

The Holt County Sentinel.

54TH YEAR.

OREGON, MISSOURI, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1918.

NUMBER 33.

County Court.

The regular December term of our county court was held last week, being in session for two days only, and did considerable business.

John H. Kunkel, newly appointed superintendent of the poor farm, filed his contract and also his bond, which were approved.

County Engineer Peret, filed right of way, by Jacob Kurtz to lands in the northwest fourth, 31, 60, 37.

Thomas Prather filed his bond as overseer of district 14.

Conley P. Swain filed his settlement with the court as superintendent of the poor farm for the month ending December 1. Total receipts, $1,060.00; expenditure, $548.00; total inmates, 10 males and 2 females.

The Court and County Clerk Kunkel went to the poor farm and made an inventory, preparatory to turning over the personal property and management to the newly appointed superintendent, Jno. H. Kunkel. The inventory showed the value of personal property at $8,860, which is a decrease of $1,253 since March, 1918.

The Court ordered the Clerk to issue patent to certain lands to Benj. Freeman at $1.25 per acre.

County Highway Engineer Jno. H. Peret, was authorized to remove a 22 foot bridge at the Dan Markt place and reconstruct the same across the lateral on Mill Creek drainage canal, 50 rods south of the quarter sections 15 and 16, 59, 38; a concrete culvert having been ordered at the former location of the bridge.

County Clerk elect Dan B. Kunkel, filed his bond in the sum of $10,000. John H. Simpson, recorder elect, filed his bond in the sum of $5,000. These bonds were approved by the Court.

Fred Pierson was allowed a warrant for $3.00, for one wolf scalp.

Close Up the Work.

In view of the armistice and consequent abatement of immediate urgency of complete classification of registrants, our local board, composed of Ben E. Crouser, Dan B. Kunkel and Dr. J. F. Chandler, having been ordered to complete their work, and Clerk Dan B. Kunkel having all work completed, will seal his records in the eleven filing cases, on Saturday, December 21, thus completing one of the most remarkable records in the history of our county. These records will be treated in the future as public records of the United States government and will remain in the vaults of the Court House, until further orders. Whether they will remain there permanently or be forwarded to the war department at Washington, no one at present can say. One thing is certain, every man registered and whose questionnaire was returned, has his pedigree on file in the records over at the County Clerk's office, and there is no telling when it will ever be opened up for inspection.

No classification was permissible after Dec. 9, and any registrant, who has failed to return his questionnaire by that time under the law will be classed as a deserter; Holt county will have none of these as all questionnaires were promptly returned.

Clerk Kunkel of the board had every feature of the affairs of the board thoroughly completed and ready for the cases to be sealed, which was done promptly.

Advising that draft records be sealed the order states:

"After the receipt of this order no access shall be given to records on the part of any person whatsoever, not a member of the board or a member of the clerical force specifically authorized thereto by the board, and no information concerning them shall be given out except upon the written instructions of the governor or of the provost marshal general's office."

"A scrupulous observance of the following rules is essential in order that the local board shall be protected against the importunities of registrants and against serious charges to which any other course would lend color and might give substance."

"The proper and just administration of the War Risk Insurance and of future pension laws of the country will, in many cases, depend almost exclusively upon data contained in these records which will likewise have a vital relationship to charges of desertion and delinquency involving the honor of thousands of registrants. In addition to the foregoing, it is from these records that the history of this war must in good part be compiled, and from them who must come information of vast value as to man power in case of any future war. For these reasons it is a matter of the highest patriotic duty on the part of the whole board from which no board member can escape, to see to it that these records are kept absolutely true and intact."

Although the records of the board are sealed the organizations will be kept intact for some time it is believed, as a precautionary measure, the government not knowing what contingency might arise.

As there are 45,000 draft boards in the United States and as Holt county would be an average, it is safe to say, the 11 filing cases would occupy some 27 square feet of floor surface, laid side by side, you can figure out that it would take a floor space of over a million square feet to accommodate these 500,000 filing cases if laid side by side—of course this would not be done but would be filed by States, in tiers, and would not require so vast a floor space.

Here is an item of expense caused by the war—500,000 filing cases, principally of steel, to answer the demands of the local draft boards; then to this must be added those needed for the adjutant general's office for each state and the thousands needed for the records of the various departments at Washington.

Glass Gets the Job.

Representative Carter Glass, of Virginia, has been chosen by President Wilson as secretary of the treasury, to succeed Wm. G. McAdoo, and Mr. Glass has accepted the job. He has been chairman of the Finance committee of the house.

Off the Ledger.

It is evident now that the State will be able to pay off the last of the debts left by the Major administration by the close of the year. Of $2,025,000 Governor Gardner was forced to borrow from the St. Louis clearing house to tide the State over after the last legislature adjourned, all except $475,000 has been paid. This will likely be met by the December collections.

Being Mustered Out.

Members of the student army training corps are being mustered out, the work began Monday, of last week, and in due time those from Holt county, of which there are 33 young men, will be coming back home, unless they select to remain in their respective schools as civilians. The use of the uniforms is to be continued, but not longer than four months, when all government equipment must be returned.

Just a Slip.

We want to apologize to our young friend, R. F. Buck, cashier of the Bank of Corning, for the embarrassing error made by the Sentinel in publishing their deposits on Nov. 14, as being $67,064, where it should have read $147,854. In making up our totals for each bank in the county, we got on the wrong line—that is our office did—nothing stronger than coffee—and caused this embarrassing blunder. The Bank of Corning is one of the solid ones of our county, and while it is not as large an institution as the Federal Reserve of New York, by ginks it is as substantial.

Vital Statistics.

One would naturally expect that the death rate would be high the past two months on account of the influenza epidemic, but it has not been, which is a compliment to the medicals of our county. During both October and November, the deaths were equal in their totals and also as to the sexes. In October 4 males and 10 females, and the same in November—a total of 24 during the two months. The average age of the males at time of death was 40½ years, while that of the females was 43½ years. During these two months, the birth rate fell below the deaths, being 22 to 28.

There Were Others.

The presidential boom that has been started for General Pershing is a reminder that every war in which the United States has been engaged has produced a "war president." Washington was the first. Jackson was the product of the War of 1812. Taylor was boosted into the executive chair by the Mexican war and the Indian campaign produced Harrison. Grant was the logical candidate at the end of the Civil war and Roosevelt rode into the White House upon the crest of the Spanish-American squabble. Certainly no American figure is more conspicuous or heroic today than that of the commander of the American expeditionary forces in France.

May Wear Uniforms.

Men discharged from the army will be permitted to wear their issue clothing three months, according to instructions to commanders of units, for the information of their enlisted men. However, men will be instructed to return their clothing as soon as possible. Holding the issue clothing beyond maximum time makes the discharged soldier subject to prosecution for embezzlement of government property. At the time a soldier is discharged his equipment is checked in, with the exception of these articles:

One pair or item of gloves, underwear, socks, coat, breeches, hat and cord, shoes, shirt overcoat, leggings, belt.

He will be given a bulletin warning him of what he is to do with his clothing and will be given an official label to put on the bundle of clothing when returning it. The label is an official frank calling for free postage. The label is addressed to the deputy zone supply officer, Camp Funston, Kan., and has space to record whose clothing is being returned.

Gets Quite a Lift.

County Clerk Kunkel has just completed the apportionment of the county foreign insurance tax which amounted in the total to $1,929.51. The total apportioned to the various districts on account of the free text books account was $370.29, which was given to the following districts, as follows:

Obituary next week.

Barker.

Mrs. Martha N. Barker was born in Illinois, Oct. 17, 1842, and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cole Jackson, at Big Lake, Monday night, Dec. 2, age 76 years, 1 month, 17 days. Funeral services were held at the Jackson residence Wednesday.

Mrs. Barker had lived in the Lake neighborhood for many years; there her children grew to manhood and womanhood. She is survived by nine children, Clem, Elmer, Charles, James, Samuel and Lee Barker; Mrs. James Hines, Mrs. Myrtle Hill, and Mrs. Cole Jackson.—Mound City Journal, Dec. 5, 1918.

Roselius.

Our keen sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Roselius, of Corning, by reason of the death of their only son, George, which occurred at Tarkio Wednesday, of last week, December 4, 1918, while a student at the Tarkio College. He was in his 17th year—the very heyday of a most promising life, and the possessor of a most beautiful character. He was stricken with influenza some four weeks ago, and a complication of troubles developed, which proved too great a strain and he yielded to that summons, which we all must answer some day. The body was brought to the home of his parents, from which funeral services were held, Saturday, November 7, conducted by Rev. Work, of Tarkio.

Hickman.

Mrs. Mary G. Hickman, wife of Abner Hickman, was born in Clay county, Missouri, March 29th, 1865. She was married to Mr. Hickman June 22, 1881.

To this union was born three children, two of whom, George and Lilla, are with us today. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Henry Dunnigan. One daughter, Miss Sarah, preceded her mother six years ago. Mrs. Hickman's maiden name was Miss Mary Morgan.

Mrs. Hickman was not a member of any church communion but she was a devoted mother and affectionate companion, who will be greatly missed by loved ones and her host of friends.

May God bless her life work and the memory of all that she has done, in our prayer in Jesus' name.—XXX—In News-Jeffersonian, Dec. 6, 1918.

Tochterman.

For nearly 60 years John Tochterman has lived in this vicinity, and he lived an industrious, honest life. For several years he has been in feeble health, and on Thursday last, Dec. 5, 1918, he laid down his burdens and crossed over to the other side. He was born in Indiana, in September, 1846. He was the son of Jacob and Mary Tochterman, and came with his parents to Holt county in 1861, locating near Oregon, where he has ever resided, and died at his home in the Curzon district.

He was married to Kate Prussman in 1872, who survives. He is also survived by a brother Andrew, of Oregon, and two sisters, Mrs. John Abele, of La Prior, Texas, and Wilhelmina, who made her home with her brother now deceased.

The funeral services were held from the home on Sunday last, conducted by Rev. Feilman, of the German M. E. Church, the interment being in the German cemetery.

His Last Roll Call.

Hugh Montgomery, who for nearly forty years had been identified with the business, social and educational life of Mound City, passed suddenly over to the other shore, at his home in Mound City on the evening of Tuesday, of last week, December 3, 1918. Mr. Montgomery retired early, in his usual health, and his wife resting in an adjoining room, was attracted to his bedside by his unusual gurgling sound, and on reaching his bedside, found him dead. While Mr. Montgomery had been in feeble health, there was nothing especially alarming in his condition, being able to go about his home and up and around the city.

For several years past he has not been in active business, but in those days gone past, he did his full share in helping to build up the city of his adoption; he never faltered in his obligation to his church and was ever ready to keep her schools among the best—whatever tended to help his town, he was every ready to say "come on." In his home life Hugh Montgomery was the true husband, loving father, and generous neighbor. Hugh Montgomery was born in Bangor, Ireland, January 22, 1845, and was therefore nearing his 74th milestone at the time of his death. He was left without parents when he was two years of age, and at that age he was brought to this country by an uncle, with whom he made his home in Jackson, Ohio, where he was reared and received his education.

In July, 1861, he answered his country's call and enlisted in company E, 27th Ohio Infantry, and remained in service until September, 1864, participating in some of the most sanguinary engagements of the Civil War, and for some 18 months he was on detached duty, serving in the Provost Marshal's department, at Memphis, Tennessee.

On his muster out, he returned to Jackson, Ohio, when he took a business course at Cincinnati, graduating late in 1866. He held various positions as accountant in Cincinnati, Ohio, and went to Chattanooga, Tenn., where he was the cashier of the First National Bank. Owing to failing health he retired from this position and returned to Ohio, and recuperating in strength, he became the auditor of the Chester & Eastern railroad and remained with this company until its failure in 1873.

In 1875 Mr. Montgomery came to this county and located in Oregon, taking charge of the books for the late George B. Chaddock, who occupied the building now owned and used by Dan M. Martin. In 1876 he went to St. Joseph, and entered the employ of the Schuster-Hux bank, until 1880.

In February, 1880, Albert Roecker and Robert Montgomery organized the Holt County Bank, Mound City's first bank; Mr. Montgomery was president, and Albert Roecker its vice-president. They called the deceased to become the cashier of this bank, which position he held for many years—until his failing health compelled him to cease active business life.

Mr. Montgomery was first married to Laura, daughter of Rev. E. Silbey, of Middleport, Ohio, by whom he had two children, Nellie, now Mrs. Nellie McRoberts, of Mound City, and a son, Earl, who died Oct. 16, 1896; Mrs. Montgomery died May 20, 1898.

In April, 1892, he was married to Lizzie, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John Young, of Mound City, who with his daughter, Mrs. McRoberts, and a granddaughter, Miss Laura McRoberts, survive him. He is also survived by two brothers, Robert, of Oregon, and David, of Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. Montgomery had been identified with the Methodist Episcopal Church for many years and was ever looked upon as one of the substantial, earnest supporters of his church. He was also a member of the Mound City Masonic lodge.

The funeral service which was largely attended, was held from the family home, Friday afternoon, Dec. 6, the funeral discourse being delivered by his pastor, Rev. Lane Douglas, who was assisted by the pastors of the Presbyterian and Christian Churches. On Saturday morning the body was brought to Oregon via the Villena train, and was in charge of the Masonic Order of Mound City and Oregon, members of his local lodge acting as pall bearers: Messrs. Wm. Hamsher, J. U. Croen, D. W. Porter, R. E. Terhune, T. J. Bridgman and W. H. Mills. The body was laid to rest in Maple Grove cemetery, beside his former wife and son, Earl, with the honors of the order, T. J. Bridgman acting as worshipful master.

The will of God is accomplished; so note it; be amen.

Those accompanying the remains from Mound City, were: John S. Smith and wife, George Young and wife, W. H. Crawford and E. G. Smith. His daughter, Mrs. Nell McRoberts and daughter, Laura, Mrs. Montgomery, owing to the great shock that so suddenly came to her was unable to attend.

Mrs. Hugh Montgomery and Mrs. Nell McRoberts and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Montgomery desired the Sentinel to express their deep sense of appreciation to the members of Oregon Lodge, A. F. A. M., for their mark of respect shown their husband, father and brother, in attending his funeral, and also to Messrs. C. D. Zook and Dr. J. C. Whitmer and Mrs. Frances Dungan in furnishing cars for the funeral party from Forest City.

Sinclair.

Henry Elmer Sinclair, living in the Exodus district, died at the home of his parents, Dec. 5, at the age of 22 years. Funeral services were held Saturday, the 7th inst., interment at the Boyd cemetery.

Carson.

The many friends here will sympathize with Uncle Abner Carson, by reason of the death of his beloved wife, after nearly 60 years of married life, which occurred at the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Prussman, near Pawnee City, Neb., Friday last, Dec. 6, 1918, in the 78th year of her age.

The deceased prior to her marriage, was Margaret Deffenbaugh, daughter of John Deffenbaugh, one of the pioneer millers of our county, whose mill was located on Mill Creek, on the Robert Walters land of today. She was born near Circleville, Ohio, April 9, 1841, and passed over the River of Life, Dec. 6, 1918, aged 77 years, 7 months and 27 days.

She was united in marriage to Abner J. Carson, near Kokomo, Indiana, July 24, 1859. To this union was born four children: W. H., of Fairfax, Mo.; Mrs. Ida C. Prussman, and Mrs. Mattie Houston, of Pawnee City, Neb., and Seaborn, of Oregon, Mo., all of whom with the aged father were at the bedside as the spirit took its flight. She is also survived by 15 grand children and 18 great grand children; and a brother and sister, residing in the state of Oregon.

She and her husband came to Holt county from Kokomo, in 1864, and until recently they had resided in the vicinity of Oregon, when the aged couple went to Pawnee City, Neb., where they have since resided with Mr. and Mrs. Prussman. She had been a member of the Presbyterian Church for 41 years, and in all those years lived the consistent Christian life.

Funeral services were held from the home of her daughter, on Saturday, Dec. 7, the interment being in the Pawnee City cemetery.

Garton.

Mrs. Arthur Garton, living north of New Point, died at her home on Thursday last, December 5, age 30 years. Funeral services were held Saturday last, interment being in the K. P. cemetery at Mattland. She is survived by her husband and several children.

The Supreme Sacrifice.

Walter Herman Sommer, son of Gottfried and Mary Sommer, was born in Holt county, on his father's farm, southeast of Oregon, July 7, 1894, and died at Columbia, Mo., Nov. 24, 1918, age 24 years, 4 months and 14 days.

This splendid, industrious, young man, was called to the colors, Nov. 7, and went to Columbia, for mechanical training, in the very best of health, and a splendid physical specimen. He had been at Columbia but seven days when he was taken down with influenza, which soon developed into pneumonia, and in ten days he answered his final summons.

The body was brought here on the early Monday morning train, Nov. 25, and taken to family home in the White district, where the funeral services were held on Tuesday, Nov. 26, and were conducted in both German and English by Rev. Schunelle, of Avenue City, Mo., and Rev. Feilman, of the German M. E. Church, of Oregon. The burial was in the Maple Grove cemetery, at Oregon.

Walter is survived by his parents, six brothers and three sisters, and they will miss him keenly from the family circle, for he was a faithful son, and a kind considerate brother. He has a brother, Frank, who has been on the firing line in France, as a member of Co. I, 354th Infantry.

Those attending the funeral coming from Avenue City, Andrew County, were: Fred Stuber and wife; Lewis Sommer and wife; Adolph Schneider and wife; Albert, Christ and Philip Schneider and their wives; Mrs. Anna Bodenhausen; Carl Sommer and wife; Arnold Sommer, Wm. Rottgag, Alice and Herman Stuber.

Mr. and Mrs. Sommer and children desire to express their deep sense of gratitude to their neighbors and friends for their kindly aid and words of sympathy during their hours of deep sorrow.

Killed in Action.

Word has reached us of the reported killing of Roy Cocannough, of Bigelow, in the Argonne-Sedan drive on November 8.

The young man was called to the colors, in company with Allen Stanley, R. T. Dobyns and others, and left here for Camp Funston, April 26, and in June went to France. He is the son of Mrs. Arthurs Cocannough, of Texas, Kentucky, and was born May 5, 1895. He was assigned to the 356th Infantry, 8th Division.

What's the Use.

Our County Board of Health was in session Wednesday, of this week, and after an exhaustive discussion of the quarantine question on account of the prevalence of the influenza, throughout the county, came to the conclusion, that as long as some physicians would not report their cases, and no regard paid to the law, it seemed useless for the Board to go to the expense of holding meetings, and the Sheriff paid costs of quarantining, when it is not obeyed by the part is quarantined, and people run at large from the homes so quarantined.

A large number of influenza cases have prevailed where the physician has utterly failed to report the same, and in some cases they have reported their patient as having only an ordinary cold, rather than to have them quarantined, and thus the disease has spread largely through their action. It is useless for the county, board of health to try to stamp out this disease when the physicians will not act in harmony with them, by reporting their cases, and insisting on members of the household where the disease prevails in obeying strictly the order of quarantine. Some physicians are reported as especially bad, as they will ask for a flag to be put up at A's home, but never asks that B's home be flagged, although both have the influenza—it's a case of "Kissing giving by favor;" one is a well-to-do family, while the other are poor people.

The physician who fails to report a contagious disease lays himself liable under the law, to forfeit his license to practice—but like so many of our laws, they are nil. Some of the physicians are largely responsible for the spread of this dreaded disease, and they owe it to themselves and their profession, and to the protection of our people, to report their cases and see that members of the family obey the quarantine. But it is an ill wind that doesn't blow somebody some good.

It is to the credit of some of the physicians, that they have promptly reported their cases, but some have not done so, and hence the innocent must pay the cost of this carelessness.

Postmaster Examination.

To be eligible for this examination an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must actually reside within the delivery of the office and have so resided at the time the present vacancy occurred.

Applicants must have reached their twenty-first but not their sixty-fifth birthday on the date of the examination.

Application Form 304 and full information concerning the requirements of the examination may be secured from the postmaster at the place of vacancy or from the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C. Applications should be properly executed and filed with the Commission at Washington, D. C., in time to arrange for the examination of the applicant.

Holt Was In It.

General Pershing's account of his stewardship, as commander of the American Expeditionary Forces was given to the public Wednesday, of last week, December 4, 1918, by Secretary of War Baker. It is in the form of a preliminary report to the Secretary, covering operations up to November 20, after the German collapse. It discloses his feeling for those who served under him. In speaking of the great Marne-Argonne battle he mentions the value of the 35th and 89th divisions, in which company I, and many other Holt county boys were. He says:

"In all 40 enemy divisions had been used against us in the Meuse-Argonne battle. Between September 26 and November 6 we took 26,059 prisoners and 468 guns on this front. Our divisions engaged were the First, Second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fifth, Thirty-seventh, Forty-second, Seventy-seventh, Seventy-eighth, Seventy-ninth, Eightieth, Eighty-second, Eighty-ninth, Ninetieth, and Ninety-first. Many of our divisions remained in line for a length of time that required reserves of steel while others were sent in again after only a few days of rest. The First, Fifth, Twenty-sixth, Forty-second, Seventy-seventh, Eightieth, Eighty-ninth
