HOME NEWS.

VOL. XI, NO. 1.

The editor is absent this week, so the customary homily on the past, present and future will have to lay over for another year. Suffice it to say, THE HERALD begins Vol. XI, No. 1, with this issue.

N. B.—All delinquent subscribers and others who expect to die, run for office, or in any way wish to regain their good standing with THE HERALD, are respectfully invited to call (during the chief's absence) and settle their accounts. You will find the man in charge mild and easy to deal with.

P. S.—Come early and avoid the rush.

Rifle will have a fair this fall—September 17, 18 and 19.

Joe Rooney, the popular clerk at the Meeker hotel, is now under sheriff.

Marshal Wilber is after road taxes these days. Pay your $1.50 and look pleasant.

The Sanderson case will be tried in the county court during the first week in September.

John Hummel, the tailor, comes out with an ad in this issue. If in need of anything in his line give him a call.

The Red Stockings entertained the Coal Creek team at dinner at the Meeker hotel Sunday, and an enjoyable social time was had.

Photographer Johnston is so rushed with work that he is obliged to stay the time of the run.

The Utes have arrived in the lower country on their annual deer-killing expedition. Isn't it about time the state authorities were taking these hide-hunting Indians in hand?

Hon. J. W. Lowell came in Thursday, after a brief outing at Denver and other points. He brought in a bunch of about five hundred head of 1 and 2-year-old steers for the Lily Park Stock Growers' association.

Another lively game of base ball was played Sunday afternoon on the home grounds between the Meeker and Coal Creek nines. Several of the latter were injured in the early part of the game, which was largely responsible for their defeat.

Eight years ago yesterday Colorow's band of Utes refused to recognize civil authority, and the result was a "war." Since then but four or five Utes have visited Meeker, but plenty of them come into the western part of the county without fear of being molested.

Dr. G. M. Black, accompanied by Messrs. E. F. Arthur, city treasurer, and J. and S. H. Canby, sons of General Canby of the U. S. army, all of Denver, were passengers on Thursday's incoming stage. They are on a pleasure trip, and will tarry for a week or two in the mountains.

Marvine Lodge had about twenty guests a week ago, and more were expected in this week. A more delightful place could not be chosen to spend a few weeks, as the fishing and hunting in that locality is unsurpassed. The indefatigable Tommy Collins is still the chef-d'cuisine.

Keenan & Sons' last circular reports the outlook very flattering for good prices the entire season for western range cattle. Feeders are paying $3.50 to $4.25 for good native feeders; they do not think much of the investment, but, with the prospects of an immense crop of corn, feeders will have to pay high to get cattle to eat it.

H. C. Peterson, of Big Beaver, has lately turned his attention to the manufacture of cheese, owing to the limited market for dairy butter. He has the necessary paraphernalia to turn out a good quality of cheese (however, on a limited scale), and the fact that he finds no trouble in disposing of all he can make shows that the gentleman understands the business.

Meeker's school will begin September 3d, with Mr. W. H. Manifold as principal and Miss Fannie Noble as assistant.

Mr. Manifold is from Iowa, but more recently taught in Boulder, this state. Miss Noble comes from Grand river, and last year taught the Powell Park scholars. The school board announces that no tuition fee will be exacted from scholars who come from other districts in the county to attend school here.

On Monday last complaint was made in the county court that one August Fisher was insane, and he was lodged in the "cooler." A brief inquiry on the part of the court Tuesday morning revealed the fact that the man has been subject to spells of temporary loss of reason for many years past, and at no time was he ever considered dangerous, although his talk during such spells would indicate a very unbalanced state of mind. He was released.

For several days this week the hay-makers of this vicinity had excellent weather in which to gather their crops, but Thursday afternoon a heavy rain interrupted the work. To-day it looks threatening, and there's no telling which way "the cat will hop."

Aldermanic Acts.

The regular meeting of the town board of trustees was held on Tuesday evening, and the usual routine of business transacted.

Among the petitions presented was one from J. W. Hugus & Co., John Hantgen & Kelly, W. E. Saltmarsh and A. Oldland & Co., asking that peddlers be licensed. A committee, consisting of Trustees Mootz, Ball and Simpson, was appointed to draft an ordinance covering the question and submit it to the board at the next meeting.

Bills allowed—
H. R. Bergh, repairs.....$1.50
J. W. Hugus & Co., mdse.....40
Meeker L. and I. Co., water.....87.50
David Smith, salary.....8.33
Sheridan & Smith, lumber.....1.30
E. P. Wilber, salary.....50.00
C. Montgomery, labor.....2.00

The street and alley committee was ordered to have bridge across Sulphur creek near Sanderson ranch repaired forthwith.

The new law regarding road taxes was brought up, and, after discussion, the marshal was instructed to collect the same under the existing ordinance, as the new law does not affect incorporated towns.

G. W. Thayer has leased the Pioneer stables, and will board horses by the day, week or month. Rates reasonable.

The Burlington Route

Has been selected by the traveling public as "the route" to all points east. Now that summer is here, there's no use postponing that trip any longer. Everything is in your favor. Rates are low, weather is pleasant, our service is better than ever.

Note the following round-trip rates, which will be on sale to all:

Boston, Mass., $17.05 and $50; selling days, August 17 to 22; Knights Templar Conclave.

Louisville, Ky., $29.95; selling days, September 6 to 8; G. A. R. Encampment.

Summer tourist rates now in effect to Yellowstone Park, Billings, Helena, Spokane and the Great Northwest. People who are in a hurry always take the Burlington Route. Our flyers leave Denver daily at 11 a. m. and 9:50 p. m. Our "a la carte" dining-car service fills a long-felt want. As to our equipment and track, note a few of our official records: 105 miles in 104 minutes, 111 miles in 108 minutes, and so on. Finally, when in doubt, "Take the Burlington Route." You can't do better; you might do worse.

Remember, your local agent can ticket you at lowest rates. Call on him and get full particulars. Should you desire any special information, write or wire G. W. VALLERY, General Agent, 1039 17th st., Denver.

To Utilize Culin.

Nearly a hundred schemes have been devised for utilizing culm, the name given to the fine dust or refuse of coal that is shipped from the mines. Many of these schemes have proved useless. It is now suggested that electrical power plants be established at all coal mines where culm accumulates and that it be used as fuel for generating power, which could then be conveyed by wire to neighboring cities.

HEROISM OF A LUMBERMAN.

Carrying a Wounded Comrade Forty Miles Through Cold and Snow.

A young man, Henry Brault, a resident of Peterboro, Ont., recently performed an act of heroism, actuated by friendship and a desire to do good. He carried a wounded comrade, a man of any age, through the snow-covered mountains of the Manchester region, where he was working in the wild Madawaska region for the St. Anthony Lumber company. Jamieson met with a severe accident which rendered him delirious, and Brault started with him for civilization, where surgical treatment could be had. They had traveled on foot but a few hundred yards when Jamieson's strength gave out and he became helpless. Brault determined to save his companion if in his power, shouldered the invalid and started on his long, cold tramp of some forty miles to the nearest railroad. Without a moment's sleep, and bearing, besides his human burden, a pack of provisions, Brault continued his journey for four days and nights, through cold and snow, until finally, almost as helpless from exhaustion and fatigue as his friend was from illness, he had the supreme satisfaction of reaching the end of his journey and placing Jamieson where he was able to be properly treated. Such a feat of endurance seems almost incredible, and only a seasoned woodman, unused to hardship, could have accomplished it; and among those capable of it it is rare to find so striking an example of disinterested friendship, even when a human life is at stake. Whatever his station in life may be, young Brault deserves to rank among nature's noblemen.
