Loyal Legion Enjoys Speeches

Songs and stories. The Minnesota commandery of the Loyal Legion of the United States held its stated meeting at the Hotel Ryan last night. The members of this dignified body of men met at 6:30 o'clock and the board of officers a half hour earlier. The regular dinner was served at 7:30. After supplying the wants of the inner mau, Byt. Maj. William Duncan, captain of the Tenth Illinois cavalry, read an instructive paper on "The Army of the Tennessee Under Gen. O.

O. Howard." It dealt in reminiscence, and covered experiences of the reader. He was listened to with rapt attention as he told of the perilous part he played in Sherman's march to the sea. The assembled members cheered him to the echo as he concluded. A unanimous vote of thanks was extended Capt.

It was stated by ex-Gov. Marshall that Gen. Sherman makes complimentary and commendatory mention of Capt. Duncan's part in the war in his valued memoirs. This brought out another round of applause.

Gen. Sanborn made an address, reviewing the memories of the past. He was followed by Bvt. Brig. Gen. Edwin C. Mason, United States volunteers, colonel Third United States infantry, who is department commander. He paid an eloquent tribute to Gen. Howard. Col. Mason was succeeded by Gen. R.N. Adams, chaplain of the commandery, who also eulogized Gen. Howard, and Gen. C. C. Andrews made a few remarks.

Judge Torrance, of Minneapolis, was the next speaker. He referred to members who have gone to their long rest. He spoke feelingly of Dr. J. H. Murphy, Kev. E. D. Neill and W. H. Dixon. He suggested that pictures of dead comrades like these should be framed, and that an honored list of the departed ones should be hung where all could see it. He said he honored the names of Grant and Logan and others, but he of Grant and Logan and others, but he loved these others, for he knew them. Capt. D. M. Gilmore, of Minneapolis, then related an incident of the battle of with singing by the hoary-headed veterans, of patriotic songs in chorus. Mr. Merrill, with his excellent tenor, added to the pleasure of the occasion.

Announcement was made that at the

Samuel Appleton, sung in negro dialect "Old Noan," the members joining heartily in the chorus, in a manner that left nothing to be desired. Throughout the occasion was one calculated to inspire the purest enthusiasm. spire the purest enthusiasm.

Among the distinguished guests present were: Lieut. Kichard G. Davenport, U. S. N., Maj., S. T. Norwell, U. S. N., W. W. Dunning, Hon. Dar S. Hall and others. There were about one hundred

CHORAL SUCCESS.

"Elijah" Performed to the Largest Audience of the Season.

The Choral association gave Mendelscohn's oratorio, "Elijah," last evening in the People's church to the largest audience of the season, thus testifying to the popularity both of the association and the work. The dramatic power of this oratorio has never been surpassed, and the reason why the "Messiah" holds a higher place is due to its text, not to musical superiority. Instead of writing strict fugues throughout, a free fan-taisie is continued after the introduction of the theme, giving a warmer treatment, and resembling more in tonal effect the sacred opera style of "Samson drilled, and conducted in Mr. Baldwin's usual vigor and intelligence. The Baal choruses were particularly fine, the heavy masses and delicate shadings being well colored. The effective orchestration in this part is one of the beautiful things in the oratorio, the bassoons having a peculiar power. The closing chorus of Part 1. ranks in writing with the "Hallelujah" chorus of "The Messiah."

Among the soloists Plunkett Greene was the Elijah, and was awarded the honers. His voice is a marvelously honers. His voice is a marvelously pure basso, with a beauty and nobility of tone that admirably adapts it to oratorio work. His singing was even throughout, though perhaps the famous "It Is Enough" might rank first. The cantabile in it was beautiful, and the closing nuance perfect.

Mrs. Annie Rommeis-Thacker has been heard in the alto work before. She is a member of the famous Chicago Ladies' Quartette of Rommeis Sisters. She has evidently been developing

BUSINESS AND PLEASURE.

Commercial Club Holds a Delight ful Monthly Meeting.

The Commercial club last evening held one of its most successful monthly socials and business meetings. The ousiness session was devoted mostly to he public library question. E. S. Chittenden and J. G. Pyle submitted reports strongly favoring the acceptance of the Mannheimer proposition. Mr. Pyle gave the gratifying information that the committee had secured the subscription of $1,100, and had about $500 in sigh that could be depended upon. He said that to attain the desired end it is nec essary that there shall be a complete open-handedness; the subscriptionmust not be conditioned upon this and that, but given as an evidence of public

Prof. Bryant, president of the school teachers' association, stated that the body he represented is in harmony with the idea and will subscribe $300. After President Footner had exhorted he members to show their colors by subscribing as liberally as possible F. L. Bancroft, head of the entertain-ment committee, took the chair, and the supplementary social began. Popular overtures and interludes were provided by the St. Anthony Hill orchestra. Franklyn W. Lee gave Irish, Hebrew and Swedish imitation of a humorous character. Al Flournoy, the raconteur, sang the "Song of All Nations" with admirable dialectic effect, and responded to an encore with "Move On!" Charlie Fair-child told some of his hilarious stories child told some of his hilarious stories to the tune of encores. Mr. Bancroft is a clever magician, and turned a few clever tricks. A. B. Mallett and H. C. Hirschy gave a spirited ten-minute fencing exhibition. Recitations and stories by Fairchild, Lee and Samuel Brant closed the evening.

ST. PAUL PRESBYTERY,

annual Session Begins Today a House of Hope. The annual meeting of the St. Paul presbytery opens this morning at 10 o'clock at the House of Hope. Last light divine service was held in that church at which the retiring moderator,-Rev. J. P. Hearst, gave a farewell ad dress. Following this was the celebra tion of the holy communion, and the service closed with the singing of a hymn. The first business session will be held at 10 a. m. today, and will con-tinue all day. At the morning session the election of officers for the coming year will take place.

PRACTICAL PAPERS.

Northwest Railway Club Met at the Ryan.

The monthly meeting of the Northwest Railway club was held at the Hotel Ryan last night. E. A. Williams, mechanical superintendent of the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway company, read a practical pa-per on "Care of Passenger Trains at Terminals." The subject selected for topical discussion was "Compound Lo-comotives—Are Their Records in the Northwest Meeting Expectations?" The meeting was well attended and much interest manifested. The next meeting will occur on the second Tuesday of next month, May 8.

That the tide has turned is generally conceded. The recent periodical spasm of depression reached high-water mark in 1893. In the rebound, discerning minds plainly see days and years of prosperous activity. St. Paul may be congratulated upon having stood firm as a rock through the recent commercial upheaval.

So much for the past. Let us turn to the future.

1894 promises to be a good crop year. For a year past light orders have been placed for stocks of merchandise. Empty shelves must soon be replenished—largely from St. Paul. The recently opened line of the Great Northern railroad to the Pacific coast means a material expansion of our trade. The rapid development of the lake carrying tonnage means cheaper fuel and rates on merchandise from the East. Our rapidly developing manufacturing and industrial enterprises point to an increased population, greater prosperity of the laboring classes, and a vast increase in the volume of our business yearly.

Our banks, jobbing houses, and all classes of business men are upon a sound footing. Our sails having been trimmed and the financial storm weathered, St. Paul invites the Northwest to its doors with the new era of brightening skies, points with pride to its record as the Commercial Metropolis of the new Northwest, and assures all friends, competitors and patrons of a continuance of that spirit of fair dealing which has made the city great.
