World's Fair Notes.

The numerous restaurants and cafes in the world's fair buildings will be supplied from a common kitchen, situated in the south part of the grounds and measuring 125 by 325 feet.

The world's fair will be opened promptly on May 1, and, notwithstanding many reports to the contrary, everything except, possibly, a few minor details, will completed and in readiness for inspection by the public.

A fine model of Windsor Castle, built is believed to be the largest in existence and the only one architecturally correct. The models cover an area of 45x18 feet and stands sixteen feet high. It is built upon a stand, the inside of which is a work of art in saloon decoration.

Minnesota women have also the honor of presenting an especially handsome and unique flag for the decoration of the woman's building. This was in response to a request of the board of lady managers for flags to be used for this purpose. The women of the Minnesota state board advertised for original designs for a flag, and many were submitted. The first prize for the accepted design was awarded Mrs. Edward H. Center. The second prize was given Frank H. Hickman, and the third to Miss Ada White, all of Minnesota. Visitors to the world's fair will have the opportunity of going to the roof of the manufactures building-the largest in the world—and enjoying there a halfmile promenade. Four elevators, with a capacity of 600 an hour, will take the people to a great platform, 200 feet above the floor, from which a magnificent bird's eye view will be afforded of the interior of the mammoth building with its acres of exhibits beneath. From the platform the visitors will pass to the promenade on the roof, where an unsurpassed bird's eye view of the entire grounds and buildings will be unfolded.

RESULT OF A DIVORCE TRIAL SHE HAS BEEN FREED FROM A BRUTE.

The Daughter of a Well Known French Painter Legally Sep-arated From a Man Who Shamefully Abused

Brutal Business.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Special, April 25 .- A divorce has been granted by Judge Aikens which will cause a furore among the high social circles of France and Germany. It sets free Mrs. Christine Hekking Pfaff, the daughter of the celebrated French painter and academician who for several years past has been the favorite of the salons and who was conspicuous among the French visitors during the late rebellion. Mrs. Pfaff's com-plaint aileged that her husband, since their marriage, in November, 1880, has pursued a course of inhuman treatment which has ruined her health and kept her in a continual state of fear and nervousness, making life unbearable. He began this course immedi-ately after marriage, although they were living at her father's house, and continued ately after marriage, although they were living at her father's house, and continued it until she left him last fail. He would often threaten to kill her and would throw at her books, inkstands and anything else upon which he could lay his hands. He was afflicted with a most outrageous temper, and would fly into anger and violence without warning. Once he poured a mug of scalding water over her head and shoulders, severely injuring her, and at another time when she was sick in bed he threw a rocking chair at her, injuring her. He would frequently strike her, throw her down and kick her brutally. At one time when she refused to go to bed at 10 o'clock he grabbed her, stripped off her clothes, threw her on the ted, and, taking out a revolver, threatened to shoot her. All this time he was familiar with a maid employe in the house and was treating his wife's protests with indifference or abuse. Finding expostulations unavailing she left him last fall and came to Sloux Falls, where she obtained a legal residence about three months ago. Pfaft, who was the son of a wealthy merchant of Boston, is supposed to be on the continent, but no trace of him could be found, and personal service was not secured.

Old Liberty Bell. Philadelphia, April 25. — A national zero, clothed in flesh and blood, could not be tendered higher honors nor receive such warm expressions of patriotic devotion than were showered upon old Liberty Bell yesterday the first move was made on her journey to Chicago. Extensive preparations had been made by the council's joint special committee for transporting the nation's relic to the for transporting the nation's relic to the world's fair, and it was escorted to the station with all the pomp and ceremony of a hero. The bell was lowered from its position in Independence hall on Saturday and placed in the hall opposite the museum, where it was viewed by curious throngs. Yesterday it was placedupon a truck especially constructed for the purpose, and escorted by Phila-lelphia's contingent of the Pennsylvania rational guard to the Pennsylvania rational guard to the Pennsylvania rational, where the train bearing the bell and its escorts will leave for Chicago to morrow. The parade formed at Independence hall, under the chief marshalship of Brig. Geu. Robert P. Dechert, and, headed by a detachment of police, moved anid the waving of flags and banners and the music of regimental bands. At Union League the parade was viewed by Mayor Stuart. Decorations throughout the city were general. The car that will carry the bell on its long journey was constructed for the purpose and fitted up in a manner consistent with the great honor conferred upon it. The ram, which will start for Chicago to-morrow, will consist of the bell car, two Pullman sleepers and a dining car, and wal carry the official escort of the bell. Carpenters Remain at Work. Chicago, April 25.-The strike of the car penters which was ordered yesterday turned out to be pretty much of a fizzle. Not oneenth of the men who were expected to go ut left work, and many of them went back o work before the day was over. At the to work before the day was over. At the world's fair, where it was claimed by the walking delegates that at least 2,000 men would go out, the strike was not felt in the slightest degree. The men as a rule declared that they were making too much money to quit on the order of the walking delegates. The strike was practically over this evening, and there will be no trace of it to-morrow. President A. B. Russeil, of the building trades council, went down to Jackson Park this morning to see why the carpenters had not obeyed the order to strike, lie was allowed to enter the grounds on condition that he would not interfere with the workmen. Mr. Russeil disregarded this, however, and ordered the men at work on the administration building to quit work. They refused to do so however, and as Mr. Russeil persisted in his efforts to induce the men to strike they called on the Columbian guards to eject him from the building. After a lively scrimanage, in which Mr. Russeil got a black eye and one or two of the guards were knocked down, Mr. Russeil was put in the patrol wagon and carted to the police station. His pass was taken from him, and by direction of Director of Works Burnham he was escorted outside the grounds and released.

Washington, April 25.—The director of the mint, with the approval of Secretary Washington, April 25.—The director of the mint, with the approval of Secretary Carlisle, has determined on the designs for the souvenir quarter dollar, and to-day forwarded to the board of lady managers for their opinion two models of the head of Isabella, which will appear on the face of the coin, one representing her as a young queen, a very beautiful profile, and the other as a mature queen, a front face. The secretary and director prefer the profile view, but will be governed somewhat by the choice of the lady board of managers. The designs for the reverse will consist of a figure of a woman kneeling, holding a distaff, emblematic of woman's industry. The lettering on the reverse will be "Board of Lady Managers" above and around the figures and below the words "Columbian Quarter Dollar." On the obverse or face the lettering will be "United States of America—1893."

Fatal Panie in a Church. Naples, April 25:-A fatal panic occurred last evening in the Church of Torre Annunlast evening in the Church of Torre Annunzlata. During the services, which were attended by a very large number of persons, part of the draperies about the altar were blown against a lighted candle. The flames spread with great rapidity, and the congregation made a rush for the doors. Women and children were thrown to the floor and trampled upon. Eight women and five children were crushed to death, while hundreds of others were more or less seriously injured.

Must Rejoin Their Regiments. Washington, Special, April 25.—It is said that Secretary Lamont has discovered a state of things in the army which he proposes to remedy when he returns from the world's fair ceremonies. It has been brought to his attention that nearly onethird of the entire number of line officers of the army are absent from their regiments on special duty of various kinds. The total number of the absentees is 505 out of 1,589. Of this number, 198 are on instruction duty, 97 on leave, 79 on staff duty and 85 on recruiting service. There are also eighteen officers on duty at Washington. Mr. Lamont does not consider such a state of things as in the best interests of the service, and some lively dropping off the list is expected soon. the army are absent from their regiments on May Get No Indian School. Washington, Special, April 25.—The loca-tion of an Indian school at Chamberlain, S. D., has assumed a peculiar phase. Before of the last administration a special slite selected was near land owned by Senator Pettigrew and that the senator would be greatly benefited by the location. A new inspector was sent out to make a location and in a direction opposite to that first decided upon, and, although he made a report befoge the officers of the bureau had been succeeded by Democrats, the prejudice against Senator Pettigrew prevented any action. There has been appropriated $25,000 for building this school, but it is optional with the secretary whether the money shall be expended for that purpose or not. It is possible that Secretary Smith may decide that a school is not needed at Chamberlain, in which event the appropriation will be covered back into the treasury.

Washington, Special, April 25.—Charges have been filed against both the land offi; cers at Chamberlain. S. D., and an effort will be made to have them removed before the expiration of their terms. These terms would not expire until Feb. 25, 1895, but Judge Graybell of Chamberlain, who hopes to be appointed receiver, is of the opinion that these places will be made vacant when the secretary of the interior gets time to consider the charges made against the present hicumbents. Secretary Smith said today that in all cases where the registers and receivers were first appointed during the recess of congress and were afterwards appointed and confirmed by the senate, the term of four years' service would be held to commence with the first appointment.

bore in a nuge group picture of the senate and Senator Donnelly arose to address the body.

In his happiest vein the senator from Dakota alluded to the fairness, impartiality and freedom from partisanship which had characterized the conduct of the presiding officer and the feelings and warm friendship felt toward him by every senator and presented the picture.

There was a suspicious huskiness and a slight tremor in the voice of the lieutenant governor usually so bluff and hearty, as he rose to reply, but he acquitted himself creditably, under the circumstances, in his expression of his appreciation and thanks.

The matter of the election of a president pro tem, was then taken up, Senator Crandall nominated Senator Sanborn. Senator Day seconded the nomination in a neat little speech. Senator Bell named Lemocracy's choice, Senator McHale. This was seconded by Senator Leomen in nomination as the choice of the Populists. The vote was: Sanborn, 25; McHale, 17; Lommen, 7; Donnelly, 1.

After a notion to spread all the remarks upon the record had been adopted, Speaker Lee said at 2:01 p. m.:

"I declare this house adjourned without day."

Milwaukee, Special—After thousands of dollars' worth of property have been consumed during a period of seven months under circumstances that pointed to incendiarism in many instances, the police have at last behind the bars a man who has confessed to having applied the match to six that there was a fire in the neighborhood, which it afterward transpired he set. Thomet does not admit setting any of the big fires, although he admits having set one of the numerous blazes in the theater where he was employed previous to the one that nearly consumed the building.

DOINGS OF THE LEGISLATUR:

Senator Crandall's bill, S. F. 436, to repeal the tree culture act, was the first measure on the calendar. Senator Donnelly made a speech against the measure, asserting that the law had done immeasurable good in beautifying the prairies of the state. The bill was killed on a vote of 19 ayes to 9 noes.

The roads and bridges omnibus appropriation bill stirred up a little excitement when it was called up. It is S. F. 572. Senator J. W. Peterson characterized the measure as the twin of the general appropriation bill, and Senator March also opposed the bill, but it passed—38 ayes to 8 noes.

There was no debate upon the Glader "City of Blaine" bill, S. F. 392. It was peremptorily killed.

The Barr drainage bill, S. F. 434, was passed, as were the following:

The Barr drainage bill, S. F. 434, was passed, as were the following:
S. F. 297, the Day bill relating to high schools. H. F. 429, relating to reports and laws.
H. F. 262, protecting union labels.
H. F. 257, relating to trials in cases in which labor or wages is an issue.
H. F. 32, relating to books of account in evidence.

H. F. 360, relating to the settlements

Mr. Fleming succeeded in getting up S. F. 137, the game and fish bill of Senator Day. Mr. Jacobson, Mr. Salls and others opposed any advance of the bill and the discussion developed a very emphatic opposition to the bill. A motion to make the bill the special order for 3 p. m. was lost. Mr. Fleming said he was aware some lazy whelps were sitting around the lakes catching out the fish, who did not want the game law improved. He moved to take up the bill. This required a suspension of the rules and was defeated.

The house concurred in the senate resolution authorizing the sergeant-at-arms to turn over to the attorney general the Rhodes letter book.

to turn over to the attorney general the Rhodes letter book.

On motion of Mr. Taylor the rules were suspended and the house passed S. F. 410, legalizing certain bonds issued by the town of Canby, Lyon county, for building a town hall.

While working on the calendar the house disposed of the following bills:

S. F. 114, Leavitt, providing for an inheritance tax on bequests, devises, legacies, etc. Passed, 67 to 16.

S. F. 755, increasing to $3,500 per year the salary of the supreme court reporter.

The house of representatives came to or der at 11 o'clock, pursuant to the adjourn ment of last night. A number of small bills were ordered paid on report of the committee on legislative ses. Kelly, P. H., as a committee to wait Mr. Kelly. P. H., as a committee to wait on the governor, reported that Gov. Nelson had no further communication to make and bid every member of the house "God speed." Mr. Abbott then arose to present on behalf of the house the large group picture of all the members of the legislature to the speaker. He paid a glowing tribute to the qualities that makes Speaker Lee an ideal presiding officer. Chief Glerk Johnson here made a neat speech, and presented Speaker Lee with a gold-headed cane as a token of appreciation from the clerks.

Speaker Lee responded as follows:

I would be an ingrate indeed were. I not deeply affected by the many testimonials of appreciation that have been shown meto-day. If I have deserved a tithe of them I am well satisfied. I have tried to do my duty. Whether I have succeeded you are the Judges. I thank you for the picture. It will be a pleasure in future to look upon the features of those whom I have been so pleasantly associated. I thank the clerts for their beautifully, engraved cane, which I shall highly prize.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not at when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are sestroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful s down their throats, thereby sending

S. F 550, for appointment of bailiffs in courts. Passed, 61 to 5. S. F. 561, supplementary capitol bill. Passed, 79 to 10.

The senators were on hand in reasonable numbers and with a reasonable promptness this morning.

The pages and file clerks were voted an extra $50 cach. Senator Crandall then reported the resolution paying the charter attorneys. The finance committee was divided. Senators Barr, Llenau and Tawney favored its adoption, and Chairman Crandall and Senator Stockton dissented. After half an hour debate the resolution was lost, 19 to 27.

At this juncture a couple of the pages bore in a huge group picture of the senate and Senator Donnelly arose to address the body.

as the was: Sanborn, 25; McHaie, 11, 7; Donnelly, 1. Senator Sanborn was declared elected, and being conducted to the chair made a short speech of acceptance.

The senate then adjourned sine die.
