In Despair He Commits Suicide -- The Body Found.

Special to the Globe. MOUNT VERNON, Ky., June 30 .- Yes-C. Myers, a citizen of this county, living about two miles north of here, was attracted to the woods on the back part of his farm by seeing a large number of buztards alighting in that locality. He sent his little son out to see what was wrong, supposing some of his stock were dead and there only remained of the trunk a sickening black pile of bones and decayed flesh, which was a moving mass of worms and bugs. Some twelve or fourteen feet from covered with black cloth. When cut down it was seen that the hair, beard, and flesh had all fallen off. The black covering, which was the skin, was easily slipped off and LEFT THE BONES BARE.

It proved to be the remains of Joseph Ramsey who disappeared from his hou about two miles from that place two weeks ago. The circumstances and the testimony produced before the jury were such as to convince them that Ramsey had taken his own life and they returned their verdict accordingly. On Friday night, the 11th of this month, Ramsey and his wife were taken out of their house by a body of masked men and given a terrible beating. The vigilantes also ordered them to leave the country within the next ten days. Ramsev next morning began trying to sell his property, of which he had but little, but in this he was not successful. He remained away Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night and returned home on Mon-day. Just before dark Monday he kneeled

PRAYED FOR SOME TIME. When he arose he started out of the house. His little children began crying and asked him where he was going. He made no reply but walked away, not again being seen or heard of till he was found yesterday. He was a man about fifty years of age and leaves a wife and a large family of children. On the 19th of this month Amanda Bayrson, wife of the decreased arma has Ramsey, wife of the deceased, came be-fore the county judge and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Thomas Hayes, charging him and unknown parties with whipping her and her husband. Hayes was arrested and had his preliminary trial on the 21st, when he was held over under bond in the sum of $300 to answer before the next term of the circuit court He executed the bond and was released. On the same day the writ was issued for Hayes, writs were also sworn out for three other parties, charging them with whipping other parties living in the Ramsey neighborhood. These writs have been executed and the parties will have their examining trials today. Several other parties have been whipped in the same neighborhood and other writs are likely to be issued and others arrested. Excitement is getting pretty high. The action of the whippers is condemned on all sides. No effort will be spared to bring the guilty parties to a trial, and should they be caught and proved guilty they will get the full benefit of the leverest penalty of the law which is a term in the state penitentiary.

LOST AT GAMING. In Unfaithful Employe "Bucks the Tiger" Disastrously.

Jpecial to the Globe. CHICAGO, June 30 .- More than usual interest was attracted to-day in Judge Collins' court by the continuation of the trial of the Grand Steamboat Excursion mit of Ellis & Putnam to recover $3,500 ost by Albert G. Bradstreet, an employe, in George Hankins' gambling house on two pecasions, in 1881-82. The money was stolen by Bradstreet, who had the effrontery to go on the witness stand yesterday and admit it, as also further peculations. He testified that he stole in all $4,950 from his employers, of which amount he lost $3,500 in Hankins' place. The remainder, $1,450, he lost in other gambling houses and spent on men and women in bagnios. Bradstreet Y. Scammon's Marine bank, and Mr. Trude attempted to show by his own testimony that he left with a shortage there and also that he stole $2,200 from the South Boston Gas company years ago, but the court ruled that other witnesses must be produced to swear to these facts. Bradstreet testified that he kept a memorandum of his larcenies from Ellis & Putnam and also his expenditures in gambling houses and bagnios, but he "lost" the book while at Las Vegas hot springs. George Hankins and half a dozen others testified that Bradand half a dozen others testified that Bradstreet lost only $240 in the former's house. sum Mike McDonald swore himself he paid to Bradstreet when the latter made a row. The jury will return a verdict tomorrow.

One of the most desirable low price Sack Suits at THE BOSTON, is an All Wool Black Cheviot. It has sold well lerday afternoon the attention of Mr. J. P. all season, and no wonder. It's made in the very best manner, cut stylishly and fits perfectly, looks well on all occasions, being perfectly correct for either business or dress purposes. In fact, the Suit is fully warranted. The price being so low might lead you to think the Suit is not and had attracted the vultures. The boy on reaching the spot was terribly frightened at finding the dead carcass to be that of a man. He ran home and told his blat is really worth. Ten dollars is the price of the Suit. father what he had found, who immediately dispatched the news to town. County Is it any wonder such a Suit at such a price sells well? Judge Lair summoned a jury and set out to view the remains. On arriving they found It's one of those exceptional bargains that should be seen the decomposed body of a man lying at the foot of a small black oak sapling.
