Donatello, the clean-limbed, bright-eyed chestnut that carried Fitzpatrick to victory Wednesday last.

Derby day furnished an auspicious augury of what was to follow, and the succeeding days have served to whet the appetite of all lovers of good horses and those outside of them who like the excitement of watching well-bred, game and handsome reages struggling to push and handsome racers struggling to push a nose, a nock, a body length beyond their fellows when passing the men whose judgment means money and rep-whose judgment means money and reputation for horse and owner.

The first race Wednesday was won quite as easily as the knowing ones expected by Marion C, Harry O'Fallon's chestnut daughter, who beat Hazen with very little effort. Nellie Pearl, a filly from the loins of Iroquois, took the second race, five furlongs, with never a touch of the whip, although many good judges put their money on Hispania, the fleet bay lassic of Hindoo lineage. The heat race, three-quarters of a mile, fell to Trust, the aged son of Ten Brocck. Louisa M took the first heat by half a length, the second was Trust's by a short head in a punishing passage at the wire, and the blood and stamina of Longfellow's race carried him to victory in third in handy style. The"Darby" was the bugie gave the call. Ethel, by Long-fellow, good to look at and a winner for beauty, was the only filly in the lot, and many a dollar jingled in pockets of bookies that was laid on her by loyal friends, with no regret for the financial loss. Donatello, bright as a star, hand-some, proud and confident as became a son of laurel-crowned Ten Broeck, was the favorite, and Fitzpatrick in the sad-dle, wide awake and up to every trick the favorite, and Fitzjatrick in the sad-dle, wide awake and up to every trick of position and pace, lent added confi-dence to the fretting thousands who struggled to get their green, white or gold on a ticket bearing the name of silvery sound. Jugurtha, Pomfret, and dashing Dundee had backers too, and when the five moved gracefully away to the far side of the course for the start, 10,000 with a dollar or two at stake and 5,000 sympathizers settled the live lived graceling ways to far side of the course for lart, 10,000 with a dollar or two at and 5,000 sympathizers settled in a standing position, with lowdown in a standing position, with low-drawn breath and eyes a trifle strained, to view a race once and a half around, that meant far more than the $5,200 that the flectest and truest could win. Little attention was paid to position till the attention was paid to position till the mile had tired out Jugurtha and Pomfret. Then Bonnie Dundee sailed for the front and Donatello took the place he wanted. Ethel was courteously given the post of honor entering the stretch, but the chestnat beauty that Sijpaway foaled was touched by his great rider's spirit just then, and the Donatello tickets were good as gold. Half his length spirit just then, and the Donatello tickets were good as gold. Half his length before Dundee, with Ethel's breath blowing the dust from his heels, was spirit just then, and the Donatello tickets were good as gold. Much Injury Will Result From Neglect.

A prominent veterinary dentist speaks as follows about horses' teeth: "I have observed when I have been professionally called, that a common mistake among horse breeders is not to attend to the second growth of teeth in their colts, and not to examine whether the

With 127 pounds up, he defeated Lodowic, Pomfret, Hagen, Dundee and Jugurtha in the wonderfully fast time of 2:23. The distance was a mile and three-eighths, for which the best time is 2:20¼. This is undoubtedly the best performance of the year, and is proof that Ireland Bros.' horse is better than the record under tavorable circumstances. It cannot be denied, however, that the turr does exercise a decidedly good influence upon the breeding interests of America. This is most encouraging. It has been truly said that he is entitled to honor who causes two blades of grass to grow where one grew before; still, neither the one nor the two blades are directly valuable to man, unless he takes advantage of the changed condition. For example, if a man raises a horse which he sells for thousands of dollars, where before were raised horses whose value could be computed below

MAY RUN A MONTH.

Secretary Shaw Well Satisfied With the Attendance at the Races.

The Twin City Jockey club presents a great card for to-day. It indicates that as the meeting progresses the good things served up increase in quality as well as quantity. The third race will be the event of the day, and the entry comprises the crack performers of the turt. There is 'W. H. Babb's chestnut comprises the crack performers of the turr. There is 'W. H. Babb's chestnut Guido, who ran Yale '91 a sensational mile on Thursday, and, it is stated, was only beaten by a nose because of top weight carried. To-day Guido will carry only 103 pounds, and, although Yale '91 will have but 90 pounds up,it is asserted that Guido is a good thing, and that he can land his weight as though it were a feather. Kingman, the animal that Kentucky has sent out to win gilt money this season, but who was defeated at Washington Park because "not right," will have a big following. He is as fine as silk now, and prepared to make the race of his life. And Donatello is in the party—the only Donatello, whose performances in capturing the Derby Wednesday and again in pulling in the rich Hamline stakes, have marked him the greatest three-year-old out this year, he will likely be heard from during the battle. Ed Hopper and Jim Dunn, who will electer the part of the property of the party of the pa battle. Ed Hopper and Jim Dunn, who will also start, have quite a following. colts, and not to examine whether the first were shed before the second come. The result of this neglect is ill-growing teeth, indigestion, foul breath, leanness, and although the horse may have a ness, and atthough the forse may have a good appetite, his food does not seem to nourish him because improperly masti-cated. All this combined makes a horse that is commonly called a puller. A wolf tooth in a celt hurts him when he wolf tooth in a colt hurts him when he is bitted, and gives him a bad mouth to drive. Many a horse has been called vicious and unmanageable that only had bad teeth. Horse dentistry being evidently a new art, few people are aware of the defects in horses' teeth, and the remedies which can be successfully applied. Men who wonder why their horses have this or that defect should have their teeth examined by a dentist. have their teeth examined by a dentist. In nine cases out of ten the fault can

PROBLEM OF BREEDING.

Good Influence Exercised by the Racing Tracks. The breeding preblem is as much a mystery to-day as it was a hundred years ago. No man can tell us how the first horse was created. Neither can any man tell us how the last one happens to inherit the qualities he presents. Nevertheiess, there is a vast and encouraging improvement in and increase of interest regarding turf matters throughout the civilized world. From every direction cable and telegraph bring news of what horsemen, both turf and breeders, are doing. But to predetermine with much accuracy, the looks or capabilities of the embryo colt, are matters not to be predetermined by mortal man.

It cannot be denied, however, that the turf does exercise a decidedly good in-

Cuticura Is Great, Because great things are required of it. Curing skin diseases is no easy matter. Every sufferer from torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly and pimply diseases of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, will admit this in view of the almost total failure of the usual remedies. Cut ficial, even more so than many things to which honor is more quickly or more freely given. Indeed, there is many a man famous in financial circles, who man famous in mancial circles, who never does the world much real good until he retire from what he regards as serious business, and turns his attention to horses simply for an amusement.

And so, while we are not able, nor ever shall be able, to solve the mystery of horse breeding any more than we can tell how mineral is extracted from the earth and deposited in the leaf of a tree 400 feet above the surface of the earth, contrary to the law of gravitation, that contrary to the law of gravitation, that is no reason for discontinuing the en-deavor to improve our horses. But, aside from the improvement in our horses, to which the breeder is credited, two good things the turf is doing for the country. First, it is making the horses better and more valuable on an average; second, it is making the standard for individual horses of the ordinary class better.

The man of moderate means car now own a better horse, as compared with other values, than he could only a few years ago, while the average breeder, if wise in selection, can raise horses, at no marked increase of existense, much more valuable for the market than he had any reason to hope for a few years ago. In both ways there is great increase in the aggregate national wealth. So, while we may not hope to ever be able to solve the mystery of the breeding problem, we may do a world of good in improving the condition of equines.

DON'T DO IT.

Proverbs for Horse Owners to Keep in Mind.

Don't breed that old broken-down mare. It won't pay, but will be an injury to the breeding industry.

Don't feed corn or cornmeal to the horses during hot weather. Corn is too

Don't spare the oats. The well-fed horse stands up under constant work when the under-fed falters. when the under-fed falters.

Don't imagine that when you water your horses three times a day you have done all that nature demands.

Don't let the horses eat too much green grass. A little while in the pasture after a day's work will do them good, but too much green food will work injury and cause the horses to sweat easily at work.

Don't think because your neighbor has bought a stallion that he has been asily at work.

Some Famous Sires. The position of a sire is usually gauged with most accuracy through the running of his two-year-olds. Last year it appears, from a return which has been published, that Bend Or had seven beeu published, that Bend Or had seven winners of fourteen races, worth $11,800, of which Orvieto won $5,750; and next came Petrarch, with ten winners of twenty-one races, worth $8,500, his best animals being Peter Flower and Cereza. Charibert (who is now in Germany) had twelve winners of twenty-three races, worth $8,500, of which Cleator won upward of $4,000. The defunct Isonomy had six winners of eight races, worth $7,800, but £5,671 of this amount was won by the very moderate Blavatsky at Kempton Park, her victory being decidedly the most outrageous fluke of the season. Energy (who is also dead) was credited with £7,000, won in five races by M. Blanc's smart pair, Gouverneur and Reverend. St. Simon had seven winners of eleven races, worth $6000.

Good Things to Know.

Never tease your colt to make it figh you, for colts grow fast and do not forget. Never get mad and fight it out on get. Neverget mad and fight it out on your colt, for a righteous man regardeth the life of his beast. Your colt should fear you, for fear is the beginning of wisdom. Your colt should love you, for love worketh no ill. Teach your colts to stop immediately when told; it may save your life some time. Hitch your horse by the side of a good, sensible horse, for he that walketh with the wise shall be wise. Be not hasty to use the whip, for the rod is for the back of fools. Do not overload your colt and the whip, for the rou is for the back of fools. Do not overload your colt and then whip him to make him pull it, for by so doing you may make a backslider out of him, and it may be a hard matter to renew him again. Train up a colt in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it.

Keep This in Mind.

At this time of the year there is an endless amount of talk about this or that colt or filly that is going out to re duce an age or record. The world is expected to stand still while the young-ster rustles through space against the watch, but at the same time no one seems to care a red about the appearance of the wear and tear nag that will win a little of the money. It is all what such and such a farm will do in the record breaking line, and when their representatives hit a track for a race. an unknown quantity whose praises were never sung in the columns of the press, bowls over the party. Record breaking is profitable business for stock farms, but the production of race horses will wear longer as they are not called upon to go to the dizzy clip that kills sooner or later.
