VIKING

VIKING VOTES FOR INCORPORATION AS VILLAGE.

The election in Viking, whether to incorporate or not, is now a thing of the past. This matter was decided Friday, April 8th, and it was a hard fought battle, considerable strength being shown on both sides. Considerable opposition to incorporation was displayed, but when the smoke of the battle had cleared away, it was found that incorporation had carried by seven votes—44 against and 51 for.

The judges of election carried out their duties with dignity, everything was conducted in the most honest and lawful way. In the opinion of your correspondent this is a step in the right direction.

Now that the step is taken, I would suggest this: lay aside your grudge, take your defeat with good resignation, let us grasp each other's hand and say, "here we go for a bigger and better Village of Viking."

We have all the possibilities for this and we can surely accomplish it, provided we make a united effort, and as good loyal citizens we ought to do so.

The opponents of incorporation found their opposition on an increase in taxes. No one need fear this. We have here a set of very careful and moderate people and no extravagance will very likely be allowed, or even tolerated. In fact, we are now, as a village, in a better position to use our money to much better advantage than under our former regime.

Again appealing to one and all, not to harbor any ill feeling, but to join hands and work in harmony for better results. I am yours for a progressive Village of Viking.

"NOW-A-DAYS"

says the Good Judge

A man can get a heap more satisfaction from a small chew of this class of tobacco, than he ever could get from a big chew of the old kind.

He finds it costs less, too. The good tobacco taste lasts so much longer he doesn't need to have a fresh chew nearly as often.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

RIGHT CUT is a short-cut tobacco

MILK IMPORTANT ITEM IN DIET HINTS FOR CHILDREN.

A good breakfast to start them off—milk, corn-meal mush, apple sauce. It makes them fit for school and fit for play, say home economics specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Milk, and plenty of it, makes them grow—a quart each day, if possible. Put it on their cereal and in their cups. Make it into soups, puddings, or custards for them.

Whole milk is best, of course, but skim milk is good if there is a little butter in their meals. Cottage cheese is good, too.

No coffee or tea—not even a taste. Leave them for the grownups. Milk, cocoa, not too strong, and fruit juices are the drinks for children, and plenty of water always.

Fruit they enjoy, and they need it, too—baked apples, apple sauce, thoroughly ripe bananas, prunes, oranges, etc. Give them vegetables, fresh or canned. Plenty of fruits and vegetables tend to prevent constipation. Use proper food and do not depend upon laxatives. The youngsters can't be well unless the bowels move regularly. Don't let them hurry off in the morning without attending to this duty.

Other foods children need: Good bread, whole-wheat bread, corn bread, well-cooked oatmeal, corn meal, and rice are all excellent for children. They help make strong boys and girls. Fats they must have, too. None is better than butter. Besides the butter on their bread, do not overlook the fat on meats, or in gravies and other food. An egg is good, too, or they may have a little meat or fish, but they do not need much.

Sweets are good for them—the right ones at the right time. Dates, stewed fruits, simple puddings, and sugar cookies are especially good. Give sweets at meal times.

Between meals let them have bread and butter, a cracker, or fruit. They won't spoil the appetite, and sweets will.

THINGS ARE DIFFERENT.

An imaginary line will not keep cattle out of corn nor whiskey runners from a brisk business, yet one does not have to spend a great amount of time in Winnipeg to realize that things are different. One of the most impressive indications that one is not in the United States is the array of signs which confronts him in that town. They speak a foreign tongue such as, "Tea Room", "Bar", "Hall For Rent", "Suits Pressed 50 cents", "British Mail", "The Prohibition Shoe—Notice Their Tongues Hanging Out", and "Touch Butrons, Limited".

An Electric Washing Machine knows no blue Mondays. It labors without a vacation; it needs no rest; it always is willing, ready when needed, and does its duty well.

TRADE MARK

A Fordson Tractor on the farm means more prosperity for the farmer. It doesn't make any difference how you spell that prosperity—whether it is in increased production; whether it is in the saving that comes from a machine over a horse or a mule; whether it comes in a release from the drudgery and all-day and all-night labor on the farm for both man and wife—because the Fordson answers all those problems to the satisfaction of the farmer.

It can't be otherwise. These are the days of progress, and power on the farm is the necessity. It is only a question of what kind of power the farmer is going to have, but no farmer with the facts now before him can question the monetary advantage of machine power over horse and mule-power. The Tractor is the farmer's necessity just as much as the sun is the necessity for growing crops.

All that is necessary for a farmer is to know his Fordson Tractor as familiarly as he understands handling a team of horses. He wants to use the same amount of reason and common sense. In the Fordson Tractor is the concentrated power of eighteen horses, and as flexible as the movement of your arm—much more flexible than horse control—and beyond all comparison much more economical both in service and in keep. Then it will do so many things that horses and mules cannot do, and it doesn't eat when idle.

We don't believe there is any question in the mind of any farmer as to the necessity for a Tractor, but he may have some doubts as to what make of Tractor, so that is the reason we are putting this advertisement in this paper to draw his attention to the Fordson Tractor. This is why we put the above arguments before him, and why we now invite him to come in to our place of business and view the Fordson Tractor. Let us show him what it has done. Let us prove to him its superiority over any other Tractor. It means more to him than it does to us.
