Operators in Chicago Loaded Up for a Raise, but Prices Fall.

Fair Activity at the Start, but Dullness Had Final Possession.

Losses Sustained by Wheat, Corn, Oats and Pork Before the Close.

New York Stock Market Is Active and Buoyant at Top Figures.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—The action of the wheat market here today was a surprise and a disappointment to a majority of the operators. The crowd had apparently loaded up last week with the expectation that the advent of the new year would bring a revival of trade and better prices, but the reverse was true. Prices, instead of going up, went down, and there was very little recovery. In the early dealings there was a fair amount of activity, but at the bottom the market became as dull as it was in the early part of the week, and telegrams from other trading centers indicated a similar state of affairs.

The outside public has not resumed its interest in the market since the holidays and commission houses had little to do. The news from Europe was not encouraging, a holiday dullness still ruling there, and early dispatches quoted Berlin three marks lower.

A cold wave which has been looked for for some time was reported to be spreading out over the winter wheat belt, where the mercury was dropping with every indication of getting below the zero mark tonight. But the unprotected condition of the wheat plant did not avail to turn the tide of bearish sentiment, especially as snow was reported as accompanying the lower temperature in places.

It was reported early that fifty boatloads of wheat had been unexpectedly delivered on January contracts in New York, breaking the market, and this had a bearish effect in this market. The deliveries on January contracts here were light, but there was an unusual pressure to sell for this month with very little call for it, and the discount was increased, dropping to 6¼ under May against 5½@5⅝c on Thursday. The pressure to sell January, and the weakness of that month, had a depressing effect on May.

There was practically no outside trade and the local sentiment was bearish; hence free offerings were a dead weight and no one seemed disposed to take care of them or give any support to the market. Charlie Wright was one of the leading sellers, though the crowd was also heavily on that side. Pardridge, however, was a good buyer almost from the start, and covered a big line of shorts. Late cables were weak with Berlin demoralized and 5 marks lower. January, which closed at 90½ Thursday, opened at 90c, sold off to 88½c, and closed at 88c. May, which closed at 95⅞c Thursday, opened at 95¾c, selling at once at 95⅞c, sagged off steadily to 94⅝c and closed at 94⅞c, a loss of 1c.

Corn was quiet and inclined to weakness early in the day, but finally steadied and held fairly firm. The receipts were only moderate—284 cars—and included only thirteen cars of the contract grade. The weakness in wheat made corn easy at the start, but stronger cables and the free export movement caused a stronger tone. The exports of corn for the entire month of November were only 2,068,000 bu, but for the last week the shipments were 2,251,000 bu, 785,000 bu during the last two days. The deliveries on January contracts amounted to about 300,000 bu, and this was a weakening factor early. The close was steady at the bottom figures of the day, and at losses ranging from ⅛c to ½c for the various futures compared with Thursday.

Oats were dull and weak and closed with a loss of ½@⅝c.

Hog products opened higher, but when it was known that large receipts of hogs were expected Monday and next week, there was a sharp decline. This was also assisted by rather free deliveries which the recipients undertook to get rid of. There was some recovery from bottom figures, however, and the close shows moderate losses for pork and ribs, while lard is unchanged to a little higher. Estimated Receipts for Monday—Wheat, 280 cars; corn, 390 cars; oats, 280 cars; hogs, 43,000 head, and 240,000 next week.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

DULUTH, Jan. 2.—Weakness prevailed at the opening, prices breaking ½c from Thursday's close. Trading was quite dull, cash and May being about equally active, or more correctly inactive. There was some demand, however, for lower grades of cash, but little life anywhere. Lower cables and a decreased foreign demand affected this like other American markets. The longs seemed to be trying to unload all day and this of course had a bearish effect. After the noon hour nothing was done, and the market closed dull and week at a decline from Thursday of ½c all round for cash and January and ¾c off for May, as follows: No. 1 hard, cash, 86½c; January, 86⅜c; May, 93¾c; No. 1 northern, cash, 85½c; January, 85¾c; May, 92½c; No. 2 northern, cash, 78½c. FINANCIAL.

New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The stock market opened the new year today with an active and buoyant speculation, the volume of business being something unusual for the season of the year, as well as for a half holiday between two full ones. Among the active stocks there was heavy buying, in which London was something of a factor, while the demand from commission houses continued unabated, and outside centers contributed their quota to make one of the most active Saturdays seen in a year.

The feature of the dealings, however, was the large trading and very substantial advances among the low-priced shares, which are believed by some to have a future, new lead, common, scoring a gain of 7½ per cent, though the greater part of this was the simple process of "marking up," which, however, could not be urged against all of the very material gains in the others. The industrials were especially conspicuous in the outward movement, however, and, as lead took the lead among the unlisted shares, so Chicago Gas led the listed stocks.

Among the latter, however, the demand in Union Pacific, Wabash, New England and C. C. C. & St. L. was sufficient to raise those shares to the highest prices for some time, and among the low-priced shares Oregon Short Line, Hocking Valley and the cotton oil shares scored gains from one to three points. The bank statement showed an extraordinary heavy expansion in loans, but the receipts of currency were such as to cause only a comparatively small decrease in the surplus reserve and it had no apparent influence upon the course of prices. The opening was active and generally large fractions higher than Thursday's figures, and while some sluggishness was shown among the more prominent stocks, the concessions were insignificant and others displayed the most pronounced strength. Union Pacific was one of the shares that made rapid progress. The market finally closed active and buoyant at the top prices of the day. The important gains among the active shares were: Cottonseed Oil, 1¾; Sugar, 1; C. C. C. & St. Louis, 1¼; Chicago Gas, 3⅜; New England, 1⅜; Union Pacific, 1¾, and Wabash preferred, 1⅛. The trading reached 213,034 listed and 25,928 unlisted, Union Pacific contributing 23,855.

The Post says: To London belongs the distinction of starting the upward movement of prices for the new year. Whether the materially higher level of quotations prevailing on the early market there was due to active foreign buying or only to manipulation matters little. It is beyond question, in either case, that it reflected properly the sentiment now prevailing in regard to American securities. Traditionally, today's business ought to have been of the most quiet, and it is this succession of reversed precedents and confuted predictions which makes the most conservative cautious in their objections to the market.

Conservatism has proved almost as poor a prophet as pessimism since the forces under the present market began to surge. The action of the market today was not, however, altogether what should be called a healthy movement. There was a considerable advance in all the standard stocks, but the less favorable feature was the extent to which the industrial stocks seized the leadership, and especially in the second hour.

LOCAL MARKETS.

St. Paul Produce.

Quotations and market values are almost entirely for commissioned lots on orders sold from first hands. Dealers sending small orders to this market should not expect to have them filled at the inside figures of quotations, as shipping stock is always of selected varieties and best qualities.

Markets today with no especial feature, except the usual holiday dullness. Trading very light in all commodities.

Fruits, both tropical and others, are in full supply, especially apples, of which most dealers have large stocks of very fine qualities.

Barley in good demand and wanted by maltsters.

Hay receipts large, market rather dull, still best grades find ready sale.

Dealers have on hand full supply of potatoes and all kinds of vegetables.

For dairy products the demand continues fair, receipts of low grades of butter are increasing and markets for these qualities have a declining tendency.

For strictly fresh eggs the supply and demand about equal.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES.

We have now in our hands without exception the most beautiful piece of residence property in St. Paul. This is Clay's Addition, fronting on the river at the foot of Cleveland avenue. It is covered with fine trees, and lies perfectly. We propose to make this a choice residence neighborhood, and we will gurantee none but desirable neighbors. We will not sell to speculators, but to the right people desiring to build we offer special inducements. We do not intend to have any cheap houses on this addition. But if you will agree to build a good house, and are the right sort of man, we will sell you a lot 50 by 150 feet, worth $1,000 or $1,200, for a nominal price. The West Seventh street electric line runs within a block of this addition, and it is accessible to the beautiful scenery and attractive society of Fort Snelling. We have, also, the best property in South St. Paul, as well as good property in other parts of the city, and fine acre property for market gardens.
