WAKING UP A TOWN

By M. QUAD
Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.

"Do you know, sir," said Deacon Slinger to Abraham Scott in front of the postoffice one evening—"do you know that this town of Beverly is slow, the slowest in the state?"

"Yes, business seems to drop off a little every year," was the reply.

"And why are we dead and dying here?" asked the deacon as he stepped up on the platform beside a barrel of kerosene, for it was postoffice and grocery combined.

He waited till his audience had shut and pocketed their jackknives and then answered his own question.

"Because nothing ever happens here. Does any one die? Do we have any funerals? Does any one ever get married? Does any one steal? Has any one present even seen a dog fight in the last two years?"

"No, no!"

"Something ought to be done, deacon," suggested a voice.

"And don't I know it? Don't we all know it?"

"Might call a public meeting and resolve," was a second suggestion.

"Resolve what—that we are going to the dogs?"

"Our forefathers did that, and then we licked the British."

"But where's your British to lick now? I've been thinking this thing over for two years, and I ain't lit on a remedy yet. I've got a whole barrel of molasses in the cellar, and I'll give it to the critter who can wake this town up."

The critter to do it was right at hand. The deacon meant a human being, but the critter was an old spotted bull coming down the highway. The crowd at the postoffice was scratching its head and almost tating that molasses when the bull turned a corner and saw his golden opportunity. He charged with a snort and a bellow, and after smashing three gates that were swinging open he was at the postoffice. He knocked the crowd right and left. He cleared the platform of barrels and boxes. He ran his horns through windows.

The bull came and saw and did things and went his way. It was a fine beginning to wake up a town. None of the three doctors in it had even

"Clean Up the Bowels and Keep Them Clean"

There are many remedies to be had for constipation, but the difficulty is to procure one that acts without violence. A remedy that does not perform by force what should be accomplished by persuasion is Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets. After using them, Mr. N. A. Waddell, 315 Washington St., Waco, Tex., says:

"Almost all my life I have been troubled with constipation, and have tried many remedies, all of which seemed to cause pain without giving much relief. I finally tried Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and found them excellent. Their action is pleasant and mild, and their chocolate taste makes them easy to take. I am more than glad to recommend them."

"Clean up the bowels and keep them clean" is the advice of all physicians, because they realize the danger resulting from habitual constipation. Do not delay too long, but begin proper curative measures. Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are a new remedy for this old complaint, and a great improvement over the cathartics you have been using in the past. They taste like candy and work like a charm. A trial will convince you.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory after trial, return the box to your druggist and he will return your money.

SURVIVORS REACH BOSTON

31 Passengers of the Fire-ridden Steamer Ontario

MOST WITHOUT BAGGAGE

In Spite of the Fact That the Fire Broke Out at 2 O'clock in Morning, There Was No Panic Except Among Steerage Passengers.

Boston, April 9.—A group of 31 tired and hungry passengers of the steamer Ontario, which was driven ashore burning at Montauk Point, L. I., early yesterday, arrived here late yesterday afternoon from New London, Conn., where they were landed by a tug from the burning steamer.

Most of them were without baggage, and some had scarcely sufficient clothing. All declared they believed the fire unavoidable. Though fire was discovered at 2 o'clock in the morning, when most of the passengers were asleep, there was no panic, except among the ten steerage passengers, who did not understand English.

Purser James declared when the blaze was discovered by a seaman who gave an alarm, it undoubtedly had been burning some time, as there was a lively blaze.

One southern passenger stated his belief that the fire started before the ship left Baltimore, as he saw stevedores, who were stowing cotton below, smoking. He believed a carelessly thrown match or cigarette started the fire, which smoldered all through the voyage.

There were a score more cases like the above, but our staff correspondent didn't particularize. He couldn't. His emotions were too great. He had to simply say:

"My grandfather was at Gettysburg, but he saw nothing like this. I simply stand appalled and ask myself who is who?"

If you should enter that town today you would find 25,000 population in place of 2,000. You would find a brick postoffice with a lot of old men sitting around, and one of them would be likely to ask:

"Deacon Slinger, wasn't there a time in the history of Beverly when she sorter stood still?"

And the answer would be:

"There was, sir."

"And then the snow shovel factory came to give her an impetus?"

"Snow shovel factory, be damned! It was an old spotted bull, and it order have a bronze statue of him on every street corner!"

DEEP SNOWS MELT

And Much Damage Already Done in New Hampshire.

Woodsville, N. H., April 9.—The melting of the deep snow in the north woods during the last few days has raised the Connecticut and Ammonoosuc rivers and minor streams in this section to freshet pitch and much damage has been done. Washouts are seriously delaying trains on the Boston & Maine and Montpelier & Wells River railroads.

At Lyndonville, Vt., passengers and baggage are being transferred around a section of washed out tracks, all the express trains between Boston and Montreal over the Connecticut & Passumpsic division of the Boston & Maine being affected.

The same method is being pursued on the White Mountain division. The worst washout on this division occurred Sunday night two miles north of Woodsville, when 60 feet of the railroad bed gave out.

A bridge across Wells river on the Montpelier & Wells River railroad, a few miles northwest of Woodsville, has been swept away, interrupting traffic on that line. In the village of Wells River, where the Wells empties into the Connecticut, several buildings are partly flooded.

MOTHER OF LARGE FAMILY

Tells How She Keeps Her Health—Happiness For Those Who Take Her Advice.

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house."

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has helped her."

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to your wonderful medicine."

—Mrs. J. G. JOHNSON, Scottville, Mich., R.F.D. 3.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for woman's ills known.

THINK DYING WOMAN WAS HIT BY AUTO

Police Find Her Unconscious in Rain Propped Against Harlem Flat-Iron Building.

New York, April 9.—What the police think is another automobile killing put all the detectives in the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station at work Sunday night, apparently without the slightest clue to go upon.

An old woman, unconscious but still breathing, was found in the rain and the dark, propped up against the Harlem flatiron building, One Hundred and Twenty-first street and Eighth avenue, with injuries that the police think must have come from being hit by an automobile. She died an hour later in Harlem hospital without regaining consciousness.

The police found, however, a newspaper reporter who had been standing at the corner of One Hundred and Thirty-third street and St. Nicholas avenue, which joins Eighth avenue at the Flatiron, who a few minutes before the woman was found, had seen a large black touring car, covered with a canopy against the rain, which had gone south at a rate which the reporter approximated at 30 miles an hour. This, and an analysis of what had happened drawn from the wounded woman's injuries, are all the police have to work upon.

TWO YALE STUDENTS KILLED IN AUTO

Machine Crashed Into Pole in Philadelphia and One Man Had Skull Crushed and the Other Received Injury to Spine.

Philadelphia, April 9.—Two Yale students, John L. Hoffman of Radnor and Arthur W. Ryerson of New York, died last night in a hospital from injuries received when Hoffman's automobile struck a telegraph pole near his home. Hoffman's skull was fractured against the pole, while Ryerson's spine was injured by striking a fence.

CUBAN TREATY MENACED

Assistant Secretary Wilson Says Free Sugar Would Mean Abrogation.

Washington, D. C., April 9.—Huntington Wilson, assistant secretary of state, testifying before the Senate finance committee yesterday, said the free sugar bill would mean the abrogation of the agreement between the United States and Cuba, which gives the United States an advantage of twenty per cent. preferential in Cuban sugar exports; that it would seriously affect the Cuban market to which the United States now exports $60,000,000 of products annually. American sugar being the principal item affected. He referred to the pending negotiations in Ottawa, through which Canada expects to extend its trade with the West Indies, to the detriment of the large market there for American flour.

Charles M. Pepper, an expert of the state department, testified that the Cuban trade had increased greatly since the reciprocity treaty went into effect. Victor H. Olmstead, chief of the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture, gave interesting figures indicating the success of the beet sugar industry in foreign countries.

HYSTERICAL LAUGHTER IN ROOM OF DEATH

Woman Found in Apartment of Louis G. Parma Was Taken to Bellevue Hospital—Parma Had Been Dead 12 Hours.

New York, April 9.—Hysterical laughter issuing from the room of Louis G. Parma, the aged director of the New York Conservatory of Music yesterday prompted the authorities to break down the locked door.

On a bed in the center of the floor, littered with paper and clothing, was found Parma's body, in which life had been extinct twelve hours.

Beside the body sat a hysterical woman talking incoherently. The coroner found Parma died from natural causes, apparently collapsing while seated on the edge of the bed. The woman was taken to Bellevue hospital, where her identity is still unknown.

Says a Man Can't Work and Be Always Sunny.

H. G. Wells, in his story, "Marriage," in the April American Magazine says: "It is only in romantic fiction that a man can work strenuously to the limit of his power and come home to be sweet, sunny and entertaining."

HALF NAKED AND STARVING

Refugees in Mississippi Flood District Rescued

1,000 TAKEN INTO MEMPHIS

Scores of People Were Taken from Church in Wynoke, Ark., Where They Had to Build Up Pews to Keep Above Water.

Memphis, Tenn., April 9.—More than 1,000 persons who were marooned in Wynoke, Ark., were brought to Memphis late yesterday afternoon. Scores of flood sufferers were found by rescuers in a church where they had taken refuge when the flood descended.

As the water rose, the refugees built scaffolding with pews and thus kept their heads above the surface. On the high ground and in attics of houses near Wynoke, hundreds more victims were found.

Though the refugees from the Modoc flood district report considerable loss of life, probably 30 fatalities would be a conservative total.

There has, however, been tremendous suffering among the homeless. Of 30,000 driven forth by the raging tide, hundreds had gone without food or water many hours before help reached them.

Despite ample warning, many Arkansians and Tennessee homesteaders remained by their property until the last minute, and scores were taken from their refuge on housetops, in trees and on rafts, half naked and starving.

Thirty thousand persons homeless, 2,000 square miles of country inundated.

DOG REVEALS TRAGEDY OF HIS MASTER'S END

Shows Workman Where the Man Lay Crushed Under Hundreds of Logs.

North Berwick, Me., April 9.—A very unusual fatality was revealed here yesterday by a pet dog that had watched throughout the night over the body of its master, John J. Shaw. Mr. Shaw's body was found beneath a pile containing thousands of feet of logs at a box mill. It was evident that the man had been sitting on the pile when the high wind of Sunday night started the logs rolling and the whole pile went over him and crushed him to death. The attention of a workman was attracted by the dog yesterday morning, and an investigation disclosed the victim's body.

"All Wool" Campaign.

The educational campaign carried on by the Ethelma Worsted Co. of Clinton, Mass., who produces only pure virgin wool fabrics, has done its part in causing the present public agitation to place laws upon our statutes to compel manufacturers to label their products truthfully.

Experience makes masters. Nearly everyone has had the unpleasant experience of buying a suit that looked good at first, but soon grew shapeless, cockled and faded; yet the tailor was honest, he gave you good workmanship. The trouble was that the cloth was not "wool."

This is one reason why the public when purchasing clothing should do so from cloth made by the Ethelma Worsted Co., and insist upon seeing their seal of guarantee, and thus securing garments which hold their shape until they are worn out, because they are made from pure virgin wool fabrics.

Crawford Ranges

You can cook with any stove if you use time enough, work hard enough and burn coal enough—but in these days time, comfort and coal are important items. Therefore we believe that the range that is the greatest saver of time, labor and waste is the one the housekeeper of today wants—and she gets it in a Crawford.

Have you ever examined one? Do you know why it bakes better than other ranges? Will you let us send you our illustrated pamphlet that tells why? It describes the wonderful Single Damper (patented); the Oven perfectly heated in every part by the scientific heat flues; the Ash Hod that takes the place of the old clumsy ash pan; and other Crawford improvements that save time, trouble and money.
