It Didn't Pay.

An unusual occurrence took place at Craig, Thursday of last week. A man giving his name as J. C. Luedke, and who had splendid papers in his possession, showing not only that that was his name, but showing also that he had filled some important positions with both Uncle Sam and with some of the most prominent railroads in the country, got to drinking on the northbound afternoon train, and was quite "boozy" on its arrival at Craig. The conductor put him off, and Deputy Sheriff Thompson took him in charge. The prosecuting attorney was telephoned to, and took the next train for Craig, where he filed information against the gentleman, and Squire Randall, upon a plea of guilty, entered by his attorney, James Stokes, assessed his fine at $5; the bill including cost footed up $13.40.

It seems that many people do not understand that they cannot either drink whiskey, or exhibit it, on a passenger train, in this state. This man had in his possession a ticket, we are told, to St. Paul, Minn., and a trunk check, and considerable money, being presumably, a man of good standing in the community where he resides. He claimed Buffalo, N. Y., as his home, and claimed to own property in California and elsewhere. He had papers to show he had been in the employ of the government in the Panama Canal, and seemed like a man of more than ordinary intelligence. This last proposition seemed, however, to be put in some question by his conduct in drinking liquor on a train, or elsewhere, for that matter.

We were talking with our prosecuting attorney just a few days ago, and he gave it as his opinion that at least 75 per cent of all the many cases that he has had to deal with in the little more than two years that he has been trying to enforce the law in this county, have been attributable, either directly or indirectly, and most of them directly, to the drinking of intoxicating liquors. This is greatly to be regretted, and in the language of the street: "There's nothing to it," and the quicker these who drink the stuff and this out, the better it will be for both themselves and for the society in which they live and move. And this class of drinkers had just as well learn now and for good, too, that our prosecutor is on their track, and that wherever and whenever he can get the evidence, we believe that he will make it hard sledding for the offender.

Another pointer: There are a number of parties, the prosecutor tells us, are going to get into trouble. These parties do not seem to know that they cannot even give away whiskey in this county under local option, and several of them are already in the toils here for that offense. Others will do well to take warning.

National Guard May Go.

The War Department on Friday last began to make arrangements for the assembly of a second division of regulars in Texas to re-inforce the division at present hurrying there and to make inquiries into the efficiency of the militia regiments in the various states with a view to having the national guard 100,000 in number given the regulars in Texas.

Adjutant General Rumbold, of the Missouri National Guard, has been called upon by the department at Washington to send in his recommendations. Thus far some 200 officers had applied for permission to join the maneuvers in Texas.

It is likely the Government will take all the officers of the medical department, batteries, signal corps and cavalry who offer to go. Adjutant Rumbold will likely select ten officers from each regiment.

It is likely that Dr. Will Minton, of St. Joseph, a Holt county boy, a member of the field hospital corps, will likely be in the selected list to go to the front.

With the increase of the war plans grew international complications of the military demonstration. Resentful of the President's statement, the Mexican representative at Washington announces that if the United States army crosses the Mexican border the movement will be construed by the Diaz government as a declaration of war.

Real Estate Matters.

The week ending March 4th, the real estate deals amounted to $280,983. There were 44 warranty transactions that averaged $6,375. The trust deeds amounted to $144,530, the average mortgage being $3,863. There were 2,131 acres sold that brought an average of $18 per acre. The total sales for the first two months of 1911, were $303,981, which is $180,000 less than for the same period in 1910.

Kulick Sensation of Mardi Gras.

Frank Kulick and his Ford model "T" were the sensations of the big Mardi Gras speed carnival at New Orleans, according to returning Detroiters. Kulick and his 20-horsepower car won no less than five firsts and a number of other places, including two seconds.

The Ford pilot on the mile track of the Crescent City Jockey Club defeated all except "Wild Bob" Burman and Caleb Bragg. Burman drove his great 100-horsepower Buick Special, while Bragg had his 90-horsepower Fiat, the fastest thing on wheels.

The light 20-horsepower Ford never had its hood lifted during the races, only at night to go through a tightening up process. At the completion of the three-day carnival it was in perfect running order, while Burman's Buick and Bragg's Fiat had to be scratched from some of the last races, the rough track shaking the heavy cars badly. Kulick attained a speed of 87 miles per hour at times during the meet. The Fords are handled by J. H. Reeves & Company, Oregon, Mo.

Josephine's Welcome.

A large and enthusiastic crowd greeted the Burlington agriculture special at Forest City, Friday afternoon. 150 of them were pupils of the public schools of Forest City, Oregon, and rural schools and as many or more farmers and other citizens, who came to hear the lectures as well as see the exhibit. The exhibit was from the agricultural department of the Missouri State University and was accompanied by four professors as lecturers and a number of students from this department. The center of attraction especially for the pupils was Josephine, the state agricultural world champion milk cow. It was no small curiosity that prompted the desire to see a cow, our very own, bred and born in our own state, eight years old, the mother of five calves, and holding a record of 9 gallons of milk every day for a year. Josephine's best day was a fraction over 13 gallons—the total for the year being 3255 gallons. Other exhibits were the 10 best ears of yellow corn in the world for the year 1910, raised on Missouri soil and by a Missouri boy—F. R. Douglas, of Shelby county, and 2d best by H. R. Scott, of near Tarkio. The premium ram of Missouri, and the premium beef steer, and several first premium specimens of oats, wheat and grasses.

Dr. S. M. Jordan spoke for the corn, exhibiting samples, outlining the boys' corn-growing contest and showing convincingly that we can and must grow the best corn in Missouri. Prof. R. H. Emberson spoke on dairying, that good milk cows were a possibility on every farm and pleading for scientific breeding as a means of attaining this end. Prof. W. L. Howard gave an interesting discussion on poultry-raising. Prof. D. H. Doane lectured on orchards.

The stay of the farm special at each station is necessarily short, yet the department of agriculture of the university thru the courtesy of the railroads of the state is rendering a great service in creating interest in better farm methods and disseminating a knowledge of practical plans.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

Sunday began rough, but ended in a calm, starry night. Good crowds attended the services, several visitors being present at each service. Sunday school was smaller than usual. Mr. Walton acknowledges a specially fine piece of engraving on his watch chain by Mr. Bunker. The chain was presented by the young ladies of the church.

The warm sunshine of spring is upon us; nature will renew her activity. Let us renew our loyalty to God and begin a new service.

C. E. was led by Miss Josephine Murray. A good crowd was present. Several made good talks, and Mrs. Murphy played a sweet instrumental solo. Loyd McNulty will be the next leader.

We are all glad to hear of Mrs. Van Huskirk's improvement. Next Sunday: "The Problem of Moral Education." Outside Influences.

For Life.

Two hearts now beat as one. It happened in this way. Miss Myrtle Leno, of this city, at present a member of the Craig school staff, and Mr. Otto Sellers, clerk for the Craig Back-et store, went to St. Joseph, Friday last, March 16th, and after procuring the necessary permit from the Buchanan county recorder, went over to the residence of Rev. Henry A. Sawyers, and after a short talk with him, he told them to "get on their feet," and there, in the presence of the preacher and Mrs. Sawyers, they were made husband and wife. The bride is an Oregon girl, dearly beloved by a large circle of friends, who will wish her a long, sweet life. For several years she taught in our school, and her former pupils too, will join in wishing her peace, plenty and happiness. Mr. Sellers is highly spoken of, enjoying the confidence of his employers and his large circle of friends. May you both live long and prosper, is the sincere wish of The Sentinel.
