ARTHUR.

It still continues to rain. Every body is anxious for more pleasant weather for a few days at least. Ira Olive, we hear, is slowly improving. He has been quite with typhoid fever. Walter Minor has sold his property in Arthur to Henry Oulst, and expects to start to Oregon in the near future.

We hear that Mr. Gust is going to put in a stock of goods. Hurrah for Arthur. We expect to see her a booming town yet.

Mrs. Ward is reported some better. I. H. Minor and family moved to Carthage last Friday.

Mr. Lady, Walter Minor and Rolly McAllister went to Rich Hill Tuesday.

Mrs. Feller from Pleasant Hill, was in Arthur last week visiting at Mr. Huckins. She returned home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gilan were visiting at Mr. Huckins' last week. They reside near Collins, in St. Clair county.

WIDE AWAKE.

CANCER CURED BY BLOOD BALM.

Alislin and Blood Diseases Cured.

Mrs. M. L. Adams, Fredonia, Ala., took Botanic Blood Balm which effectually cured an eating cancer of the nose and face. The sores healed up perfectly. Many doctors had given up her case as hopeless. Hundreds of cases of cancer, eating sores, suppurating swellings, etc., have been cured by blood balm. Among others Mrs. B. M. Guernsey, Warrior Stand, Ala. Her nose and lip were raw as beef, with offensive discharge from the eating sores. Doctors advised cutting, but it failed. Blood Balm healed the sores, and Mrs. Guernsey is as well as ever. Botanic Blood Balm also cures eczema, itching humors, scabs and scales, bone pains, ulcers, offensive pimples, blood poison, carbuncles, scrofula, risings and bumps on the skin and all blood troubles. Druggists, $1 per large bottle. Sample of Botanic Blood Balm free and prepaid by writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Describe trouble and special medical advice sent in sealed letter. It is certainly worth while investigating such a remarkable remedy, as Blood Balm cures the most awful, worst and most deep-seated blood diseases.

Key was Wiser.

John Wanamaker is a millionaire and an ex-postmaster general and a leader in the Sunday school. He believes in reform and in advertising, as does Andrew Carnegie, and in John Wanamaker as Andrew Carnegie believes in Andrew Carnegie.

Whilom was a nickle bicycle of size adapted to small boys illuminating a window of the store, and three small boys adapted to the size of the bicycle were hypnotized by the glory thereof. And happened John Wanamaker that way. He was feeling good and benevolent, as a good and benevolent man ought to feel. When he espied the three male urchins and the yearning of their eyes, he cogitated how himself was one time an urchin, and how his heart had yearned after glittering things. He smiled a good and benevolent smile and glanced over his shoulder to see if the reporter were in the customary place. And the reporter was there.

Whereupon: "Boys, would you like to have that bicycle?"

And as one voice: "Ain't yer dead right?"

"Well, the boy who will give the right answer to a question I am going to ask shall have it. One at a time, 'whom do you love best?'"

"I love mamma best," quoth the first promptly, for he was unused to the ways of the world.

"And so you ought jivery little boy should love his mamma. But that isn't the right answer."

And the second, who will be senator some day: "I love John Wanamaker."

"Fine, that's fine, John Wanamaker likes to be loved; but that's not the answer, either."

"Then the third: 'Lub Jesus best.'"

"Right, my boy, right; the bicycle is yours. You should all love your papa and mamma and brothers and sisters and playmates; but most of all you should love Jesus. And now, my little man, what is your name?"

"They Abranovitch."

And when the reporter had pocketed it, he put up his pencil and went and treated himself. But somehow the story got out—From the Kiota, Lincoln, Neb.

Courage.

Study the life of any successful man and you will see that bravery is one of his strongest points.

The most of us are afraid cowards. We are afraid to live and afraid to die. We are afraid of the light and afraid of the dark. We are cautious. We are "conservative."

While we linger shivering on the brink and fear to launch away some brave soul steps into his boat, takes up the oars and pulls to his destiny.

Many men stick to a snail because they haven't nerve enough to get into business for themselves. They have all the qualities for success save courage.

Caspar hesitated to cross the Rubicon. But not long. Shouting "The Die is Cast," he plunged in.

The element of risk enters into every successful enterprise. The general risks his reputation in giving battle, the author in writing his book, the business man in making his ventures.

Thousands who have the necessary courage fail. Hundreds succeed. But of those who succeed none are cowards. Every one of them had the courage to try.

There was a time when man was afraid of Nature, but that day is past. Most men nowadays are afraid of themselves.

God slightly made men brave. It is the devil who makes them cowards. Courage is strength. Cowardice is weakness. To make up your mind to fight is half the battle of life.
