BIG MATCH IS STILL FAR OFF

California Fight Club Refuses to Offer a Purse.

NEW YORK, March 4.- There is a hitch in the Jeffries-Corbett, fight which threatens to prevent the match. When the two heavyweights met here on Sunday the conditions under which they agreed to meet stipulated that the purse be not less than $25,000.

In a statement made in Baltimore today Corbett said that the provision would certainly be in the articles which he is to sign on Thursday. Now it develops that the San Francisco clubs, knowing they have the fight in their own hands, will not offer a purse. A dispatch from 'Frisco today, received by Jim Kennedy here, stated that the Hayes Valley Athletic club would offer 70 per cent of the receipts for the mill, but no purse, and that the other clubs would follow suit.

As the fighters agreed to meet only for $25,000 purse and the clubs refuse to hang one up there is a chance the contest may, after all, fall through. Jeffries, when shown the dispatch,

I really don't think Corbett will fight me after all. The fact that he demands a purse of $25,000 makes me think he will not fight. He knows no club will hang up such a purse. Corbett's talk that he is entitled to fight is all bosh. Sharkey is more entitled to fight me than is Corbett, because he is the only man I did not knock out."

DICK BERNARD LANDS THE PREMIER STAKES

Smathers, the Millionaire, Tastes First Fruits of Victory.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 4.-E. E. Smathers, the millionaire light harness horseman, who has invested nearly $40,000 in thoroughbreds in the last few days, tasted the first fruits of victory on the running turf when Dick Bernard, his most recent purchase, galloped home eight" lengths in front in the Premier stakes. The Smathers colors, all brown, were carried for the first time by a runner and the successful issue of the race augurs well for the new stable. As Dick Bernard is still in Boots Durnell's care, he was coupled in the betting, under the rules, with Dr. Loder, the Durnell & Herz entry, the pair opening at 7 to 10 and being backed to 3 to 5. The Walden pair, Petunia and Transmigration, were a strong second choice at 13 5. Dick Bernard went to the front the first turn and then made a show of his field. He was eased up all through the last sixteenth and came home in a romp. Petunia, who was second, was generally supposed to be the best two-year-old shown this season. The stake was worth $1,045 to the winner. Wittu was the only other winning favorite Weather clear; track muddy.

COMMEMORATE THE BIRTH OF ROBERT

Celebrated Under Auspices of Ancient Order of Hibernians at Mozart Hall -Thomas C. Daggett Delivers the Oration.

In a manner that was most appropriate and most heartily enjoyed by the large audier.ce which assembled, the birthday anniversary of Robert Emmet, the Irish patriot, was celebrated last evening in an entertainment given at Mozart hall under the auspices of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. The exercises throughout were of an Irish patriotic character and the selection of the various numbers was made with excellent discrimination, and avoiced excellent discrimination and proved in the court room after receiving his sentence. After Lord Norbury had read the death warrant, ending with the formal question, "What have you to say?" like an impetuous torrent bearing all before it rolled the flood of his irresistible elegance. Brayely, he foard sistible eloquence. Bravely he faced his accusers, triumphantly he flaunted the grandeur and sacredness of the cause he died for in the faces of the jurymen who had found him guilty of loving his country too well. It was an accusation it was a triumphant prayer. ccusation, it was a triumphant prayer, t was not a defense, for the cause for which he was about to die was its own best defense. It was an oration from the lips of a prophet delivered "To time and to eternity, and not to man."

Thomas Moore, a college mate of Emmet's in one of the pathetic of his Irish melodies, "Oh breathe not his name," commemorates the patriot's fate; and the death of Miss Curran, who died in Sicily soon after the execution of Emmet, is the subject of another. "She is far from the land another, "She is far from the land where her young hero sleeps." Although it is allowed by many of eyen his most ardent admirers that Emmet's conduct in his half-formed revolutionary attempt was rash and illtimed, the high purity of his motives and unselfishness of his intentions have never been questioned; nor have true Irishmen ever ceased to regard the page of history which records his execution as other than polluted.

Robert Emmet's Career. It is greatly to be doubted if there today any portion of any country where no one keeps green in some manner, simple or elaborate, the mem-ory of the adventurous and romantic life and tragic death of "The Knight of the Nineteenth Century,' Robert Emmet. It is now 125 years since the Dublir martyr was born in that city, which was twenty-five years later to witness his death by hanging, and the desecra-tion of his inanimate body by decapi-tation.

At an early age Emmet gave promise of more than ordinary ability, and chief among the many attributes which marked him as above the average in intelligence, was his wonderful gift for eading men. In 1793 he entered Trinity college and studied law, in the learning of which he gained high honors. In 1798 he was expelled from the classes for alleged complicity in the treasonable plots of the Society of United Irishmen. These charges Emmet did not pretend to deny, on the contrary he plunged unrestrainedly into the work of planning a general Irish revolution, with the result that he was forced to flee to the continent until 1802, when he returned secretly and recommenced his schemes whereby a bold and decisive stroke was to be struck for free-

The devoted band was met by a withering volley of shot; and the result of all his careful planning was that the mob he had headed scarcely achieved so much as a serious riot, for they fied at much as a serious riot, for they fled at

Emmet fled to the Wicklow mountains, and perceiving that, for some time to come, at least, it would be suicidal for both himself and the cause he loved to attempt a rally, he determined upon escaping to the continent. This he could have accomplished had he heeded the advice of his friends, who strongly warned him against any Emmet fled to the Wicklow mounattempt to visit his relatives or friends in or about Dublin. But the strong affections that marked his every motive were the cause of his undoing and his untimely end. He determined upon a last interview with a daughter of Curran, the celebrated barrister of Dublin, to whom he was attached by plighted troth. He was apprehended committed to trial on a charge of high treason, convicted, and condemned to he hanged and decapitated after death,

Case of Cramps a Puzzle.

Mrs. Jennie Rosenthal, 387 East Sev-nth street, was suddenly stricken with enth street, was suddenly stricken with cramps Tuesday evening, resulting, according to the physician in charge, from poison either taken intentionally or by mistake. Dr. Miller was called, and after working on the woman for several hours finally revived her. He is at a loss to know what drug the woman swallowed, but says he is positive that it was a case of poisoning. Mrs. Rosenthal denies having taken poison, but declares that she was seized with a fit. Less than a week ago Mrs. Rosenthal's husband disappeared and the woman is said to have acted queerly ever since.

Overcoat thieves are again at work at the state agricultural school. Another coat was stolen from the cloakroom Tuesday morning, making a total of ten garments taken during the winter. A month ago the coat thieves made a haul of over seven coats and earlier in the winter two other garments mysteriously disappeared.

SOCIALIST MEASURE

But probably that which serves most to keep green the memory of Robert Emmet, was the speech made by him Bill Passed Increasing Old-Age Pension

PARIS. March 4.—The chamber of deputies, continuing the debate on the budget for 'the ministry of finance, adopted tonight an appropriation of $200,000 annually for increasing the old-age pensions paid by the mining companies to their miners and employes. This appropriation was one of the principal promises that the government made to the miners at the time of the recent strikes. It is expected that today's appropriation will bring the pensions to which a miner is entitled on reaching the superannuation age from 55 francs to 360 francs per annum. The measure was a part of the Socialist programme and is avowedly the first step in the direction of providing old-age pensions for all the working classes.

President Francis Will Meet Cabinet

IN ST. LOUIS EXPOSITION.

Members Today.

MADRID, March 4.—D. R. Francis, president of the St. Louis exposition, arrived this afternoon. After a short conference with United States Minister Hardy, Mr. Francis called on the minister of agriculture. Tomorrow Mr. Francis will meet the premier and other members of the cabinet by appointment. He expects to return to Paris on Thursday night.

BERLIN, March 4.—Germany's exhibit at the St. Louis world's fair will be far more comprehensive than the ministry of the interior at first designed. Dr. Lewald, the German commissioner, said today that the porcelain manufacturers of Berlin and Dresden would send comprehensive exhibits, as also would the glass industry of Ehrenfeld. There will be a very complete display of bronze, gold, silver and iron industrial art objects. Germany intends to make the most interesting display possible in the educational department. The action of the Stuttgart publishers in declining to exhibit is not supported by the publishers at other centers, so that the most admirable examples of the artistle bookbinding art will be seen at St. Louis. The government printing office will send an imposing exhibit. Among the agricultural exhibits will be a horse show, at which the best German breeds will be represented.

Last night's match in the class A amateur billiard tournament not only brought out the largest crowd of the tourney up to date, but was productive of excellent work by the contestants. The Minneapolis colors again went down and Wilcox, of St. Paul. took the honors, defeating Huyck, of Minneapolis, 200 to 142.

Wilcox put up a brilliant game, executing several fine draw shots and making a number of excellent runs. While Huyck demonstrated that he was not outclassed, he failed to make the showing that was expected of him. The ivories rolled badly for him and he appeared to be unable to steady down.

Wilcox made runs of 29, 26 and 17 and Huyck could not do better than 16. The St. Paul man acquitted himself with an average of 4 32-42 and Wilcox averaged 3 20-40.
