Dr. Herzog, who will take up his duties the first week in May, is the son of Rabbi J. L. Herzog, now chief rabbi of the Russian and Polish Jews in Paris. For some time he was assistant to his father in Paris, and was in 1916 appointed minister in Belgium, migrating to Dublin, to hold a similar appointment, in 1919.

Our trade with Germany during 1920 amounted to $400,000,000. This was $153,000,000 below our biggest year's business with that country.

COUNCIL OF JEWISH WOMEN TO HAVE EVENING MEETING.

Dra-Mu-Lit Circle to Present Plays.

The Council of Jewish Women will again have an evening meeting after an interval of several years.

The evening will no doubt prove very interesting and serve to revive the evening meeting as a regular feature, especially as the program will be in the nature of a Little Theater performance, so popular thru the country at the present time.

The Dra-Mu-Lit circle will present two plays before the Council Sunday evening, May 8 in the vestry rooms of Temple Emanuel. Some good musical numbers will also be given.

"The Last Jew," a one act dramatic sketch by David Pinski, and "She Must Marry a Doctor," a one act comedy by Sholom Alachem are the plays to be presented. These plays have been translated from the Yiddish and are by two of the best playwrights of the present day. The Dra-Mu-Lit Circle has a group of very talented young people whose efforts will no doubt prove very entertaining and well worth while.

The election of officers will be held May 18. This occurs during Music Week when an especially fine musical program will be presented under the leadership of Mesdames Leo R. Cohn and D. E. Harlen.

POPPY DAY CELEBRATION.

With the official endorsement of Governor O. H. Shoup and Mayor Dewey C. Bailey, both of whom have issued proclamations recognizing the civic character of the event, the grand patriotic rally and championship wrestling matches, to be held in the Auditorium next Monday night for the benefit of the American and French Children's League will formally inaugurate the drive, thruout the West, for the celebration of Poppy Day, May 28.

The Auditorium meeting promises to be a record-breaker in the matter of patriotic demonstrations. The rally is sponsored by the American Legion which has named a committee of forty, representing the ten Denver posts, and a general committee of the most prominent men and women in Denver's civic, social and business life.

Considering the public character of the big event the city has donated the Auditorium and Gov. Shoup will preside. There will be brief addresses by the most eminent speakers in Denver. But the drawing card will be the championship wrestling matches between Eklund, who holds the world's title as light heavyweight champion, and Hunnel, champion of the South west, and between Joe (Toots) Mondt and Jack Nelson.

The League purposes to make an intensive drive all over the country for the wearing of the Poppy on Memorial Day, May 30. Millions of these poppies have been made by the little children of the devastated war zone in France, who were left the victims of disease and fear as a result of the war, and the proceeds of the poppy sale will be devoted entirely to the sustenance of these children thru the League. Denver should show its civic and patriotic pride by a generous outpouring at the Auditorium rally.

THE CITADEL OF RELIGION.

It is unfortunately all too true that the modern practice does not follow the ancient teaching. Whilst for many centuries the home was the citadel of Jewish life, in all too many instances it is no longer. The custom and ceremonies which sanctified the home are still followed by many an observant family. But others, not so observant, have seen fit to relegate them to entire obscurity or to a mere perfunctory recognition. The strong discipline of Jewish custom has given way to the pursuit of pleasure, which ignores the spiritual side of human nature and reduces life to a wild scramble for material things. Religious training is relegated to the religious schools unless it is entirely neglected. That line of conduct is not in accord with sound Jewish practice. The parents, by the spirit which dominates their homes, and with the teaching by example which often proves the best lesson, are bound to do their share in rearing their families in the love of God and in devotion to the Jewish religion. The Jewish home must be the citadel of Judaism, for its influence, felt daily and hourly, reaches further than any other in conserving our religious life.—Jewish Exponent.

The Bible is a democratic book. It sanctions no privileged classes. It gives no exclusive rights. It recognizes all men as being equal. It advocates great spiritual brotherhood. It speaks to men as individuals. It is a guide in all things. It is to all men "a lamp unto their feet and a light unto their path."

A man should hear a little music, read a little poetry, and see a fine picture every day of his life, in order that worldly cares may not obliterate the sense of the beautiful which God has implanted in the human soul.—Goethe.

THE JEWISH FORUM.

The Passover Number of the Jewish Forum contains messages from Sir Stewart Samuel, brother of the High Commissioner of Palestine, and Jacob DeHaas of the Zionist Organization of America.

Among the other features of this interesting issue are a symposium on "What is Lacking in our Communal Life?" in which Dr. Samuel Buchler and Rev. Alexander Lyons participate; an entertaining as well as instructive article entitled "A Daughter of Israel," by Dr. Jacob S. Raisin of South Carolina; one on "The Sabbath Bill" by Hon. Samuel Dickstein of the New York State Legislature; another on "Orthodoxy, Reform, and Kaplanism," a rather vigorous attack by Rabbi Leo Jung of Cleveland, Ohio; one entitled "A Bulwark of Judaism in America" by Isaac Rosengarten, associate editor of the Jewish Forum; another entitled, "A Genius in Embryo" by Eddythe H. Browne.

Elma Ehrlich Levinger contributes a Passover Play, P. M. Raskin, a poem, Dr. Moses Hymanson, continues his translation of the "Duties of the Heart;" and Alter Abelson, his epic poem.

Copies may be secured by writing to the Jewish Forum, 5 Beckman St., New York City.

There are more than 2,000,000 miles of unimproved highways in the United States.
