

THE STATE REPUBLICAN.

VOLUME XXIV.

JEFFERSON CITY, COLE COUNTY, MISSOURI, THURSDAY, JANUARY 24, 1895.

MISSOURI, THURSDAY, JANUARY 24, 1895.

NUMBER 7.

MISSOURI LEGISLATURE.

The general assembly has devoted the week largely to committee work. Saturday was spent, at the invitation of the University curators, in inspecting that institution at Columbia.

Among new bills introduced in the senate this week have been these:

By Baskett: Requiring money appropriated for support of the State University and normal schools to be drawn from the state treasury in monthly installments.

By Garb: Abolishing the office of city collector in cities of the fourth class.

By Gray: Giving sub-contractors and laborers right of action on contractor's bond for labor performed on public buildings.

By Busche: Requiring building and loan associations to publish semi-annual statements.

By Keene: Providing for the election of the clerk of probate court in St. Louis.

By Mott: Giving justices of the peace in St. Louis jurisdiction in suits to recover taxes.

By Love: The cigarette bill, fixing a state license of $1,000 on all dealers.

By Wurdeman: Giving lecturers of religious societies right to solemnize marriages.

By Davison: Appropriating $5,000 for the commission to locate the boundary lines between Missouri and Iowa.

Senator Yeater introduced a bill reducing the maximum that may be charged for boarding prisoners in jails from 50c a day to 30c a day. This is the first of a series of bills to reduce criminal costs.

By Baskett: For the enactment of a fellow-servant law applicable to railroads.

By Mott: To equalize the salaries paid official stenographers.

By Love: Authorizing the payment of tax twice per year, to be due December 20 and June 20.

By Brewster: Allowing farmers' mutual benefit insurance companies to transact business in their congressional districts when the insurance reaches $1,000,000 and the membership 1,500.

In the house these are among the new bills:

By Higbee: For the taxation of inheritances and life insurance policies.

By George: Changing the time of holding circuit court in Camden county.

By Julian: Requiring the state board of equalization to assess railroad side tracks and terminals.

By Rothwell: To prohibit hotel, boarding house and restaurant keepers in Jefferson City from cooking rabbits the first seventy days of each session of the general assembly.

By Sherrill: Prohibiting the netting of wild geese and ducks.

By Jones, of Jackson: Empowering cities of the fourth class to condemn private property for public use.

By Jones, of Jackson: Empowering cities of 3,000 and less than 30,000 inhabitants to pay for electric lights by providing for a special tax levy for such purposes.

By Russell: Making train robbery a capital offense.

By Warner: Requiring all goods manufactured by convict labor to be plainly stamped as such.

By Young, of St. Francois: To prohibit barbers from doing business on Sunday.

By Baugher: Revising the law in regard to the sale of school lands.

By Calhoun: To prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors to persons under 21 years of age.

By Calhoun: To prevent the cutting of trees from the banks of streams.

By Denny: Extending the Australian ballot law to town elections.

By Tubbs: For the taxation of legacies and gifts.

By Julian: For the taxation of all corporation franchises.

By Moran: To establish a criminal court in Buchanan county.

By O'Neal: Providing for a commission to relocate the boundary line between Missouri and Iowa.

responsible for damages received by an employe through the carelessness or negligence of a co-employe.

By Rothwell: Prohibiting contracts that limit liabilities.

By Julian: Giving attorneys a lien on judgments recovered for fees as attorneys.

By Gurney: Levying a road improvement tax on beer and providing for a state inspector.

In the senate the fellow-servant bill was referred to the railroad committee, after an effort to refer it to the labor committee had failed. This is regarded as a defeat for the bill introduced by Senator Baskett. The Yeas—Amelung, Brewster, Busche, Davison, Drum, Dunn, Gray, Harrison, Lancaster, Landrum, Lyman, Morton, Mott, O'Bannon, Powers, Seater, Tunnell, Walker, Wurdeman—19. Nays—Baskett, Gaub, Goodykoontz, Kennish, Kiene, McClintic, Madison, Williams, Yeater—9. Absent—Ballard, Bledsoe, Love, Morrissey, Orchard, Poers—4.

Mr. Yeater introduced a resolution increasing the judiciary committee from seven to nine members, which was adopted, and Messrs. Lyman and Kiene were added to the committee.

The senate passed the concurrent resolution to recover from the secretary of state the notarial bond of I. F. Atterbury, who swindled the farmers of De Kalb county out of $120,000.

Senator Seaber introduced a resolution directing the ways and means committee to consider a plan for uniform assessment of property. The resolution was debated at length, the democratic senators generally opposing it, but it was finally adopted.

The board of railroad commissioners presented a report in reply to Senator Love's resolution in which it was stated that the railroad terminal association of St. Louis and the Eureka Springs Railway are the only ones charging more than 3 cents a mile for passenger fare, and the commissioners can regulate neither.

In the house Mr. Brock offered a resolution calling on the attorney general for an opinion as to the right of members of the junketing and state auditing committees to draw $5 per day as members of such committees while the assembly is in session, and also draw $5 a day as members of the legislature. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Tubbs offered a resolution directing the committee on appropriations to set aside one-third of all the state revenue for school purposes. Referred to the committee on appropriations.

Mr. Denslow offered a resolution favoring legislation for woman suffrage. It was referred without debate to the committee on elections.

The committee on official fees and salaries reported favorably a bill placing all officials in counties of 45,000 and less than 100,000 inhabitants on salaries and deprive them of fees.

The committee on agriculture reported favorably a bill making it a felony to enter a horse at any race track or fair association under a false name.

The committee on criminal jurisprudence reported favorably a bill providing for an inspection of watermelons. The same committee also reported favorably a bill imposing an additional fine of not less than $250 for selling intoxicants without a state and county license.

Gov. Stone transmitted a message concerning the disputed boundary line between Mercer county, Missouri and Decatur county, Iowa, detailing the mistakes, disputes and trouble arising from the uncertain line. The Governor suggested the appointment of a joint commission to locate the true boundary line, and asking an appropriation of $5000 to defray the cost.

Senator Gray introduced a bill calculated to increase the responsibility of the bondsmen of contractors who put up public buildings. It authorizes subcontractors and laborers to bring suit against the bondsmen for money due for work. This is really an amendment to the mechanics' lien law, and would tend to make business men very careful about indorsing bonds, as well as give laborers and undercontractors a double opportunity of collecting what is due them.

The house judiciary committee has decided to report adversely a bill repealing all laws which exempt wages from garnishment. It is probable that the committee will report a bill providing for the garnishment of wages, with certain limitations. As the law now stands, the head of a family may be earning any sum of money, no matter how much, and yet his income can not be garnished if drawn every month. There are many instances where this law has enabled debtors perfectly able to pay to defraud their creditors. The committee will endeavor to fix some limit to the amount of wages that may be earned free from liability to garnishment. It will be fixed high enough so as to obviate the possibility of any family being distressed, and yet compel men who earn large salaries to have some regard for their obligations.

Senator Kiene has introduced a bill providing for the appointment by the Governor of three persons to regulate the practice of dentistry in the state. The persons so named shall not be connected with any school of dentistry, but must have had five years' experience in their profession and be resident citizens of the state. Every dentist engaged in business at the date the act goes into effect can obtain a certificate from the board to continue practice, on application, and without paying any fee.

Registered schools of dentistry will be registered upon presenting their diploma, duly attested, and paying a fee of $2. Persons desiring examination will be charged $10 if passed upon favorably. To present a false diploma is made a felony. Each dentist must register with the county clerk, or in St. Louis with the city register, and will be charged a fee of 50 cents. While actually engaged in business the members of the board are to receive $10 each per day, provided the fees collected are sufficient to so reimburse them.

Mr. Sullinger of Gentry has introduced a bill making any person ineligible to hold a county office a third term. There are many officials throughout the state who would be affected by such a law, and who can not see any merit in it. An effort will be made, it is said, to amend the act so as to make it apply to all elective officers except members of the legislature.

Representative Chinn, of Lewis, introduced a bill making any person ineligible to hold a county office a third term. There are many officials throughout the state who would be affected by such a law, and who can not see any merit in it. An effort will be made, it is said, to amend the act so as to make it apply to all elective officers except members of the legislature.

not less than $500, and prosecution may be either by indictment or information.

The probabilities are a general bill will be formulated to fix the salaries of official court stenographers. There are a number of bills pending that make all sorts of changes. In some respects there is no equality in the wages paid. The official stenographer of the St. Louis criminal court receives but $150 per month, while the other court stenographers of the city receive $300. Senator Mott, however, has a bill pending to cure this discrimination by paying the criminal court stenographers the same as the civil court stenographers.

Senator Love introduced a bill providing for two payment on taxes, one being due December 20, and the other June 20. A similar law has been in force in Pennsylvania for many years, and is reported to give excellent satisfaction. The bill does not prevent any one who so desires from paying all taxes at once, but it is believed that by dividing the payments without adding any penalties, a great relief will be afforded many citizens.
