SAY THEY WILL LET THE RAIL- Between the Southern Railway and ROAD COMMISSION CONTINUE ALONE

MOTION FOR DELAY DENIED

Much to the Disgust of the Attorneys for the Duluth, Missabe & North-

The investigation of the iron ore rates still hangs fire before the railroad and warehouse commission. Whether it will be proceeded with when the proper time arrives this morning is somewhat of a question. The Duluth, Missabe & Northern, through its attorneys yesterday afternoon, interposed another motion for a continuance, which motion was denied by the commission. The attorneys there upon led the commission to understand Lease to Baltimore & Ohio Conthat they would not attend the hearing further. However the commission will reconvene at 9 o'clock. At the close of yesterday's session another hitch occurred. Near the close Attorney Murray for the road, submitted a motion for a continuance of the case for sixty days—the same motion which was made at the beginning of the case. submitting his motion the coursel stated that the defendant road had no more witnesses to examine at that time and had exhausted all the evidence which It had at hand. It was therefore unable to proceed with the case and would need the time asked for in which to further prepare its case. He stated that since the commission's order of the hearing the official and legal staff of the road had been differely at work preparing evidence, but that they had been unable to prepare their whole case. Fifteen witnesses and as many ex-haustive exhibits had been presented since the hearing began and the counsel intimated that double this amount of testimony was yet to come. Be then produced lengthy af-fidavits from Chief Engineer Dressle and Epecial Engineer Abbott, of the road, to show that all their time and that of the ngineer's force had been spent in the laborious campaign of preparation and even this had failed of rounding up the sum total of evidence.

COUNSEL MURRAY PROTESTS. Mr. Murray then directed an argument to the commission in which he remarked that no complaint had ever been made of the exorbitant rates by any patron of the road. Still further he stated that the commission was occupying the position of both prosecutor and judge and growing still more fervent in his remarks, said that the commission would be committing judicial murder by proceeding w.t. the case.
Here Mr. Knox, of the commission, reminded Mr. Murray of an interpretation which the supreme court had placed on the duties of the commission, in which it had held these duties to be administrative and not judicial. Mr. Knov protested that the commission was not sitthe as the prosecutor nor judge.

Commissioner Becker called for the opinion of the commission's attorney, Mr. O'Brien, as to the proper action regarding the motion. Mr. O'Brien stated: "I think most of the evidence introduced by the railroad has been altogether unnecessary and that the case should be proceeded with."

CONTINUANCE WAS DENIED.

At the request of Chairman Ringdal one way and Gen. Becker the other.
The counsel for the road excepted to the ruling and asked a ruling on their exception. Another wordy battle ensued, and after Gen. Becker's argument that morning at 9 o'clock and could not therefere consider any further motions prevailed, the company withdrew.

In yesterday's hearing placed on the stand prove that the timber and other resources in St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties were not sufficient to furnish a support for the Missabe load and that unless the iron ore mines were there the road could not exist. The witnesses stated that the timber of this ction would, at the present rate, be exhausted in six or seven years that the cost of reproducing this road time, with contingencies added. $3. William Smith, superintendent of engines and cars of the road, was the principal witness. He also stated that would be necesary to expend $00,500 at a very early date for renewals of equipment for the road. By his testimony it was shown that the road is far behind its competitors in the matter of equipment. F. R. McQueen, superintendent for a contracting firm who had the work of

T. Abbott, of Minneapolis, was the next witness and he practically corrob-orated the evidence of the former wit-Mr. Abbott stated that the ordinary life of a railroad, with steel rails of the quality on the Missabe road, is from seven to eight years. He stated on cross-examination that it would be necessary to replace a road like that of the Missabe every ten or eleven

Commissioner Knox was asked yesterday as to the commission's real object in making the investigation of iron ore 'The real and only object the commission has in making this investigation is to ascertain whether the rates, as have been held, are too high; if they are to reduce or attempt to reduce them. Mr. Knox further stated that the ccm mission had not officially tooked into the case further than to satisfy themselves as to this object. "Whether or not the reduction of these rates would cause reduction in the gross earnings of the roads and therefore a reduction in state receipts, is not the question at this time," said Mr. Knox; "what we want to find out first is whether the rates are exorbintant. If they are they should be reduced no matter what the result is."

It has been stated that a reduction f the rates would mean an increase in the earnings of the Rockefeller and Carnegie interests that are said to control all the mines on the range. cal railroad man, in speaking on this subject yesterday, stated that there are numerous of the best mines owned by private individuals whose earnings would likewise be increased by the if, for that matter, it would have the effect as above stated.

It has also been suggested that one re-sult possible from a reduction of these sult possible from a reduction of these rates would be the means of facilitating a more rapid development of the mine. as the owners would naturally be better | the nome of the bride's mother by Bishop equipped to improve their property with Potter. more money at their command and that this process would benefit the entire

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The Mail and Express says:

Out of the confused and contradictory reports regarding the changed relations existing between the Seaboard Air Line and Southern railway, one fact seems established. The two lines are to be operated in perfect harmony hereafter, so far as freight rates are concerned: All talk of a consolidation of the roads is denied as untrue Regarding the changed relations between Thomas F. Ryan and George Skelton Williams, representing the two systems, in certain law suits, no official announcement is to be made. The matter will simply be dismissed and no more will be heard of it. This accords with the wish of both gentlemen, who, in times past, have indulged in some bitter language concerning each other. A public reconcillation is out of the question, but private animosities may be sunk in the excitement of successful business.

RUNS THROUGH TO PACIFIC

Where Another Supply Depot Could Be Maintained-May Be Possible to Secure Another in Peru.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.-The naval movements today record the sailing of the gunboat Bancroft, from Colon, for Almirante bay. It is understood that her mission is to look into the advantages offered by the port of Chiriqui as a coaling station. The need for such stations has been apparent ever since the run of the Oregon from San Francisco around to the West Indies; during the Spanish-American war. The sum of $400,000 is now available under appropriation by congress for securing naval stations. Several points have been sonsidered, but Chiriqui is among the most desirable. EXCELLENT HARBOR.

The harbor is capable of floating the entire fleet of a nation, and the water is deep enough for the heaviest battleship. Approaches were made to the Colombian government, with a view to learning whether they would entertain a proposi-tion to grant Chiriqui as a coaling station. At that time Colombia was not in a position to make a definite arrange-ment, as the territory, including this harbor, has been in dispute between Colombia and Costa Rica. The answer therefore was to the effect that the grant could not be made while the question of sovereignty remained open between the two countries. Since then, however, Colombia and Costa Rica have arranged to arbifrate the differences, and there is a prospect of an early settlement of sovereignty. With this point removed, it is believed that there will be no serious obtactions from the colombia. jections from Colombia or Costa Rica to granting a coaling station. The territory runs through to the Pacific side, wher it is possible that a Pacific station might be located. The right of Colomb'a on the Pacific side is not in dispute with Costa Rica. The latter country also has several Pacific harbors, said to be well su'ted for a coaling station, although there have been no overtures thus far towards securing one of them.

STATION IN PERU. In this connection attention is again diwhen Mr. Blaine was secretary of state the United States minister to Peru secured a concession for an American coaling station on this bay. But as the conthe threes of her war with Chili, Mr. Blaine disapproved of it, and it lapsed. At that time Minister Hurlburt reported that it offered the best facilities on he Pacific coast for an American collary attention. Pacific coast for an American coaling station, for, besides the depth of water and harbor facilities, extensive coal mines were in the immediate vicinity, thus givsity of shipping it from the United States. Owing to the present difficulties between Chili and Peru, there have been recent intimated by the Perus of the Perus timations that Peru would be willing to grant a coaling station to the United States. But this has not taken any official form, par have there have been any official form, par have there have the state of the stat ficial form, nor have there been any ne gotiations concerning Chimbote bay. The matter has not yet gone beyond the gen eral consideration of desirable points, but officials here hope it will advance before long to the point of determining a suitable station.
