EXPECT REED TO LOSE

On Motion to Recommit the Trust Measure

CONCLUDES TWO DAYS OF SPEAKING

The Democrats Have Played Hypocrite, He Declares

Washington, Oct. 1.—Senator Reed of Missouri Tuesday concluded a two-day speech in opposition to the conference report on the Clayton anti-trust bill with a bitter attack upon his colleagues for eliminating specific penalties from the measure. He predicted that the time soon would come when they would be compelled to write into the law more severe penalties for violation of trust laws than had been contemplated originally in the Clayton bill. The senator announced that he would move to recommit the bill to the conference committee with instructions. Administration leaders declared, however, that the motion to recommit would be lost and the report approved.

Senator Reed severely criticized the conferees for striking from the bill the amendment which would authorize the courts to appoint receivers and sell the property of convicted corporations. Dissolution of corporations without sale, he declared, availed nothing. He took the case of the Standard Oil company for illustration. "The ticker in Wall street," he said, "told the story of that dissolution in its rising profits."

"We have played the hypocrite," he continued. "We said when this great Democratic host assembled that we would have a clean path for the common people to tread. Having marched to the bill to the heroic blast of bugles of war, we settled by the campfire, tuning our ears to the seductive notes of Home, Sweet Home. Some of us will hear from home."

Harbors Bill Ready to Be Signed.

The rivers and harbors appropriation bill, in the form of a Senate substitute, carrying only a general fund of $20,000,000 for continuing present projects in the discretion of the war department, was passed yesterday by the House. It now only needs the president's approval to become law. As reported by the Senate committee, the bill carried $53,000,000, but the successful filibuster conducted by Senator Burton resulted in the adoption of the substitute. Numerous amendments were defeated Tuesday before the final vote. Representative Fitzgerald of New York wanted specific authorization for the expenditure of $500,000 for improving Hell Gate and East River, including the blowing up of Coenties Reef. Delay in this work, he said, meant enormously greater cost and immediate danger to lives.

Representative Rainey of Illinois, sought to extend the Mississippi river levee improvement as far north as Rock Island. Speaker Clark took the floor to support this amendment. It was rejected 125 to 46. The final effort of the opposition, in an amendment by Representative Humphries of Washington to reduce the appropriation from $20,000,000 to $5,000,000, was defeated 172 to 130. The bill was then passed without a record vote.

Clarence D. Baxter of Paterson, N. J., has been selected by President Wilson for collector of customs of the Dominican republic to succeed Walker W. Vick, who recently resigned. The nomination will be sent to the Senate this week. Officials yesterday refused to discuss reports that Mr. Vick had lodged charges against American Minister Sullivan.

How the Movies are Helping the Theatres.

In the October American Magazine Walter Prichard Eaton, dramatic editor of that publication, writing an article entitled "A New Epoch in the Movies," explains as follows why the movies are not really a menace to the theatres: "Our actors used to fear that if they appeared on the screens the public would no longer pay to see them in person. That fear has been dispelled. James K. Hackett took out 'The Prisoner of Zenda' after he had acted it for the camera and the film had been widely shown, and he has testified that in all towns where the photoplay had preceded him the attendance upon the real play was noticeably larger. Feature films, then, with 'real actors' in them, or made from real plays, are potentially a feeder for the dramatic stage. The step up from short, snorter-brained films to the long photoplay telling a sustained story for two hours or more, is a step forward in the process of educating a wider public for the enjoyment of dramatic art. We can say even more confidently than we said in this place a year ago, that the movies are not a menace to the theatre."

B. & M. TURNS DOWN THE NEW HAMPSHIRE RATES

Railroad Determines to Return to Old Freight Rates—Asks Rehearing on Mileage.

Concord, N. H., Oct. 1.—The Boston & Maine railroad has notified the New Hampshire public service commission that it will not accept the schedule of freight rates framed by the commission, which has been on trial by the railroad.

By the terms of the act of the legislature of 1913, the public service commission was to frame such a schedule, the railroad was to try its operation until Oct. 1, and then either accept it or return to the rates in force prior to the consolidations of 1883 and 1889. The determination of the railroad to return to the old rates is based upon the decision of the supreme court in Clough and Martin against railroad whereby railroad is allowed to fix such rates upon any commodity as in the aggregate shall not be higher than the aggregate of the rates charged upon the commodity prior to the consolidation.

The Boston & Maine has also asked the public service commission for a rehearing in the matter of the commission's refusal to allow an increase in mileage book passenger rates.

Topics of the Home and Household.

Some cooks always add a piece of bread crust tied in cheesecloth to the kettle when cabbage or cauliflower is being boiled. This, they say, will absorb the odor.

When next boiling or frying tomatoes sprinkle them generously with grated cheese just before serving and top each portion with a little whipped cream. They are delicious served in this way.

If a recipe for soup calls for cream, and if it is not at hand, try milk and egg substitute. Boil a cupful of milk and when it is cooled add a beaten egg. Strain and add a tablespoonful of butter. Add this mixture to the soup, bring to the boiling point and serve at once.

Milk must be thick in St. Albans, if an article in The Messenger of that city is to be credited, for in its "Health and Beauty" column, it recently printed an article entitled, "Vegetables as Beautifiers," which of course we all planned to try, until we came across this sentence, which caused a query as to the brand St. Albans women use: "A piece of cucumber rubbed over the skin will remove tan, and a face wash in buttermilk or sour milk, into which has been grated a cup of milk, will eradicate both tan and freckles."

The value of lemons in toilet use cannot be overestimated. They will remove most discolorations. A paste made of magnesia and lemon juice smeared on the face at night once a week will keep the skin smooth and white. A teaspoonful of lemon juice with a saltspoonful of soda in a glass of hot or warm water, drunk mornings before breakfast, will keep the system in order and the complexion clear. The most effective cure for a skin eruption is a slice of lemon on the affected part over night until the corn disappears.

Active Women Wanted.

One of the best compliments that can be paid a woman nowadays is to say "she is a woman of activity." Whether it is necessary for her to be a wage-earner or not, the inactive, useless, helpless sort of woman that was once admired has gone utterly out of style, and in her place is found the active, energetic woman of the period.

It has been said that "doing is activity," and it is not necessary that a woman to claim this honor should be connected with the business world, but just to be a doer, a worker in any line of endeavor. It may be in the shelter of her own home, the housewife, the seamstress, or in the business office or in public work. Whatever it is that she does, she should do it promptly and energetically.

A stenographer who is recognized as a "woman of activity" tells of the effect upon her when she was a child of the blowing of the factory whistles. She said: "I resided near a mill town where there were many whistles which blew at 7 o'clock, and it always gave me joy to hear them. No, I did not know what they blew for, I was so young; I did not know what factory work was; but the sound of those whistles to me meant activity. It was time to get up and be doing."

Today this energetic girl finds the same joy in hearing the clock strike the hour which tells the time to unlock her desk, for it reminds her that she is privileged to be one of the world's workers.

She is a "woman of activity." On the farm, in her home is the small country place, the woman of activity is to be admired. It makes no difference what her line of work is, if she is only a doer, performing energetically and cheerfully the work that is given her to do. There may be those who are laboriously idle, always dithering around, making a great deal about nothing, and in the end what has been done counts for nothing in meeting the world's needs through the action which she represents.

The woman who endeavors with energy and enthusiasm to give out of any talent with which she has been endowed to be called a "woman of activity."—Christian Science Monitor.

Work!

Is there anything the matter? Work it off! Are you growing fat, or fatter? Work it off! If your brain is in a mix, If your liver's out of fix, If you're crosser than two sticks— Work it off! If you're suffering from sadness, Work it off! If you're on the verge of madness, Work it off! If the world has slapped your face, Drowned you, kicked you out of place, Show it you're still in the race— Get to work!

Housecleaning Helps.

To clean varnish and paint, rub with a cloth dipped in a weak solution of vinegar and warm water. Polish with a wash leather. To clean gilt picture frames, put a gill of vinegar into a pint of soft, cold water. Remove all dust from the frames, dip a large camel's hair brush in the mixture, squeeze it partly dry, then brush the gilt, doing a small portion at a time. To clean marble, rub with a slice of lemon dipped in salt. Leave for an hour, then wash off. All stains will be removed and a nice gloss secured. Before sweeping carpets, take an old round tin, pierce holes in the bottom, and fill with common salt. Sprinkle this over the carpet. It prevents the dust from rising, brightens the colors and prevents moths. When cleaning mirrors and windows, sprinkle a few drops of metal polish upon a cloth and rub over the glass. Leave to dry, then polish with a clean cloth. To remove smoke marks from ceiling, mix a thick paste of starch and water, and with a clean flannel spread it over the mark. Allow it to get thoroughly dry, then brush off with a soft brush and the marks will have disappeared. Hot water marks can be removed from japanned trays by rubbing with sweet oil. When the marks have disappeared, rub with dry flour and a soft cloth. To remove scratches from furniture, mix linseed oil and turpentine in equal parts and apply to scratches. As soon as the marks disappear, rub briskly with a cloth.

GIFFORD PINCHOT ILL.

Progressive Leader Suffers from Severe Attack of Ptomaine Poisoning.

Eno, Pa., Oct. 1.—A bride of only a few weeks, Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, spending her honeymoon by traveling with her husband on his campaign tour of Pennsylvania for the United States senatorial election, took the candidate's place at meetings here yesterday. Pinchot had been seized with a severe attack of ptomaine poisoning during the night and was confined to his room yesterday. Mrs. Pinchot went direct from his sickroom at 6:30 this morning to a place where 500 employees of a local factory had gathered to hear her husband speak. She told the crowd that Pinchot was ill, and then handed out copies of his platform to all there. At a score of other places where her husband was to have spoken, she carried out the same program.

Pinchot's condition was reported satisfactory yesterday. He was ill all day Tuesday, but went through the most strenuous day of his campaign to date, with the result that he fainted after a big night meeting.

BEGIN PROHIBITION FIGHT.

Nationwide Campaign Inaugurated Yesterday at Peoria, Ill.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Under the leadership of Eugene W. Chaffin, twice Prohibition candidate for president, the Flying Squadron of America began a nationwide campaign for prohibition yesterday, with Peoria, Ill., the scene of the first demonstration. Approximately 150 cities, including all state capitals and the national capital, will be visited by the temperance workers. The squadron is declared to be affiliated with no political party or organization, but to be working to uphold the hands of whoever has declared for prohibition. The speakers will tour the West as far as Spokane, Wash., and then work back through the East from November until the middle of February, when they will turn southward. The itinerary has been mapped out until April 1.

Pennsylvania catches its great prospects in Decatur, the big Greek athlete. He came up to expectations in his first game. He was fast and powerful but is rather crude in his tackling.
