A Short Talk that Gets at Facts

The small concern that keeps the large firms adjusting the prices on their so-called leaders, bringing them to the point of self-confessed over charges.

The small concern whose regular prices conform even with the old liners' leaders.

The small concern who by careful spot cash buying and spot cash selling is always and on all things in a position to name you prices that are right and below the house whose very vitality is being sapped both ways, and never knows where the business is standing or whence the end is. Are these facts presented aright, go ask of those that have passed or are passing through this most trying ordeal.

Some firms name a low price on some one article or some line of articles in order to attract attention, but we name lowest prices on our whole stock, thus presenting you with an array of facts that cannot fail to make your decision in our favor. The house that can and does mark and sell everything on a legitimate profit, buying from markets that quote rock bottom cash prices, cannot help but appeal to your better judgement, and make the victory short and complete, and you will always remember that it pays to get it at

DEATH OF SAMUEL C. HASTINGS

Passed Away Monday Morning at 6 O'clock.

Samuel C. Hastings, one of the most widely known citizens of Jasper, passed away Monday morning at 6 o'clock, death resulting from abscess of the lungs.

The funeral was held at the Methodist church, Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and were conducted by Rev. Ferguson of the M. E. Church, assisted by Rev. Logan, of the Presbyterian church. The service was attended by quite a number of friends. The interment was in the city cemetery.

Mr. Hastings was born at Northfield, Mass., October 24, 1853, consequently his age at the time of his death was 41 years, 2 months and 22 days. He moved with his Parents to Janesville, Wisconsin, when a small boy where he lived most of the time until he came to Jasper ten or twelve years ago. His only immediate relatives are a sister Mrs. C. W. Trott, of Carthage, and brother Frank Hastings of Lamar, Colorado. Another brother, E. A. Hastings, the well known Jasper merchant died about a year ago.

During his residence in Jasper "Sam" as everybody called him, assisted his brother in the store, until the latter died. Since that time he has not been in active service. Mr. Hastings had a wonderful intellect and his knowledge of Shakespeare, Byron and the other great poets was marvelous. He could entertain a crowd for hours by quotations from these famous authors. And in many other virtues Sam stood high, and as was remarked by Rev. Ferguson in his funeral discourse "His greatness was only circumscribed by his weakness", and we all know of his weakness. What might have been his success had it not been for this weakness. But none realized this more than Mr. Hastings himself and no warrior ever put forth a harder fight against a stronger foe than the fight Sam has been waging during the past few years.

Mr. Hastings had been in declining health for some time but the seriousness of his condition was not realized until a couple of weeks ago when an examination of his lungs indicated that life could only be prolonged a few days at the most. He fully realized his condition and began to prepare for the end. While familiar with God's teaching he seemed to feel that it was asking too much for him to save him at the last of an ill spent life, but being convinced by Rev. Ferguson that God was anxious to receive him he put his trust in the Lord and this is the way he died. Under these circumstances who will not say it is well that Sam's fight is ended.

DANIEL C. ROBERTS DEAD.

Passed Away Monday Near Neosho.

Daniel C. Roberts, a former well known and highly respected citizen of this city, died at the home of his father D. C. Roberts, near Neosho last Monday, January 16, after a long illness. He leaves a wife and three children, father and mother, and a number of brothers and sisters, besides a host of friends to mourn his untimely death.

The remains were brought to Jasper on the morning train Tuesday and funeral services were held at the M. E. Church, conducted by Rev. Ferguson assisted by Revs. Jones and Loch. The services were very impressive and were attended by quite a large number of sympathizing friends. The interment was at the DuPont graveyard. Members of Jasper camp Modern Woodmen, of which the deceased was an honored member, acted as pall bearers.

Daniel C. Roberts was born in Chariton county, Mo., July 11, 1839, thus making his age at time of his death 35 years, 6 months and 5 days. He lived many years with his parents near Medoc in the west part of this county. He was married to Miss Laura Jaccard, July 9, 1860. For a number of years he was associated with A. H. Dray in the blacksmith business in this city. His health began to fail about two years ago and his physician advised a change of climate. Accordingly he sold out his Jasper property and went to Texas. Receiving no benefit from the change he returned as far as Newton county where he bought a small tract of land. His health continued to fail however and it soon became evident that death was only a question of time. His greatest care was for his family but when the end came he was ready to go. As above stated he was a member of the Modern Woodmen Camp of this city and his widow will receive $1000 from that order.

Mr. Roberts' brothers Messrs. Homer and Preston Roberts and sisters Mrs. Theo. Lawson, and Mrs. Harry Hillie are well known citizens of this city and vicinity. His parents Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Roberts and sister Miss Ida and brother Martin Roberts are now making their home near Neosho. The family have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.
