Mr. Lodge On the Bonus

Among the many speeches made during the recent debate on the soldiers' bonus bill in the U. S. Senate was the following tribute to the boys in khaki from the senior Senator of Massachusetts, Henry Cabot Lodge:

"I criticize nobody. I speak only of a feeling which is very deep in my own heart. I was one of those placed in a position of representation. On us fell the duty of declaring war and we threw our swords into the scales and turned the scales. Then followed the conscription act. That, too, was right, but I cannot forget that I had summoned men not only by appeals to patriotism but by law to go forth and fight for their country and perhaps to sacrifice their lives. I could not go, but I voted to send other men. I felt that right in doing so, but it left a feeling from which I can never recover. This is not an argument based on figures, but on a feeling I have very strongly."

"I have another feeling which is not personal but is shared by many and is something I will never forget. I think the point I am about to make is best expressed in the lines of Kipling's 'Bard':
It's Tommy this and Tommy that,
and Tommy's 'how you soul'
But it's the 'thin red line of ferroll' when the drums begin to roll.
I don't want to have these feelings clash. I don't want that in four million men there were not some who were unworthy. I know that millions did not go to France but there were some who did and some more could have been ordered to the hell of Belleau Wood. When they went and when they returned I felt a deep sense of gratitude and I will take the responsibility of doing the best I can for them and if I am going to err I prefer to err on the liberal side. I am prepared to vote for this bill and I hope it will become law."

BACK TALK

Editor Southwick of the Burlington Free Press has the tip from the dancing masters that the "snuggle dance" must go. Have a snuggle, please the Northfield News, we must have something to take the place of coal the coming winter.

The coal distributing agency of the government tells the Vermont farmer he can have no hard coal this winter. The Burlington Clipper recommends that the farmer ought to retaliate by telling the coal miners, railroad strikers and other non-producers that they can have no wood or farm produce.

The Ludlow Tribune sends a cold shiver up the back by calling attention to the fact that it is none too early to begin to plan for winter sports and carnivals.

The Boston Globe says there is but one town of Kennecott in all the United States, a distinction which no other Maine town and few in the country can claim. Well, that's pretty good, but—besides being the only town of that name on the map, St. Johnsbury, Vermont, is the "sugar center of the world," the home of Fairbanks scales which are the recognized standard the world over, as well as several other "exclusives."

Most airplane accidents occur either in taking off or landing. This causes the Randolph Herald to observe that Durian Green was right. The damage came in "lightning."

The Brattleboro Reformer is enthusiastically for Congressman Greene for United States senator because it believes that his candidacy for the senate gives Vermont a chance to regain something of the prestige which it formerly had in the upper branch of Congress.

Little Benny's Note Book

By Lee Pape.

This afternoon my tooth started to hurt fierce again and I quick went around to the dentist and sat down in the waiting room and the dentist stuck his head out between the curtains saying, "All right Benny, I'll see you as soon as I get throo with this lady, does it hurt much?"

"Awful, I sed. And I sat there holding it and wishing he would hurry up and get throo with the lady, and another lady came in and sat down to wait and my tooth ake started to feel a little better, and the dentist came out with a little red hedded lady saying, 'All right, Mrs. Powers, tomorro afternoon at 3, now Benny step rite in.'"

This lady can go in first if she wants to, I sed.

Well wat a perfect little gentleman, I am rather in a hurry as a matter of fact, the lady sed. Being a short lady with high heels, and she went in with the dentist and my tooth ake got better and better and I could hear the short lady going "Owch, O, mersey deer. Me thinking, I wonder if that's how he's going to hurt me."

Not having any effect on me on account of me being half ways down stairs and still going.

Chad Holds Mastery Over Saranac 4-2

And Grieve advanced on chief Hoernle's sharp single past third. Knight did not help matters when he fumbled Maloney's grounder and Chad tallied. Knight, however, threw to Keefe in time to nab Tommy Grieve at the plate. Keely was out when Keefe gobbled up his hit in front of the plate.

After McLaughlin had doubled in the sixth inning, Tommy Grieve took his place on the sacks and brought in the run when Fuller Martin punched out a hard single through the Saranac Lake second baseman.

Backstop Hoernle got on base in the seventh as a result of Currier's fumble. Charles took third on Maloney's terrific two-bagger to right field and crossed the saucer on Kelley's infield out. Brackett's daisy-duster, through shortstop, chased Maloney in with the fourth tally of the game.

Saranac Lake bagged a run in sixth and another in the seventh. Keefe was nailed off second by a wonderful peg from Ted Butler to Jack Maloney after Buck Freeman had banged a grounder through the local infield. Buck advanced on a passed ball, and registered on successive singles by Cochran and Conlin. Hafford reached first on Grieve's bobbie in the seventh and tallied when a boy in left field tripped up Butler as he was about to catch Owen Keefe's long fly.

The summary:
Fairbanks ab r bh po a e
Grieve, ss 4 0 1 2 1 1
Hoernle, c 4 1 1 7 2 0
Maloney, 2b 4 1 2 2 1 0
Kelley, rf 4 0 1 1 0 0
Brackett, 3b 4 0 2 1 1 0
McLaughlin, 1b 4 1 2 11 0 1
Butler, lf 3 0 0 0 1 1
Martin, cf 4 0 2 3 0 0
Chadwick, p 4 1 0 0 3 0

Score by innings:
F. A. A. 0 0 1 0 0 1 2 0 —4
Saranac 0 0 0 0 1 1 0 0 —2

Two base hits, Kelley, McLaughlin, Maloney, Currier, Stolen base, Martin. Bases on balls, by Chadwick 2, by Knight 0. Struck out by Chadwick 6, by Knight 3. Sacrifice hits, Butler, Freeman. Double play, Knight to Keefe to Cochran. Passed ball, Hoernle. Hit by pitcher, by Knight, Grieve. Earned runs of Knight 2, off Chadwick 1. Left on bases, Fairbanks 9, Saranac Lake 9. First base on errors, Fairbanks 3, Saranac Lake 3. Time of game 1 hour, 45 minutes. Umpire, Davidson.

Mr. Gilfillan Endorses Flint for Sheriff

fied to read that Fred Flint is running for sheriff in the forthcoming election. I was gratified for two reasons. First, because having known Flint for as long as I can remember, ever since grammar school days at the old Summerville school, and having admired him as long as I have known him for his courage and his ability and his loyalty to his friends and to any cause he espoused, I am confident that he would carry those same essential qualities into any office to which he aspired and second because it is an indication that my home town is realizing a truth that other parts of the country particularly the Southwest, has recognized for some time—that young men are just as capable of holding office efficiently as men more advanced in years—that the enthusiasm and ambition and energy overcome any lack of experience. As you probably know, Dallas' last mayor, Frank Wozencraft, is twenty-eight years old. And young men every year are holding more public offices in the Southwest. In the case of Fred Flint, experience is in his favor, his long service in the Pennsylvania Police and in the Federal Service making him particularly fitted for the office for which he is a candidate. I shall watch with a great deal of interest the outcome of this race at home, as Flint in my estimation is ideally fitted for the office, and I shall be interested in the judgement of his fellow citizens.

Yours very truly,
M. D. Gilfillan

No Rail Strike Settlement In Sight

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—A petition for an injunction was filed today in the Supreme court of the District of Columbia against United States Attorney Peyton Gordon and United States Marshall Edgar Snyder by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. The petition was brought by J. P. Noonan, president, and Charles P. Ford, secretary, and would restrain Gordon and Snyder from enforcing within the District of Columbia the provisions of the strike injunction issued by Attorney General Daugherty in Chicago last week.

Miss Cameron Hostess at Bridge Party

Miss Sadie P. Cameron entertained at three tables of bridge Wednesday afternoon at the Maple Grove Tea Room in honor of her sister, Mrs. Don P. Cameron of Poughkeepsie, N. Y. The guests invited to meet Mrs. Cameron were largely old friends of Miss Cameron and her brother and included Mrs. Joseph Fairbanks of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Lindol Scott, Mrs. Arthur R. Brooks, Mrs. Herbert W. Blodgett, Mrs. Charles W. Rutter, Mrs. A. G. Sprague, Miss Caroline Ely, Miss Mary Ide, Miss Helen Stevens and Miss Maude Sprague. The prize for the highest score went to Miss Ely.

Nellie Gill Players Please Large Audience

The Nellie Gill Players presented the jolly comedy, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," at the Colonial theatre Saturday evening before an appreciative audience. The play is full of delightfully complicated situations that give the audience a whole lot of fun to see untangled by his skillful company, affording a very pleasant evening's entertainment. The musical numbers by the orchestra were also well received.

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN CONCORD RESIDENT

Louis Fournier Buried From Notre Dame Church

Prominent traits in the character of Amedee Fournier of Concord who died August 28 at St. Johnsbury hospital, were his strong religious convictions, his affability and unflinching honesty. Mr. Fournier held the high esteem of all with whom he had been associated. He was born in Stamford, P. Q., December 28, 1856, the son of Louis and Rosalie (Gauthier) Fournier. He was one of 12 children, seven of whom survive, four sisters and three brothers: Mrs. James Durant of Lowell, Mass., Mrs. Onesime Chretien of Manchester, N. H., Mrs. Jochean Massey of Greensboro, Mrs. David Labbay of Danville, Joseph Fournier of Manchester, N. H., Alfred Fournier of Barre and Louis Fournier of St. Johnsbury.

Mr. Fournier came to Concord at the age of ten and the remainder of his life was passed here. On February 28, 1886 he married Miss Mary A. Langlois of Concord who survives him with two of their family of four children. Two children died in infancy. The surviving children are a daughter, Mrs. Alfred Fournier of St. Johnsbury and his son, Louis Fournier of New Haven, Conn. His aged father who has made his home with him for the past four years also survives.

Mr. Fournier had been ill about two years and everything was done to arrest the progress of the disease. He was treated for a number of months at St. Johnsbury hospital went to his home and later was again taken to the hospital.

Funeral services were held at Notre Dame church August 30 with Rev. E. C. Prouin officiating at the solemn high mass assisted by Rev. Father LeVeau as deacon and the Rev. Father Laroque as sub deacon. Many friends and relatives attended the funeral and followed the remains to Mt. Calvary cemetery where interment was made in the family lot. The bearers were Peter Racour of Littleton, N. H., Joseph Boucher of Concord, Henry Langlois of Worcester, Mass., Joseph Fournier of Manchester, N. H., Louis Fournier of St. Johnsbury and Joseph Fournier of Lowell, Mass. Mr. Fournier's daughter, Mrs. Alfred Fournier of St. Johnsbury is critically ill at St. Johnsbury hospital where she has been cared for the past four months.
