Rare-Bit Machines

This title doesn't look right, does it? And when Chafers were kept only as ornaments it was not fitting, but now the little dish is an important little machine in Chafing Dish Suppers, Chafing Dish Lunches, Chafing Dish Courses in dinners and formal lunches. May we make a suggestion? If she hasn't one she probably would like one this Christmas.

CONCERNING ROSSINI'S GOSSIP MOST POPULAR OPERA

OF OTHER DAYS SINGERS

Contrasted With Those of Today-Plans of Loca! Musicians-A New Symphony by Strauss.

Rossini's "Barber of Seville" has been added to the new edition of operas pub-Schirmer. given in vocal score, with the recitation and accompaniment written out, an English version by Natalia Macfarren, a portrait of the company and an intro-ductory essay by Mr. Krehbiel. The typographical outfit is most admirable. The introductory essay tells the story of the composition of the opera and its first performances in Rome, London, Paris and New York, and discusses Rossini's position in music eighty years ago. In it, also, we find the following bit of gossip touching the "lesson scene:"

It was an accident which gave to "Il Barbiere" the essentials of a scene which is oftener in the minds of the public when the opera is chattered about in the drawing room than any other episode in it. When Rossini wrote his opera the ectivity of publishers was not what it is An opera might have hundreds of performances without getting into print, Publication, in the modern sense, did not at all enter into the negotiations between manager and composer. The latter delivered his manuscript at a stated time, and when the opera had been prepared, conducted a prescribed number of representations. Then for a period the work longed to the theater, in the archives of which the manuscript score and parts were preserved. Composers aid not write for immortality, but for the stagione-the season—and were happy when a work outlived the carnival, the primavera or the quaresima, for which it had been written. There was nothing strange, therefore, if entire manuscripts or portions of manuscripts disappeared from the theatrical lumber room. So it happened that by the time that Rossin's "Barbiere" became a part of the musical assets of the world two of its numbers had been lost. They were the overture, for which an earlier work by the same composer has been substituted, as has already been explained, and a trio, which filled the incident now spoken of as the "Lesson Scene." Very welcome, indeed, has the hiatus caused by the loss of the trio been to the Rossinis from the early days, for it has enabled them all to interpolate the piece or pieces in which they appear to the best advantage.

A WINNING BOY.

Earns His Medals by the Use of Good Food.

A Vicksburg, Miss., boy, J. B. Smith, corner Grove and Third streets, says: "I have been studying very hard to try and beat my room in examination. have been eating oatmeal and cream for breakfast all my life. Lately when the hard study began I did not feel well enough to go to school, and there was an examination ahead of me and an exhibi-

"I was determined to go through this examination, but felt so sick all the time that I didn't know how to accomplish it. Well, mother saw the Grape Nuts food advertised, so she bought some and gave it to me for breakfast every morning, and you just ought to see what this food did

"I began to get well at once and grow hearty and fat, in spite of my hard work. Above all that I did beat my room at examination, making a general average that was the highest mark in my room I am also able to take part at the mili-tary drill tomorrow night at the exhibition and will try for the gold medal for general excellence. If you think there is any question about this you can write to Bro. Garbrial, our principal, and he will tell you that it is true."

It is of the greatest importance that parents feed their growing children, during study, on the most nourishing food possible to obtain, and there is no question on this score regarding Grape-Nuts, for the food is compounded of the ele-ments selected from the grains which go to quickly make and rebuild the brain and nerve centers. Any parent can prove this statement by feeding the children on Grape-Nuts. Obtained from any first-which have resulted from these illustrations of artistic conflict and vanity, and diverting glimpses do they give of the tastes and sensibilities of great prima denne. Grisi and Alboni, stimulated by the example of Catalani (though not in this opera), could do nothing nobler than to display their skill by spring Podes. to display their skill by singing Rode's air and variations, a violin piece, in the lesson scene. It grew hackneyed, but nevertheless survived till a later day. Bosio, feeling that variations were neces sary, threw Rode's over in favor of those on a polka tune from Alary's "Le Tre Nozze" ("Gia della mente involarmi").

Then Mme. Gassier ushered in the day of the vocal waltz-Venzano's of amiable memory. Her followers have not yet died out, though Patti substituted Arditi's "Il Bacio" for Venzano's, Mme. Sem-brich, Strauss' "Voce di primavera," and Melba, Arditi's "Se saran rose." Mme. Viradot, with a finer sense of the fitness of things, but forgetful, possibly, or not apprehensive of the fate that be-fel her father at the first performance of the opera in Rome, introduced a Spanish song. Mme. Patti always kept a ready repertory for the scene song in the vernacular to bring the enthusiasm of her auditors to a climax and an end-"Home, Sweet Home" in New an end—Home, Sweet Home in New York and London, "Solovel" in St. Peters-burg. Usually she begins with the bolero from "Les Vepres Siciliennes," or the Shadow Dance from "Dinorah." "Qui dit Rosina, pense Patti," wrote Von Lenz long ago, and many there be among the older opera-goers of today who find the saying apposite. Mme. Sembrich, living in a period when the style of song of which she and Mme. Melba are now the brightest exemplars is not as familiar as it used to be, has also found it necessary to have an extended list of pieces to satisfy the public. She may sing Proch's Air and Variations, but it will only be followed by a demand for more. Let her supplement it with "Ah! non company to the proches of the proches of the public of the publ giunge "from "La Sonnambula," the bolero from "Les Vepres Siciliennes," "O, luce di quest' anima" from "Vinla," or the vocalized waltz from Strauss-still the applause remains riotous, and yields only when the Spanish lady of the past century sits down to a planoferte of this and sings Chopin's "Maiden's Wish" in er, she supplements Arditi's wa'tz, 'Se saran rose,' or Massenet's "Sevillana" with Tosti's "Mattinata," to which she also plays an accompaniment. The St. Paul Choral association will give a sacred concert Sunday evening, Dec. 30, at the People's church. Selections from "The Messiah" will be sung.

THAT IS THE CHIEF OBJECTION OF THE REPUBLICANS TO THE ELECTION RESULTS

ONE-THIRD OF THE VOTES CAST

All of Them Were Received by the Man Who Is the Central Figure in the Contest Now Being Waged.

In view of the fact that the central figure of the contest now being waged by the Republicans to overthrow the expressed will of the voters of St. Paul, is M. J. Bell, formerly alderman of the Sixth ward, it may be well to recall that in the election held the first day of last May, he received but a little over 700 votes. M. J. Moriarty, his Democratic Opponent had a purplify of ever 700 opponent, had a plurality of over 700, and as there was a third candidate in the field, the vote for Bell was about a third of the vote in his constituency. In the face of this Bell now has the nerve to try and defeat the will of the people, aided and abetted by the Pioneer Press ed and abetted by the Pioneer Press.

The voters of the Sixth ward knew what they wanted to do with the man who is now trying, by a technical flaw, supposed to exist in the charter, to overthrow the plain purpose of the plain people of the community. This is the standing of Bell in his own community: M. J. MORIARITY 1,465 M. J. BELL 754

READY FOR HOLIDAY SEASON.

Palace Clothing Store Is Already

Elaborately Decorated. There is one corner of the city that has already got on its holiday attire, Robert and Seventh streets, where the Palace Clothing Store stands. On the outer edge of the walk on both sides of the corner, are a number of white painted, square wooden archways. Above these arches, on both streets, are four eagles, making eight in all. The wooden images are about five times the size of a live bird, and are bronzed and decorated with American flags. Between the birds are evergreens, and on the pillars supporting the arches are evergreen trimmings. The corner is so uniquely fixed up, and beautifully, too, that many people passing by stop to take a second look and enjoy

HOLIDAY SUGGESTIONS!

We have spent years in ascertaining what gentlemen need and appreciate most in the way of haberdashery, and will be pleased to offer suggestions to sisters, wives and sweethearts who are looking for something appropriate and handsome to give the men for Christmas. Certain it is that there is nothing in our immense stock that would not be most acceptable to a gentleman.

Housecoats.

A most luxurious line of these solid comfort garments at a great variety of prices. The trimmings are most tasteful and the cloths up to date. Call them Smoking Jackets or Lounging Coats-what name you will-you can't find anything elsewhere as haudsome or a gift that will be more apt to please a man.

For the Bath.

We have a very pleasing assortment of handsome Bath Robes, Bath Mats and Bath Slippers. Any man who loves comfort would appreciate-Navajo Blankets.

If your friend has a den you can't please him more thoroughly than by giving him one of these swell Blankets. They are as artistic a gift as one could find. Our Steamer Rugs are also worthy of comment.

Handwear.

A man can't get too many pairs of Gloves, as every pair means a saving of money to him, and that's the sort of a gift a man wants. Our line includes all the most celebrated makes. Dress Gloves by Fiske, Clark & Flagg. Street Gloves lined with silk of the same makes. A great line of Squirrel, Dogskin, Reindeer and Mocha-lined Gloves and Mittens.

Underwear.

Warmth is only part of comfort-fit is the rest. The nearer the garment comes to your skin the better it should fit, the fewer creases, folds and tight places there should be. Fitting Underwear can be found here. We have so much to choose from that you're bound to find the right thing. You can pay from 50c to $20.00 for one piece.

Headwear.

Most men would look with favor upon a Hat as a gift. - If it were a Bowlby he'd surely be pleased, because most men know The Bowlby is now recognized as the best hat made. In Silk, Opera, Derby or Soft.

Several Things

That might please a gentleman include a Dress Suit Case, for instance; they're always acceptable; or a fine Valise. A box of initialed or plain Handkerchiefs wouldn't be so bad either, or if he does society a box of Dress Ties.

Neckwear.

Perhaps the most genteel gifts in our store will be found in our Neckwear dept., which contains the richest creations of the world's best Neckwear makers, exquisite and costly effects that are not shown elsewhere in the West, as well as dainty and pretty things for very little money. In Mufflers we can show you novelties in silk and cassimere in square, Oxford and Bowlby styles, also a full line of handsome full dress shirt protectors.

Footwear.

When we get right down to the bottom of things we're forced to admit that our Benchmade Shoes in Patent Leather, Kid, Vici, Calf and Enamel are about the best made. We also sell Slippers that will please someone Christ-

Nightwear.

When it's all in the family he'd probably like something in swell Silk or Madras Pajamas or Night Shirts. No house West of New York can duplicate our stock.

Linenwear.

Fine Linen is a gift that a king might appreciate, and we have dress shirts and accessories that the proudest king might wear with pride. Shirts with cuffs attached or detached, open back and front.

Suspenders.

A pair of suspenders for every pair of trousers is a rule that saves a man lots of time and lots of wear and tear on buttonholes and buttons. Our Holiday Gift Suspenders are made for the occasion and are also worthy of it. Parisian Novelties at from 50c to $5.00.
