Dynastic America.

Henry H. Klein, first deputy commissioner of accounts of the city of New York, has just completed a most valuable reference book under the title, "Dynastic America and Those Who Own It."

He tells the public what the public ought to realize more seriously than it does, that America not only has the most powerful private fortunes or dynasties in the world but that these fortunes are now for the most part in the hands of the third, fourth and fifth generations.

"Why not limit what these individuals can have, asks Mr. Klein, and stimulate worthy ambition?"

He lists a number of big estates which have been inherited in the present generation, totaling seven billion dollars, and gives detailed figures for each large estate, showing its amount who inherited it and how it has been invested. A later section of the book shows how these great estates are related to the monopolies in all our essential commodities.

If Klein has done his work well, and there is every reason to think he has, we are struggling under monopoly prices to keep a select group of golden- spoon people wealthy beyond imagination.

Not enough is heard in this county about bigger inheritance taxes. It is really bad for the heir as well as for the public that any youth should inherit more than, say $100,000, or that any one should have more than that amount each year of unearned income.

Showing up the Court.

The election contest against Colonel Leach who was recently elected mayor of Minneapolis over the workers candidate, Thos. Van Lear, is absolutely the best eye-opener of the season. Colonel Leach repeated the lie told by a former rotten mayor of Superior, Wis., that Van Lear in a speech in Superior during the war had referred to the American flag as "a dirty rag." It seems that most anybody who has a bit of brains would know this to be a lie. No man could have spoken to a large audience in Superior or anywhere else during the war and called the flag a dirty rag without being mobbed. Reporters of the Superior and Duluth newspapers, 100 per cent dailies, were present at Van Lear's speech in Superior, but they made no mention of any such statement at the time, nor have they since until now, five years later. It is therefore as plain as anything can be that it was a lie pure and simple.

And Colonel Leach ought also to have that much brains that he would know it was a lie. But whether he knew it or not, he is guilty of having repeated the lie, which of course cost Van Lear thousands and thousands of votes and caused Leach to win the election as there are still many, many people who believe the impossible. They don't stop to think. They just believe outrageous things because they are peddled by supposedly respectable people like Colonel Leach.

The thing we like about this contest, however, is that it will force the state supreme court to reverse itself. Last year, the state supreme court disqualified Rev. O. J. Kvale because he had said: "If Volstead is an atheist, as I understand he is" etc. People who have known Volstead have said that he is an atheist. But Volstead became very religious all of a sudden when he hauled Rev. Kvale into court and the state supreme court decided that Kvale's thousands of votes majority were no good as long as he had referred to his opponent as an "atheist" and indirectly gave the nomination to the losing candidate. Now Leach said in the campaign that Van Lear called the flag "a dirty rag," a much more serious charge from a public standpoint than the one Kvale made against Volstead. Now watch the supreme court. It will make some difference whose ox is gored.

BUM LIGHT SERVICE.

The Lambertson Northern Light complains of the abominably poor service which that village is receiving from the Northern States Power & Light Co., which furnishes, or, rather, is supposed to furnish, its electric current. It is a common occurrence, according to the Northern Light, that the village is precipitated in darkness all the way from half an hour to three hours and more, forcing the villager to dig up their old kerosene lamps, lanterns and even candles. Probably this rotten service accounts for the fact that the company can guarantee investors in its stock an annual dividend of upwards of eight per cent.

The quarterly conference of the Methodist church here was held last Tuesday evening, Rev. Dr. Koerner, District superintendent, presiding.

FALL NUPTIALS.

Fourth-Henle.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Holy Trinity Catholic church in this city, Monday morning, when Miss Eleanor M. Henle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Athanas Henle, North State street, became the bride of Theodore H. Furth, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Furth, South German street. The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock by Rev. August E. Rhode in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties. Mrs. Dr. O. W. Yoerg of Minneapolis, a cousin of the bride, sang "Ave Maria." The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Henle, while her cousin, Miss Mildred Graff of Ivanhoe was maid of honor, and Rudolph Schmucker acted as best man. The ushers were John Christopherson and Dr. A. V. Seifert. The church decorations were white and pink asters and ferns.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white georgette crepe trimmed with satin ribbon and wore a bridal veil of tulle. Her flowers were white asters. The bridesmaid's dress was of orchid organdie, while that of the maid of honor was of peach-colored organdie. The bridesmaid and maid of honor wore picture hats and carried roses and sweet peas.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home where a sumptuous 12 o'clock wedding dinner was served to relatives and intimate friends of the happy young couple. The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being orchid and white. Among the out-of-town guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Henle and daughter, Madeline, of Morris, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Henle, Sleepy Eye; Mrs. Anna Borgmeier, Mankato; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Legare, Marshall, Minn.; and Mrs. J. P. Nuessle and Mrs. Dr. O. W. Yoerg of Minneapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Furth departed Monday afternoon on a three weeks' wedding trip to Yellowstone National Park, and upon their return will go to housekeeping in 400 South German street, where they will be at home to their many friends after September 15th. The bride's traveling suit is of brown velvet de laine, trimmed with fur. Both are among our most popular young people and have a host of friends with whom the Review joins in wishing them a happy and prosperous wedded life. The bride attended Good Counsel Academy at Mankato, after completing her school work here, and for the past five years was employed in the local offices of the Eagle Roller Mill Co. The groom is assistant secretary of the State Bond & Mortgage Co. of this city and saw overseas service with the American Expeditionary Forces during the World war. He received his business training in the Mankato Commercial College.

Hogen-Zeig.

Frank Hogen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hogen, South Front street, and Miss Rose Zeig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Zeig of Lucan, were happily wedded at the Catholic church in that village, last Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. The happy couple was attended by their brothers and sisters, John Zeig, Miss Bertha Hogen, Albert Hogen and Miss Louise Zeig. Chloris Krammer and Rosella Hogen were flower girls and Leo Wurscher was ringbearer.

gown of white tricotette and carried a bouquet of roses. Miss Hogen's bridesmaid dress was of pink organdie, while that of Miss Zeig was of blue organdie. Each of the bridesmaids carried pink carnations. The little flower girls were dressed in becoming frocks of organdie, Chloris in pink and Rosella in blue. Their baskets were filled with sweet peas.

The ceremony was followed by a reception and wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents, attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the newlyweds. In the evening a big wedding dance was held in the village hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Hogen left the next day on their honeymoon via the auto route to points in Northern Minnesota and North and South Dakota. They will be gone about two weeks, after which they will establish their home in this city. The groom has been a carpenter for several years and during the past two years has engaged in general contracting. He is at present employed on the new addition to the Sleepy Eye high school. The bride has been cook in her father's hotel at Lucan for some time past. He also conducts a dry goods store there. The Review joins with the many friends of the happy young couple in extending hearty felicitations and best wishes for success and happiness on their journey through life.

ANDREW WELTSCH DEAD.

Andrew Weltsch, an old and respected resident of Sleepy Eye, passed away at the home of Andrew Kestner, in the east part of the city Saturday, July 29th, asthma being the direct cause of his death. The deceased was born in Germany May 27th, 1848, and was 72 years, 2 months and 27 days at the time of his death. His wife preceded him to the Great Unknown, passing away in 1916. He leaves one son, Joe Weltsch, of New Ulm, to mourn his death.

The deceased with his family moved to Sleepy Eye about twenty years ago and has continued his residence here since that time.

Funeral services were conducted at St. Mary's Catholic church Monday morning, Aug. 1st, Rev. Jas. Klein officiating and the remains laid to rest in the St. Mary's cemetery. A large concourse of friends accompanied the remains to their last resting place to show their last respects to the departed.

With entries already secured from a half-score of the world's fastest dirt drivers, Mankato Elks are assured one of the fastest fields of starters a Southern Minnesota track has ever known, when they hold their Auto Races at the Mankato Fair Grounds Friday, August 12. Among the speed kings whose entries have been received are Sig Haugdahl, world's dirt track champion, who will drive a Fiat; Les Allen, behind one of Ray Harroun's famous Maxwell racers; "Whip" King of Hibbing, and Ted Rick of Des Moines, piloting two mounts from the famous Essex team; C. T. Barr of Atlanta, Ga., southern champion who has entered one of Louis Chevrolet's famous Frontenacs; King Kelley of Chicago with a fast Stutz; Rowe Brainerd of Kansas City with a member of the famous Deussenberg team; Billy Jackels of St. Paul in a Stephens; and several others equally as fast.

Ten points in the year's championship will be awarded the winner of the long distance free-for-all which will be the feature event of the day, officials of the International Motor Contest Association have notified Exalted Ruler John E. Regan. The I. M. C. A. is the sanctioning board under whose jurisdiction the races at the Minnesota, of Hibbing, and Ted Rick of Des Moines, piloting two mounts from the famous Essex team; C. T. Barr of Atlanta, Ga., southern champion who time trials, a light car event, a match race and several free-for-alls. Auto Polo, with the All-American and Canadian teams clashing, will also be a feature of the afternoon and the game promises to be exceptionally hot as the Canadians recently won the world's title from the States team, which is anxious to win it back.

A certain farmer residing in this vicinity recently purchased $4.00 worth of beef which was consumed at one meal by 15 men during threshing operations. Another farmer shipped a 1,000-pound cow to the South St. Paul market and after all expenses had been paid received $3.71 net for the critter. There certainly must be something wrong somewhere.
