THE NOTORIOUS FLEMING BROTHERS ARE SHOT DOWN.

OF THEM IS KILLED.

The Other Still Alive, but Has Three Mortal Wounds in His Left Breast-One Officer Fatally and Another Seriously Wounded - The Flemings Killed Five People.

WESTON, W. Va., Jan. 14.-Information was received here this afternoon of the apprehension of Calvert and Henry Fleming, two notorious outlaws for whom the state of Virginia offers a reward of $2,000, and the county of Wire $800. They are charged with having committed five different murders and several highway robberies are also alleged against them. The Fleming brothers have been fugitives from justice for a long time. They successfully evaded the officers of the law and made their way overland to Boggs, this state, in the mountains of West Virginia. They believed themselves to be safe. On Saturday evening about 4 p. m. they stopped at the store of John Boggs, about nine miles from Cowen, a station on the West Virginia & P. Railroad, in which store the postoffice for the village was kept. The outlaws had been traced to this neighborhood by four officers from Virginia, who were seeking heir arrest. Waile the Flemings, who were going under different aliases, were engaged in making some purchases at the store, the officers came in and readily identified them. They demanded an immediate surrender, but the desperadoes resisted arrest and opened fire upon their pursuers. The shots were returned by the officers, and a fierce conflict then ensued. Calvert Fleming was killed outright and his brother Henry was mortally wounded with three shots in his left breast. He is still alive, but cannot recover. Two of the officers, John H. Branhan and "Doc" Swannell, were seriously wounded. The injuries of the former are considered fatal, he being shot through the left lung and right shoulder. "Doe" Swannell is shot through the neck below the ear. His condition is doubtful. A clerk in the store was also shot in the struggle, but is not thought to be dangerously hurt. Calvert Fleming is one of the men implicated in the murder of Mullins and others at Pound Gap, Va., in 1892. Before he died he requested that his remains be sent to Norton, Va., his home. All preparations, however, have been made to bury him at Boggs.

WHERE IS MISS BONESTEEL? A Young Kansas City Girl Diappears.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 14.-The mysterious disappearance of Miss Belle Bonesteel, the eighteen-year-old daughter of Dr. William J. Bouesteel, a prominent local physician, which occurred last Thursday, has just been made public. On that evening, it appears, Miss Bonesteel, who is an extremely handsome girl, started for the opera, accompanied by two intimate friends. Before reaching the theater she changed her mind and decided to call upon a lady friend and to meet her two companions, a lady and a gentleman, both of whom are friends of the family, at 11 p. m., when they all should return home together. When the appointed time arrived Miss Bonesteel was not to be found. Mr. and Mrs. Bonesteel were loath to make the story public, and, with the aid of a couple of detectives, began a systematic search for her. Though all have been thoroughly worked, all had purchased in Cherokee City, Oklatheories upset and the city been tra-versed from end to end, no trace of the missing girl has been found, and now four play is feared. Mannerin Which a West Virginian Lost His Life. Pomeron, O., Jan. 14.-The dead man found in a bed ot cinders at Clifton, W. Va., yesterday is thought to be

Henry W. Altonbrinck, of Coal Valley, Allegheny county, Pa. He was suffo cated by gas, having fallen into the fire while going to the ferry. This bed of fire is on the site of the old Clifton Nail works, and is an acre in extent. It is sixteen feet thick, with a thin crust, through which the flames burst out and light up the town at night. The gases from it make life a misery to the inhabitants. It has been burning since last April, having been started by a great conflagration then, and at times great connagration then, and at times has seriously impeded travel on the Ohio River railroad by undermining the track. A second stranger narrowly escaped death there last night. He was pulled out of this miniature infernal region in an unconscious condition. All efforts to extinguish the fire have been mayailing.

BULLET IN HIS BRAIN.

How a Crazy Hoosier Ended His SHOALS, Ind., Jan. 14. - Charley Ames, a prominent farmer residing four miles south of this city, took his revolver from a bureau drawer this morning and remarked to his wife that he intended to end his earthly career. She grabbed with the remark that he held it with a death grip, and, jumping out of the door, went down a path about thirty feet, and, placing the revolver back of his ear, pulled the trigger and lodged a bail in his brain, killing himself instantly. THE SECRETARY HAS HIS EYE ON THE RESERVE.

WILL BEGIN ISSUING BONDS

Before the Reserve Drops to $50, 000,000 - Senator Voorhees Says the Secretary Will Act Promptly and Effectively if an Emergency Should Arise-The Power of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.-Some decisive action to replenish the gold reserve in the treasury must be taken within the next few weeks. If congress does not take kindly to the suggestions offered by Secretary Carlisle in his annual report, and provide at once some means of relief, the only course left the officials of the treasury debt will be for the secretary to exercise the authority granted him by the law of 1875 and issue bonds for the purpose of maintaining the gold reserve. The position which confronts the administration is one which they have decided to handle with promptness. All the available money now in the treasury department consists of the so-called "gold reserve," which has now been invaded $26,000,000, and by the first of the month the treasury department believes that the total amount will have been reduced to $68,000,000. Such from him. He jerked it away from her start a movement of gold toward Europe, which would still further reduce the amount of gold held by the United States. Secretary Carlisle has twice appeared before the committee on finance, and his presentation of the case to the members of that committee

> CLEAR AND EXPLICIT in the statement of the situation. When he next appears before the committee, which may be tomorrow, it is probable that he will emphasize his argument by the presentation of a carefully prepared statement on the condition in which he finds the national finances, as well as the methods proposed by him to afford relief. Mr. Carlisle prefers that congress should deal with this mutter, but, if the legislature fails within three or four weeks to show any indications that it intends to aid the secretary of the treasury, it is known that he will be forced to avail himself of the authority granted him by the act of '75 and issue bonds necessary to replenish the gold reserve. It is because Mr. Carlisle desires that congress should first act that he has thus far made no preparation for an issuance of bonds, and all statements to the effect that orders have been given the bureau of engraving and printing plates, etc., are pure fabrications. Absolutely no action has been taken and no plans decided upon. This much can be officially stated. The attitude of th New York banks, as expressed in recent publications in regard to the furnishing of gold for export, should such a necessity arise, has possibly had some effect in strengthening a feeling that SHOULD ISSUE BONDS to protect the gold reserve. It is denied, however, that any agreement ever existed by which the bonds were to furnish gold. A prominent Democratic senator said today that Secretary Carlisle would not allow the gold reserve to fall below $50,000,000, and, should the the Saviour. reserve be reduced to nearly that point before congress acted, Mr. Carlisle bonds. When this statement was shown to Senator Voorhees, the chairman of painting and statuary. the finance committee, he declined to either verify or deny it, only saving: authority and the disposition to protect the credit of the government, and I have no doubt that he will act promptly and effectively if the emergency should arise." Senator Voorhees does not deny the report that he is preparing a bill to expect to be called upon to formulate a measure. With reference to the opinion that a bill for a bond issue cannot originate in the senate, it can be stated that the lawyers of the senate are generally of the opinion that it can originate there as well as in the house. Senator Gray says the house would probably make a row over such action on the part of the senate, but that, in his opinion. the issuance of bonds is not the raising of revenue as provided for in the constitution.

STILLWATER NEWS.

The heavy snows along the St. Croix and its tributaries is an indication that there will be an abundance of water with which to float the winter's log crop in the spring. A large number of logs were left over from last winter in the river, and these will probably be the first to arrive. Reports received from the various logging camps last week were very encouraging, full crews being employed at hauling and skidding. The roads are icy and sleighs slip well, consequently large loads have been hauled. Some of the concerns are employing large crews, and thus far there has been employment for all who have applied. have applied.

Army-Admiral da Gama Not Likely to Secure Any Aid From Santa Catharina-Peixoto Said to Be Pushing Things for a Decisive Battle.

[Copyrighted, by the Associated Press.]

RIO DE JANERIO, Jan. 14.—News was received in this city today from the south of a character most encouraging 320 of the rarest gems of nature and art, heartening to the insurgent admiral. to the Brazilion government and disgathered from the "World's Great It was to the effect that the long-expected and much-relied-upon reinforce ments from Santa Catharina are un likely to give anything like prompt as sistance to their fellow insurgents who are now in Rio harbor. In fact it now looks as if the revolutionary, leaders at Santa Catharina would be unable to lend any aid to Admiral da Gama. The serious illness of Admiral de Mello on board the Republica has had an apparent disastrous effect upon the insurgent forces in the southern part of the republic. In Rio Graude do Sul the insurgents have raised the siege of Bage and have left the in triumphant possession of the government garrison. In a number of other engagements the revolutionists have suffered defeat, and many of De Mello's men have been wounded or killed. Unless De Mello recovers, and is able by his presence to reanimate his men, the outlook for the insurgents is very dark indeed. Discontent is said to prevail to a large extent in their anks, and desertions are said to be nunerous. Fever is also thinning the in surgent army. Unless something be quickly done De Mello will lose fully one-half of his entire force in the south. It is very probable that this news will lead to greater activity than ever on the part of Peixoto, and that a battle of a decisive character between his troops and the idsurgent squadron and the torts will be fought within a very short time. The inhabitants of Rio are heartily tired of the war, and the epidemic now raging here makes the desire for peace all the stronger on the part of the citizens generally.
