Fayette Marsh Files Charges With the Governor Against the Warden,

Charging a Conspiracy to Get Mr. Reed Into a Bad Odor.

Mr. Stordock and Mrs. McNeal Insist Upon a Full Investigation.

A new phase of the Mrs. Harriet Burher extradition case came to light yes-When Judge Wilson sat down Marsh for the relator, and W. D. Munn and E. M. Van Cleve for the states of Kansas, respectyesterday afternoon, informed his honor that he had applied to the governor for a revocation of his order issued for Har riet Burner's extradition, as he had filed certain charges against Warden Stordock, of Stillwater, with the prison inspectors, and desired to retain Harriet Burner as a witness. He also informed the court that a writ of babees, corns, and testifications. nabeas corpus ad testifi-andum nad been issued by Judge McClure, of Stillwater, for Harriet McCure, of Stillwater, for Harriet Burner to give testimony in the Reed investigation, which comes up for hear-ing before the prison commission at Stillwater Monday morning. The Still-water habeas writ would be returnable at 9 a. m., Monday. The papers were submitted to Judge Wilkin.

The application to the governor for the revocation of the extraditing order is based upon the grounds that certain charges have been made against Warden Stordock; that Harriet Burner did not flee as a fugitive from justice from the state of Kansas; that the requisition apers are false; that she did not lead guilty to the information Kansas, but was discharged om custody with the consent and demand of the courts of ansas; that she was arrested and conced in Kansas for the purpose of comped in Kansas for the purpose of comped in Kansas for the purpose of compeding the courts of the courts of the courts of the purpose of compeding the courts of the purpose of compeding the courts of the fined in Kansas for the purpose of com-pelling her to surrender two illegitimate children to to their putative father, who is a resident of St. Paul; that she is a ssary witness in the charges against Stordock, also in the Reed in-tion, and the petitioner believes that the attempt to remove her from this state to Kansas is merely a scheme to prevent her from giving her testimony; and, finally, that the cost of extraditing her is being defrayed by residents of Minnesota for the purpose of preventing her from giving this testimony.

CHARGES AGAINST STORDOCK.
The charges against Stordock, as filed ith the prison commission, are as follows, and they accompany the applica-tion to the governor:

To Hon. E. G. Butts, Hon. John F. Norrish and Hon. Liberty Hall. Board of Prison In-spectors of the State's Prison, at Stillwater, in.; I. Fayette Marsh, resident, citizen and free-lder of Washington county, Minnesota, do reby make the following charges against G. Stordock, warden of the state's prison Stillwater, Minn., and demand, under the tute in such cases made and provided, a e investigation thereof, and that the said urden, H. G. Stordock, be deposed from his id office by the governor of the state of innesota.

Third—That the said H. G. Stordock, while acting as said warden of said prison, caused to be printed and published by convicts, confined in said prison under sentence of hard labor, a certain newspaper known as the Prison Mirror. That the said H. G. Stordock, had during all of said time entire charge and control of the Prison Mirror, and that the same was published at the expense of the state of Minnesota, And that said H. G. Stordock, acting as said warden, and controlling the publication of said newspaper, did from time to time publish therein and circulate false, scandalous and libelous articles, statements and charges against said J. A. Reed, ex-warden of said state's prison.

Fourth—That the said H. G. Stordock, as warden of said prison, used his official position to prevent the said J. A. Reed, ex-warden of said prison, and his attorney, from obtaining from prisoners' evidence necessary to defend said J. A. Reed from the charges made against him by said H. G. Stordock, and by threats and intimidations prevented persons confined in said prison from testifying in the said proceedings and investigation of ex-Warden J. A. Reed.

Fifth—That said H. G. Stordock, as warden of said state's prison by false and fraudulent means.

Sixth—That said H. G. Stordock, as warden of said state's prison, has by his management of the affairs of said prison, has by his management of the affairs of said prison, has by his management of the affairs of said prison, in disobedience to the statute and laws in such cases made and provided, has released them from hard labor, and allowed them special and unusual privileges, dangerous to be conferred upon any convict. That by the action of said warden, the dicipline of said prison has been entirely destroyed, and some of the most dangerous convicts confined therein have been permitted to escape.

ON LEGAL POINTS.

ON LEGAL POINTS.

The afternoon, until long after 5 c'clock, was then taken up with arguments upon the status in law of the case, by Messrs. Marsh, Munn and Van Cleve. Mr. Munn endeavored to show that the papers in the case were without defect, and that the information of the district court of Shawnee county, Kan., charging Harriet Burner with the crime of attempted procuring, was based upon proper pro-Shawnee county, Kan., charging Harriet Burner with the crime of attempted procuring, was based upon proper proceedings. Mr. Van Cleve informed the court that there was no foundation for the implications that politics, or private motives, had anything to do with the case. Mr. Marsh made a strong closing argument. His points were that Harriet Burner stood charged with no crime, and she was not a fugitive from justice. She was charged with no crimes, because the records do not show that the preliminary proceedings were regular and legal, and he was prepared to prove that she did not plead guilty, and that the courts of Kansas consented to her release from custody. She did not flee from justice because, being bound over to appear and answer to the Hennepin indictment of 1885, she had simply left the state of Kansas to obey the command and behests of the courts of Minnesota, and that instead of being a fugitive from justice she had fled to justice, and had been loy al to the courts of this state. Mr. Marsh went to some length to show that the courts of Kansas do not claim that she was a fugitive from justice; it was only the affidavit of an obscure attorney named J. S. Usmunger, that says so. Anybody could make such a statement, he said, but the only court on earth that had jurisdiction to ascertain whether or not she was a fugitive from justice was the present one of Judge earth that had jurisdiction to ascertain whether or not she was a fugitive from justice was the present one of Judge Wilkin, in justice to the relator, and to save her from the damage such irresponsible statements as the Usmunger affidavit would cause to her by carrying her away from home to get back the best way she could. Mr. Walsh cited the celebrated extradition case of United States Senator Patterson, of South Car-olina, in which the United States court

offina, in which the United States court had held that he was not A FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE, but had been called to Washington on business. The judge postponed the case until 10 a. m. Monday until the Patterson case could be set before him in black and white.

Gov McGill has signified his desire to Patterson case could be set before initial black and white.

Gov. McGill has signified his desire to hear Fayette Marsh on his application for the revocation of the extradition order, so that should Judge Wilkin discharge the writ the case is still open until the governor has heard further testimony. Mr. Marsh will try to show to the governor the motives that prompt the attempt to remove Harriet Burner from the state and the circumstances of her relation as witness to the Reed-Stordock investigation. Should the governor decline to revoke his extraditing order, Harriet Burner will probably be taken to Stillwater, at any rate, on the habeas corpus ad testificandum of Judge McClure, to enable her to testify to the facts alleged in relation to the state prison conspiracy.

MORE INVESTIGATION WANTED.

More investigation conspiracy.

More investigation wanted.

In view of the developments of the case Warden Stordock, by his counsel, J. N. Searles, and the matron, Mrs. Sarah E. McNeal, have appealed to the governor, asking him to extend the scope of inquiry of the board of correction and charities so as to include the statements of Mr. Marsh that Stordock and Smith were interested in getting Mrs. Burner were interested in getting Mrs. Burner out of the state. He asks for a hearing at the Monday meeting of the board. He says that Reed's counsel has inti-out of the state. He asks for a hearing at the Monday meeting of the board. He says that Reed's counsel has intimated no desire yet to produce the testimony of Mrs. Burner and Mrs. Rapp. although ex-parte statements have been furnished to Reed. The best part of the communication is in the following:

I notice in this morning's issue of one of the leading papers of the state that one of the women who was to have been examined has been before one of the judges of the district court of Ramsey in requisition proceedings, alleged to have been instituted by the authorities of the state of Kansas, and that on that hearing ex-Warden Reed's counsel, Fayette Marsh, Esq., of Stillwater, interposed and objected to the woman, Mrs. Burner, being delivered to the authorities of the state of Kansas, on the ground that he desired to retain her presence here as a witness in the proceeding now pending against ex-Warden Reed before the board of corrections and charites. And he further stated, according to said publication, that he desired to prove and has witnesses to prove, in said requisition proceeding, that said proceedings to remove said Mrs. Burner from this state to the state of Kansas are not authorized by the public authorities of the state of Kansas, but are set on foot and prosecuted at the instigation of myself and some person by the name of Smith, for the purpose of preventing said Mrs. Burner being used as a witness on the part of ex-Warden Reed, on the investigation now being conducted by the board of corrections and charities.

This charge, thus publicly made and disseminated through the public sentiment that shall have a reflex influence in determining the result of the pending investigation.

I therefore request that you will authorize the board of corrections and charities of the state of Minnesota to extend the scope of their inquiry, so that they may fully and effectually inquire into and report upon the truth or falsity of the charge made by ex-Warden Reed, or his attorney, charging myself or the matron, Mrs.

for the gate receipts, which amounted to about £650, 75 per cent. of which goes to the winner. The fight was a big disappointment to the crowd, which had been preparing for the event for a month past, it being expected that Smith would be an equal go. He was absolutely unable to touch Conley, except to grab him by the legs when dodging from the Sullivan-like punishment he received. At the call of time for the first round Conley bounded at his man like a cat, and showered the blows about him so rapidly that he never recovered, and after being knocked into the ropes and tangled two or three times he took his corner, decidedly groggy. The second round was a repetition of the first, the fighting being forced by Conley, who drove his adversary all over the ring, knocking him down as fast as he could get up. The round ended, and wound up the contest, when Conley planted one on Smith's neck. He could not get up at the end of the ten seconds required. Smith's ability had been greatly overestimated by Ashlanders and especially by Conley, who believed he had a herculean task to perform. On this accumt he fought to win, and from the outset absolutely dazed Smith, who never even once reached his man with a blow.

Grant, a Nova Scotian, who is extensively engaged in Alaskan seal fisheries, from Victoria, B. C., came all the way to Halifax to purchase vessels to engage in that fishery. He says there are eighteen British Columbian vessels sealing in Alaskan waters, and that their catch aggregate $500,000 yearly. He denounces in violent language the action of the United States government in capturing Canadian vessels, and alleged brutal treatment of Canadian fishermen taken prisoners, which, he says, is nothing but retaliation for the Canadian strict enforcement of her treaty right in the Atlantic waters. But Capt. Grant says he will teach the Yankees a lesson if any attempt is made to capture the Houlette. He is arranging to obtain cannon and a complete ontiit of small arms and ammunition similar to that carried by the Houlette when engaged in the fishery protection service. Capt. At the conclusion of yesterday's shooting at the first twelve ranges, the department of Missouri team was in the lead with the Minnesota team second, twenty-one points behind the leaders. The Massachusetts team pre old and practiced marksmen in heav winds, and, as a consequence, pulled up into first place soon after reaching the 600 yard range. The Minnesota team held up so closely to the army team and that of the Massachusetts riflemen that it was feared by the crack riflemen of the country that they would be beaten in spite of their efforts to remain in the lead. Old army officers stated that the scores made by the Minnesota team were remarkable, when the fact of the small amount of practice the team had had was considered. The teams finished the match in the following order:

Massachusetts, 1,585; Department of Missouri, U. S. A., 1,556; First Regiment of Minnesota, 1,508; the "Haymakers," of Maryland, 1,470; the First Iowa, 1,442; the Department of the Atlantic, U. S. A., 1,439; First Michigan, 1,389.

> If not, we would like to see you do so, it will benefit you as well as us. The impression by some people that fine goods cannot be found, excepting on the old thoroughfare, is most assuredly wrong. The coming to us will put you under no obligation to buy and you certainly will not be urged to do so; all we want you to do is to look, compare goods and prices, and while with us we'll assure you we'll do all in our power to please you.

We have said it before, and we will say it again, that we have this season the grandest stock, the largest variety ever shown in this city before. Gentlemen, see our fur-trimmed OVERCOATS, they will please you and you will be compelled to acknowledge that no finer Fur-trimmed Overcoats for Dress purpose can be found anywhere in this city, in Kersey, Beaver, Melton, Chinchilla, Montana's and in fact every style of Overcoat that is manufactured can be found here. We would be pleased to show them. It certainly will cost you nothing to look at them and you will not be urged to buy any if you don't see it to your interest to do so.

Remember our Children's Department is on the ground floor and we would be much pleased if you would take the tronble to call and see what we are offering before you buy elsewhere. We have had an immense trade the past week and we are glad to say that amongst them were some of our very best ladies in the city. They were amazed at the goods, as well as on the prices and they cheerfully acknowledged that they did not expect to find such fine and reliable clothing at our store, because we are located on Seventh street, and they will favor us in the future with their patronage. Ladies as well as Gentlemen should call on us; we treat all alike, rich or poor are all the same to us. One price to everybody.
