BURIAL OF COL. ROBERTSON.

Many Old Friends Pay Their Last Respects to the Deceased. The funeral of the late Col. D. A. Robertson was held at 2:30 yesterday afternoon from the family residence on Laurel avenue, and a large gathering of friends was present to pay their last respects to the deceased. The ceremonies were conducted by Rev. Mr. Andrews, rector of Christ church. The pall-bearers were: Samuel O. Stickney, William N. Armstrong and four of Col. Robertson's Isons-Nathaniel P. Langford, Os car R. Stevenson, William R. Langford and William R. Stevenson Among those who attended the funeral were many pioneer residents who knew Col. Robertson in the trying years when St. Paul was but a village.

The ceremonies were impressive. DOESN'T WANT MUCH.

Broke Into the St. Paul Workhouse During the Past Year

THERE WERE MANYQUAKERS

Of a Different Sort in the Large Number of Drunks and Vags

WHO FEASTED ON BOLOGNA

And Other Hog-Like Delicacies--Statistics Are Interesting.

Of numerous annual reports submitted to the mayor yesterday by various heads of city departments that of the St. Paul workhouse was the most interesting. It was so, because, unlike the others, no portion of it has been previously published, and, furthermore, because it contains some statistics concerning our "drunks," "vags" and "disorderlies," which human nature finds far more entertaining than, for instance, the worthy city engineer's annual statement of how hany days' work per man, per cart, the department can show, or how many miles of sewer his inspector has explored.

For instance, figures like these are diverting: Of the 1,273 men and women received at the workhouse during the year 1894, only ninety nine belonged to the gentler sex. Statistics like "those" should cause the lords of creation to think of the difference. Of these 1,273 infractors of the law one was a Quaker. Alas for the Quakers! It might be added that 624 professed to be Catholics, 494 Protestants, 6 Hebrews and 148 said that they had not had the benefit of any religious instruction. Possibly some of these latter, not knowing any better, lied. The report does not state.

Whisky is still on top, with its inevitable effect, "vagrancy," a close second, for there were 495 "drunks" and 327 "vags" admitted during the year. Some of the 211 "disorderly conducts" received might owe their incarceration to whisky or its equivalent. For appropriating other people's cash, clothing and other belongings, in a sum less than $25, 145 visited the resort at Como.

Ability to read and write does not seem to have kept 1,199 of the crowd out of the workhouse, while 71, who possessed neither accomplishment, and 3, who could, like some police officers, read a trifle, but

SCORNED TO WRITE, fell in the same predicament.

Of the entire 1,273, 557 called themselves "laborers." Of the remainder, 32 admitted they were cooks, 53 said they were teamsters, 31 were bricklayers, and 17 owned up to being barbers. Asked if they drank intoxicating beverages, 1,175 confessed that they had contracted the pleasurable habit, but the other 98 insisted that they were temperate. "Ten dollars or ten days," was the sentence of 475 who didn't have the $10, and 447 remained with Supt. Fitzgerald for thirty days because they didn't have $25. There were 79 sent up for ninety days, and 3 stayed at the workhouse for a whole year. The actual number in the workhouse during the year was 1,385.

From a business standpoint, the "work'us" did well. It was self-sustaining, and paid into the city treasury $5,772.24. It is entitled to credit for labor to the amount of $17,041.40, which makes an aggregate credit of $22,813.64. The institution drew $23,653.21 from the treasury, leaving a balance to the exense account of $839.57. Had not the drouth last summer destroyed the produce of the farm, the earnings would have been considerably larger. In their report, the directors compliment Supt. Fitzgerald highly for his efficient administration. There was only one death among the prisoners in the entire year, and the general health of the inmates was good, likewise their deportment. The knitting shop earned $8,666.66, and the average number of prisoners was 100.51 per day.

CITIZENS RESPOND NOBLY

To the Appeal From Health Com missioner Stone-No New Cases Have Developed.

Health Commissioner Stone says that private contributions for the benefit of the quarantined inmates of 364 Rice street are beginning to be received, but that more are needed. Hiler Horton was one of the first to respond to Dr. Stone's suggestion that citizens able to donate provisions to these unfortunate people should do so. Mr. Hor-ton gave an order for groceries and meats upon Michaud Bros. and the Spangenberg Meat company. These concerns triplicated the order as to each item, thus providing for other families in the block. Yesterday Mr. Mahler, of Field, Mahler & Co., contributed $10 to be expended in provisions for one of the families. There are eight families in the building, and ome of them are still in need of provisions, and it is hoped that the contributions will continue.

Citizens should be informed that the period of quarantine is uncertain, as should any new case of small-pox break out in the block within two weeks all the other inmates must be confined for fourteen days after the exposure to that case. For instance, the quarantine at 364 Rice street was instituted the instant the health department discovered that Mrs. Leidgen was a victim of small-pox. That was about March 9. If no other case had made its appearance in the block within fourteen days, the inmates and their apartments would be disinfected, and the quarantine terminated. But last Saturday Mrs. Leidgen's child was attacked by the disease and removed to the quarantine hospital. Consequently the quarantine of the premises is coming two weeks the quarantine will

Ald. Hare Introduces a Resolution Making It a Misdemeanor

TO HABITUALLY WASTE TIME

Or to Frequent Houses of Ill Fame or Questionable Resorts.

AND NO WANDERING GOES.

Aldermen Find a Way Out of the Hospital Contract Puzzle.

If the ordinance introduced by Ald. Hare at the meeting of the board of aldermen last evening should become a law of the city of St. Paul, an honest man or woman looking for honest work would be subject to arrest at the hands of a policewill in all probability never be recorded among the ordinances in effect, there is not much occasion for alarm.

The board had dispatched considerable routine business when the ordinance was read. In explanation cagni, to which Mrs. D. S. Colville of it Ald. Hare said that he had introduced it at the request of Chief of Police Clark, in order to provide the city with a law that would enable the authorities to reach and deal with the immoral, dishonest and suspicious characters who infest the city, and whom the police are now powerless to control or apprehend. The vital sections of the ordinance are as follows:

Section 1. Any person or persons who shall habitually waste or misspend his or her time and frequent houses of ill-fame or any questionable resort or resorts, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor

Sec. 2. Any person or persons who shall wander about the streets or any other public place in a suspicious or improper manner, or being idle, does not make an honest attempt to pro cure employment, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Sec. 3. Any person or persons who has no visible means of support or who has no lawful means of support shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Sec. 4. Any person or persons of evil or idle fame or reputation who shall have upon his or her person any sum of money the lawful procurement of which he or she cannot account for

SHALL BE GUILTY of a misdemeanor. Then follows the section providing a punishment not exceeding a fine of $100, or imprisonment for more than ninety days.

As soon as the clerk had read the ordinance, Ald. Ehrmanntraut moved that it be referred to the city attorney, and the motion prevailed. The second section renders it unconstitutional in the opinion of the city attorney. The first matter to come before the board was a communication from the mayor, stating that he had appointed Assemblyman Parker, president of the common council, as the official representative of the city to attend the launching of the Atlantic steamship "St. Paul" at Philadelphia next Monday. The communication was received and placed on file, and then Ald. Markham offered a resolution providing that the president of each body appoint a committee of four to repre-sent the city upon this occasion. the board. P. Borden, a citizen of Inver Grove, sent in a vigorous protest against the dumping of St. Paul garbage in that bailiwick. Mr. Borden accused the garbage contractor of dumping garbage and dead animals in the 'thickly settled portion" of Inver Grove township, and requested the council to in-vestigate the matter and abate the nuisance, otherwise he would bring an action against the city for damages. The protest was referred to the joint mittee on garbage. Shortly after this the resolution was adopted giving the garbage committee supervision of the collection and dis position of garbage, and the authority to employ a man from month to month to inspect the work of the garbage contractor at a salary not to exceed $50 a month. Comptroller McCardy submitted on the office of "sewer inspector" is not designated in the charter, therefore the employment of such an officer "is not in accordance with the provisions of the charter." The matter was referred to the corporation attorney, who will remedy the technical defeat, and Mr. remedy the technical defeat, and Mr. Symonds can draw his pay without assuming the title so offensive to Messrs. McCardy and Reardon.

The bond of Hennessey Bros. Cox accompanying their contract for the paying of Sixth street with Bermuda asphalt was, upon motion of Ald. Hare, referred to the committee on streets. This action was taken because the Warren-Scharf company, of cause the Warren-Scharf company, of New York, whose bid on Trinidad asphalt for the same contract was over $1,000 higher, maintain that the Bermuda asphalt is of an inferior quality, and it was thought only fair to give both sides a hearing. A proposition was received from one B. F. Gilkison to lease Market hall for a family theater or Eden Muse to be conducted on a moral basis and to constitute a cheap theater for the working people of the city. Mr. Gil-kison offers to pay a rental of $3,000 a year for two or five years. The offer was referred to the committee on pub-lie buildings. Preliminary orders for paving Broadway, from Third street to Seventh; Sibley, from Fourth to the union depot; Fifth, from Broadway to Third; Wabasha, from the bridge to College to Pleasant avenue, were all referred to the committee on streets. Materials were not specified. A preliminary order for paving Rice street, from Como avenue to Front street, with asphalt, was passed. The final act of the board last night was to adopt a resolution allowing the mayor a contingent fund of $500. The assembly killed a resolution from the board some months ago allowing the mayor a contingent fund of $200.

PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT

Given at Central Presbyterian Church by the Choir. The concert given at the Central Presbyterian church last night, under the auspices of the choir, was a very great musical success. The young mer of the choir of this church have been indefatigable in their efforts to raise noney for the organ fund, and they have given a number of entertainments during the present season for the pur-pose. These concerts have all been extremely well-planned, and the programme presented last night was quite as varied and entertaining as that of any of the former occasions. The overture by Prof. Wheaton, "La Grande Duchesse de Gerolstein," by Offenbach, and the opening number of the second part of the programme, an organ solo, also by Prof. Wheaton, were both much enjoyed. They were given in the best style of the master of the instrument. County Attorney Butler's View of the Arguments of Counsel.

Thomas Hyland was yesterday tried in Judge Kerr's court, on the charge of embezzling $125 from the Adams Express company. The case of the railway employe." was tried before Judge Kerr because and influential Democrat, Mr. Egan | Judge Kelly was engaged hearing civil cases, in the absence of Judge Willis, and besides Judge Kelly's son was attorney for the defendant. The circumstances of the case, as claimed by the state, are as follows:

> a year ago, when John P. Cook, of Beatrice, Neb., sent through the express company, addressed to his father, who lived in Loomis, Wash., a package containing $125. The package came to St. Paul and passed! packages did. Owing to some question about the address, it being written "Loomiston," Hyland was instructed to hold the package for a time and await instructions. The instructions finally came to send it to Loomis. Hyland claims he did send it, turning it over to the North- $75,000 in full, as it is a preferred ern Pacific Express company, but the latter denies having received it. and also denies ever having used for such transactions block receipts, such as the one Hyland claimed he received. The case was given to the jury at :45 o'clock last evening, and up to 3 this morning no verdict had been reached, which goes to show that the jury must have looked on the arguments in the same light the count attorney did.
