LOCAL POINTS.

—The little child of Officer James Gosage is very sick with tonsillitis.

—Wild game, except turkeys was abundant in the market yesterday.

—A daughter was born to Arthur Maltby and wife, of West Fourth street, Friday morning.

—The managers of the saloons in the Midland and Coates hotels in Kansas City refuse to obey the Newberry law and permit games to run as usual. They say they will test the legality of the law.

The BAZOO does not publish a Saturday afternoon edition, but if it did and should miss such an item as the Binder affair, which stirred all of East Sedalia yesterday forenoon it would never say a word about scoops.

—Deputy Clerk John Cashman says he is a candidate for city attorney and will be in the field until the voters decide whether he shall have it or not. The report that he had an eye upon the police judgeship is, he declares, a mistake.

—The singing of one of the best church choirs in the city is spoiled by a cornet accompaniment. The cornet is all right if the player would tone it down so that the audience can hear the singers. The great majority of people are passionately fond of vocal music and dislike to have it drowned out by the instruments.

PERSONAL.

—D. A. Clark, the able traveling man, returned home for a short visit last night.

—J. J. Kinney of the M., K. & T., detective force was at Parsons yesterday on business.

—Hart E. Harris of Kansas City was in the city yesterday and will remain the rest of the week.

—J. P. Israel, the genial representative of the Western Newspaper Union, auxiliary publishers and advertisers, was in the city yesterday.

—J. C. Younger, of the Wentworth military academy at Lexington, is in the city visiting his sister, Miss Sallie Younger, of Pierce City, who is attending Robbin's commercial college.

Police Court.

There was only one case before the police court yesterday morning, Frank Barnett charged with knocking S. B. Cohen, a second hand dealer, down. Barnett claimed that Cohen had purchased a stolen saw of a colored boy for 10 cents. Cohen claimed that a man who happened to be in the store when the saw was offered, purchased it. The saw belonged to Barnett and he demanded pay for it. The case was continued until Monday on account of a sick witness.

Neuralgic pain is usually of an intensely sharp, cutting or burning character. To effect a speedy and permanent cure rub thoroughly with Salvation Oil, the greatest pain-cure on earth. 25 cents.

When a man is ill he should send for a doctor at once; but when he has a cough or a sore throat he needs only Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. 25 cents.

The Best Looking Lady in the House

The Kickapoo Indian show last night drew an immense crowd. It having been announced that a five plush toilet case would be given to the best looking lady, five big Indians started on a trip of inspection through the house to decide. They walked slowly and eyed so closely that it brought a blush to every girl's cheek as she came under their gaze, and made her look all the prettier. At last one of them stopped at the side of Miss Belle Hubbard and called the others, and after some deliberation decided that she was entitled to the prize.

The Methodist Bishop.

The Methodist bishops at Kansas City Friday appropriated $30,300 for the German missions. Bishop Hurst strongly advocated purchasing property in the towns they had been driven from because they sang too loud and long and shouted too loud and disturbed the beer saloons.

"But," said he, "we are now as firmly rooted in Germany as the house of Hohenzollern."

The appropriations so far made are the same as last year and it is very probable that no change will be made on the remainder.

The Criminal Court.

The grand jury filed the following report at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the court adjourned:

THE COUNTY JAIL.

Hon. John E. Ryland, Judge Criminal Court, Pettis County, Mo.;

We, the grand jury, of Pettis county, Mo., having visited the county jail, find satisfaction prevailing among the inmates of said jail as to their treatment and provision furnished; also, further, find the jail in as good sanitary condition as could be under the existing circumstances.

We think the jail is too small to meet the demands of this county and not sufficiently ventilated for the health of the inmates, especially the females who occupy the upper portion of the jail.

We would also recommend a better water closet be put in the cells or corridors; also, recommend better ventilation through the top in some way; also, ask that the kitchen of the jail be made larger and more convenient and more pleasant and healthful for those who do the cooking.

We recommend the building of a new jail, but if that be inexpedient at the present time, we urge the charges and improvements in the present jail as above mentioned.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. H. ANDERSON,
Foreman Pettis County Grand Jury,
SEDALIA, Mo., November 14, 1889.

THE POOR FARM.

To John E. Ryland, Judge Criminal Court, Pettis County, Mo.;

We, the grand jury, of Pettis county, visited the county poor farm to-day and found Mr. Faf Anderson, superintendent, in charge of same, on duty. We found fourteen inmates, who all testified that they were well fed and cared for. We found the buildings in good repair; we would respectfully recommend that six mattresses be added to the bedding.

We found everything clean and comfortable; we would advise sufficient clover seed be furnished Mr. Anderson to seed all the farm except that portion needed for gardening.

We find that the honorable county court has, within the past year, repaired and added several rooms to the premises; also, papering and painting the same. We found a good supply of fire wood cut and stored handy; sitting rooms provided with heating stoves; we find that the prejudice circulated against the farm is to a great extent exaggerated and that the county court has done all that we deem necessary for the welfare of the present inmates.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. H. ANDERSON, Foreman.
SEDALIA, Mo., Nov. 14th, 1889.

Revival Meetings.

At the Congregational church the Rev. Mr. Buschnell will hold a series of special meetings, beginning on Monday night. He is a speaker of rare eloquence and power and as an evangelist has specially marked and peculiar effect. The people of the Congregational church have been very fortunate in securing such a man to help their pastor in such work. The meetings during the past week have been of deep interest, and Mr. Bolter's society of young people are at work with their wonted zeal and activity.

The New Telephone Line.

The Missouri and Kansas Telephone company began the erection of their line from Warrensburg to this city yesterday. The line has been completed from Kansas City to Warrensburg some months. The line will be of heavy copper wire doubled so as to make a complete circuit. This is necessary as on a part of the route the line will be within fifteen or twenty feet of a telegraph line and will draw electricity from it so heavily that it will be impossible to talk through the telephone. Telegraph wires are charged twenty times heavier than telephone lines. With a double line or metallic circuit the amount of electricity that gets on the line makes no difference.

Officers Installed

Sedalia lodge 656 I. O. G. T. installed the newly elected officers Friday evening at their hall at the southeast corner of Ohio and Seventh street, as follows:

J. W. Allen, chief templar; Mrs. W. A. Allen, vice templar; W. M. Harbaugh, secretary; Mrs. J. W. Allen, treasurer; Mrs. W. M. Harbaugh, financial secretary; Wm. Tussey, chaplain; Ed. Tussey, marshal; Miss Maggie Price, guard; Archie Hennifield, sentinel and J. W. Allen, past templar.

After the installation a very interesting programme of exercises was given consisting of music under the direction of Mr. John Stark, recitations by Misses Susie Tussey, May Blatterman, Nora Egman, Maggie Price and Nellie Tussey. A fine quartett by Mesdames C. and W. M. Harbaugh and Messrs. J. W. Allen and W. M. Harbaugh.

Short addresses were made by Justice Fisher and J. W. Allen.

St. Louis Grain Market.

The St. Louis grain markets yesterday were very steady. May wheat opened at 84½ when it closed Friday evening advanced to 84½ and from that point declined to 84½ and reacted to 84½, where it closed. The other options followed without showing any unusual features. May corn opened and closed at 30½ and May oats at 22½. It being Saturday, the market was an evening-up one in which the long and shorts all got out.

Our Jack in Boonville.

J. E. Bird, a thorough going business young fellow of Sedalia, was in the city a few days ago and billed this place for the Thos. W. Keene performance at Wood's opera house. He says he will in conjunction with another theatrical man start a variety troupe in that city, employ first class artists, visit this city and other towns in Central Missouri, with Sedalia as headquarters.—Boonville Topic.

—If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, biliousness or constipation you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable; small and easy to take, all druggists sell them.

THE NEW LAW.

In Relation to the Debts of Married Women May Affect Matrimony.

One of the ablest attorneys in the city in discussing the new law allowing married women to be sued for any debt she may in any manner create said it reached much further than most people think and when once understood it will make women having money exceedingly careful about marrying a penniless man. It is my opinion that if a wife should go or send to a store and order supplies for her husband's family, the store-keeper may charge the bill to her unless it is this distinct understanding that she is acting as her husband's agent. There are a number of ladies in this city who have fine estates, but whose husbands are "law proof" and never pay a debt. These ladies will have to be very careful hereafter to see that the credit is not given to them. Hundreds of lawsuits will grow out of it. Only yesterday I got a lady to sign to pay a debt that the creditor has been for two years trying to worry out of her husband. There will be a lawsuit over it before it is paid, but the lady has plenty of real estate and my client is now in shape to force his claim and he won't stand any monkeying.

If the girls have their own way, the property question will not affect matrimony, but the parents, when they find that they can't give their daughter a competency safe from debts that ought to be paid by the husband, will kick long and hard against taking an impecunious son-in-law into the family.

Central Business College.

Sedalia, Mo.

Mr. Herndon, soliciting agent for Central Business College, visited the following schools the past week and without exception, brings first class reports: Champion school, southeast of city, Miss Celia N. Cover, teacher. Pupils are orderly and refined, showing the highest regard for their kind and self possessed teacher.

Anderson school, south of city, teacher, James A. Elliott. Full school and many large and intelligent pupils. Everything orderly and school under thorough discipline. Mr. Elliott should be proud of his success.

One of the most interesting schools visited was R. M. Scott's. Mr. Scott is too well known to the people of this county to need any complimentary remarks from us. Sufficient to say that he is teaching one of the best schools in the county.

J. R. Franklin of the Salem school northeast of the city was visited. School in first class condition. Mr. Franklin forcibly illustrates the fact that teachers are born and not made. Everything was system and order.

G. L. Coleman, Ararat district, east of city, we found him to be a polite and courteous gentleman and a thorough and competent teacher. Mr. Coleman understands his business thoroughly and has our best wishes.

Miss Belle Stelle of High Point school southwest of city, is building up an enviable reputation as a teacher. Her school was one of the best visited. She is self possessed in the school room and an earnest and enthusiastic teacher. She fully deserves the reputation she is gaining.

Lost His Suit.

Under the title of "A Dude Suit Stolen" the Cooper County Leader, published at Pilot Grove, has the following concerning a well known young man of this city:

"Monday morning as Mr. Ralph McEwing, an attaché of the general passenger agent's office of the M., K. & T. at Sedalia, was returning from St. Louis via Moberly, between Boonville and Pilot Grove, he retired to the smoking room to enjoy the fragrance of a Havana, leaving his grip and a suit of clothing for which he had paid $65 on the seat. While in the smoking room the train passed here but before reaching Harris, Mr. McEwing returned to his seat to find the suit gone, the very suit with which he had expected to win the heart of some Sedalia belle. Poor Mc was all 'torn up' over the loss of his suit. A lady passenger informed him that a man took the bundle, who got off at Pilot Grove. He left the train at Harris and through the courtesy of Judge Rust returned to the Grove. Enquiry developed the fact that but one man had got off the train here, and that one was easily located. A search was instituted but without satisfactory results. An hour or so later the party upon whom suspicion rested was seen making a bee line for the brush, with a bundle under his arm. Messrs. John E. Smith and John Donahoe, were deputized to pursue and capture the party. They returned in a few minutes with the accused minus the suit. Justice Spencer was summoned and legal proceedings commenced. The presence of 'his honor' caused the prisoner to relent and he informed Deputy Marshall Smith if he would go with him he would give him the clothes. Thither the couple wended their way to a thicket on the farm of E. H. Harris, near where the party had been captured, and in the bed of a branch, under a huge stone, the suit was found, covered with mud and water. As Mr. McEwing looked at the suit, visions of balls, parties and his best girl, seemed to possess his imagination. Disappointed and crestfallen he bundled up the wrecked suit in a copy of the Globe-Democrat, boarded the evening train, a sadder and more careful man. The accused, whose name we refrain from giving on account of his family relation, he gave bond for his appearance at the next term of the circuit court.
