PIERRE, S.D., Jan. 9.—President Marvin Hughitt, of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, has issued a public notice claiming all of the famous mile square on the Sioux reservation opposite this city, or so much thereof as may be necessary for depot, round houses, tracks, warehouses, etc., which means all of it, and the consequent ejectment of the settlers there when the reservation is opened to settlement. The Northwestern road has a government treaty to back its claim. What with Fort Pierre citizens, South Pierre boomers, half breeds, Indians and the Northwestern road all claiming this mile square, the situation begins to assume a complicated phase and many believe that before the end is reached there will be much serious trouble if not bloodshed.

Special to the Globe.

DULUTH, Minn., Jan. 9.—The special train conveying Bishop McGolrick and party reached Duluth at 7 o'clock this evening, and was met at the depot by an immense concourse of people. The various Catholic societies were in attendance in a body, accompanied by the city's two magnificent bands. As soon as the train arrived the party was seated in carriages and, headed by a squad of police and followed in close line by thousands of citizens, marched to the Church of the Sacred Heart, where short addresses were delivered by Archbishop Ireland, Bishop McGolrick and others. At the close of the services the distinguished party was driven to the Spalding, where an elaborate supper was served and the formal welcome of the city was extended to the new bishop. Col. C. H. Graves acted as master of ceremonies and speeches were made by Judge Stearns, Judge Ensign, Mayor Sutphin, President Costello, Archbishop Ireland, Bishop McGolrick and others. At its conclusion the new bishop was introduced to the leading citizens anxious to pay their respects to the prelate and attest their appreciation of the honor conferred upon Duluth. Archbishop Ireland will conduct the formal installation ceremonies Sunday next.

ELUDED A DETECTIVE.

A Brainerd Girl Elopes With a Barkeeper.

Special to the Globe.

BRAINERD, Minn., Jan. 9.—There is sorrow in the home of William Pendergast, in East Brainerd, to-night. His sixteen-year-old daughter has eloped with Chris Williams, formerly a brakeman in the employ of the Northern Pacific railway. Williams recently blossomed out as a bartender, for which he was tabooed by the girl's parents. Having arranged for the girl to elope with him, Williams last night went to Staples' Junction, and to-night the girl followed him. A friend of the family saw the girl taken from the train at Staples to-night by Williams and intended to prevent her from going further, but the couple eluded the amateur detective, and, dodging about until the arrival of the east-bound train, boarded it, and are now in St. Paul.

FOOLS AND THEIR MONEY.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Jan. 9.—Some time ago Adam Schmidt and David Siech, two farmers living a few miles west of this city, received a "confidential" communication from parties in New York, offering for sale certain "green goods." The two farmers loaded two cars full of cattle and hogs and shipped them to Sioux City, where they were disposed of. With $1,500 in their pockets they went to New York and purchased $3,000 worth of counterfeit money, which was to be expressed to them. They arrived home and went to the express office for their package. It was the old story. Two handsomely hand-painted silk bags of salt was all the package contained. The farmers tumbled, and their wrath is terrible.

NOT READY TO ADJOURN.

Dakota Legislators Treat Gov. Millers Suggestion Cavalierly.

Special to the Globe.

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 9.—In line with the suggestions for economy made by the governor, and attempt was made in the house to-day to designate Feb. 6, as the day for final adjournment, but without success. The bill for establishing a school for deaf mutes at Devils Lake passed the house, and the elevator and railroad bills were pushed forward to where they will demand attention. A resolution was introduced in the senate instructing the president to sign vouchers for the per diem of members during the holiday recess, but was defeated, and the question of the legality of collecting such pay was submitted to the attorney general for his opinion. The economists held that the pay cannot be drawn, and there will be a pretty liveley fight on this point, the amount involved being over $10,000. Much interest centers in the illness of Ex-Gov. Ordway, who fell a victim to la grippe at his daughters house in Washington, as it is expected that he will return to file a refutation of the charges of bribery made against him by Senator La Moure.

The Question Still Unsettled.

Special to the Globe.

FERGUS FALLS, Jan. 9.—The county commissioners have settled the long-pending suit between Sheriff Brandenburg and Otter Tail county by agreeing not to carry it any further and paying the sheriff $687.10, the amount fixed by the court in its recent decision. Under this settlement it is agreed that the county shall not be liable for any interest or costs. The sheriff fails to get double mileage for his one trip to the West after two prisoners, but gets pay for the extra distance he traveled in quest of the second man. So far as the supreme court's opinion is concerned this action leaves unsettled the question whether a sheriff can collect mileage for trips outside the state.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

The best of tea makes but an indifferent concoction unless the water is fresh

In roasting meats one of the principal points is to have it as juicy as possible.

A good way to clean an iron sink is to rub it well with a cloth wet in kerosene oil.

Anything mixed with water requires a hotter oven than anything mixed with milk.

Paper may be perfumed by laying a perfumed sachet with the sheets and envelopes, or dry sachet powder may be sprinkled in the box laying an extra sheet of paper between the box and paper.

The use of lemons is good for sea sickness, biliousness and jaundice, and most beneficial in fevers. It is good also to cure warts, and to destroy scurf on the head by rubbing it in the roots of the hair.

Hens that are too fat will not lay, and this is one objection to feeding corn as a principal diet during the winter.

At present prices sound wheat is a cheaper feed than screenings. There is so much waste among the screenings that, considering the price, the wheat will be found the more economical. Wheat is one of the best materials that can be fed for eggs.

With turkeys it is not a good plan to depend altogether on old hens and gobblers for breeders. Some of the young hens should be bred, mating them with the gobblers that are two years old.

Old geese are the best for breeding, so that the younger ones can be marketed and the older be kept for breeding and for feathers; for in keeping geese for profit the feathers must always be considered.

Not more than two or three guinea hens should be kept for every rooster. They will do better if they are evenly divided. They mate in pairs more than any other kind of domestic fowls.

Pigeons should be kept in pairs in order to avoid constant quarreling, which will be the case if with either sex there is an odd bird. They should by all means be kept separate from the other fowls.

To restore polish to marble a person of experience recommends to wash the marble with cold soap and water, then dry it with an old soft napkin, and when quite dry rub it steadily for an hour at least with white wax and a clean flannel rubber, the secret of success being in prolonged rubbing.

In severe paroxysms of coughing, either in coughs, colds or consumption, one or two tablespoonfuls of pure glycerine in pure whisky or hot rich cream will, according to Scientific American, afford almost immediate relief, and to the consumptive a panacea is found by daily use of glycerine externally, with proportion of one part of powdered willow charcoal and two parts of pure glycerine.

A French laundryman is said to have discovered an ingenious method of cleaning linen without soap He uses no soap, nor lye, nor chlorine; but, in in their stead, boiled potatoes, which he rubs upon the linen. This curious process, it appears, is much superior to those hitherto employed, and the worst soiled cotton, linen or woolen cleaned by this method are made whiter than they could be by the use of an alkali.

It has been told by those who have tried it that to break up "mountain fever" there is nothing like a tea made from what is here called sage brush. Put into a kettle all it will hold, cover with water and boil until very strong, then strain and drink freely. It is quite bitter, but is said to be the best remedy known for this disease, which is quite similar to typhoid fever in character. Where the sage brush cannot be obtained common sage tea is beneficial.

Any one who suffers from chilblains will be glad to try the following remedy recommended by a writer in Arthur's Home Magazine: I made a strong solution of white oak bark, as hot as I could bear, and bathed my feet every night before retiring. It made a perfect cure. I had been troubled so much that I used to dread the cold weather on that account; my feet would fester and be so swollen and sore that I could not wear shoes. Now I have had no chilblains since I applied this remedy, a good many years ago.

To keep the stove bright a cloth should be kept on purpose for rubbing it off. When used first on a newly-blackened stove the cloth becomes filled with the surplus polish, which rubs off so easily, and is then ready to impart a gloss whenever it is needed. Another plan is to use old newspapers to rub off the stove instead of a brush. In mixing stove polish use vinegar and a teaspoonful or sugar. To brighten the nickel plating rub it whiting and kerosene, using a woolen cloth, or rubbing it with a woolen cloth and flour. If the mica in the stove door has become discolored by smoke, it can be easily cleansed by washing it with vinegar.

For neuralgia, boil a handful of lobelia in a half-pint of water, strain and add a teaspoonful of fine salt. Wring clothes out of the liquid, very hot, and apply till the pain ceases, changing as fast as cold, then cover with a dry cloth for a while, to prevent taking cold. Two large tablespoonfuls of cologne and two teaspoonfuls of fine salt mixed in a bottle makes an excellent inhalent for facial neuralgia. Horse radish, prepared the same as for the table, applied to the temple or wrist, is recommended.

The Injunction Case Against John M. Ward Continued Until Next Thursday.

McCormick Outfoots Luhr in a Three-Mile Race at Minneapolis.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—It can be announced as a positive fact that the American association has decided to place a club in Brooklyn, and that it does not care whether the move causes further disruption in the base ball world or not. This action was fully decided upon at the meeting of the association held at Rochester last week, although for various reasons the matter was kept a secret. A secret meeting of several base ball men was held at the Astor house to-day and the line of action fully laid out. Those present at the conference were President Whitaker, of the Athletic club; P. T. Powers, of the Rochester club; John Chapman, of the Louisville club; John Wallace and J. C. Kennedy, of the new Brooklyn club. A stock company is to be organized, and the games will be played at the Ridgewood park grounds. The American association circuit is consequently at last fully made up and will be as follows: Brooklyn, St. Louis, Louisville, Athletic, Rochester, Columbus, Syracuse and Toledo. The association men say they think they are entitled to association territory in Brooklyn and propose to assert their rights even if it causes a disruption of the National agreement and open war between the league and the association. Sunday games will be played—at least the effort will be made to play such games.

AIMS AT UNIFORMITY.

Attempt to Arrive at a Common Method on Scores.

The following circular has been addressed to the three regimental inspectors of small arms practice by the general inspector for their criticisms or approval before the meeting of the adjutant generals and state inspectors of the Western states, which takes place in Chicago Jan. 13, the object of which is to arrive at a common method of making gratifying scores, so that a marksman or sharpshooter's badge in one state will represent the same skill as in another state.

Recruits course for first year in camp, five shots each at 100, 200, 300 and 500 yards. If a total of 40 is made it entitles him to continue firing for one of the classes, and he fires five shots more at 200, 300 and 500 yards and one skirmish run of ten shots.

Second year's course (class firing)—Ten shots each at 200, 300 and 500 yards, and one skirmish run of ten shots (6-0 yards to 200 and retreat.) All who make a grand total of 80 are in the second class; all who make a grand total of 100 are in the first class; all who make a grand total of 120 are in the M. M. class.

All marksmen now fire ten shots at 600 yards and one more skirmish run same as before. All who make a grand total of 250 are in the sharpshooters' class; all whose score is less than 250 remain in the M. M. class.

Preliminary practice will consist of two shots each at 200 and 300 yards, and three shots each at 500 and 600 yards, and five shots at skirmish (half run.)

"A" target will be used at 300, and "B" target for skirmishing.

Please notice: All shots fired except "preliminary shots" and at 100 yards in the "recruit's course" are considered in making the classifications. The percentages are the same for each class as is required in the regular army, with this difference:

We are to shoot at 500 yards for marksmen and 600 for sharpshooters and skirmish on the "B" target. In the army they shoot at 600 yards for marksmen and 800 for sharpshooters and skirmish on the group of silhouette figures.

On the other hand we have 15 "preliminary shots" and come short but about six days at the utmost, while in the army they have 150 "preliminary shots" and three months to fire in.

Please give your opinion on the following questions:

First—Should the percentages in any or all the classes be raised or lowered, and how much?

Second—Should we do more or less firing, and how much?

Third—Should we shoot at 600 yards for marksmen and 800 for sharpshooters and skirmish on the silhouettes same as the army, if so, ought the percentage to be lowered, and how much?

Fourth—Should we abandon shooting at camp and make gratifying scores entirely on home ranges?

VALIDITY OF RESERVE RULES

The League Brotherhood Case Further Postponed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Judge Morgan J. O'Brien, sitting in supreme court chambers, heard the argument of eminent counsel to-day on the motion of the National league of base ball players' clubs, through the Metropolitan Exhibition company, for an injunction to restrain John M. Ward from playing with any other than the New York base ball club. For the purpose of the suit, John M. Day, president of the New York club, was made plaintiff in the case. The motion was in reality only a primary step to decide whether a "reserve" can stipulate that a man be subject to the call of the league for more than one year. Messrs. Evarts, Choate & Beaman appeared for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Anderson & Howland for the defendant. There were a number of prominent base ball men present. The case went over till next Thursday.

Traitors Will Be Sued.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 9.—Al Johnson said last night that every Cleveland brotherhood deserter will be sued. "I talked with a lawyer yesterday," said Johnson, "and he made a careful examination of not only the regular three-year contract, but also of the original agreement. He tells me that that agreement is as good a contract as ever was made, and no man who signed it has the slightest chance of getting away. For the Cleveland Players' League club I will say that every man who signed that agreement, and has since signed with the leage, will be taken into court."

Alvord Goes to Toledo.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 9.—The Toledo Base Ball club has accepted Kansas City's terms, and purchased the release of Billy Alvord, the clever third baseman, who will sign a Toledo contract to-morrow.

FAST SKATERS.

McCormick Defeats Luhr in a Three-Mile Race.

There was a fair sized crowd at the Palace ice rink, Minneapolis, last evening to witness the three-mile skating race between Hugh J. McCormick, of Canada, and Fitz Luhr, of St. Paul. The race was for $250 a side and gate receipts, and was won by McCormick. O. E. Remmy officiated as referee. F. H. Jones was McCormick's judge, and Tom Eck acted in the same capacity for Luhr. The timekeepers were Joe Donohue and Will Rockfield. W. W. Wetleson started the men, and they both struck out together at the report of the pistol, with McCormick slightly in the lead. The men kept well together until the first lap had been skated, when Luhr fell and rolled into the bank. Before he could recover McCormick was fully half a lap ahead of him. McCormick's time for the first mile was 3:05, and Luhr crossed the line 20 seconds later. The second mile was made in 6:53, and the third in 10:59. Luhr's friends claim that he would have beaten McCormick had it not been for the accident.

GREAT POULTRY SHOW.

Best Exhibition of Fowls Yet Seen in Southern Minnesota.

Special to the Globe.

OWATONNA, Minn., Jan. 9.—The Steele County Poultry association closed a very successful exhibition here to-night. The display of blooded fowl was one of the best ever held in Southern Minnesota, and the fact that it was the first public exhibition given by the organization makes the success achieved all the more noteworthy. St. Paul some time ago was pronounced uncommonly good, but the St. Paul exhibitors here to-day admit that Owatonna has discounted the Saintly City in this particular. The following is a complete list of all exhibitors.

Owatonna—F. B. Guenther, white-face black Spanish, first and second premium; C. J. Kenyon, single-comb brown Leghorns, first, second and fourth; N. C. Larson, brown Leghorn, first on best hen; B. E. Darby, light brahmas, third on cock and first on cockerel; A. Bryson, light Brahmas, first on pullet; A. C. A Challenge.

I understand that there are some good trap shots in Minneapolis, but feeling confident that we have better in St. Paul, I propose to match three men from here against any three in Minneapolis for a friendly shoot of 100 Peoria blackbirds, thrown from three traps, American association rules, for a prize to cost from $25 to $75. The match to be shot at Midway Park, Hamline. Twenty-five dollars posted with the sporting editor of the GLOBE, St. Paul, as forfeit. Time and stakes to be mutually agreed upon. Minneapolis shooters, show your sand if you have any.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 9.—A copy of the proposed extradition treaty between the United States and Great Britain has been received by the minister of justice. The scope of the proposed treaty is very wide, in contrast with the treaty of 1842, which contains only four offenses. If the pending treaty is adopted, legislation by the dominion parliament will be necessary to bring Canada under its provisions.

THEATER HORROR IN CHINA.

By the Collapse of a Building 250 People Are Killed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Meagre particulars are received by the steamer City of Pekin, which arrived to-day, of the theater collapse in Shantung, China, reported by telegaph from Shankhai, Dec. 3. It appears that the accident occurred at Hauting, east of Shantung, Oct. 13 last. The temple where the performance was being held stands on a high terrace in the middle of the town. A hill was once there, but it has all been cut away except a portion on which the temple stands. During the performance the entire wall gave way, either from being defective or from the great pressure above, and the whole mass of men, women and children were hurled to the street below. Groans and shrieks rent the air. The people who had first fallen, some of whom had escaped with only bruises, were killed outright a moment later by their comrades falling upon them. Many died of suffocation and others were momentarily stunned, or met death by being trampled upon by their fellows while trying to escape. All this time immense blocks of stone and concrete from the broken wall fell with deadly force. Heads were burst open, bodies crushed, arms and legs broken and in a number of cases almost severed from the body. A total of 200 dead bodies have been taken from the ruins and it is thought that the list of the dead may number 250.

WRECKED BY A SWITCH.

The Union Pacific Fast Express Derailed and Partially Burned.

Special to the Globe.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 9.—The Union Pacific fast mail train which left this city last night, ran off a switch at Sidney about 8 o'clock this morning, having struck a broken rail. The train, which consisted of two engines, two mail cars, one baggage, three Pullman coaches and a dining car, was badly wrecked. The engines kept on their wheels, but the cars were overturned and caught fire. Soon one coach after another was ablaze. The passengers scrambled out, and as only two were hurt, and those only slightly, they had only the loss of some of their personal effects to mourn. The two mail cars and the baggage car were burned, together with most of the mail and all of the baggage and express matter. The rear sleeper, the dining car and the two engines, and portions of two Pullman cars were all out of a heap of charred wood and tangled iron and trucks that was left of the train. As the engines were in good shap, a delay of only two hours was required to clear the track. The baggagemaster, C. T. Dobbins, was severely injured. The Pullman cars "Sweetwater" and "Castlerock" were badly damaged.

SLOWLY BLED TO DEATH.

A Russian Nobleman Slashed the Arteries of His Wrists.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Joseph Kosko, who is said to be of noble Russian blood, committed suicide to-day by severing the arteries of both wrists and slowly bleeding to death at his apartments in Second street. He leaves a widow and five children. Kosko arrived in this city from Phœnixville, Pa., three months ago. He was about forty-eight years of age. According to some of his countrymen, Kosko was of noble family and resided in the province of Lithuania, Russian Poland. During the revolution of 1863 he was suspected of treachery and sentenced to ten years in Siberia. In the meantime all of his property had been confiscated. He served his time, and with the remnant of his fortune—$10,000—started for America. He settled in Phœnixville, Pa., where he opened a grocery. Here he remained five years, but his business proving unprofitable he came to this city. Despondency is the only cause to which the suicide is attributable.

CRUSHED TO A PULP.

Lumber Shovers Meets a Terrible Fate in a Chicago Yard.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—An accident which resulted in the killing of two men, and serious injury of two others occured at Higbee & Peters' lumber yard, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Four lumber shovers, John Thompson, Andrew Johnson, John Perry and John Lindquist were carrying a large piece of timber, and passed a pile of timbers, twelve inches wide and twelve inches thick, when in some way the timbers became loose at the bottom and toppled over before the four men could make their escape, Johnson and Thompson were crushed beneath the timbers, dying almost instantly. Perry and Lindquist each had a limb seriously crushed. They were taken to the county hospital where it is thought amputation will be necessary in both cases.

CONSUMPTION,

IN its first stages, can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of that disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middleton, Tennessee.

"Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn.

"Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was confined to my state-room, and a physician on board considered my life in danger. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. Since then I have invariably recommended this preparation."—J. B. Chandler, Junction, Va.
