

PRINCIPAL TAKES A HAND IN STRIKE

Admits Six "Instructed" Children, Then Dismisses Them for "Wilful Disobedience."

(Special to the Newark Star.)
PATERSON, Feb. 9.—The Little Falls school war that began yesterday morning, when the principal refused to allow the pupils to use the front door because they tracked in mud, took an acute turn today.
Half a dozen pupils, instructed by their parents to use the front door or none, went to school this morning and announced their instructions. Mrs. Bryant, the principal, let them come in by the front door, but no sooner were they inside than she expelled them for "wilful disobedience." They will remain out, she says, until their parents publicly apologize to her.
The expelled pupils are the children of Constable Charles and Arthur Odell. Other pupils today used the side doors and walked over paths newly covered with ashes. The six children with the specific instructions, however, wouldn't have walked on paths of gold.
Morris Kammelhor, a justice of the peace, is said to be principal agitator of the movement to have the children use the front door. The justice refused to let his children use the side path because they got their feet wet. He kept his children home today and announced that he will do so until it is definitely agreed that they can use the main path. Mrs. Bryant agreed with him about keeping his children home and announced that they won't come back until their father publicly apologizes.

Five Members of Coats Family of Millionaires Die Within Two Years

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The romantic career of the Coats family, the three millionaires, has been running to its end with the death of no fewer than five members within two years. Each member has left a large fortune, though which the British exchequer has been enriched by a total of $6,000,000.
The death of James Coats in March, 1912, left a fortune of nearly $10,000,000, without any provision for its disposition; six months later Archibald Coats passed away, leaving nearly $7,000,000; in January, 1913, James Coats died, leaving nearly $3,000,000, and a few weeks later P. M. Coats, a son of Sir James, died, leaving $1,000,000. The fifth death, that of Peter Coats, in September, left another fortune of $12,000,000, making the total fortunes of the deceased more than $40,000,000. None of them left anything but a cheery, but during their lifetime they had been generous givers.

Five Soldiers Injured in Auto Crash; Two Dying

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Truxton Craven, a civil engineer, who lives in Manhattan, L. I., Quartermaster Sergeant Anton Thielman, of the 16th Coast Artillery, stationed at Fort Totten, and three other soldiers were killed shortly before midnight last night when Craven's touring car, in which they were riding, was wrecked at Fourteenth street and Willet's Point road, Whitestone, L. I. Craven and Sergeant Thielman sustained fractured skulls. All five were taken to the hospital at Fort Totten, where it was said today that Craven and Thielman probably would die.

As soon as the injured men were brought to the fort word of the accident was sent to Mrs. Craven and to Thielman's fiancée, Miss Sadie Ashburton, who lives at Irvington, Va. Thielman was to have left for Irvington today and the date for his marriage was not far off, it was said at the army post.

Mother Taking Gun from Baby Accidentally Killed

BABYLON, N. Y., Feb. 9.—Mrs. Cora Krause and her three-year-old girl baby were in a room on a second floor in their home here last night when a shell exploded. The bullet entered the mother's head and she died in a hospital an hour later. Paul Krause, an inventor, her husband, was working in the room at the time of the shooting. The police said the firing of the revolver was accidental. The coroner announced he would hold an inquest tomorrow.
Krause said his wife was afraid of burglars and was accustomed to have a revolver in the house. He said he did not know the weapon was on the table, where the child, at play, could get possession of it. He described to the police how his wife was trying to take the revolver away from the baby when the weapon was discharged. It could not be determined which one of the two had a finger on the trigger.

Dobbins Bill in Assembly Would Block the "Insanity" Dodge Used by Murderers

TRENTON, Feb. 9.—One of the most-discussed bills introduced in the Assembly this session, is the proposed amendment to the crimes act by which Assemblyman Francis V. Dobbins, Democrat, of Union County, hopes to make it possible for persons accused of murder to plead either not guilty or "guilty but insane."
The Thaw case had a lot to do with Assemblyman Dobbins drafting the bill and he says he received some of his ideas also from a law which has been advanced in England to the same effect. Dobbins' bill, which has been introduced in the Assembly, has engaged the attention of the New York Bar Association, which last week recommended it to the attention of the New York Legislature.
The bill aims to abolish the defense of insanity in murder trials. If the accused wishes he may plead not guilty, but if he wishes to plead "guilty but insane" he must plead "guilty but insane," in which case the jury will have to determine whether he is sane or insane.
Concerning his own bill Assemblyman Dobbins said: "The notion that an insane man should not be held responsible for his crimes is an exploded one. The protection of the public demands that the bill I have introduced to the Legislature become a law. I find on all hands that it is receiving the approval of persons best fitted to judge of its merits."

British Business Men Indorse "a Supreme Navy"

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Unqualified and unanimous indorsement of the British policy of maintaining "a supreme navy" was voiced today by a great mass meeting of representative businessmen of the city of London. The meeting was held at the Guild Hall under the presidency of the lord mayor.
The call for the meeting had been signed by about 1,000 of the leading bankers, merchants and ship owners of all political creeds. The purpose was to assure the government that the citizens of London would fully support it in any measures necessary to ensure the supremacy of the navy and the security of British commerce. Those present at the meeting represented several billions of capital.

"Neighbor-Love" Beginning to Be Practised—Wescott

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—Attorney-General Wescott, of New Jersey, addressed the congregation of the First Congregational Church at Roxborough last night on "Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself." Although this doctrine was preached 2,000 years ago, he said, people are only beginning to realize the importance of following it.
"When this injunction is carried out," he said, "bills will crumble, because there will be no criminals to put in them. Universal peace will abolish armies and navies and an aristocracy will be impossible." He said that President Wilson and Secretary Bryan are doing their best to carry out this injunction.

J.B. GREENHUT, PRES. GREENHUT-SIEGEL COOPER CO. "MEET ME AT THE FOUNTAIN"

"The Big Store" Had the Goods and the Price Was Lower

A man came in to buy some china, the other day. Before he bought it, he told us his experience in another store.
"My wife wanted some china," he said, "and she saw a loud calamity announcement, telling how low the prices were, and told me to go and see what I could get there."
"I found a sample of about what I wanted, and while the price did not seem very low, it suited me, so I told them what pieces I wanted."
"Word came back from the stock boy upstairs that there was no more of that pattern in stock."
"I selected another pattern. Got the same answer from the stock boy, on the telephone. Selected a third pattern. Got the same reply."
"Then I told the saleswoman to get the boy to tell her what he had in stock that was anything like it."
"He had nothing near it. The 'samples' were dummies."
"That experience cost me a lot of time," he said, "but I deserved it, for being bitten by such calamity advertising."
The man came right to GREENHUT'S—told his story—found EXACTLY WHAT HE WANTED, and "The Big Store's" price was LESS than the calamity price.
That's ONE reason why "Everybody is Coming to 'The Big Store.'"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The Pennsylvania, Lehigh Valley and Northern Central Railroads have asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to permit them to retain their steamship lines after July 1, the date upon which the Panama Canal law decrees all rail lines shall disassociate themselves from competitive water lines.

The law, however, empowers the commission, in its discretion, to permit the railroads to retain such ownership if such a condition is for the best interests of the territory the rail and water lines serve.

Seeks Long-Lost Uncle
(Special to the Newark Star.)
WEEHAWKEN, Feb. 9.—In an effort to locate his uncle, Theodore Coles, whom he has not seen for fifty-three years, H. M. Hyatt, a railroad man, of 18 Fifth street, this place, has advertised for him. The last information Mr. Hyatt had from the relative from whom he parted when the latter was a young man of twenty-one, and whom he now expects to find a gray-haired man, was in 1892, when he was prospecting for gold in the Copper River district of Alaska. Mr. Coles then advertised for his nephew, but the latter did not heed the advertisement, until several months ago.
