NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS:

We wish to inform you that beginning November 1st, 1919, we will return to our STRICTLY CASH POLICY. Beginning on that date this establishment will be a strictly CASH STORE. All merchandise will be sold for CASH AND CASH ONLY.
We have tried to conduct, at the same time, a cash and charge business, and find that the latter is a very expensive way, requiring more help, time and other expenses. For this reason we are returning to our STRICTLY CASH BASIS, and ask your corporation in the new move.
We wish to serve you in the best way, and believe the Cash Way is the way to do this.
CASH business is economical, because it does away with a great overhead expense. These accumulated savings are made only in a CASH STORE and when the store SAVES, the customer SAVES.
Under our new CASH policy, which will be strictly enforced, it will be the earnest endeavor of this store to hold to the minimum the cost of merchandise distribution.
Under the cash and charge system our merchandise has been satisfactory, our prices have been fair and reasonable, and our service has been good; is it not better to receive all of these advantages under a CASH SYSTEM with the added benefit of STILL BETTER SERVICE?
Please consider that we will always be glad to be of service to you, and hope you will co-operate with us in our NEW CASH SYSTEM.
Thanking you for your kind patronage in the past and asking for a continuance of same.

THE OCTOBER LIST OF EDISON RE-CREATIONS.

Margie Teyte, "Favorite of Two Continents" heads the list of artists featured in the all worthwhile numbers on the October List of Re-Creations for the New Edison.

Miss Teyte chose for Re-Creation 2 simple but beautiful melodies, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "My Ain Folk." Her limpid soprano voice, caressingly beautiful, makes these songs the dearest and the memories they bring the more vivid and appealing.

Albert Spalding, "America's Greatest Violinist" recently released from fighting service overseas, delightfully plays Schumann's lovable "Romance in A" and the effervescent "Scherzo-Valse" by Chabrier-Loeffler.

Good dance numbers now-a-days are hard to find, but the October list serves to introduce several really worthy danceable tunes. There's "The Vamp," an infectious, tabasco flavored jazz one-step, and "My Cairo Love," a rhythmically magic Egyptian-perfumed fox trot, played by a master melody aggregation, the Green Bros. Novelty Orchestra, "Ruspana," the irresistible one-step that kept Broadway dancing overtime, and "Gypsy Girl," a "peppy" fox trot, are contributed by New York's popular singing instrumentalists, the Tuxedo Dance Orchestra.

The big musical hit, written for the Red Lantern moving picture in which Nazimova starred, occupies a prominent place on the list. "Shine On, Red Lantern," as sung by the admirable Metropolitan Quartet, has wonderful musical effects and a wondrous flavor of the Orient.

Helen Clark and George Wilton Ballard, the popular contralto and tenor, charmingly harmonize in "When You Hold Me in Your Arms."

Among the instrumental numbers are the tuneful "Henry VIII Dances," remarkably well played by the American Symphony Orchestra; "The Elephant and the Fly," an unique musical composition played by Weyert A. Moor, piccolo, and Benjamin Kohon, bassoon; and "Nadine"—a waltz caprice with T. Bennie Henton the world famous saxophonist as the soloist.

A number of beautiful ballads are offered: Betsy Lane Shepherd sings "I'll Remember You Love in My Prayers," the well known tenor Arthur S. Bible follows with "Roses at Twilight," Rachael Grant sings the sentimental number "You're Making a Miser of Me," and Lewis James, a gifted tenor new to Edison owners, renders "Why Did You Come Into My Life." Helen Clark and George Wilton Ballard's voices blend beautifully in "When I Met You," and Rachael Grant and inimitable Billy Murry make a hit in their conversational duet, "I'm Not Jealous." There's a snappy, novel, syncopated duet by Murray and Smalle, "I Ain't Goten No Tune to Have the Blues."

There are two sacred selections, "In the Secret of His Presence," and old hymn, is splendidly sung by Hart and Shaw. The Metropolitan Puarete impressively renders the appealing "Valley of Peace." The test is inspired by the phrase "My peace I give unto you" John 14:27.

The same quartet sings with perfect sympathy a lovable little home song the sweetly sentimental "Little Old Log Cabin in the Lane."

Here and There in Arkansas

The aged mother of Hughes Jackson who was shot to death by an assassin near Mountain Home something more than two weeks ago has been calling continually for her dead son, according to the Baxter Bulletin, but she says she does not want to see the murderer of her son hanged. She says she wants him to live and repent his crime before he meets his God.

WILSON SIGNS BILLS

President Was Reported by Be in a Fine Shape.

Washington, Oct. 23.—President Wilson today signed several bills recently passed by congress Secretary Tammuly announced.

President Wilson was said by Secretary Tammuly to be "in fine shape" this morning after the most active day yesterday he has had since he became ill. Early this morning Mrs. Wilson telephoned Mr. Tammuly that the president was anxious for information as to the situation in the national industrial conference.

The president's physicians reported that Mr. Wilson last night had one of the best nights since he became ill. They issued this bulletin at 11:30 a.m.

"The president had one of the best nights since his illness began. His temperature, pulse and respiration rates continue normal. His digestion is more satisfactory."

APPOINTED U. S. ATTORNEY

Arkansas Man Gets Appointment as United States Attorney.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Recommendations for the appointment of a United States district attorney for the Eastern district of Arkansas, and for United States marshals for the eastern and western districts, were agreed upon and submitted to President Wilson today by Senator Robinson and Kirby.

June P. Wooten of Little Rock was recommended as the successor to W. H. Martin, present attorney for the eastern district, who has resigned. A. J. Walls, United States marshal for the eastern district, and John H. Parker for the western district, were recommended to succeed themselves. The terms of all three officers have expired and it is said that the president will accept the recommendations of the Arkansas senators and submit the endorsements to the Senate as soon as he is able to consider them.

School Society Notes

(Reported by Nelle Kolb, Gay Graves, Beth Cowling and Jack Davis.)

The Wilsonian Literary Society was organized September 15, 1919, with fifty members enrolled. The officers elected were: Horace Hunter, president; Henry Smith, vice president; Willie Bishop, secretary; Curtis Wimberly, treasurer; Dora Holmes, sergeant at arms.

A very interesting program was rendered October 22. The most important feature was a debate, Resolved: That Manual Training is more important than Home Economics. Affirmative, Joe Preddy, Willie Lusk Phillips; Negative, Nelle Kolb, Tommie Cobb. The negative won.

Miss Snow, "A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer." Harry, "Then that's the reason why so many of us think on exams this week."

Beth, "Why weren't you at school this morning?" Horace, "I was there, why did you think I wasn't?" Beth, "I saw your pink shirt on the line."

Nelle, "Why does Nita close her eyes when she sings 'The Roary'?" Dorothy, "Because she hates to see us suffer."

The following is the program for October 29:

Roll call, quotations from Longfellow.

Biographical talk, Edith Rhyne.
Music, Georgia Bell Burnett.
General Appreciation, Irene Jester.
Song, Dora Nelle, Nita, Jim, Ethel, Nita, Irma, Harry, Roy, Henry.

General criticism, Jinnie Cummins.
Music, Madge Collins.
Personal appreciation, Johana Gyr.
Reading, Jennings Russell.
"Nation Tour in interest of League of Nations," Lola Donham.

Locals and jokes, Dorothy, Effie Marr and Junior Mills.

We should be glad to have any visitors.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS. At Saloniki.

The veritable mountains of relief supplies turned out by the millions of chapter workers during the war made the American Red Cross one of the biggest "manufacturing concerns" in the world, with great warehouse space at scores of strategic points all around the globe.

One of the biggest distribution centers was at Saloniki, Greece, and in this picture Bulgarian prisoners of war are seen unloading a Red Cross cargo of 2,300 boxes from a French transport. At the right is seen one of the American Red Cross camions, fleets of which were used in rushing relief to points where the suffering was greatest.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY DEVELOPED a very excellent and simple electric starter for the tanks they built during the war, and are now equipping about half of their cars with this starter. The starter has neither a belt or chain on it. The motor is connected by gears to the fly-wheel and the generator is connected to the timing gear. This doing away with chains eliminates one of the weak points and the source of a great deal of trouble on other starters.

Let us have your order and we will do our best to make you an early delivery.
