HARDING FAVORS NEW WORLD ALLIANCE

Thousands Witness Great Street Parade at Orleans Centennial Celebration

Presenting one of the most striking spectacles ever witnessed in Orleans, the mammoth parade, the big feature of the elaborate program of the Centennial Celebration, passed in review before a crowd of approximately 3000 people who lined both sides of the Main street in that village this forenoon.

It was one of the longest parades ever seen in Orleans County and never before has there ever been seen a finer exhibition of artistically decorated vehicles.

Although the parade was scheduled for 10 o'clock there was the usual delay in getting things started and as a result it was nearly 10:30 before the line of decorated cars and trucks was well under way. The crowd had commenced to gather as early as nine o'clock and by the time the vehicles commenced to line up for the march the street was a black mass of people. Those that came early were fortunate enough to have front row standing room while many of the late comers were forced to crane their necks and peek over the shoulders of their neighbors.

Dean Mathews and Ray Underwood of Barton acted as marshals of the parade and performed their duties in a very efficient manner. The Orleans augmented band together with a life and drum corps led the line and furnished such excellent music that it was a pleasure for the American Legion members, the Boy Scouts and the Modern Woodmen of America to march in front of them. The few remaining veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic were carried in a large truck volunteered for the day. Included among the floats in line were Modern Woodmen of America, Parker-Young Company, F. H. Wright, C. E. Jenkins, Whipple-Converse Co., Taplin and Bates Lumber Company, Hunter and Potter, General Merchandisers, C. S. Stevens, F. M. Allchurch, F. J. Kinney, A. O. Austin, F. M. Dean, A. W. Fletcher, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, R. W. Elbridge and Parkview Garage. In addition there was an old stage coach driven by F. H. Wright, filled with people in old fashioned costumes and in contrast with E. E. Doe's big Packard Touring car, showing the progress in travel between 1820 and 1920.

F. M. Dean had two horses in the parade with riders carrying shields. There was also an Ox team and a STOLEN CAR FOUND AT GOLDSBORO, N. C.

Col. Joseph Fairbanks Expects to Get His Automobile Back Again

The new Buick car which was stolen from a park in Washington, D. C., on May 29, when its owner, Col. Joseph Fairbanks of St. Johnsbury was in the park, has been found at Goldsboro, N. C. The car had been used but little and had been resold three times since it was stolen. One figure of the engine number had been cleverly changed, but the serial number was not altered. The last purchaser wrote up to the Washington dealer about the car and was greatly surprised to be informed that he had bought a stolen car as he had bought it in good faith from another party. The car was insured by Arthur G. Sprague for $15,000 in the Phenix Mutual Insurance Company of Concord, N. H., and Mr. Sprague has already given Col. Fairbanks the company's check for this amount. The company have turned the whole matter of the recovery of the car into Col. Fairbanks' hands and in the meantime he has bought another car. It is expected that the car can be recovered and that the other parties who sold the car can be identified by the checks given in payment at the various sales.

ALLEGED "MOONSHINERS" PLACED UNDER ARREST

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 28.—Seizure of ten barrels of "moonshine" whiskey and the finding today of a 100-gallon still and 400 gallons of mash in Chicopee by police and prohibition officers, led to the arrest of Kerry Carbone of Newark, N. J., Thomas Brown of this city, and Chas. Guertin of Chicopee, all of whom were held for hearing. The barreled liquor was seized on a truck operated by Carbone and Brown and the still and mash found near Guertin's home but the ownership was denied by all three of them.

LEGION FAVORS $100 BONUS TO YOEMEN (F)

GREENFIELD, Mass., Aug. 28.—Delegates of the second convention of the Department of Massachusetts, American Legion today went on unanimous record against the transfer of former service men from hospital in this state to institutions in other states without the consent of the individual. The resolution embodying this opposition was called out by a recent order transferring the tubercular veterans from Rutland sanatorium to the National Soldiers home at Togus, Maine. The delegates by a vote of 257 to 128 approved a resolution favoring a state bonus of $100 to yoemen (female) as well as soldiers, sailors and marines.

Waterford Bridge Is Open for Traffic

The accident to the Waterford bridge has been completely repaired and it will be no longer necessary to detour. With the aid of motorists and tackle, the truck was lifted out and yesterday afternoon the plank was in shape for traffic, many people crossing over it. As this bridge is one of the vital points in the Roosevelt highway, any accident to it necessarily costs considerable in time and power expended in making a detour, and work in repairing it was rushed so that traffic might be held up for the least possible time.

Mr. Ricker proposes to open up the campaign with a star attraction and the event is anticipated with great interest by the citizens generally.

The first prize for the industrial float was awarded to A. W. Printer who had an elaborate float with six little girls on each side, each representing the different months of the year. The second prize went to Turnbull's Creamery. The float was yellow and green with a large ice cream dish and riding on the float were the girls in the office of the company.

Declares League of Nations a Failure and Proposes New Hague Tribunal

(By the Associated Press)

MARION, O., Aug. 28.—Pronouncing the existing League of Nations a definite and irredeemable failure, Senator Harding today proposed a new effort to construct a new world association on the framework of the Hague Tribunal, clothed with such attributes of the league covenant as may be found safe and practicable. He also pledged himself, if elected president, to make an immediate effort, with the advice of the ablest men of both political parties, to form such an association, either by putting "teeth" in the Hague Court, or by revising the covenant, to protect national aspiration.

The declaration was made in a front porch speech to a delegation of Indiana Republicans covering in detail the nominee's position on the nation's foreign relations.

The Senator replied directly to the argument of his Democratic opponent, Governor Cox, and declared that the league issue had been fairly joined. "The Democratic nominee," he said, "has flatly said he is in favor of going on the basis announced by the president. I am not. That is the whole difference between us, but it is a most vital one because it involves the disparity between a world court of justice supplemented by a world association for conference, on the one hand, and the council of the league on the other."

The league, the candidate asserted, had broken down at its first test in Poland, and was now dead beyond the power of restoration. Passage of a peace resolution," he continued, "would make an actual and effective peace without negotiations for a separate peace with Germany."

Touching on Mexico, he proclaimed a plain notice to every government on the face of the earth that the United States would submit to no wrong to its citizens of persons or property. He also replied to charges of undue
