Charge for the Failure to Turn Over About One Thousand Dollars of the Money in Her Charge Woman on Trial on a Crimina -Jury Quickly Secured - The News of Minneapolis.

Mary Horrigan, once treasurer of the Woman's Relief corps, department of Minnesota, was yesterday morning placed on trial before Judge Lancaster and a jury for the alleged embezzle ment of $1,027 of the corps' funds. After the selection of a jury the state called as its first witness Mrs. Melissa Baldwin, who testified to the election Baldwin, who testified to the election of Mrs. Horrigan to the treasurership. Charles P. Silloway testified that he had examined the treasurer's books, discovering that the amount that should have been turned over by Mrs. Horrigan to her successor was $1,018.42. Mrs. Mary A. Silloway, after giving some minor testimony as to the method of the collection and the disbursement of funds, stated that just after od of the collection and the disbursement of funds, stated that just after the discovery of the shortage she had had a conversation with Mrs. Horrigan. She had said: "Mrs. Horrigan, how were you tempted?" To this Mrs. Horrigan had replied: "Don't ask me." A few minutes later, Mrs. Silloway testified, Mrs. Bissell, who was also present, had asked about a conversation with regard to the transfer of the corps' funds from one bank to the other and had also asked if Mrs. Horrigan had not had the money then.

other and had also asked if Mrs, Horrigan had not had the money then. She had replied that she had not. Mrs. Horrigan, who sat with her attorney, was visibly affected while Mrs. Silloway was on the stand.

Mrs. Baldwin was recalled and testified that she had received a letter from Mrs. Horrigan last March asking her to call. She had gone and upon arriving at Mrs. Horrigan's home had been shown to her room, where she been shown to her room, where she found Mrs. Horrigan lying upon her bed apparently much troubled. Upon inquiry she had said that she had drawn $900 of the corps' money from the bank, had placed it in three separate packages and hidden it under the carpet. The next morning it was some Later the same morning the way the carpet. The next morning it was gone. Later the same morning Mrs. Horrigan, the witness claimed, had told her that she could account for $300, having used it, but the balance she could not account for.

The report made by the committee is mainly the work of Representative McCleary, of Minnesota, chalrman of the special subcommittee that framed the bill. It summarizes the ultimate operation of the bill as fol-

"The bill looks ultimately to the elimina-tion of government paper money from circu-lation. With the withdrawal of bonded se-curity also, the ultimate currency of the country will consist of gold and silver coin of full legal tender power and notes issued by the banks, under the provisions of the proposed bill.

by the banks, under the provisions of the proposed bill.

"The growth in the wealth of the country and in its ability to retain at home a large portion of the great gold production of the United States, will tend to swell the gold resources of the country until gild coin is likely to become a common factor in daily exchange among the people. This condition of affairs will operate at once to simplify and strengthen the currency system and to increase the security afforded by the proposed law to the holders of bank notes.

"The banks will be required, when reserventes and legal tender notes have alike disappeared, to furifil all requirements of law calling for lawful money by keeping gold and silver coin, and the present quantity of silver is likely to be so completely absorbed for retail exchanges that the bank reserve will consist almost entirely of gold. This being the case it is obvious that the issue of a banking currency based purely on assets without either bonds or reserve notes will involve no risk of undue inflation or of loss to the note holder."

OFF SANTIAGO, June 14, by the Associated Press Dispatch Boat Dandy, via Kingston, June 15.—The U. S. S. New Orieans, having been ordered by Admiral Sampson to destroy the new battlements of El Morro, on which a large number of Spaniards had been working, took up a position at 5 o'clock this morning about 500 yards from shore and 1,000 yards from Morro battery. She opened up on the emplacements with her rapid-fire guns. Red clouds of sand rose on the hill top, where the emplacements were building. Following the fifteenth shot the Morro batteries replied with one shell that fell near the stern of the flagship New York. After twenty minutes gun practice Admiral Sampson signaled the New Orleans to cease firing. Then as she retired Morro sent ten shots after her without doing any damage.

the committee. G. Foster Peabody was added to the membership, and Henry Hentz, of New York, was chosen an alternate member.

Advices were received from Judg? Horr, vice president for Oregon, to the effect that the result of the election there was largely due to the valuable aid rendered by the league in spreading information on the money question throughout the state. The committee discussed the arrangements for the national currency convention to be held under the auspices of the league during the Omaha exposition in September. Gold, silver and paper interests would be represented by their ablest speakers. It is declared by their ablest speakers. Acid and Dies. Acid and Dies.

Herman Unterman, a tailor, living at 402
East Sixth street, ended his life shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning by drinking two ounces of carbolic acid. The act of selfdestruction was committed at Como park, where Unterman doubtless went with the determined purpose of ending his life.
Coroner Nelson investigated the case, and decided it plainly one of suicide. A bottle still containing a part of the poison was found in the closet.

Unterman was 48 years old, and worked for the Minnesota Tailoring company. He leaves a wife and five children.

The remains were taken to Cross' undertaking rooms, 187 West Seventh street. No inquest will be held.

AN AUSTRIAN FOR US.

One of the Two Lending Journals of Vienna Outspoken in Sympathy.

From the Vienna Deutsche Zei'ung. One of the saddest and most disgusting spectacles of public life is the political hypocrisy celebrating its orgies in the present war. The leading news-papers of Europe have united in a denunciation of the North American republic. Liberal conservative and clerical have made wholesale attacks on poor Uncle Sam, accusing the United States of indulging in a brutal policy of conquest and aggression. Strange it is, indeed, that these same newspapers have taken an entirely different position regarding the foreign politics of their own country, for which they are now condemning the United States. A few days ago a respectable Berlin newspaper of national tendency demanded that Germany obtain exclusive control and possession of Samoa, on the ground that German commerce in the islands in the last year had greatly shrunk. This same newspaper, howpublic. Liberal conservative and clershrunk. This same newspaper, however, in the strongest words charged the United States with fostering rapacious designs on Cuba, ignoring the fact, however, that the exports of the Union to the Pearl of the Antilles, and the democracy which it the damages which it has suffered in consequence of the Cuban war, have days transmit to local offices instructions for the sale of these lands. The lists prepared at the land office are to be published for four consecutive weeks in papers in designated localities. All lands are to be sold in forty-acre tracts to the highest bidder on the basis of the amount of timber estimated to be on each tract at not less than $3 per acre. Such tracts as are not disposed of at public sale are to be sold at private sale any time thereafter under the same conditions.

Our whole sympathy in this war is anxious to obtain fat morsels of land in China. Here the North American Union any desire also annex Cuba it would have a perfect right to do so, for geographical political, commercial, humanitarian and other reasons.

Our whole sympathy in this war is with the Union, There is hardly a family in Austria are Germany which has not some dear relatives or friends on the other side of the water, many of whom are rown preparing to shed their blood for the cause of their adopted country. Considered from a commercial standpoint, we should be careful not to antagonize the United States, especially at the present time, when our export trade is at such a low ebb.

The North American republic is a warning for all rulers and governments who are now steering into the channels of absolutism. Without the Union civic liberty in Europe would have been an impossibility. We therefore make no mistake in supposing that the sympathies of all friends of liberty are with the United States.

LIQUID HYDROGEN.

Discovery and Character of the Most Extraordinary Liquid Known.

At the meeting of the Chemical society Prof. Dewar gave a short account of the first attempts made to determine the physical contents of liquid hydregen. Among the most interesting points gen. Among the most interesting points brought forward was that just as in the middle of last century chemists were startled by Cavendish's discovery of a factitious gas, namely, hydrogen having a density of one-fourteenth that of air, so now they were startled by finding in liquid hydrogen a liquid having a density of 0.07, or roughly one-fourteenth that of water. Hydrogen occluded in palladium has been found to have a density of 0.62. Whatever, therefore, be the form in which it exists in that metal, it is more than eight times denser than in the liquid condition, and consequently must be in a state of chemical combination, and not merely in one of liquefaction. a state of chemical combination, and not merely in one of liquefaction. Liquid hydrogen is thus by far the most extraordinary liquid known. The lightest liquid hitherto obtained is liquid marsh gas, which has at its boiling point a density of about two-fifths that of water. Liquid hydrogen, therefore, has only one-sixth of the density of liquid marsh gas, and the surprising thing is that having such a small density, it is so well defined, so easily seen, and so capable of colleceasily seen, and so capable of collec-tion and manipulation in vacuum ves-

Prof. Dewar has determined the boil-Prof. Dewar has determined the boiling point of the liquid by means of a platinum resistance thermometer—practically the only form available at such low temperatures. The result he has obtained is—238 degrees centigrade at atmospheric pressure; in other words, liquid hydrogen boils steadily at 35 degrees above the zero of absolute temperature. From all analogy it is inferred that the lowering of temperature that will be produced by forcing the liquid to boil in vacuo cannot amount to more than 10 or 15 degrees. amount to more than 10 or 15 degre It is, therefore, possible to say with confidence that at the present moment science can project no method that will get nearer to the absolute zero than 20 or 25 degrees.

The boiling point of liquid hydrogen is really higher than suggested by theory and the work of other experimenters. The density of the vapor coming off from the boiling liquid is times denser than the gas at ordinary temperatures, whereas in the case of liquid air the vapor is only four times heavier. Liquid hydrogen, again, is 100 times denser than the vapor it is giving off, whereas the density of liquid oxygen is 255 times greater than that of its vapor. The atomic volume of liquid hydrogen at its boiling point is 14.3, while that of oxygen is 13.7.

It may be mentioned that the platinum resistance thermometer, when immersed in the liquid hydrogen, is cooled to within six platinum degrees zero point, so that if cooled the sure—it must break down, becoming an infinite conductor with no resistance.
