But, Will They.

Monday, Messrs. Theihoff, Hollingshead and G. W. Davis, Burlington officials were in the city and Mr. Hollingshead left this impression on us: It has been practically decided that the old buildings on the railroad ground between Davis Street and the depot and between Summer Street and railroad tracks must come down and better ones put up, or else, the ground referred to will be cleared of all buildings on it. But the ground is needed for business purposes, therefore no park made there.

A Scrap.

Monday morning John Smith, a son of John, and one of his brethren, Jefferson Burns, had a scrap. John wanted it and go, the licking and later was hunting Jeff so he could get another one, but Jefferson is a hard working dandy and was where he ought to be, at work.

Safe Blowers.

The iron safe in the post office and general store at Withers Mill was dynamited about 12 o'clock Friday night and $155 in money, a fine double barreled shot gun, a valise and a few pocket knives taken. Harold Hutcherson is the post master and proprietor of the store and when he closed the store Friday night he placed $155 in the safe and turned the key. Ten dollars of the money belonged to the post office department and the balance was money taken in from the store.—Hannibal Journal.

Mr Farmer, if you have wheat in bin, examine it. The millers tell us: Wheat brought us for several days is so full of weevil that it is unfit for grinding. So tell the farmers that if they want to save their wheat they had better examine it and if they find weevil to fan their wheat and the weevil out of it.
