Special to the Globe.
New York, March 19.—Mr. Tilden, for an old man dead and buried a long time since, according to the Republican press and Mugwumps, is pretty well, thank you. What with the appointment of Secretaries Manning and Whitney, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild, Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller and now of Malcolm Hay as first assistant postmaster general, the Sage of Greystone can rest secure in the belief that his friends of 1876 and 1880 will not be neglected in the Democratic deal just begun. In all these appointments Congressmen Samuel J. Randall has appeared as a prominent figure, but Tilden workers, the country over, who were behind the scenes at Chicago,

PULLING THE WIRES
for Mr. Cleveland's nomination, are behind the scenes at Washington pursuing the same congenial avocation. The treasury and post-office departments dispense three-fourths of all the federal patronage. Of 100,000 federal officials upward of 55,000 are postmasters and all but 2,500 are in the appointment of the first assistant postmaster general. The Pittsburgh lawyer who is to fill that place, Malcolm Hay, was one of Mr. Tilden's visiting statesmen in Florida in 1876. He was engaged as assistant counsel in the cases as made up before the electoral commission, and he was in Cincinnati in 1880 as an advocate of

MR. TILDEN'S RENOMINATION.
These are pointers sufficient for any but the blindest bat of a politician at a country cross-roads, where the sign-boards are otherwise upside down than otherwise. Charles S. Fairchild, the new assistant treasurer, is another of Mr. Tilden's favorites. He was a bright young lawyer when Gov. Tilden first fell in with him and became attracted by his evident ability. At the governor's request he was made assistant attorney general, in which position he made

A FAVORABLE REPUTATION.
He is devoted to Mr. Tilden and was one of Mr. Manning's best workers.

S. R. Robertson, brother of Congressman Robertson of Kentucky, says that Judge Milton R. Durham's career in congress, extending over eight years, was characterized by a strict economy record, second only to such men as Mr. Randall and Objection Holman. He was succeeded by Phil Thompson some four years ago, and there has been an antagonism between them since even an earlier date. They were candidates for the Democratic nomination last fall when the judge's candidacy won the nomination to Joseph B. McCrory, who is the present congressman. Durham's selection is considered here as for Thompson, as there is not likely to be two ex-congressmen from the same district chosen for important places and another victory of the Randall interests. A prominent St. Louis whisky man said to-night that the fight by Randall on Thompson has grown wholly out of the whisky question. The whisky interest is alarmed at the prospect of Randall's dominating the administration with his view as to the abolition of the internal revenue, and the free traders are in a rage at the same thought, since such a course would insure the retention of the present protective tariff policy.

A BAD BLACK EYE

THE ARMY RING

To be Cleaned out of Washington—High Rank Vacancies.

Special to the Globe.
WASHINGTON, March 19.—There is to be a great shaking up of army officers on duty about Washington. On Monday the new secretary of war, Judge Endicott, sent for the adjutant general of the army, and requested a complete list of all army officers on duty in Washington, with information as to what duty each is performing, whether such duty is authorized or directed by law, and the exact time each has been on duty here. It is the opinion of the few who already know of the matter, that the new secretary intends to issue orders some day soon

RELIEVING EVERY OFFICER
on duty here, staff or line, who has been here three years. The customary tour of detail is perhaps five years at the furthest. He seems to think that others may be entitled to a little experience of Washington official life as well as the small ring that has run the war department for so many years as a close corporation. Of course this cannot affect the chiefs of staff, corps and departments, as their duties are fixed by law at the seat of government, but there are many others who have been here so long that they have built and seemingly settled down to stay. The present administration will be a very important one for the army, owing to the number of high rank vacancies which will occur within the next four years and which President Cleveland will have to fill. Brig. Gen. Angur, who is now in command of the department of the Missouri, will be retired in July, 1885, and in July, 1886, he will be followed by Maj. Gen. Pope and then John Newton, chief of the engineers, and in August by Surgeon General Murray. Two vacancies will occur in the list of brigadier generals. When Gen. Pope is retired Gen. Terry or Gen. Howard will succeed him as major general, and in February, 1888,

GRAND HOMES,

GEN. HANCOCK
will be retired, thus promoting another brigadier to be major general, and making a second vacancy in the brigadier list. Gen. Terry is entitled to the first major general vacancy by Gen. Hancock's retirement. But Gen. Hancock's successor will become the head of the army on the retirement of Gen. Sheridan ten years from now. Gen. Nelson A. Miles will stand the best chance of getting it. He married a niece of Gen. Sherman.

Yankee Democrats Indorse Cleveland.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 19.—The Democratic state convention to-day declared that "public office is a public trust," and approved the other sentiments in the letters and inauguration speech of President Cleveland, and then nominated the following ticket: Governor, Selma O. Stocum; lieutenant governor, Jonathan M. Wheeler; secretary of state, Thomas R. Remondet; general treasurer, John G. Perry; attorney general, Frank H. Johnson.

Hayard's Legal Adviser.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Whitlaw Reid has gone to Washington to visit Mr. Blaine and catch the pace of the administration. A good deal of newspaper work is being done in aid of advocacy of the retention of Civil Service Commissioner Thomas. It appears in such papers as the Commercial-Advertiser, which is ex-President Arthur's personal organ, the Evening Post and the Times, Mugwump organs.

How the President Handles His Mail—Kush for Postoffices—Labor Interests—General Capital News.

Special to the Globe.
WASHINGTON, March 19.—The senate had adjourned when the president's private secretary reached the capital to-day with one or more nominations. Now all is speculation to know what names are on the list. The accepted report is that there was but one name and that of an appointee to be assistant secretary of state. A few of the office applicants criticised the senate for its early adjournment, whereupon it was remarked that an administration which began its work at 8 o'clock in the morning ought to be able to get the nominations to the capital before 1 o'clock.
Malcolm Hay, the newly appointed postmaster general, was at the postoffice yesterday to-day. He looks to be in quite feeble health. Ex-Postmaster General Hutton says he will break down in a few months. "Why?" was asked. "Because he is

A SICK MAN.
The smell of the porous plaster is on him. I know the great work of the office, for I have been through with it." In the face of the appointments made by the president yesterday, it is idle to speculate on lucky candidates. The office-seekers who stay away from this city seem to have the call. It may be tomorrow the president will have another surprise for those men here seeking to get the general office and Indian commissioner.

SENATOR GRAY
is a man of impressive appearance. He is tall, perhaps nearly six feet, and finely proportioned. His hair and mustache are black, and on the crown of his head there is a bald spot. He was dressed in black, his coat being a dark closely buttoned. Senator Wilson of Maryland was also sworn in. He is about five feet eight inches tall, looks to be 60 years of age, and has a scant head of hair, which is as white as snow. His face, which is very pale, is smooth shaven. A prominent Democrat who is in close relations with President Cleveland is authority for the statement that it is to make no changes in any of the thousands of four-year-term offices except for cause. When terms of present incumbents expire their offices will be filled by picked Democrats.

THE PRESIDENT'S INTENTION

The principal "cause" for a change will be proof of an officer having used his position for political purposes, particularly in the recent presidential election. In this connection it is stated that there is no use making an application for appointment to one of these offices unless it can be clearly shown that incumbent should be removed "for cause."

The mails received by President Cleveland are about the same size as those received by President Garfield, but comparatively few of the letters.

EVER REACH THE PRESIDENT.
A big bundle of letters is placed on the president's desk several times during the day. He skims them over rapidly, selecting those he wants to consider himself, and turns the bulk of them over to his secretary for examination, reference and reply.

What Becomes of Applications.
Special to the Globe.
WASHINGTON, March 19.—In speaking of the nominations made yesterday Col. Lamont said: "If you would examine Cleveland's record at Albany, you would find that he was in the habit of selecting non-applicants for office. A great many applications are received at the department from people who want clerkships. These are referred to the civil service commission."

It is stated at the White house that the rush of visitors to the president since the 4th of March, though large, does not compare with the crowds that besieged President Garfield daily after his inauguration.

THE RUSH FOR POSTOFFICES.
Special to the Globe.
WASHINGTON, March 19.—It is estimated that applications for about 5,000 postoffices have been received at the postoffice department. As there are 50,000 postoffices in the United States the rush of application has just begun.

To-day it is estimated that about 10,000 applications were received, and it is expected that the rush will continue until late in the summer.

Foreign Notes.
It is stated that Bismarck has offered to mediate between England and Russia in the dispute between the two empires over the syndicate of Hamburg merchants have acquired a big tract of land in Lagos, a West African British colony.

The wife of James Stephens, a Fenian expelled from France, is destitute and dying in Belgium.

Arbman, Kahn and Bowers, the escaped convicts from the Lonia, Mich., prison, who are in Canada, are to be extradited.

The chamber of commerce of Limerick will make an address to the Prince and Princess of Wales on their special visit to that city, which is to be made an imposing and memorable event.

All is quiet at Panama. The rebel leader, Preston, has given foreigners twenty-four hours in which to leave Colon.

One man is reported saved from the coal mine explosion in Germany and 137 bodies have been recovered.

Ten men-of-war will be ready for service at the Davenport dock-yard in England in a fortnight.

A protocol preceding the Egyptian agreement stipulates that after three years, if the British army is not then withdrawn, the European conference will limit their occupation.

The British regular army numbers 184,400 men and the volunteer force 200,000.

Nicaragua and San Salvador troops are marching on the frontier of Honduras, and that republic is stated to be in a state of insurrection.

Northcott will retire from the Conservative leadership of the house of commons at the close of the present session, and will be succeeded by Hicks Beach.

Northcott has been correspondent to the London Post states that a council of war was held there this week and that the general officers and chiefs of staff urged immediate advance upon Herat.

Telegraph Operators Strike for Their Pay
BOSTON, March 19.—The entire night force of the Bankers & Merchants' Telegraph company stopped work to-night. It is understood the strike is general throughout the whole line of the company owing to heavy arrears of pay. The receiver offers to pay 70 per cent of dues if accepted in full of settlement. Full payment is asked. A strike in New York follows.

Secretary Whitney Moving Cautiously.
WASHINGTON, March 19.—Secretary Whitney has decided to take action upon the report advising the board and recommending the acceptance of the new dispatch boat Delphin until he has an opportunity to examine the contract and all details of the vessel's construction. The secretary also ordered DULUTH, March 19.—The Marquis de Mores was here to-day and was interviewed on his plans for transporting beef to New York by way of the lakes and Buffalo instead of by an all rail route via Chicago. It is said the Northern Pacific Refrigerator Car company is now endeavoring to make arrangements with one or more transportation companies, which doubtless will be successful. The proposed route in his opinion will be much superior to the one formerly used in the item of cheapness as well as preserving the meats in a much better condition. The present route from Duluth, Mont., by way of Chicago to New York takes a five days' trip from Duluth to Chicago, at a rate for transportation of $1 per hundred, and from Chicago to New York, a trip of six days, the rate is 92 cents per hundred, making in all eleven days meat would have to be on the road, at a cost of $1.92 for transportation. By way of the lakes, from Duluth by rail to Buffalo four days, and from Buffalo by boat to New York in seven days, against eleven days by an all rail route. By this way meat will be carried for about 70 cents per hundred, and at a rate for transportation of $1.22 in its favor, because the meat will arrive at Buffalo in a much better condition than if taken by rail, and a run of twelve hours will not tend to deteriorate it to any great extent.

Manitoba.
S. M. Lockerby of Minn., Dak., is spending a few days at his home, shaking hands with his many friends. A delegation of members of the L. O. O. F. lodge of this city went to Mankato last evening to institute a lodge at that place. The Edward Barbour Dramatic company are billed for next week at the opera house, commencing Monday evening. "The play of the evening" will be "Black Diamond." The remains of Vincent Kulla, who was accidentally shot at Minnesota Lake last week, and subsequently died from the effects were brought to the city yesterday morning.

He formerly lived in Mankato. Hon. T. M. Pugh is in Mankato after the adjournment of the Dakota legislature, of which he is a member. It is probable that another match will be made between the Mankato and Sleepy Eye clubs, each having won one game from the other.

DEATH OF AN OLD SETTLER.
Maj. R. H. Rose died at his residence Wednesday evening about 7 o'clock. He had caught a severe cold on last Friday which confined him to the house for two days, but on Monday he ventured out but was taken much worse with inflammation of the bowels and he continually sank until his death two days later. Maj. Rose was born in Pennsylvania in 1832, and was consequently at the time of his death 53 years old. He had lived in Minnesota for many years, being one of the proprietors of Belle Plaine. At the opening of the civil war he enlisted and went into the First Minnesota cavalry and in 1862 he was promoted to major in the Second Minnesota cavalry, serving until mustered out in 1865. In 1873 he moved to Mankato, which he has since made his home. He has been one of the foremost of our citizens in every enterprise by which the prosperity of Mankato could be benefited, and was liked by all his numerous acquaintances in the country. In politics, though no office-seeker, he was a warm supporter of the Republican party and had done much for the advancement of that party in this part of the state. He leaves a devoted wife and three children, two sons and one daughter to mourn his sudden loss.

A POLO MATCH.
The polo game Wednesday evening at the City Skating pavilion between the Mankato and Sleepy Eye teams, although hotly contested, resulted in favor of the Mankato boys 4 to 1. The Sleepy Eye club has a good reputation for effective playing, and their decisive defeat speaks well for the Pavilions. The following are the list of the players and their positions:

RATES FOR THE SUMMER.

The Northern Pacific Summer Schedule of Trains to be Inaugurated April 5.

An Order to the Receiver to Issue First Mortgage Certificates on West Shore Stock.

The St. Paul & Duluth Company Fixing Up Through Summer Rates by Lake.

No Cut from the Special Rates to be Given to the Grand Army Encampment.

As was stated in the GLOBE some time since, a scheme is on foot to build a line of railroad from a point on the Canadian Pacific line, possibly Winnipeg, to the Turtle mountain region on the North Dakota line. The line will likely be built in lieu of the land grant of 6,400 acres per mile of the Canadian Pacific, which is controlled by the Canadian Pacific. The indications are that if the scheme now being worked at Ottawa, will have the government guarantee 3 per cent. on another issue of bonds in the sum of $35,000,000, be successful. The Canadian Pacific will build the branch line. The building of this line would have the effect of heading off the projected line from Brandon through the Turtle mountain country to connect with the proposed extension of the Manitoba road from Devil's Lake.

BY RAIL AND WATER.
Summer Passenger Rates Via the St. Paul & Duluth and Lake Superior Transit Company.

The St. Paul & Duluth road is preparing its summer passenger rates via the lake route to Eastern points. The route given by this road the past few years has cut quite a hole in the revenue of other roads, both east and west of Chicago, on the summer tourist business, and the route has already been used for passengers to seaboard points bound to Europe on steamer tickets. Last summer it gained quite a reputation, as the lines out of St. Paul were cutting rates to Chicago and making Eastern rates as low as $13 and $9 to St. Paul to European ports and when rates were quoted by a certain firm at $25 it could not be realized how, or in what way they were sent to the seaboard. But it happened that it was via the St. Paul & Duluth road to Duluth and by steamer to Buffalo.

The rates by steamers to Boston and New York were as low as $13 and $9 to Cleveland and Buffalo last year; and the poorer class of travelers whose money was of more object to them than their time, boycotted the railroads and rode by water. It is likely that the railroads Eastern rates will be cut to meet the competition to some extent, whereby rates will be based on mileage distance, allowing a fair differential for this route. The tourist business promises to be larger this year than it has ever been before, and though the St. Paul & Duluth people have not heard from all the Eastern railroads, it is probable that it is most likely that the following will not be very wide of the mark. From St. Paul to Buffalo and return.....$35.85
New York and return.....70.85
Boston and return.....76.15
Detroit and return.....48.50
Cleveland and return.....4
