IN DEEPEST MYSTERY. The Proceedings of the A. P. A

Convention. The first annual convention of the A. P. A., which has been in session for two days, and about which there has been so much mystery, concluded its labors yesterday. An air of profound mystery has enveloped the proceedings, and strict orders were given to exclude the reporters.

Among other business transacted was the adoption of a platform or declaration of principles.

The latter contains twelve articles, which briefly state that nationality is not a bar to membership in the order; American loyalty is defined as consisting in devotion to the constitution, laws. institutions, flag, and above all to the public schools, for without intelligence this republic will go to pieces. The teaching of perverted history in the schools and the mutilation of reference books to cover the infamics of any church is opposed. Man's partisan politics are not to be interfered with and no person's religion is to be attacked so long as it is not used as an element of political power. Constitutional liberty above all things is to be maintained, together with the government of the United States. All religio-political orizations are regarded as enemies of civil and religious liberty, and, in the opinion of the A. P. A., it is unwise nd unsafe to appoint or elect to a civil, political or military office men who owe supreme allegiance to any foreign king, entate or ecclesiastical power, and who have sworn to obey such power. A free school organization is favored as a foremost principle, and opposition is, to be offered to all attempts to supplant it by sectarian institution The election of officers took place yesterday, but owing to the secret policy in vogue they were not given out fo

Schedule of Liabilities of the Children's Endowment Company. In the district court yesterday the schedule of liabilities of the Children's Endowment society was filed, the total amount of the indebtedness being placed at $253,843.90. Of this sum the greater part was incurred in writing policies, and in the amount named above the following items are included: Personal tax, $1,025; salary and commissions, $489.50; matured policies, $1.460.75, and minor items which go to make the total amount of this indebtedness $3,021.11. This is, of course, to be deducted from the total liabilities, and because of the nature of the corporation is practically a preferred claim. tion is practically a preferred claim, which will be paid dollar for dollar. This leaves the liabilities of the society, which are to be paid on a pro rata basis, at $250,822.79. The total amount of resources with which to meet this indebtedness is slightly over $150,-000, if the assets come up to the values given in the schedule. On this basis every stockholder will receive about 60 cents on the dollar on the amount paid into the corporation.

The table of liabilities as made up is on the amount paid in. If it were made up on the face value of the policies held it would amount to about $3,500,000, and the resources would be but a drop in the bucket. The returns to the stock-holders, compared with the face value of their policies, would be about 5 per cent. However, it is held by the assignee that the society is in the nature of a co-operative or mutual insurance company, and that each policy holder is a stockholder, the face values of the stock issued being the total capital stock and the amount paid on the share being

St. Anthony Property Involved

Over Wrong Survey Line s. Yesterday a suit of ejectment was begun before Judge Hicks in chambers. The suit was brought by Amelia Turton against Charles E. Herman and others, and the property involved is the south half of lots 1 and 2 in St. Anthony addition. The trouble was caused by a difference ir the surveys of that part of the city. Judge Hicks, after hearing a portion of the testimony, decided he could not continue the hearing until he had heard the evidence of B. W. Bronson, who made the original survey of the tract in 1849. The case will be taken up again Monday, when Mr. Bronson will be present. The surveys by which the transfers of the property have been made were made in 1876 by Samuel H. Baker and J. H. Gilmore. The matter of a difference in surveys is a serious one, and interests all the property owners in the vicinity. The southern part of the addition is owned by the park board, having been con-demned for the east bank parkway.

The original survey made the streets run at right angles, and the revision of Mr. Baker corrected the error, and made the streets run according to sectio lines. This makes a difference in the two surveys of about twenty-five feet in the northeastern part of the plat. The original survey of Mr. Bronson was made in 1849, and the tract was an isolated six of the solution of t ated piece of land at that time." Cooke also made surveys of the same land in 1857 to 1864, which he compiled at that time into maps he now possesses

NORTH SIDE LIBRARY

Opened Yesterday Under Most Auspicious Circumstances. The new branch-of the public library on the North side was auspiciously opened yesterday atternoon and evening with a reception which was attended by many prominent citizens. The new building is a model of its kind, the interior being finished in polished oak, and is divided in the most modern style and after the manner lately adopted in public libraries Last evening a special programme was provided, consisting of informal speeches and addresses, with music and refreshments. A. T. Ankeny, chairman the building committee, stated the cost, and the keys were turned over to Librarian Hosmer, who will in turn offered the free use of the structure and contents to the citizens. The trust wa accepted, and congratulatory remarks were made. The members of the library board present were Mayor Eustis, Prof. Northrop, Prof. Oftedahl, E. M. Johnson, A. M. Goodrich, C. R. The detectives tell a very straight story, which is corroborated by Yore's own testimony, who justifies himself for his action on the ground that he was influenced by them to commit the crime, but he failed to make his story clear on a number of points. The trial will probably be concluded today. It is said that great pressure has been said that great pressure has been brought to bear on Mr. Roberts by Yore's friends and relatives to settle the case, which he has steadily refused to do on the grounds that this is not the only case that he has had to contend with, and considers some one should be made an example of, not only for his own protection, but other merchants.

CHLORIDE OF SODIUM.

The Salt Ordinance, Recently Passed, Declared Invalid.

At a recent meeting of the city council an ordinance prohibiting the sprinkling of salt and sand on street car tracks was passed. It was declared that the custom of the street railway company in putting the salt and sand on its tracks was operating a nuisance, inasmuch as it ruined the sleighing on the streets. In spite of this ordinance the company continued as before, and yesterday Vice President C. C. Goodrich was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Edwin Coaley, a Central avenue feed man. The latter swore that the sleighing in front of his store was ruined, and his trade suffered in consequence.

Mr. Goodrich was arraigned yesterday afternoon before Judge Mahoney in the municipal court. It did not take long for the ordinance to be declared void, and the case to be dismissed. Judge Mahoney held that the ordi-nance was invalid for the reason it was specifically directed against the street railway company, and was therefore class legislation. It prohibited one corporation from doing what others were permitted to do. Should the ordinance at any time be amended so that its application becomes general, it will no doubt be valid.

A BRILLIANT AFFAIR. Annual Banquet of the Lumber

Association.

The second floor of the West hotel presented an animated and brilliant appearance last night, the occasion being the third annual banquet and ball of the Mississippi Valley Lumber, Sash and Door Salesmen's association. The courtly knights of the association and their fair ladies were out in full numbers, and a most delightful evening was passed. The banquet, per se, was served in the matchless manner customary with Col. West, and the cuisine of the hotel was taxed for dainty delicaces. Following the sumptuous repast dencing was participated in and a most dancing was participated in and a most enjoyable evening was passed.

The most important action of the meeting was the adoption of an amend-ment to the constitution, making it the duty of the secretary to endeavor to secure positions for traveling men out of imployment, and to bring the employer and salesman closer together in this The plan has been adopted by Eastern associations and has worked advantageously. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, H. H. Collins, St. Paul; vice president, E. A. Landon, St. Louis; secretary, Platt B. Walker, Jr., Minneapolis; treasurer, H. B. Waite, Minneapolis; directors, E. C. Shevlin and Richard Butler.

A rumor gained currency yesterday afternoon to the effect that Menage, the defaulting president of the Guaranty Loan company, and a fugitive from justice, had been arrested in South America. The same report has it that a factional fight has arisen between the adherents of the other candidates, and in this con nection it is stated that charges have been made against McCafferty by Chris O'Brien. A Gambling Debt.

Suit was commenced yesterday by James Sheerin, of St. Paul, against the First National Bank of Minneapolis to enforce the payment of a certificate of deposit for $300, made out to Emil V. Bogren. The latter lost the certificate, together with considerable cash, in a poker game at St. Paul. On Dec. 11 Sheerin and Bogren entered the bank, and the former turned over the certificate expecting to get the money on it. Bogren, however, ordered the bank to retain possession of the certificate, which was done. Now Sheerin sues the bank. The defense sets up a counter claim for $110, the amount of cash Bogren claims to have lost to Sheerin. The latter stated on the witness stand that he bought the certificate from James Turner, of St. Paul.

MAYOR EUSTIS AND BRADISH.

Both Gentlemen Had Their Portraits Reversed - Fahey Appointed Street Commissioner of the Ninth Ward-The Mayor's Veto Availed Him Nothing-A Resolution Passed Over His Head.

The meeting of the city council last night was tame in comparison with its predecessors. The one matter that was expected to create some diversion for the spectators passed off serenely, though Ald. Bradish of the Ninth ward was considerably worsted. He expected to have his candidate, Amasi H. Weeks, elected street commissioner, and made a facetious speech in nominating him Ald, McGuire nominated the present incumbent, Edward Fahey, and had the felicity of seeing him elected by a vote of 18 to 8. Ald. Bradish and Mr. Weeks were not in it. The former, in consequence, feels chagrined, and made no attempt last night to hide his discomfiture. It was a case of his own

Supt. Snyder, of the poor department, submitted a report of the disbursement of the $2,000 from the contingent fund for the relief of the poor. The report was satisfactory to the council.

Ald. McAllister bobbed up again as a reformer. He submitted two ordinances for first reading. The first one is quite a departure from the routine of the council, and will no doubt meet with considerable opposition on part of the saloonkeepers, against whom it is directed. The ordinance provides that between the hours of 12 midnight and 5 in the morning all curtains, shades, screens or other obstructions must be removed from the windows and doors of sa cons. In fact, everything must be open so that the interior of saloons will be exposed to the view from the outside. The ordinance also prohibits female "box workers" and waitresses in concert halls or saloons. The other ordinance amended the old one relative to selling liquors in or adjacent to buildings where the atrical performances are given. The amendment knocked of the worl'ad jacent," and allows sawons to be conducted in buildings that are not used for theatricals, even though they be ad-

When the matter of the mayor's veto of the Twelfth ward engine house lot came up, Ald. Rollins remarked that when his honor stated he (Rollins) was aware at the time of choosing the lot that another and better one could be purchased for less money he lied-deliberately lied. At the meeting of the council two weeks ago the veto was sent in and disposed of in such a manner that an opportunity of passing it over the mayor's head could be taken advantage of. Ald. Lackey, in speaking on the question last night, stated that the insurance men who signed the petition against locating the engine house in the Twelfth ward had done so under a misapprehension. They had been told when the petition was presented to them that it was a paper asking for a house in the Tenth ward. The matter had been misrepresented to them, that was all. The result of the whole thing was that the mayor's por-trait was turned to the wall, to use a fig-urative term of speech. Nineteen of the aldermen voted to pass the resolution in spite of his veto and long communication. The nineteen votes were sufficient, and the Twelfth ward engine house will be built. When the affair was all over Ald. Rollins, with a grin on his face, which spread from ear to on his face which spread from ear to ear, said:

"I wonder if he (meaning the mayor will take a tumble now. He ought to know that when a 'skunk' is cornered he will fight."

The alderman had reference to the interview in a newspaper in which the mayor referred to him as the odoriferous pole cat. Ald. Rollins states that if the mayor refuses to sign the warrant for the payment of the lot, he will secure a writ of mandamus compelling him to do so.

Somebody's Baggage.

A little bundle of humanity was lifted off the train from Owanatonna, last night, at the union depot. A tag was attached to the bundle, announcing that "Hannah Dahl was destined to the car of F. C. Goodale, 128 Seventh street north." The little girl is a waif and came from the state school at Owatonna. Mr. Goodale was not at the depot, so the little tot was taken to the central station, where she was turned over to Matron Paine. Later in the evening Mr. Goodale was notified and presented himself at the station, where Hannah was turned over to him. She is ive years old and very pretty,

The court house officials state that hereafter the four Harris murder suspects will be allowed to mingle with the rest of the prisoners at the county jail. John Moshik and James Rogan, the alleged highwaymen arrested by the inspectors several days ago on charge of robbing suburban residents and farmers, were arraigned in the police court yesterday. Their cases were continued until today, owing to the absence of several witnesses. sponding week in '93, and 137,690 in '92. Ald. W. B. Woodward, of the Seventh ward, returned yesterday from a trip to Maine, whither he went to visit his mother, who was very ill. She has now recovered. Frank Griswold, the young boy who fell over the banisters at the Holland school Thursday afternoon, sustaining a fractured skull, was reported yesterday as recovering. The jury in the case of Lydia Hull vs.

the street railway company was dis-charged yesterday morning, being unable to agree. The case is one of damages for injuries received. W. S. Pattee, an old resident of Minneapolis, died Thursday night at his residence at 311 Eighth street south. The deceased was a prominent contract-

The fire in the Peterson furniture store on Sixth street Thursday night caused a greater loss than was expected. The loss on the stock will aggregate $2,000, and it will take several hundred dollars to repair the building. The second trial of the case of Jonas F. Brown against Eli B. Ames to recover the sum of $8,433.01 on one of the Elisha Morse forged notes, was decided in favor of the plaintiff. The case will be appealed. Mr. and Mrs. Kendal are sure of rousing reception at the Grand next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The engagement will open with "A Scrap of Paper," and will be followed by "The Ironmaster" and "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray."

For Protection of Protestants and Not Persecution of Catholics. HAMILTON, Ont., Jan. 26 .- The main body of the Protestant Protective association convention, which has been in session here this week, adjourned early this morning. The installation of the newly elected officers occupied a long time, the ceremonies and obligations being of a varied character. The latter are said to be very strong, covering several closely printed pages. The retiring grand president performed the duties of installation. Arguments that the society is one for protection of the interests Protestants and not for the persecution of Roman Catholics prevailed, and this resolution, which was deemed the most vital one before the convention, was carried. The missionary board of the Loyal Protestant (or Patriotic) Women's association, which has been in session jointly with the P. P. A., also concluded its labors today. The board has decided to eschew politics, in which it had here-tofore interested itself, and to give an undivided zeal to the conversion of Roman Catholics throughout Canada to evangelical Christianity.

The sale includes 30,000 acres of ore land, 2,000 city lots, ore crushing works, furnaces, three factories, two hotels and other property. Fort Payne was the first experiment of a number of New England capitalists to found a city in the South. After a number of millions of dollars had been sunk in the enterprise it was abandoned as a complete failure. The city was constructed on careful plans. Last July when prospects were rosiest, the crash came. The purchase money will be divided among the holders of the preferred stock and the Old Colony Trust company, of Bos ton, which holds a $300,000 mortgage. from the palace to the depot by a strong detachment of cuirassiers and by all the members of the general staff, as well as by a number of generals.

Butte (Mont.) Miner. peror warmly shook Prince Bismarck's hand at the door of the carriage. The same scenes of enthusiasm upon the part of the populace which were wit-nessed during the passage of Prince Rismarck from the railread station to the palace upon his arrival here were epeated during the passage of the prince and emperor from the palace back to the railroad station.

Upon parting with Prince Bismarck, Emperor William repeatedly kissed the veteran upon both cheeks, and, after the latter had entered the railroad carriage, the emperor turned to Count Her-bert von Bismarck and addressed a few words to him, the first in a very long while. The emperor then resumed his conversation with Prince Bismarck, who leaned out of the carriage window bareleaned out of the carriage window bare-headed in order to converse with his majesty. This exhibition of good feel-ings between the emperor and the prince called forth loud cheers from the persons assembled in the depot, and then the whole assemblage joined in singing "DeutscheHeber Alles." As the train drew out of the depot there was a train drew out of the depot there was a perfect storm of "hochs," to which ap-plause Prince Bismarck smiled and bowed. Count Herbert von Bismarck and Count William von Bismarck, as well as Dr. Schweninger, accompanied the prince back to Friedrichsruhe. Dozens of large bouquets of flowers were placed in the prince's carriage before it drew out of the depot. Emperor William was loudly cheered upon leaving the railroad station, and on his way back to the palace.

Prince Bismarck's Departure From Friedrichsruhe for the Capital. BERLIN, Jan. 26 .- A dispatch from Friedrichsruhe, received here today, was the signal for an outburst of cheering when its contents were made known in front of the different newspaper offices, in the clubs and in other public places, for it announced that Prince Bismarck, ex-chancellor of the German empire, the man of blood and iron, had started for Berlin at 9:30 a. m., in order to cement the reconciliation which had taken place between the emperor and himself, after four long years of bitter-

Prince Bismarck, when he left the castle of Friedrichsruhe, was accompanied by Princess Bismarck, Count Herbert Bismarck, and Drs. Schweninger and Chrysander. The whole neighborhood of Friedrichsruhe turned out to cheer the veteran statesman, as he departed for Berlin, and six beautiful young girls. dressed entirely in white, presented the prince with a handsome laurel wreath, nscribed:

"A happy journey."
These six young girls also carried large baskets of flowers, and they preceded Prince Bismarck's party to the railroad station, strewing the road with flowers, amid the vociferous cheering of the immense crowds which lined the route, and did their utmost to make the veteran statesman feel that he had a large share of the hearts of PATRIOTIC GERMANS.

Prince Bismarck were the uniform of the Magdeburger Yellow Cuirassiers, the corps he loved so well, and whose uniform he has been so frequently pictured as wearing. Over his uniform the prince wore a heavy fur overcoat, and upon his head was the traditional German army officer's cap. The prince seemed greatly pleased with the honors extended to him and shock bards with extended to him, and shook hands with many of those who gathered at the railroad station in order to see him off. As the train left the depot crowds as-sembled and broke out into loud cries of.

"Auf frohes wiedersehen." Previous to the departure of the prince and his party from the castle of Friedrichsruhe, an atmosphere of most pleasurable excitement prevailed there, and in fact this delightful feeling had prevailed at Friedrichten. day, when the aid de camp of the em-

The train, engine and railroad depot were gaily decorated with flowers and

In Berlin itself the people were astir at a much earlier hour than usual, and the streets soon became filled with peo
