The king of Holland-all this happened several centuries ago-sent a messenger to his daughter, the Princess Sophia, to say to her that his majesty commanded her to come to his cabinet. When she reached it her father informed her that he had agreed to give her in marriage to the Crown Prince Carl of Prussia.

"But I have never seen the prince,"

"That has nothing to do with the matter," replied the king.

"If the prince wishes to marry me let him come and woo me," said the princess, and she left the room.

What action his majesty took in the matter was never known, but presently along came the crown prince of Prussia with a splendid retinue to ask the hand of the Princess Sophia. Nobody but those most interested knew what was going on except that the prince had come on an errand of marriage and that his stay was much longer than was customary on such royal occasions. There were social functions at the palace, but the crown prince of Prussia and the princess of Holland were seldom seen together.

The truth is that Sophia received her royal suitor coolly. She neither consented nor dissented from his proposition for her hand. The prince seemed to consider the affair a diplomatic sought for his wife.

But as a prince of the blood and a suitor for your highness' hand it is unbecoming of him to make any protest. I therefore take it upon myself to resent the insult thrust upon him. But to prevent a court scandal I deem it advisable to warn you. Know then that if Baron Non Schelwig presumes to join you hereafter at any court function I will call him to account as offering an insult to my sovereign and my prospective sovereign and shall kill him."

"Your royal highness need not be so fierce about it." said the princess. "I would not for the world leopardize the life of the crown prince of Prussia."

Something Very New in Publishing

WE are bringing out a WEEKLY MAGAZINE. The first issue will be on sale at all news-stands on Thursday, January 4th.

The name of this magazine is

THE CAVALIER

This is the first time a great big magazine has ever been issued as a WEEKLY, and THE CAVALIER is a great big magazine of 192 PAGES. Weekly publications are always thought of as of pamphlet shape. But slavery to conventionality of this sort, which is wanting in common sense, has never had much of a pull with us. The regular magazine shape, which is of the nature of a book, makes the best publication for reading and for preservation, be it weekly

The frequency of issue has no bearing on the problem.

A NEW STORY EVERY WEEK

We shall begin a new serial story every week in THE CAVALIER-52 A YEAR. This is a whole library of books, and in addition you will get six or eight hundred short stories. All this enormous volume of reading will cost, by the year, ONLY FOUR DOLLARS. Then, too, each issue of THE CAVALIER will have a baseball article by CHARLES E. VAN LOAN, who is easily the cleverest baseball writer in the world. These baseball articles simply hum with the whir of the ball.

The Destroying Angel

WILSON DISCUSSES

TARIEF OUESTION

System Is Based on Favoritism, Patronage and Arbitrary Fosterage by Federal Gov-

Once again, Mr. Wilson said, the tariff had become "the chief and most critical question of a campaign which must decide the policy of our government, not only in this great matter, but in regard to a score of things

Don't Overdress the Baby. In an article on "The Healthy Baby," enough of our capacity, of our skill, or in the January Woman's Home Companion, Dr. Roger H. Dennett, a New York specialist on the diseases of chil-dren, makes the following comments on the dressing of children; "The one thing above all others that I have to talk to my patients the most about is overdressing. During the hot weather baby should be kept cool. On hot days the flannel skirt and socks and even the shirt should come off, provided the baby is strong and doing well. Any baby who perspires is dressed too warm-It is perfectly easy to slip on a flannel skirt when a cool day comes, for it does no harm to change the thickness of the clothing from day to day as the weather changes. Nor is it advisable to use too warm clothing in the house in winter. Remember that the average house or steam-heated apartment is seventy degrees or even eighty degrees in temperature, which would be considered a warm day in summer." "Lumpty-doodle, Lumpty-ding, Do Not Worry, Smile and Sing,"

In the January American Magazine, there is a most interesting character sketch of Walt Mason. Mason, who is called "Uncle Walt," writes a daily lineless thyme which is published in 200 newspapers and reaches ten million read-Following is one of Mason's lineless rhymes:

Charles the First, with stately walk, made the journey to the block. As he paced the street along, silence fell upon the throng; from that throng there burst a sigh, for a king was come to die!
