

RESENT CRITICISM

SENATORS IRRITATED BY ARTICLES REFLECTING ON THEIR CONDUCT OF THE BUSINESS OF THE PEOPLE.

FINAL SESSIONS ARE CROWDED

Nearly 400 Bills Remain to Be Considered and Oblivion Will Overtake the Majority of Them.

One feature of the Monday session of the Senate resulted from the remarks of Senator Simms, who arose to a question of privilege for the purpose of denouncing a slander article in a recent edition of the Baptist Advance, in which it was intimated the members of the Senate were involved in a boodling transaction in connection with the state-wide prohibition measures. This was followed by a statement by Senator Wingo, who also denounced the article as false and slanderous, and beyond the statements of the two senators no further action was taken in the matter.

The Senate disposed of much routine business during the day which included the passage of 21 bills, the consideration and advancement of 25 measures and the defeat of three. The important bills passed included the House general deficiency bill, the House appropriation bill of $25,000 for the support of the Arkansas National Guard, the House appropriation bill of $60,660 for the support of the Confederate Home, the House bill appropriating $2,000 for the relief of the parents of Willie Crowder, killed by an electric wire of the state lighting plant, and the House bill reenacting the poll tax law. The bills defeated were the Dill-Logan bill, providing for the completion of the new state capitol, the Bush bill, providing the establishment of another reform school, and the Parks House bill which sought to take Lafayette county out of the Eighth judicial district and place it back into the Thirteenth district. The transfer of the county to the Eighth district was made by a special act passed by the legislature two years ago. It was signed by Acting Governor John I. Moore and vetoed by Acting Governor X. O. Pindall on the same day he assumed the duties of the executive office, the bill not having been delivered to the secretary of state after Acting Governor Moore had left the office. The question as to the validity of the Pindall veto was taken to the courts, the Supreme Court upholding the act of Governor Moore.

The House.

The Monday session of the House consisted chiefly in a wrangle over the Oldham bill appropriating $175,000 to pay Caldwell & Drake should the arbitration committee so order. The final result was the placing the bill on third reading with the recommendation that it be passed. Messrs. Going, Little and Carlee engaged in a personal privilege battle over political conditions in Eastern Arkansas, the outcome being similar in some respects to the recent clash between the same three when the St. Francis levee district bill was before the House.

The Patterson bill paying off the old State Capitol Commission passed and the Fletcher bill increasing the pay of the state treasurer and auditor was defeated. The Fletcher bill providing for a new hospital for the insane also passed.

PUBLIC STATEMENT

By a Public Official—County Treasurer of Granbury, Texas.

A. A. Perkins, County Treasurer of Granbury, Hood Co., Texas, says:

"Years ago a severe fall injured my kidneys. From that time I was bothered with a chronic lame back and disordered action of the kidneys helped to make life miserable for me. A friend suggested my using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I did, with the most gratifying results. I made a public statement at the time, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, and am glad to confirm that statement now."

SEEMED LACKING IN RESPECT

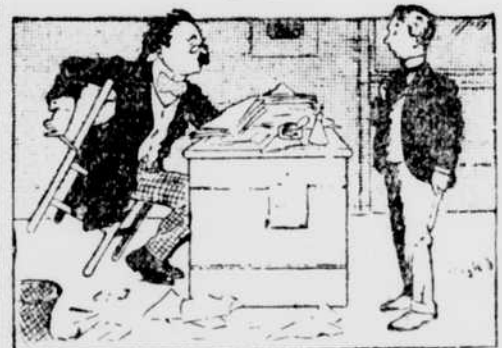

Little Girl's Innocent Use of Descriptive Slang Expression Amused Fellow-Traveler.

"I was going to Patchogue," said a woman at the Waldorf, "when I saw sitting near by a little girl with her mother, the mother evidently a foreigner, the child born in this country, both surrounded by bundles in the foreign way. The child was six. The conductor came along and the child of six held out the tickets."

"I want you to put us off at Patchogue," she said, smiling up at him, "and help us with our bundles, please. My mother's a greenhorn. She doesn't know anything about traveling."

"I watched her until the two arrived at their destination, and I think I have never seen a more polite little girl or a more seemingly dutiful daughter. It was quite evident to my mind that she meant no disrespect to her mother by calling her by what would seem to us to be an opprobrious epithet. She had merely adopted one of our slang words as the very best of English."—New York Press.

AMBITIOUS.

Employer—What! want another raise? Why, you're getting $5 a month!

Office Boy—Yessir; but I'm engaged now, and my girl wants to be took about.

An Error.

He had dined exceedingly well and was standing in the hotel lobby, hatless, and looking exactly as if he were quite at home there. It was no wonder that the hotel guest walked up to him and inquired imperiously:

"Where's the news stand?"

"Dunno."

The guest glared.

"Huh?" inquired he who had dined well. "Report m'?"

"Say, what are you? A bellboy or a detective or—what?"

"I'm a haberdasher," answered the other, with a pleasant smile.

The other snorted and withdrew.

Locations of Promotion.

Elzena, aged four, revelled in kindergarten lore, and each day imparted to her young mother the many interesting things that the sweet-faced teacher had told them. Among the vicissitudes of school life to be encountered was that of vaccination, which was new to the little one. After much explaining and reassuring this difficulty was safely passed. A few weeks later she returned one day from kindergarten in a whirl of excitement, exclaiming:

"Mother, mother, I'm going to be promoted—mother, will I be promoted on my arm or leg?"

NOT DRUGS

Food Did It.

After using laxative and cathartic medicines from childhood a case of chronic and apparently incurable constipation yielded to the scientific food, Grape-Nuts, in a few days.

"From early childhood I suffered with such terrible constipation that I had to use laxatives continuously going from one drug to another and suffering more or less all the time."

"A prominent physician whom I consulted told me the muscles of the digestive organs were partially paralyzed and could not perform their work without help of some kind, so I have tried at different times about every laxative and cathartic known, but found no help that was at all permanent. I had finally become discouraged and had given my case up as hopeless when I began to use the pre-digested food, Grape-Nuts."

"Although I had not expected this food to help my trouble, to my great surprise Grape-Nuts digested immediately from the first and in a few days I was convinced that this was just what my system needed."

"The bowels performed their functions regularly and I am now completely and permanently cured of this awful trouble."

"Truly the power of scientific food must be unlimited." "There's a Reason."

WHEAT MARKET UNDISTURBED

Former King of Speculators Returns Without Upsetting Prices.

Chicago.—James A. Patten's return to the market Tuesday was not reflected in the course of wheat prices on the Board of Trade at the opening. Quotations eased off a cent during the first hour, but the tone of the market was tranquil. In another part of the city Secretary of Agriculture Wilson met with his meat inspectors from all over the country, discussing the inspection of meats. Neither the cabinet member nor Mr. Patten had anything to say about wheat prospects. Both apparently are standing on their assertions of some weeks ago that "time will tell."

Trouble Over River Traffic.

Memphis.—The captain of the steamer Pacific, towing lumber valued at $15,000, has ignored a writ of replevin served by Deputy Sheriff Rembrandt, acting on behalf of H. B. Blanks of Vicksburg.

The Pacific passed Memphis hugging the Arkansas shore side of the river. Blanks, who came to Memphis by train to head the Pacific off, caused a trip to be made down the river, but was unsuccessful in hailing the boat. Deputy Rembrandt, seeing the Pacific hugging the Arkansas shore, hurried up river to Island 40 to catch the boat in Tennessee waters. He caught her, but the captain refused to recognize the attachment and laughed at Rembrandt. The Pacific belongs to a towing company which was employed by the Cannon Box Company of Paducah, Ky., to get Blanks' lumber. Blanks said his contract with the company called for cash on delivery. He claims the Pacific hooked onto the barge without its officers saying aught to him.

Sultan Gets Regular Job.

Constantinople.—Mehamed V. ended his "coronation day" Sunday by plowing a furrow in the lawn at Dogmabagtsche palace, symbolically at least, by holding the plow handles for a fraction of a minute while two horses dragged it a few yards. In carrying out the ancient test, Mehamed V. showed himself to be sound of body and fit to bear the physical burdens of the empire. It was a day both of fulfillment of ancient customs and breaking them. Christians for the first time were admitted to the small mosque attached to Ayoub Mesque and allowed to see the ceremony of girding the sword of Osman upon the sultan. Among 30 persons present were Bucknam Pasha, an American, and Woods Pasha, an Englishman, both of whom are in the Turkish service. They were impressed with the beauty and the solemnity of the ceremony which, with the chants of the priests, lasted only 20 minutes.

Naval Stores Cases Decided.

Savannah, Ga.—"Guilty" was the verdict brought in late Monday by the jury in the case of the so-called "turpentine trust." Though the names of the two indicted corporations were omitted and the verdict applies only to the five individual defendants, E. S. Nash, president of the American Naval Stores Company; Spencer P. Shetter, chairman of its board of directors; George Meade Boardman of New York, its treasurer; J. F. C. Myers, vice president of the company, and Carl Moller of Jacksonville, Fla., manager of that company and also Jacksonville manager of the National Transportation and Terminal Company. The sixth defendant, Chas. J. DeLoach, was found not guilty at the direction of the court.

Haskell Sees Plan of Evasion.

Tulsa, Okla.—Governor Haskell and the other six Oklahomans, it is said, will move that the Federal grand jury called to reinvestigate the Muskogee town lot cases be dismissed. This move is to be made when the jury is organized. The ground set up for dismissal will be that in the enabling act, whereby the territory of Oklahoma was permitted to become a state, there is no method prescribed by Congress in the territories prior to statehood, and that the federal court has no jurisdiction over such cases.

Would Secure Wealth Speedily.

Kansas City, Mo.—Charged with using the mails to defraud in exploiting a mine located near Winkelman, Ariz., E. S. Horn, John E. Horn, Frank S. Horn, S. H. Snider and Raymond P. May, who were indicted by the Federal grand jury several months ago, were placed on trial here. The government inspectors estimate $182,000 was received by the promoters from the sale of treasury stock.

Insane Man Wreaks Woe.

Boyle, Miss.—Charles Jones of Rosedale, Miss., shot and killed Jesse Pate of Arnold here Monday. Jones used a shotgun and pistol.

Resort of Gamblers to Receive Curb.

Indianapolis, Ind.—State Attorney General Pihlman and Frank H. Houston, prosecutor for Orange and Washington counties, will at once bring to trial alleged keepers of gambling rooms at French Lick and West Baden. There are 68 cases pending. The county prosecutor told Governor Marshall that the people of Orange county were not at all interested in a reform of existing conditions, but he declared he would put all the cases up to the local courts.

A CURE FOR FITS.

The Treatment Is to Accomplish What Science Has Been Struggling to Attain for Centuries.

The intense interest that has been manifested throughout the country by the wonderful cures that are being accomplished daily by epileptics still continues. It is really surprising the vast number of people who have already been cured of epilepsy and nervousness. In order that everybody may have a chance to test the method, large trial bottles, valuable literature, history of Epilepsy and testimonials, will be sent by mail absolutely free to all who write to the Dr. May Laboratory, 100 Pearl Street, New York City.

Work of Fish Hatcheries.

As the result of special efforts at the hatchery work during the year the output of fish and eggs in 1908 was greater than ever before in the history of the national bureau, reaching a total of 2,871,456,280. Of this number 2,413,809,225 were young fish distributed for the stocking and restocking of public and private waters, and the remaining 457,647,055 were eggs delivered to state and foreign hatcheries. The output of young fish exceeds the greatest previous record for any year by 376,000,000.

A Double Lack.

"My story has no unnecessary words," said the budding author proudly.

"No, it hasn't," agreed the critic, "but it hasn't any necessary ones either!"
