Pfander in Milford. John Schlumpberger of New Ulm is a cousin. The remains were brought to New Ulm on Tuesday and laid to their final resting place in the City Cemetery Wednesday afternoon. E. J. Buehrer delivered the funeral address.

Death came as a relief to Mrs. John Heymann at her home on South Washington Street on Sunday shortly before the noon hour. She had been a patient sufferer with a cancerous growth for the past six months and was in agony most of the time.

The deceased whose maiden name was Caroline Ruhnnow was born in Deutschruden, Province of Posen, Germany on the 22nd day of July 1837 and was therefore 75 years old when she answered death's summons. She grew to womanhood in her native village and was married to her surviving husband May 4, 1862. Four days later they embarked for this country. After spending a few days at Cincinnati, they left for New Ulm and immediately upon their arrival they homesteaded the Paul Sturm farm in the Town of Cottonwood. In the fall of 1867 they removed to their farm near Redstone, Courtland Township, where they resided for 26 years. Since 1893 they have made their home in New Ulm. The deceased was an estimable woman and thru her good qualities won the respect and esteem of her friends and neighbors. She was a good helpmeet to her husband and a kind and loving mother to her children. Altho in feeble health at the time, she had gathered around her all her children at the time of their golden wedding in May. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Mrs. Frank Lawrence of Hazel, Wash.; Mrs. Albert Strelow of Ormsby, Minn.; Mrs. Gust. Koehler of Minneapolis; and Mrs. Chas. Stolz, Otto Heymann and Miss Tillie Heymann of New Ulm. Five of her children preceded her in death. The funeral was held from her late home Tuesday afternoon and interment was made in the City Cemetery. Capt. Albert Steinhauser delivered the funeral address.

Mrs. J. N. Hill, Homer, Ga., has used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for years, and says she always recommends it to her friends. "It never fails to cure our coughs and colds and prevents croup. We have five children and always give them Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for a cold, and they are all soon well. We would not be without it in our house." O. M. Olsen.
