NEW YORK, July 8.—An exposure was made here to-day by the emigration commissioners which will create some excitement among the thousands of foreigners who have made homes in Minnesota and the Northwest. Commissioner Stephenson made a savage attack upon the American Emigrant comtack upon the American Emigrant company, a sort of private savings inst tution at No. 30 State street. He said that he had been making an investigation of the company and was convinced that it was a very bad thing. His attention had been called to it by two men who said that they had dealt with the company and positively declared it to be a fraud. One of them said that he had several thousand dollars on deposit with the company, and when he called for it he could only obtain part of it in cash, the rest being given cash, the rest being given

IN MISSOURI BONDS.

The advertisement of the company printed in the Western papers was read. It said:

The American Emigrant company solicit.

The American Emigrant company solicit deposits of money at interest, and the transaction of business generally of Finlanders and others.

Then Mr. Stephenson went on: This company had on deposit last January $300,000 of immigrants' money. I think it is one of the keenest, shrewdest and smartest pieces of swindling saving bank concerns ever gotten up.

The commissioner also hauled another similar concern over the coals. It is similar concern over the coals. It is kept by O. R. Sjostrom, at No. 27 State street. When the investigators called on Mr. Sjostrom he told them the nature of his business and how he accumulated a profit. He gave 6 per cent. interest on deposits and said he made it up from commissions on tickets, buying and making improvements. Commissioner Stephenson asked him what security he gave, and with an air of offended dig-nity he said, "I am

nity he said, "I am

A CHILD OF GOD.

I do nothing wrong. When I die I expect to go to heaven." This the commissioners considered but lame evidence. Mr. Stephenson went on:
"Now this business has been carried on in Castle Garden for the past twenty years and no officers know anything about it. This is what I object to that the place over which we have control is made use of for this swindling business, for of course we cannot control an emigrant's affairs or what he does with his money after he leaves the garden. The reason I want to bring this matter before the board is this, I want the business of these people stopped. If any one went before the district attorney he could have these parties all indicted for fraud and obtaining money under false pretenses."

The commissioners empowered Stephenson to bring the business of the commany to the attention of the city author-

Their fielding, however, was very good, si out of St. Paul's ten runs being earne St. Paul went to bat at 3:25, as it looke as though rain would soon put a stop t the game. Murphy was presented wit a base, and he added another to it by pretty steal, Wilmot bringing him hom on a line hit to right center, the latte taking second on Foster's failure to stop the ball. Wilmot stole third, Cleveland struck out, McCauley got a base on balls and stole second, and Dillon's hit to left brought them both home. Two runs were added in the third on Cleveland's single to right, McCauley's base on balls and Dillon's double to right; two more in the fifth on Wilmot's and Cleveland's triples and Pickett's single, and three more in the sixth on Sowders' triple, Viau's single, Hawes' drop of Murphy's hot liner and Patton's fumble. Minneapolis crossed the plate in the third inning on Shaw's base on balls, a couple of steals and McKeever's fine double-bag drive to left; twice more in the fourth on Foster's triple to center, Murphy's base on balls and Stevens' and Shaw's outs, and again in the eighth on fielder's choice, a passed ball and an out. BUNCHED THEIR HITS. Chicago Wins a Close Battle From Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, July 8.—Chicago de feated Philadelphia to-day by a fortunate bunching of hits in the eighth in ning. The game was slow and tedious notwithstanding the closeness of the score. The fielding of Pfeffer was exceptionally fine, and with Burns' bat-ting was the feature of the game. Pfeffer's base on balls and Burns' triple gave Chicago a run in the second. Burns' single, a passed ball and Irwin's tumble gave another in the seventh. After two men were out in the eighth, Anson was sent to first on balls, Pfeffer made a single and Williams on a home run. The Philadelphias scored in the sixth on Andrews' base on balls and a wild throw by Williamson. Three successive singles and a fumble by Williamson gave two in the seventh. Score:

BOSTON BEATEN.

Costly Errors Give Pittsburg a Victory.

Boston, July 8.—Galvin's pitching, aided by the ragged work of the infield and battery of the home club at critical junctures, won the game to-day. The brilliant battery work of the Pittsburgs has not been excelled here this season. They also fielded in great form. The Bostons excelled at the bat but failed to bunch their hits. They succeeded in bunching errors, however, a base on balls, a wild throw by Wise, and a wild pitch in the sixth inning netting the visitors three runs, none of which were earned, and virtually losing the game. Kelly and Nash made terrific drives and Brown also did strong work with the bat. Calliope Miller's coaching was a feature of the contest and helped win They also fielded in great form. The

HAD AN OFF DAY.

The Senators Badly Beaten by Indianapolis.

Washington, July 8.—A poorer exhibition of base ball than that given by the Washingtons to-day in the game with the Indianapolis club has not been seen here this season. Not more than 1,000 people were present, and they 1,000 people were present, and they showed their indignation at the miserable playing of the home team by hissing them repeatedly. Indianapolis outplayed them at all points, and for once this season enjoyed the fun of running around the bases at the expense of the home club. Shomberg's batting and the conspicuous bad play on the part of Hines, Gilligan and Donnelly were the features. Score:

Burns, Tucker, Fulmer, Griffin end Sommer, however, then fol-lowed with clean hits in the order lowed with clean hits in the order named and knocked out four runs, gaining the day for the Baltimores after one of the most exciting and stubbornly-contested games on record. Both Caruthers and Kilroy were at their best, the former up to the last inning doing great work. The support on both sides was excellent. The home men especially distinguished themselves by their brilliant work. Baltimore was tendered a hearty reception. Greenwood being hant work. Batthing was tendered a hearty received. Burns was roundly hissed and cheered in turn. Fully 5,000 people were present. Ferguson's decisions on close plays and balls and strikes were generally in favor of the visitors. Score:

It is believed that the murder was committed at this spot and the body was placed on a gate, floated down the river to the boiling springs and there sunk, the gate being allowed to drift. The gate has been found. Bryansan, who was arrested as an accessory, was discharged to-day. The prisoner's mother has gone crazy. The murdered girl's brother was buried the day before she was killed.

SWINDLED UNCLE SAM. A Government Employe Detected in Heavy Frauds.

Washington, July 8.—Something of a sensation was created in the treasury department this afternoon by the dis covery that a trusted official in the department had been guilty of a systematic attempt to defraud the government. atic attempt to defraud the government. The official was arrested at Wilkesbarre yesterday afternoon as he was about to take the train for Washington, and his dismissal from the service was ordered by Secretary Fairchild this afternoon. His name is Oscar J. Harvey, and he has been employed in the department since June, 1885, when he was appointed chief of the horse claims division of the third auditor's office. It was while he held this position that he was while he held this position that he PERPETRATED THE FRAUDS.
with which he is now charged. On the 2d of June last he was transferred to the head of a division in the second comptroller's office, a division which has charge of claims of the same nature as those in the division which he had just left. Austin H. Brown, of Indianapolis, succeeded Harvey as chief of the horse claims division, and soon after he took charge of the office he discovered the frauds of which his predecessor had been guilty. They consisted of the passage of forty-three fraudulent claims for horses aggregating $9,200, and the preparation of many additional cases of a similar nature which found consideration in the office. Soon after Mr. Brown a similar nature which found consideration in the office. Soon after Mr. Brown took charge he discovered something wrong, and reported the matter to thel secretary and the frauds have been run down. In most cases the claims are for horses lost during the late war, and are presented in the names of officers of Pennsylvania and New Jersey regiments. All of the cases appeared to have been presented by W. W. Wynn first of Philadelphia and then of Washington, and the services of J. C. Manford, notary public, of Philadelphia, were called in requisition in connection with the necessary affidavits. The work involved a very large number of forgeries, volved a very large number of forgeries, official and otherwise, and the stealing

NUMEROUS INCRIMINATING PAPERS from the files of the department. For instance, in thirteen claims it was found that signatures involving the names of thirty-eight officers were forgeries. Subsequently it was found that the second auditor's name had been forged in the certificates received from that office. The claims which had been allowed were then overhauled, and in almost every instance it was found that the sec-ond auditor's certificate as to signa-tures had been abstracted together ond auditor's certificate as to signatures had been abstracted together with other papers. The stamp of the mail room, third auditor's office, and the stamp of the horse claims division had been forged and the dates arranged so as to bring them within the limitation fixed for the filing of these claims. The stamp of the quartermaster general's office was also forged. The drafts were regularly issued, and an examination of such as have been returned as paid shows that Harvey and Wynn are one and the same person, and that, although the drafts were drawn in favor of the claimants, the money, with one or two exceptions, went directly to Harvey or to some of his relatives. He had secured their payment by forging the signature of the payee, and then indorsing the draft with his own name. Motfort, the Philadelphia notary, like Wynn, the attorney, was FOUND TO BE A MYTH.

Most of the notaries and persons named in the claims are unknown to the department. In addition to the forty-three cases passed there have been 150 similar cases adjusted, aggregating $30,000, and there are still pending and $30,000, and there are still pending and unadjusted sixty cases, amounting to $13,600, making a total of 161 fraudulent cases which might have eventually been paid but for the discovery. Havvey left Washington about the 1st inst. on a short vacation, and as already stated was arrested as he was about to return. He was brought to this city by officers of the secret service who have kept him under surveillance since he was first suspected. He asked to see the secretary and when he was informed of the evidence against him he broke down completely and made full confession of evidence against him he broke down completely and made full confession of his guilt. He declaredd that he had been goaded to his action by a man with whom he had been in partnership and who urged him to make the most of his opportunities. He asserted that he had no accomplices. Harvey was held in $12,000 bail for the grand jury this afternoon.

A Fatal Land Fight. TOPEKA, Kan., July 8 .- Some time ago a dispute arose between Weaver J. Carmen, a resident of Harper county, Carmen, a resident of Harper county, and two neighbors named Woodruff. The latter contested Carmen's claim to land near Meade Center on the ground that he had broken a fractional part of an acre less than the law required to make his title clear. The courts sustained Carmen and he returned to his farm and continued the care of his crops. Yesterday the Woodruffs' tried to drive him from his corn patch and he refused to go. Old man Woodruff thereupon took aim at him with a shot gun, but before he pulled the trigger Carmen knocked the muzzle up, the charge tearing away part of his scalp. In the fight that ensued, Carmen worsted the old man and the young Woodruff came to the rescue, firing two loads of slugs into Carmen's body from a double-barrelied shot gun, inflicting wounds from which Carmen died. The assailants were arrested.

GEORGIA CONVICTS.

The Horrible Manner in Which They Are Treated. ATLANTA, July 8.—The convict question in Georgia is again to the fore, and sensational developments are to be expected at any moment. It is now the general opinion that the lease system will be abolished, and the convicts put to work on the public roads. The abuses of the work on the public roads. to work on the public roads. The abuses of the system have justified the Rev. Dr. Felton's sweeping denunciation. Some of the convicts have been inhumanly treated. One man who lost his shoes was made to walk barefoot over hot bricks, and was afterwards beaten with a leather trace strap because he complained of the keeper's cruelty. In one instance the convicts were so badly frozen that some of them died, and others lost the use of their limbs. In one case a convit's feet were frozen so badly lost he use of their limbs. In one case a convit's feet were frozen so badly that the toes dropped off. Badly cooked rations, spoiled meat, unclean and horribly ventilated quarters, made the death rate appallingly high. Epidemics were of course by no means uncommon. Complaint was followed by additional cruel treatment. Men and women were sometimes chained together. Whites and blacks alike were made to work from daylight to dark. Fevers and pestilence were not uncommon. These facts are gleaned from the reports made by the physicians and from statements made by discharged convicts. The truth will out, it is said, but in this matter it has been a long time coming to light. In the meantime the duel between ex-Gov. Smith and Dr. Westmoreland is likely to come off at any time, and when it does they will be expected to fight to death, as both are men of great determination.

THE PINKERTON MEN.

Their Presence in the Coke Region Exciting Hostility. Uniontown, Pa., July 8.—Although quiet and peace reigns at West Leisenring this morning, there is a fear prevailing that trouble will occur. The excitement of last night occasioned by the report that four men had been the report that four men had been killed and others wounded has subsided, but a most bitter feeling, growing with every day, is held by the strikers against the officers on duty and the operators at large. Some cokers who arrived this morning assert that the moment a shot is fired by the Pinkerton men the whole region will raise up in arms, and to this end a thorough course of drilling is being introduced among the Hungarians. About 1,000 of them are encamped on being introduced among the Hungarians. About 1,000 of them are encamped on the hillside overlooking the works. They are all armed with revolvers, knives and guns and are drilling in the use of their weapons. The "Huns" at the neighboring works have become more bolsterous during the past twelve hours, but those in the immediate vicinity of the Pinkerton barraeks are displaying a milder disposition. Pinkerton men will show no mercy if the threatened outbreak comes.

Maxwell Must Hang. St. Louis, July 8 .- P. W. Fauntleroy. one of the attorneys of Hugh M. Brooks, alias Maxwell, now under sentence to be hanged Aug. 26 for killing C. Arthur Preller stated to day that he would make no further effort to save his client. He said he had concluded not to attempt to carry the case to the United States to carry the case to the United States supreme court, because he did not think he could convince the judges of that court that there was a constitutional point involved. He would not apply to point involved. He would not apply to the governor because he believed that in a case involving the notoriety and prejudice of this one, the governor would not interfere. He now saw noth-ing that could be done effectively, and must let Brooks be hanged in accord-ance with the law.

A Detective Arrested. CHICAGO, July 8.—This evening's papers contained long accounts of how a detective named Henry Miller had a detective named Henry Miller had been arrested for continuously shadowing John B. Carson, the general superintendent of the Chicago & Western Indiana railroad, presumably in the hope of discovering some boodle transactions connected with the railroad franchises given away by the city council. Investigation showed the story to be incorrect in its chief feature. Miller was arrested as stated, but the person was arrested as stated, but the person shadowed, instead of being the railway magnate, was his son, James D. Young. Mr. Carson is authority for the statement that the shadowing has nothing whatever to do with franchise matters.

COLUMBIA, S.C., July 8 .- In Horry county Wednesday night, Mrs. Sarah Strickland, wife of Bradley Strickland, a farmer, and her sister, Miss Lucinda Sibbett, were shot by some unknown person. They were hit with buckshot by some one concealed in the bushes on the opposite side of the road from the house. Mrs. Strickland died in five hours; Miss Sibbett was alive at last accounts by the second to the seco counts, but was expected to die. Suspicion rests upon the husband and a woman of bad repute, with whom he had been intimate for some time.

The Chicago Boodlers.

CHICAGO, July 8 .- At the opening of the "boodle" trial this morning, Judge Jamieson gave his decision in the mat-ter of Jurors Tate, Ostrander and Parks, who it is charged were friends of ex-Warden Varnell, and were so preju-diced in in his favor that they could not render a fair and impartial verdict. The court decided that the evidence given yesterday by the state was sufficient to warrant him in excusing the three men.

Attempted Murders.

BELVIDERE, N. J., July 8.—The firing a few days ago of a pistol ball through the store window of Cannon & Perry, the store window of Canhon & Perry, both of whom are prohibitionists, has been followed by a ball flying through Councilman McMurtrie's mill window, barely missing the head of Richard B. Shafer, a prospective prohibition candidate. The affair will be thoroughly investigated. Mr. Shafer is a prominent stump speaker.
