CORNHUSKERS HAND MINNESOTA A BUNCH Perry Werden's Team Will Get

Gophers Barely Escape Shutout at Hands of the Nebraska Team.

Outplayed at every point in the game, the Minnesota university ball team yesterday went down to defeat before the fast Nebraska team, losing a one-sided contest which was never in doubt by a score of 10 to 1.

The Gophers were outplayed in every inning of the contest, and it was by mere luck that Capt. Leach's men were not umiliated by a shutout. Two errors, the only two made by the Cornhuskers during the game, followed by a passed ball, gave the Gophers an opportunity to get a man the entire distance, and Varco took advantage of the chance, amid the cheers of the discouraged rooters for the maroon and old gold.

The day brought forth ideal baseball weather and the Minnesota rooters were weather and the Minnesota rooters were out in goodly numbers to see, if possible, the wiping out of the remembrance of the defeat administered by the football team two years ago, when the Cornhuskers came up here and surprised the Gopher eleven. But the rooters had overlooked a thing or two; they had failed to take the Cornhuskers in their confidence, and when the game was called on Northrop field yesterday the visitors made it a runaway match from the start, and they did not stop until Brigham had been taken out of the box and Bond substituted.

Bond Pitched Great Ball.

Barring the first inning he worked. Bond pitched a great game, striking out seven of the hard-hitting Cornhuskers in the last four innings of the contest, and not allowing a bit. But the game had already been lost to the Lincoin men in the earlier innings, and the only thing to be done was to hold down the score.

Nebraska played a game that would have won against most any kind of a team. Long running catches were made by the Cornhuskers' outfield that brought applause from the maroon and gold's most ardent rooters, and it seemed to be an easy matter for the visitors to place a hit wherever there was an opening.

The spectacular play of the game was a running left-handed catch of a line drive by Hammel in the third inning, the fast second baseman pulling down what looked good for two or three bases.

FOUR PRINCIPALS RESIGN.

Rumor Says Supt. Jordan Has Marked Teachers for Decapitation.

Teachers for Decapitation.

The board of education is greatly astonished at the action of four of the best known principals in the public schools tendering their resignation at about the same time. The educators are women, and it is understood that other resignations will shortly be forthcoming, some of them by request. The principals who will retire are: Miss Harriet B. Dewart, Mrs. S. C. Osborn, Miss Clara H. Sprague and Miss Mary L. Gilman.

Persistent rumors are to the effect that Dr. C. M. Jordan, superintendent of the school, has marked a number of teachers who opposed his re-election to office for decapitation. Douglas school teachers in particular, it is said, will "catch it."

Supt. Jordan pooh-poohs the idea of entertaining resentment toward those who conscientiously opposed him, and says people should not gossip over much about things they know nothing about, as whatever has been done or may be done will be for the efficiency of the schools.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—Representative John Lind expects to consult with State Fire Marshal C. C. Andrews as soon as he gets home as to the selection of 20,000 acres of public lands by the state for forestry purposes.

It was while Mr. Lind was governor that this legislation was passed in Minnesota, and it was fitting that it should be supplemented by legislation in congress under his supervision. Except for work done by Mr. Lind among the Democrats the bill never would have passed. Mr. Lind believes selections may be made of land adjoining townships already owned by the state suitable for forestry purposes, thus increasing the size of the reserves.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 28.—Kelley's Saints today fell victims to the remarkably effective swat-sticks of the Indianapolis team and were defeated in a runaway contest by a score of 13 to 2.

For three innings Chech was a problem in higher mathematics, and the Indians were entirely unable to solve him, a measly little scratch bunt by Carbeling the sum and total of their hitting.

In the fourth the Indians dug up an answer book, and after that Chech ceased to be a problem. Two bases on balls, three safe bunts and two errors gave the Indians their first three runs and a lead over the champions. A two-bagger, a triple and a single in succession gave the home team two more in the fifth.

Clingman broke into the game today, doing honors at third for St. Paul, and celebrated the event by presenting the Hoosiers with a brace of game winners they secured in the sixth. Ortlieb started the round with a double and Newlin beat out a bunt. Clingman got the ball and in taking a snap shot at first threw the sphere away, Ortlieb scoring and Newlin taking third, scoring on Hogriever's fly.
